'COLLEGE OF THE YEAR 2000'

'HOT SCHOOL OF 2001'

– Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide

'LEADERSHIP INSTITUTION'

– 2001 Association of American Colleges & Universities

USC is one of the nation's premier schools. Just look at several national honors it received the past few years.

USC was named the "College of the Year" by the 2000 edition of the Time/Princeton Review College Guide because of the remarkable bonds it has forged with the local community.

"More institutions might do well to emulate USC's enlightened self-interest," said the guide's editors. "For not only has the 'hood' dramatically improved, but so has the university."

The editors said USC has one of the most ambitious social-outreach programs of any university in the nation and cited the school's model of service learning (applying academic theory to real-life situations through public service). They also pointed out that USC's undergraduate applications have nearly doubled over the last few years and it is enrolling the most academically accomplished freshman classes in its history.

Troy also was selected as one of America's nine "hottest schools" by the 2001 edition of the Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide because it lives up to its reputation as a top-notch institution of higher education.

"Just as East Coast students go for New York and NYU, the West Coast is gravitating to USC in Los Angeles," according to the guide. "USC has morphed from a jock school to a serious contender for top students."

Students quoted in the guide said that what attracted them to the university was Los Angeles' ethnic diversity, the offer of scholarships, the small classroom sizes and USC's standing in academe.

Also in 2001, the Association of American Colleges and Universities picked USC as one of 16 "Leadership Institutions" for providing stimulating educational experiences both inside and outside of the classroom.

USC was cited for emphasizing a campus culture featuring new learning techniques, curriculum and organizational structure and for demonstrating a strong commitment to liberal arts education relevant to the contemporary world.

The organization said USC not only linked liberal arts and pre-professional study, but offered students the opportunity to learn by doing through off-campus work in community projects and internships. Also, USC was lauded for stressing critical thinking, effective communication and contributing to a diverse society.

Two of USC's most recent graduation rates for football are the highest in USC history!

The 2001 official NCAA graduation rate for Trojan football players was 82%, an all-time high (topping the previous USC highs of 80% in 2000 and 75% in 1996). That rate compared to 73% for the general USC student body ... and it was about 30 percentage points higher than the national football average for Division I schools.

USC promises its student-athletes that if they apply themselves, they will graduate. Statistics like these are proof that their hard work is paying off.

The University OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California is a private research institution of international distinction. Founded in 1880, it enrolls about 29,000 students annually on two campuses, the 155-acre University Park Campus in Exposition Park and the 45-acre Health Sciences Campus, four miles to the northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

USC is a unique and distinguished university with a proud tradition of achievement and unheralded success in all areas of study:

- USC is a member of the Association of American Universities, a select group of 63 public and private universities in the U.S. and Canada that, together, do about two-thirds of all federally funded research and development.

- USC has 53 faculty members who are members of the National Academy. Membership in the prestigious academy, created by Congress, is by election only and is based on distinguished and continuing achievements.

- The University is the home of 16 professional schools, in addition to the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School. These schools train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, theater, education and business.

- Located in Los Angeles, economically and culturally the most important city on the Pacific Rim
- More than 150 majors
- Average class size of 26 students
- 70% of alumni live in Southern California
- 15 residence halls and 31 apartment buildings
- One of the nation's best academic reputations
- 30 fraternities and sororities
- The West's oldest independent, private research university

University Figures

- USC students select from a variety of major/degree possibilities in more than 120 fields of study and more than 500 double-major and major/minor combinations in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences, in the Graduate School and in the university's professional schools.
- USC has a student-faculty ratio of 13 to 1 and an average class size of only 26. There are also more than 450 student organizations in which to participate.
- USC's library consists of 17 specialized subject libraries, the central Doheny Memorial Library and the Leavey Library. The system features:
  - 2.8 million volumes
  - 3.6 million microforms
  - 21,000 current serials
  - 250 electronic databases
  - 453,200 government documents
  - 3,000,000 photographs

Athletic EXCELLENCE

Since 1926, when the track and field team won USC's first national championship, USC has dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. In fact, USC arguably could stake claim as the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century."

Trojan men's teams are No. 1 in the nation in NCAA championships with 71 – far more than any other university. USC's women are also a force with 16 national team titles, all since 1976.

In fact, from 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak: in each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship!

USC has produced 337 Olympians – more than any other university – including 104 gold medalists.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship – an annual ranking by USA Today (formerly conducted by the Knoxville Journal) of the nation's top athletic programs – six times since its inception in 1971.

USC also won the inaugural 2001-02 Lexus Gauntlet Trophy, a year-long all-sports competition between Troy and cross-town rival UCLA.

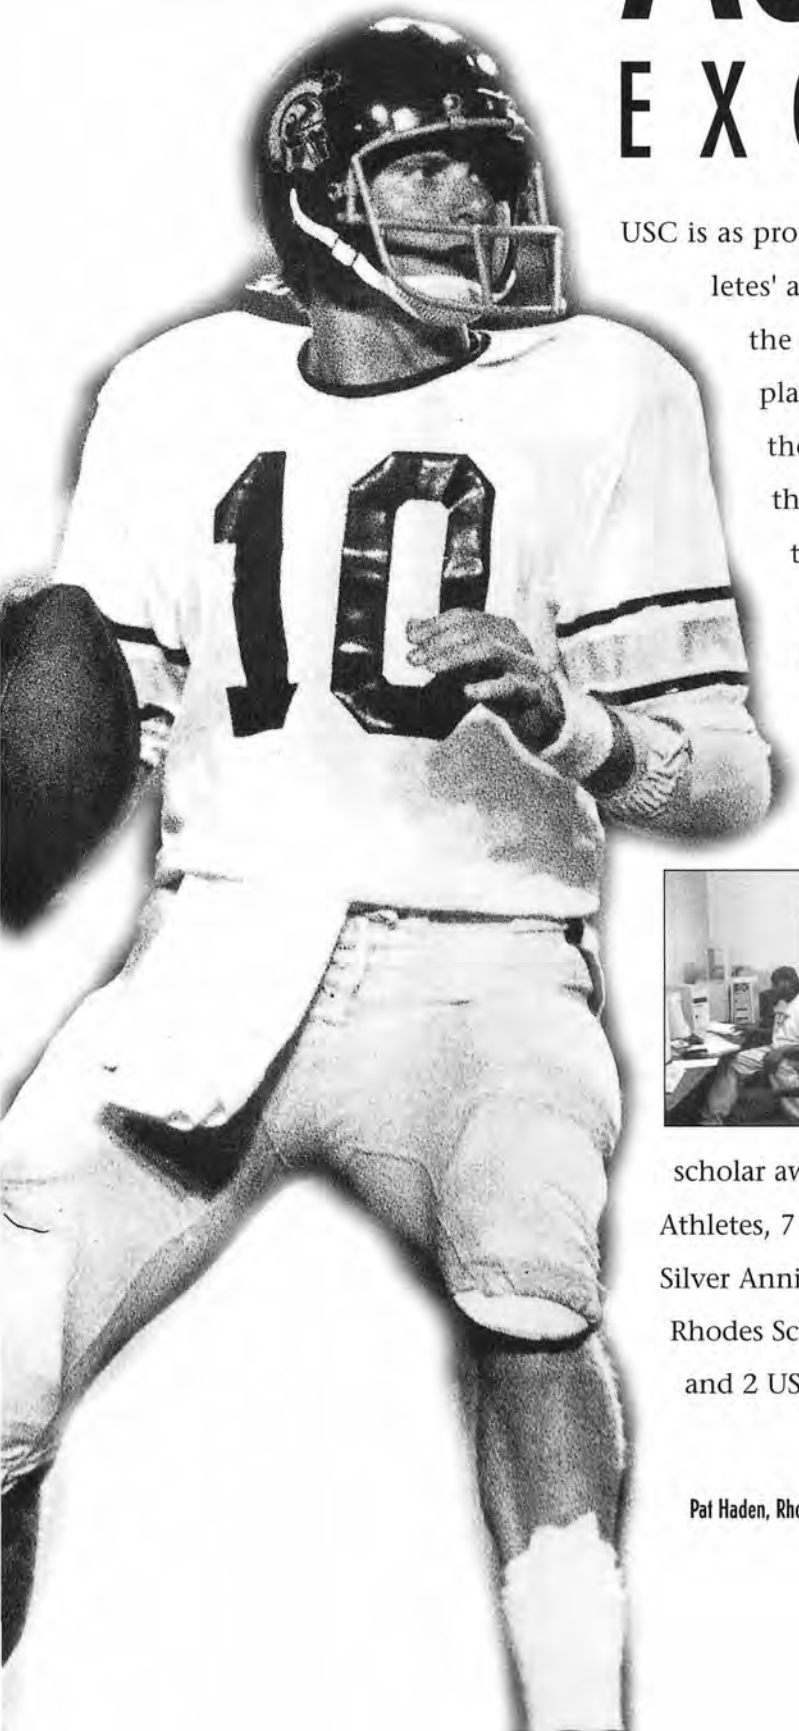
Academic EXCELLENCE



USC is as proud of its student-athletes' accomplishments in the classroom as on the playing field. After all, the Trojans are not only third in the nation in the number of national team championships (79 by the men and 16 by the women), but rank sixth in the number of NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipients (48). Also, USC has had 26 first-team Academic All-Americans.

Other phenomenal Trojan student-athletes include 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 12 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 7 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, 3 Rhodes Scholars, a Luce Scholar and 2 USC valedictorians.

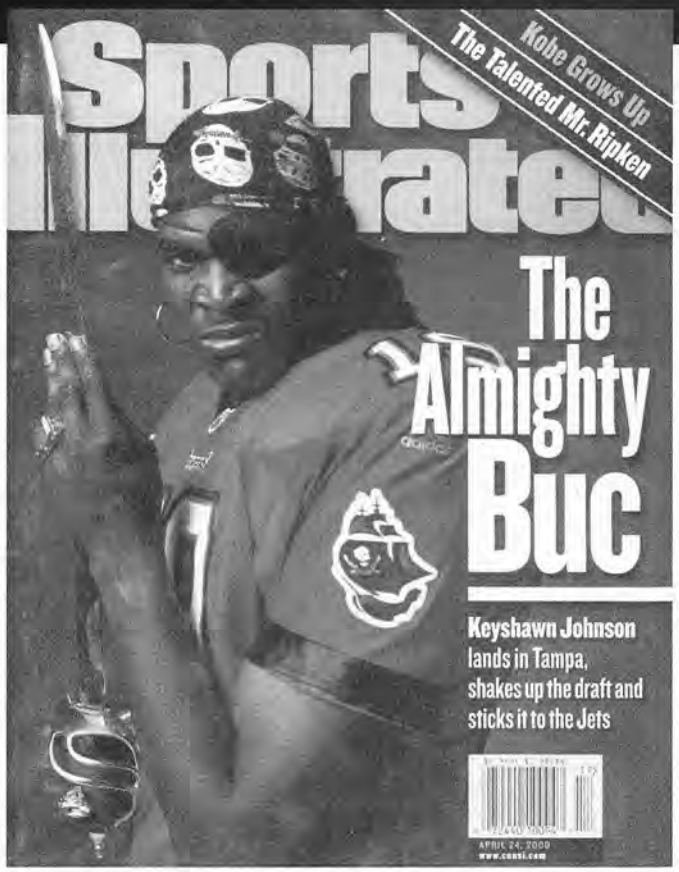
The McAlister Resource Center
Student-Athlete Academic and Student Services

The University of Southern California and the Athletic Department are committed to providing student-athletes with the support services necessary for them to successfully reach their academic goals. The Student-Athlete Academic Services (SAAS), located in the McAlister Academic Resource Center in Heritage Hall, provides academic advisement, personal counseling, tutoring, and study assistance and specialized assistance for second language or learning-disabled students. SAAS also provides orientation programs for incoming student-athletes and periodic career guidance workshops for all student-athletes.

TROJANS IN THE NFL



PLAYERS

In 17 of the last 26 seasons, USC has had more players on National Football League rosters than any other college in the country. This year alone, 39 Trojans grace the rosters of 21 of the NFL's 32 teams.

DRAFT

More than 400 Trojans have been drafted into the NFL, with many more making rosters as free agents. Since the first USC player was drafted in 1940, 60 Trojans have been first round selections – most recently Keyshawn Johnson, the No. 1 pick in the 1996 draft, Darrell Russell, the No. 2 selection in 1997, Chris Claiborne, the No. 9 pick in 1999, and R.Jay Soward, the No. 29 pick in 2000.

SUPER BOWL

Trojans have played in the Super Bowl 83 times. USC has been represented by a player in all but two of the 36 games. In Super Bowl XI alone, nine Trojans played in the game. Two Trojans, Lynn Swann in Super Bowl X and Marcus Allen in Super Bowl XVIII, were named the game's MVP.

COACHES

USC provides the NFL with some of its best coaches. Among former Trojan players and coaches now serving as NFL head coaches are Seattle's Mike Holmgren, Tennessee's Jeff Fisher, Miami's Dave Wannstedt, San Francisco's Steve Mariucci and the New York Giants' Jim Fassel. About two dozen Trojans were on NFL coaching staffs last year.

HALL OF FAME

Twelve Trojans have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. They include O.J. Simpson, Willie Wood, Al Davis, Anthony Munoz, Ronnie Lott, Lynn Swann and Ron Yary.

PRO BOWL

Trojan alums are among the brightest stars in the NFL. The annual showcase of the league's top talent, the NFC-AFC Pro Bowl, has had 192 Trojan participants.

Famous Alumni
AND THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES

USC and the city of Los Angeles have served as the training grounds for many of this country's great leaders and innovators. Los Angeles is the "Gateway to the World," a city that speaks more than 100 languages and offers opportunities galore.

USC lies in the heart of everything Los Angeles has to offer, enabling the university to provide one of the most essential and exciting undergraduate educations in the nation. Just two miles from downtown, USC is close to an abundance of major museums, music halls, theaters, historic sites and buildings, world class restaurants, clubs and shopping. Here, a person could swim in the Pacific, snow ski in Big Bear and visit the desert all in the same day.

USC is the largest private employer in Los Angeles and many of its staff live in the immediate neighborhood. The 10-square-block area north of campus is an ethnically diverse neighborhood that is home to about 6,000 students, faculty and staff. South and adjacent to campus is Exposition Park, containing museums, a beautiful rose garden, the Imax Theater and the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum and the Sports Arena.

USC Athletic Department Mission Statement

To recruit and develop student-athletes who will perform successfully in the classroom and compete at the championship level in every sport, in compliance with the letter and spirit of all applicable rules and under an administrative structure managed in an open and fiscally sound manner, supporting equitable opportunity for all students and staff, and committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct. Decision-making in the Athletic Department will follow 4 basic principles: (1) promoting the well-being of student participants; (2) attaining and maintaining competitive excellence; (3) administering clearly, openly and responsibly; and (4) supporting the overall goals of the USC community.

In a more specific context, the goals for USC Athletics include the following: (1) to compete successfully in every sport, striving to be in the Top 10 nationally, with the ultimate goal of winning national championships; (2) to graduate every student-athlete who completes athletics eligibility at USC; (3) to provide an environment conducive to positive growth and development of student-athletes and Athletic Department staff; (4) to provide adequate financial support within the department to ensure continuing development of the sports programs without university subsidization; and (5) to comply fully with all NCAA and Pac-10 regulations.

It's Not 'Southern Cal'

Note to the media: In editorial references to athletic teams of the University of Southern California, the following are preferred: USC, Southern California, So. California, Troy and Trojans for men's or women's teams, and Women of Troy for women's teams. PLEASE do not use Southern Cal (it's like calling San Francisco "Frisco" or North Carolina "North Car."). The usage of "Southern Cal" on licensed apparel and merchandise is limited in scope and necessary to protect federal trademark rights.

SENIOR QUARTERBACK CARSON PALMER

2002 OUTLOOK

Trojan Football

2002 FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

Although the plans were first drawn in the final days of 2000 and the foundation was set throughout 2001, by no means is the reconstruction of the USC football program finished. The building will continue at Troy in 2002.

But there is overwhelming optimism within the Trojan organization that the final product–a return to championship football–is within sight.

"Our goal is to win the Pac-10 championship and win the Rose Bowl," said second-year head coach Pete Carroll, formerly the head coach of the New England Patriots and New York Jets. "That's our goal this year and every year. In 2002, we must pick up where we left off last year, continuing to develop a winning attitude and style of play. What's evident is that we are much further ahead going into this season than we were last year."

There were signs last season that Carroll, who was hired in mid-December of 2000, had the Trojans moving in the right direction. After Troy started slowly at 1-4 in his debut season, Carroll stayed the course and got his troops to rally by winning 5 of their last 7 games (including the final 4 regular season contests) to finish at 6-6 overall. USC, which won its last 5 Pac-10 games after beginning league play at 0-3, placed fifth in the conference at 5-3 and earned a berth into the Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl. Putting an exclamation point on the regular season was a 27-0 blanking of No. 20 UCLA, USC's first shutout in the crosstown rivalry since 1947 and the series' biggest margin of victory since 1979.

The momentum from that end-of-the-regular season run could continue in 2002 with the help of the 14 starters (8 on offense and 5 on defense, plus the placekicker) who are back from last year's team. In all, 72 squadmen return, including 49 who saw playing time (42 were lettermen and 28 were on the season-ending 2-deep). Some 28 Trojans have started at least once in their career.

Joining them are 3 newcomers who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2002 and participated in spring drills, plus 21 new scholarship players (13 were prep and junior college All-Americans in 2001) who begin in the fall.

"We signed outstanding players from premier programs and we were able to cover all positions with an incredible level of talent," said Carroll, whose class was ranked in the national Top 10 by many recruiting services. "This is a big step in building the championship football program that all Trojans desire.

"You build championship teams by surrounding yourself with great competitors. Competition will be high for all positions. We're looking for the young players to compete immediately for playing time and we're counting on the returning players to battle to hold onto their spots."

Carroll says the formula needed for USC to experience success in 2002 is simple.

"We want to play great defense, be aggressive and efficient on offense and always count on our special teams to be a factor," he said. "That's the classic blueprint of a successful team. Last season, our strengths were on defense and in the kicking game, and we won the turnover battle. If we can do that again and run the football this year, we can be a factor in the Rose Bowl race."

The Trojan offense, which lost very few contributors from 2001, features some veteran skill position players and has experience across the front line.

Quarterback Carson Palmer, third on USC's career passing (618 completions) and total offense (7,801 yards) charts and on pace to own those records, and wide receiver Kareem Kelly, fifth on Troy's all-time receiving list (158 catches) and on track to set that record, figure to start for their fourth seasons in 2002. Palmer was the Pac-10's most accurate passer in 2001 at 58.6% (221-of-377) as he threw for 2,717 yards and 13 touchdowns. His 419 yards of total offense at Oregon last fall was a school record. Kelly, who has caught a pass in all 35 games he has played as a Trojan, caught 49 passes in 2001.

The tailback spot–manned last year for the first 6 games by 2-year starter Sultan McCullough, a 1,000-yard runner in 2000 who had 410 yards in 2001 before going out with an abdominal injury (he is 14th on USC's career rushing ladder), and then by converted fullback Sunny Byrd, who responded with 336 yards while starting the final 6 outings–should be loaded. McCullough and Byrd are back (although Byrd will return to fullback), as are 3 others with experience in Malaefou MacKenzie (765 rushing yards, 37 catches, 4 starts in his career), who missed 2001 with an injury, Justin Fargas (he redshirted in 2001 after transferring from Michigan) and Darryl Poston.

Keary Colbert, who had 34 catches in 2001 and has 67 in his career, returns as a starting wide receiver. Several others with 2001 experience–Grant Mattos (10 catches in 2001) and D. Hale (7)–will bolster the receiving corps.

Nearly the entire offensive line remains intact from a year ago, with tackles Jacob Rogers and Eric Torres, guard Zach Wilson, guard-center Lenny Vandermade and center Norm Katnik. Wilson will be starting for his fourth year and Vandermade for his third.

USC's offensive losses include 3-year starting fullback Charlie Landrigan, a good blocker and receiver, linebacker-turned-tight end Kori Dickerson and 2-year starting guard-tackle Faaesea Mailo.

All-American safety Troy Polamalu, a leading candidate for the Thorpe Award, headlines a defense that will call upon many experienced performers. Polamalu, USC's first All-American safety since Mark Carrier in 1989, is a big play waiting to happen. Not only did he make a team-best 118 tackles in 2001, including 13 for losses, but he returned 2 of his 3 interceptions for touchdowns, blocked 3 punts and recovered a fumble. In his career, he has run back 3 of his 5 picks for scores and blocked 4 punts. He'll start for his third year.

The rest of the secondary will be new, but not untested, with players like safety DeShaun Hill (83 tackles, 4 interceptions in his career) and cornerbacks Kevin Arbet (69 tackles, 4 interceptions in his career), Darrell Rideaux (60 career stops) and converted 2000 starting wide receiver Marcell Allmond (30 career catches) all having started some games in the past. Arbet won All-Pac-10 first team honors last fall as a special teams player.

Two promising young players will anchor the defensive line: tackle-end Shaun Cody (39 tackles, 5 sacks in 2001), a Freshman All-American first teamer last fall, and end Kenechi Udeze (35 tackles, 4 sacks in 2001), a Freshman All-American second teamer last year. They'll be joined by tackle Bernard Riley (26 tackles in 2001), who started USC's first 5 games of 2001 before injuring his knee (he also started in 2000).

Mike Pollard, who was second on USC in tackles last fall with 81, returns as a starting linebacker, as does Matt Grootegoed (32 tackles in 2001). A pair of players with 5 career starts each–Chris Prosser (20 tackles in 2001) and Aaron Graham–also are available there, as is Melvin Simmons, a 10-game starter at Washington State in 2000 (he redshirted in 2001 after transferring).

The defensive starters gone are 4-year starting safety-cornerback Antuan Simmons, who overcame a life-threatening illness in 2000 to star in 2001, NFL drafted cornerbacks Kris Richard (a 3-year starter) and Chris Cash (a 2-year starter), 2-year starting end Lonnie Ford, 3-year starting tackle Ryan Nielsen and linebacker Frank Strong, who also was used at safety, tailback and as a returner at Troy.

David Davis, the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker in 2001 at 83.3% (15-of-18), returns. He had a string of 12 consecutive successful field goals last fall after transferring from a junior college and he also was good on 31-of-34 PATs. But 4-year starting punter Mike MacGillivray, who owns USC records for career punts and punt yardage, must be replaced.

USC will embark upon its quest for success while playing, as usual, one of the nation's most difficult 12-game schedules. Seven opponents played in bowls last season and 5 were ranked in the final AP Top 20 (3 were in the Top 10). The Trojans open up 2002 on Labor Day evening against Auburn; the other non-conference games include early road contests at No. 9 Colorado and Kansas State and the regular season finale at home with Notre Dame. In Pac-10 games, USC hosts No. 19 Washington, Arizona State, Oregon State and California, and goes to No. 2 Oregon, No. 10 Washington State, No. 16 Stanford and UCLA.

"It's an extraordinary schedule," said Carroll. "It starts with a great Monday Night Football opener and picks up from there, finishing with both of our traditional rivals. With the caliber of non-conference opponents we'll face, we'll certainly be game ready when we get to the Pac-10 part of the schedule."

NEW USC JERSEYS

In its first major uniform change in 30 years, USC will wear jerseys in 2002 with a style that harkens back to the heyday era of the 1960s. The new jerseys are similar to those worn by Trojan teams from 1958 to 1969 (when Troy won 2 national titles and played in 5 Rose Bowls under coach John McKay). The jerseys feature a single crescent stripe on each shoulder pad and numbers on the sleeve (all stripes and numbers are sewn in). There also is an interlocking "SC" logo on the bottom of the neckline. Per tradition, there will be no names on the back of the jersey. The last time USC underwent a uniform change of this magnitude was in 1972, when the jerseys worn up until last season (3 stripes on each sleeve) were first introduced. (In 1970 and 1971, USC's jerseys had no markings besides the front and back numeral.)

OFFENSE

Starters return at 8 positions on offense in 2002: quarterback (Carson Palmer), both wide receivers (Kareem Kelly and Keary Colbert), tailback (co-starters Sultan McCullough and Sunny Byrd; Byrd will return to fullback in 2002), both tackles (Jacob Rogers and Eric Torres), a guard (Zach Wilson) and center (co-starters Lenny Vandermade and Norm Katnik). USC's top 2 rushers, passers and receivers statistically from 2001 are back. In 2002, offensive coordinator Norm Chow's unit must dramatically increase its offensive production from a year ago. The Trojans ranked in the Pac-10's bottom 4 in every offensive category last fall while averaging just 314.5 yards of total offense and 24.8 points a game. Injuries at the tailback spot left USC's running game anemic; its 87.7 rushing average was 109th nationally (out of 115 teams) and Troy's 1,052 total rushing yards was its fewest since records were kept in 1948. However, the Trojans had only 19 turnovers in 2001 (the second fewest in the Pac-10), quite an improvement after having a nation-leading 36 turnovers in 2000. That ball security must continue in 2002.

"We need to develop the running game so that it complements our ability to throw the football," said Carroll. "Last year, we saw glimpses of how effective our wide-open offensive attack can be. But injuries significantly curtailed our running game and that affected our production. We have a deep group of runners this year and our offensive line is a year more experienced.

"We also have to continue to take care of the football. We did a very good job in that area last year.

"If we can be more proficient running the ball and keep our negative plays to a minimum, then our offense will emerge."

QUARTERBACKS

Senior quarterback Carson Palmer (221-of-377, 58.6%, 2,717 yards, 13 TDs, 12 interceptions in 2001) is one of the nation's marquee signalcallers. His 58.6% completion rate in 2001 topped the Pac-10. A 3-year starter, he is third on USC's career passing (618 completions) and total offense (7,801 yards) lists. By year's end, he should move up to No. 1 in both categories (he needs 59 completions to break Rob Johnson's mark and 840 yards of total offense to eclipse Rodney Peete's standard) and he is on pace to also break Johnson's school career mark for passing yards (he has 7,876 and needs 597). His first pass attempt of 2002 will be the 1,082nd of his career, equalling Peete's USC mark. Last fall, his 419 yards of total offense at Oregon was a USC record.

"We anticipate a big, big year from Carson Palmer," said Carroll. "He is one of the premier quarterbacks in the country. If our running attack comes through, look for him to thrive. He's a veteran with all the tools to be successful. The competition for the No. 2 spot will be critical."

Three relatively untested youngsters will battle to back up Palmer: sophomore Matt Cassel (1-of-2, 50.0%, 5 yards in 2001), who also played some as a tight end-in-motion (1 catch, 12.0 average in 2001) and on special teams (1 tackle in 2001) last season, and redshirt freshmen Matt Leinart and Billy Hart, who is also a reserve infielder for the Trojan baseball team. Cassel and Leinart emerged from 2002 spring practice as co-No. 2s.

Junior Brandon Hance, who started Purdue's first 9 games of 2001 and completed 136-of-258 passes (52.7%) for 1,529 yards with 8 TDs (he also ran for 242 yards and 4 scores), enrolls in the fall, but he must sit out the 2002 season per the NCAA transfer rule.

RUNNING BACKS

Last year demonstrated why it is critical to have depth in the tailback corps. Injuries decimated USC's runners in 2001 and by midseason a fullback was starting at tailback. It's no wonder the Trojans averaged just 87.7 rushing yards a game last fall.

USC is 5-deep at tailback in 2002, including 3 experienced seniors. Speedy senior Sultan McCullough (115 carries, 410 yards, 3.6 average, 5 TDs in 2002, plus 6 receptions 16.7 average, 1 TD) returns after starting Troy's first 6 games of 2001. But he was sidelined the rest of the year with a strained abdominal muscle that required surgery. He ran for 1,163 yards in 2000 and is 14th on USC's prestigious career rushing ladder (1,986 yards). He has rushed for 100 yards 9 times in his career. The 1999 Pac-10 100-meter champion, he is the fastest player ever to wear a Trojan football uniform (10.17).

Senior Malaefou MacKenzie, who has 765 rushing yards and 37 receptions in his Trojan career (he has started 4 times), is petitioning the NCAA for a sixth year of eligibility in 2002. He was expected to team with McCullough to give Troy a 1-2 punch at the tailback position in 2001. But he left school at midseason last fall without seeing any action and returned home to Western Samoa (he missed 4 early games with a knee sprain and a fifth to attend his father's funeral).

Senior Justin Fargas, who was impressive while serving as USC's scout team tailback in 2001 and had an eye-opening performance in 2002 spring drills (139 and 111 rushing yards in 2 intrasquad scrimmages), will look to make a sudden impact this season. He enters fall camp as the starter. He sat out the 2001 campaign after transferring from Michigan, where he had 362 rushing yards in an injury-plagued career.

Sophomore Darryl Poston (8 carries, 16 yards, 2.0 average, 1 TD in 2001, plus 1 catch, 10.0 average) showed flashes last fall, but was bothered by a mid-year knee sprain. He, too, looked good in 2002 spring practice.

Prep All-American Hershel Dennis (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.) joins the tailback fray in the fall as a freshman.

"Competition is the key at tailback," said Carroll. "We have 5 very good players who are capable of big things, but we'll have to see who takes hold of the job. But, as we saw last year, you can never have enough quality tailbacks. Throw in the fullbacks, a group that we really like, and we have the potential to have a strong running game."

Senior Sunny Byrd (123 carries, 336 yards, 2.7 average, 4 TDs in 2001, plus 11 catches, 7.4 average and 5 tackles) enjoyed folk hero status last fall when he took over for McCullough at tailback and provided some hard-nosed running. He had never touched the ball at USC before then, but he started USC's last 6 contests and led the Trojans in rushing 5 times (he had at least 20 carries in 6 outings). He'll return to fullback in 2002 and will compete with another senior, Chad Pierson (4 carries, 11 yards, 2.8 average in 2001, plus 3 catches, 20.3 average, 1 TD), for the starting job. Pierson, who started once in 2000 and proved to be just as effective a runner and receiver as a blocker, missed the first half of 2001 with a back injury.

Also in the mix at fullback to replace Charlie Landrigan, a 3-year starter known for his leadership, rugged blocking and good hands (49 career receptions), are redshirt freshman David Kirtman and freshman Brandon Hancock, who enrolled at USC this past spring after earning prep All-American honors at Clovis West High in Fresno, Calif.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Like last year, USC's wide receivers are a deep and talented group with starters returning at both spots.

"This is a very, very competitive unit from top to bottom," said Carroll. "There is depth, speed and play-making ability across the board. Every one of our receivers can make an impact."

KEARY COLBERT – WR

ZACH WILSON – OG

Swift senior Kareem Kelly (49 catches, 16.3 average, 3 TDs in 2001, plus 6 carries, 38 yards, 6.3 average), a starter the past 3 years, is fifth on Troy's career pass catching list (158 receptions). He is within range of Johnnie Morton's school records for receptions (201) and receiving yards (3,201; he has 2,499). He has a catch in all 35 games he has played as a Trojan, 2 short of tying John Jackson's USC mark. He has had 100-yard receiving games 9 times in his career. He also sprints and runs relays for the USC track team.

Junior Keary Colbert (34 catches, 13.0 average, 2 TDs in 2001, plus 1 carry, 9 yards, 9.0 average) returns at the other wideout spot. The consistent 2-year starter has 67 career grabs.

Two other Trojans started a game last fall: senior Grant Mattos (10 catches, 10.4 average in 2001), who missed part of 2001 with a knee sprain, and junior D. Hale (7 catches, 15.1 average in 2001, plus 2 carries, 14 yards, 7.0 average), a one-time walk-on who earned a scholarship this past spring. Another junior, Sandy Fletcher (2 catches, 5.5 average in 2001), also saw time in 2001. Also looking to break into the rotation are redshirt freshmen William Buchanon and Frank Candela, junior Jason Mitchell, a 2001 junior college All-American at Los Angeles (Calif.) Harbor Junior College who enrolled at USC this past spring, and redshirt freshman walk-on Greig Carlson.

Freshmen coming aboard in the fall are prep All-Americans Mike Williams (Plant High in Tampa, Fla.) and Chris McFoy (Chino High in Chino, Calif.).

TIGHT ENDS

For the second consecutive year, USC will start a new tight end, this time in place of Kori Dickerson, the one-time linebacker who had 25 catches and 2 scores last fall.

Junior Alex Holmes (22 receptions, 7.5 average, 2 TDs in 2001) is the most experienced tight end on the roster, as he has seen significant action the past 2 seasons as the backup. He has 29 career catches with 2 touchdowns.

Also available are seniors Doyal Butler and Scott Huber, who played some at fullback in 2001, and sophomore Gregg Guenther Jr., who at 6-8 also was a reserve center on the 2002 Trojan men's basketball team that advanced to the NCAA tourney, but their combined career action is minimal.

Prep All-American Dominique Byrd (The Breck School in Minneapolis, Minn.) enrolls in the fall as a freshman.

"Although we're relatively inexperienced and somewhat thin at tight end, I think we'll be okay here as long as the players keep improving," said Carroll. "I expect they will. It's a high-potential group."

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

USC's offensive line from a year ago–save for 2-year starting guard-tackle Faaesea Mailo–comes back. But this group needs to improve its performance if the Trojan offense is to click.

"It's good to have just about our entire line back," said Carroll. "We're counting on this unit to become very effective because of its experience. And we need to develop the depth of our younger backups."

Senior guard Zach Wilson has started the past 3 years on the right side and has been solid. Junior tackles Jacob Rogers (left side) and Eric Torres (right side) started for the first time in 2001 and did commendable jobs. Steady junior Lenny Vandermade has started at center the past 2 years, but was moved to left guard in 2002 spring practice and will start there in 2002 (he started 5 times there in 2000). And junior Norm Katnik, the line's utility man after having started at all 3 positions in 2001 (5 times at guard, 4 at center and once at tackle), will handle the starting center job in 2002.

Angling for backup duty are senior Phillip Eaves, juniors Nate Steinbacher and walk-on Justin Brown at tackle, sophomores Joe McGuire (he likely will miss 2002 with a shoulder injury) and Travis Watkins at guard and senior Derek Graf, and junior walk-on Joe Boskovich (also the short snapper) at center. None of these players has seen appreciable action yet.

Freshmen help arrives in the fall with a quartet of prep All-Americans--tackles Winston Justice (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.) and Kyle Williams (Highland Park High in Dallas, Tex.), guard Fred Matua (Banning High in Wilmington, Calif.), who can also play defensive tackle, and center-guard Chris Doyle (Mater Dei High in Santa Ana, Calif.)--plus guard Kurt Katnik (Foothill High in Santa Ana, Calif), Norm's younger brother.

DEFENSE

Five defensive starters return from 2001: All-American safety Troy Polamalu, tackle-end Shaun Cody, end Kenechi Udeze and linebackers Mike Pollard and Matt Grootegoed. Seven others who have started games in the past also are back in tackle Bernard Riley, safety DeShaun Hill, cornerbacks Darrell Rideaux, Kevin Arbet and converted wide receiver Marcell Allmond, and linebackers Aaron Graham and Chris Prosser. USC's top 2 tacklers and its co-interception leaders from 2001 return. The Trojans last fall led the Pac-10 in scoring defense (17.3, 11th nationally) and were second in pass defense (179.2, 16th nationally) and total defense (330.8), all significant improvements from 2000. But opponents averaged 155.2 rushing yards a game, nearly 30 more yards an outing than 2000 despite USC's Pac-10 co-high 37 sacks. However, Troy had a stunning reversal in its turnover margin in 2001, tying for fifth nationally at +1.3. USC had 35 takeaways last year after getting only 17 in 2000. The Trojans intercepted 20 passes (they had just 7 in 2000), recovered 15 fumbles and scored 8 touchdowns on defense last fall. That trend needs to remain a focus.

"Our defense made a lot of progress last year and was one of our strengths," said Carroll, who serves as the defensive coordinator. "We hope it picks right up from there in 2002. We want to continue to be an aggressive, big play defense that scores points. The returning starters are solid and we'll count on them heavily, particularly our All-American, Troy Polamalu. We lost some starters from last year, but I'm confident that we have experienced, quality players to fill in for them. The key is to find starting cornerbacks.

"Our philosophy on defense is to capture the ball. Turnover ratio is a very important statistic for us and we took a huge jump in the right direction last year. That needs to remain one of the markers of our success."

DEFENSIVE LINEMEN

Although half of last year's 4-man defensive front–2-year starting end Lonnie Ford (81 tackles, 30 for a loss, 16 sacks in his career) and 3-year starting tackle Ryan Nielsen (107 career tackles)–is gone, USC is still in good shape here in 2002.

Two of the nation's top young defensive linemen return as sophomore starters: tackle-end Shaun Cody (39 tackles, 7 for losses, 5 sacks, 1 fumble recovery in 2001), who was a Freshman All-American first team pick last season, and end Kenechi Udeze (35 tackles, 9 for losses, 4 sacks, 1 fumble recovery, 3 forced fumbles, 1 deflection in 2001), a Freshman All-American second teamer last year. Both are destined for big things at USC.

Senior tackle Bernard Riley (26 tackles, 5 for losses, 1 sack, 1 fumble recovery, 1 deflection, 1 interception in 2001), who started Troy's first 5 games of 2001 before injuring his knee (he also started in 2000), also is back.

"We can be strong up front," said Carroll. "Shaun Cody and Kenechi Udeze give us a good young nucleus to build around and we're fortunate to have Bernard Riley back. But we need our incoming players to contribute as we develop our depth."

Senior Anthony Daye, who can also play end, and sophomores Mike Patterson (9 tackles, 5 for losses, 3 sacks, 2 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries in 2001) and walk-on Spencer Torgan, a converted offensive guard, also are available at tackle.

The other end spot could be manned by junior Omar Nazel (15 tackles, 4 for losses, 3 sacks, 1 deflection, 1 interception in 2001), sophomore A.J. Single, a converted center, redshirt freshman Austin Jackson, a converted linebacker, or walk-on sophomore Jay Bottom...or by a newcomer.

Joining USC in the fall will be a pair of junior college All-Americans–ends Daniel Urquhart of Los Angeles (Calif.) Southwest Junior College, who will be a junior, and Van Brown of Pasadena (Calif.) City College, who will be a sophomore–plus a pair of freshmen in prep All-American tackle Manuel Wright (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.) and end LaJuan Ramsey (Dominguez High in Compton, Calif.).

LINEBACKERS

The linebacking corps, an area of concern last year because of 3 new starters, has become a position of strength in 2002.

Two starters return from 2001: reliable senior Mike Pollard (81 tackles, 8 for losses, 7 deflections, 1 fumble recovery, 2 forced fumbles in 2001) in the middle and versatile sophomore Matt Grootegoed (32 tackles, 8 for losses, 1 sack, 1 fumble recovery, 2 deflections in 2001) on the strong side. Pollard was second on the Trojans in tackles and first in deflections last fall. Grootegoed broke his leg near the end of last season.

Junior Melvin Simmons sat out last season after transferring from Washington State, where he was a starter in 2000, but he has emerged as the likely weakside replacement for Strong, who had 82 tackles and 2 interceptions in his career (he also was a safety, tailback and returner at USC).

There is plenty of quality depth behind these linebackers. Senior Aaron Graham (11 tackles, 1 for a loss, 1 sack in 2001) has started 5 times in the middle in his career, but will work on the weak side in 2002. Junior Chris Prosser (20 tackles, 4 for losses, 2 sacks, 1 deflection in 2001) has 5 career starts (including 3 last year) on the strong side. Sophomores Lee Webb (8 tackles, 1 forced fumble in 2001) in the middle and Bobby Otani (1 tackle in 2001) on the weak side saw measurable action last fall, although Otani suffered a midseason knee injury. Also available are junior Matt Hayward (1 tackle in 2001), who is the long snapper, junior walk-on Alex Bottom, who doubles as a backup snapper, and redshirt freshman Collin Ashton.

Two prep All-Americans–Oscar Lua (Indio High in Indio, Calif.) and Dallas Sartz (Granite Bay High in Granite Bay, Calif.)–will join this group in the fall as freshmen (Sartz also can play safety).

"We're in good shape at linebacker," said Carroll. "The returning starters are proven veterans now and there will be quite a fight among the others for playing time. This can be a really good unit for us. We're much farther along here than we were a year ago."

DEFENSIVE BACKS

At first glance, the secondary appears to be an area of worry for USC in 2002, considering that 3 top-quality starters have departed. Gone are 4-year starting safety-cornerback Antuan Simmons (208 tackles, 9 interceptions, 6 blocked kicks in his career), who beat a life-threatening illness in 2000 and had an impressive 2001 season (he'll long be remembered for his amazing between-the-legs interception for a TD versus UCLA), and cornerbacks Kris Richard (125 tackles, 8 picks as a 3-year starter) and Chris Cash (86 tackles, 4 interceptions as a 2-year starter), both who were NFL draft picks.

But things are not as dire as they appear, especially not when the Trojans return perhaps the nation's best safety in senior Troy Polamalu (118 tackles, 13 for losses, 1 sack, 6 deflections, 3 interceptions, 2 forced fumbles, 1 fumble recovery and 3 blocked punts in 2001). The 2-year starting strong safety is a leading candidate for the Thorpe Award in 2002 after last fall becoming USC's first All-American first team safety since Thorpe recipient Mark Carrier in 1989. Polamalu, who twice won Pac-10 Player of the Week honors in 2001, made big plays in seemingly every game last season. His 118 tackles topped USC and was tied for second in the Pac-10. His tackle totals were game highs 7 times, including a Las Vegas Bowl record 20 against Utah. He returned 2 of his 3 interceptions for touchdowns, blocked 3 punts and recovered a fumble. In his career, he has run back 3 of his 5 picks for scores and blocked 4 punts.

"Troy Polamalu is one of the best players I've ever coached," said Carroll, who has tutored such star defensive backs as Ronnie Lott, Tim McDonald, Aaron Glenn, Merton Hanks, Eric Davis and Lawyer Milloy. "He is a tremendous football player and it shows in every phase of the game: pass defense, run defense, blitzing and special teams. Pound for pound, he is our strongest player (600 pounds in the squat and 353 pounds in the power clean) and he has been a star in our off-season conditioning program. He is a team player, as shown by his desire and performance on special teams. He is also a humble, dedicated team leader who is respected greatly by his teammates, as evidenced by the rare feat of being voted a team captain as just a junior last year. I can't imagine a better safety in college football in 2002."

Add a collection of experienced players alongside Polamalu and, if the cornerback spots solidify, USC's secondary could be as effective as it was last season (defensive backs accounted for 15 of the Trojans' 20 interceptions and 6 of the defense's 8 touchdowns; USC was 16th nationally in pass defense).

The new cornerbacks will be chosen from among a pair of seniors who have started in the past–4-time starter Kevin Arbet (25 tackles, 3 for losses, 2 sacks, 6 deflections, 3 interceptions, 1 fumble recovery in 2001), who won All-Pac-10 first team laurels last year as a special teams player and who returned 1 of his 3 picks for a TD, and 6-time starter Darrell Rideaux (8 tackles in 2001)–plus junior Marcell Allmond, a converted wide receiver who redshirted last fall while suspended from USC for a student conduct violation (he has 30 career catches while starting 6 times on offense, but he last played defense as a 1998 high school senior), senior Miguel Fletcher, senior walk-on Marcus Johnson, soph walk-ons Justin Tolliver (1 tackle, 1 interception in 2001), Forrest Mozart (1 tackle in 2001), another converted wide receiver, and Chris Bocage, and redshirt freshman walk-on Alex Gomez. Rideaux (sprints, relays), Allmond (hurdles) and Tolliver (sprints) also compete for the USC track team.

Senior DeShaun Hill (42 tackles, 1 for a loss, 1 deflection, 2 interceptions, 1 fumble recovery, 1 forced fumble in 2001) has the inside track on the starting free safety job, as he has started 8 games in his career. Other safeties include sophomore Jason Leach (8 tackles, 1 deflection in 2001), redshirt freshman John Walker, and a trio of walk-ons in sophomores Matt Lemos and Kyle Matthews and redshirt frosh Andre Woodert, a converted wide receiver.

In the fall, look for junior college All-American Ronald Nunn of San Francisco (Calif.) City College, who will be a junior, and prep All-American Justin Wyatt (Dominguez High in Compton, Calif.), who will be a freshman, to compete at cornerback, and two other incoming freshmen–prep All-American Darnell Bing (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.) and Mike Ross (St. Petersburg Catholic High in St. Petersburg, Fla.)–to battle at safety (incoming freshman linebacker Dallas Sartz also might work at safety).

"If the cornerbacks step up and play like I think they can, our secondary can be a real factor in 2002," said Carroll. "I'm looking forward to seeing how they come together."

SPECIAL TEAMS

USC's placekicker (David Davis), short snapper (Joe Boskovich), long snapper (Matt Hayward) and top punt returner (Kevin Arbet) and kickoff returner (Darrell Rideaux) from 2001 are back. But the punter, holder and kickoff man will be new.

Last year, USC's special teams were markedly improved over 2000. The Trojans were particularly effective in field goal accuracy (83.3%, tops in the Pac-10), blocking kicks and punts (5) and kickoff return coverage (20.2-yard average). But they were average in other areas (8.4-yard average on punt returns and 18.9-yard average on kickoff returns, with no scoring runbacks) and inadequate in others, including punting (39.0-yard average) and kicking off (only 1 touchback on 62 kickoffs). So, there is room for improvement in the special teams.

"We need to continue to build upon the performance of our special teams," said Carroll. "That was a focus last year and will remain so in 2002. We need to maintain our effort and results in some areas, like field goal kicking and blocking kicks and punts, and we need to be more productive in our punting, kickoffs and return coverage. Last year, we saw the dramatic effect special teams can have on the outcome of a game. We saw how exhilarating good special teams play can be, but also how devastating it can be if you don't perform.

"David Davis should have another strong year kicking field goals and our new punter will be asked to bring us to a new level there. And I'm very excited about the prospect of having some dangerous return men."

PUNTERS

USC's punter the past 4 seasons–Mike MacGillivray, who set school career records for punts (298) and punt yardage (11,700) while owning a 39.3-yard average–has graduated. The Trojans are hoping his replacement will be more consistent. Although a pair of untested walk-ons–junior Tommy Huff and redshirt freshman Zach Sherwood–are back, the new punter will be freshman Tom Malone, who enrolled at USC this past spring after a prep All-American career at Temescal Canyon High in Lake Elsinore, Calif. He showed a strong leg in 2002 spring practice.

PLACEKICKERS

Senior David Davis (15-of-18 field goals, 31-of-34 PATs in 2001) had an impressive showing in 2001 after transferring from a junior college. The lefty was the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker last fall (83.3%) and was tied for 18th nationally in field goals (1.3). He hit 12 field goals in a row at one point. He even ran for a short TD on a fake field goal. However, a new kickoff man must be found for David Newbury, who compensated for a lack of leg strength by pooching his kickoffs (which resulted in 14 fair catches). Those short kickoffs accounted for USC's creditable kickoff coverage average of 20.2 yards in 2001 (second best in the Pac-10), although only 1 of Newbury's 62 kickoffs was a touchback and just 7 pinned opponents inside the 20-yard line. Sophomore Ryan Killeen, a transfer from Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif., could get the job.

SNAPPERS

HOLDERS

A new holder must be found now that punter Mike MacGillivray, who handled the job last year, is gone. Among the untested candidates are freshman punter Tom Malone, redshirt freshman quarterback Matt Leinart and junior cornerback Marcell Allmond.

RETURNERS

USC's top punt returner–senior cornerback Kevin Arbet (25 punt returns, 9.0 average in 2001, plus 3 kickoff returns, 17.7 average)–and kickoff returner–senior cornerback Darrell Rideaux (19 kickoff returns, 19.1 average in 2001)–from last year are back. Others who might figure in the return game are senior wide receiver Kareem Kelly (8 punt returns, 6.4 average in 2001), redshirt freshman wide receiver Frank Candela, junior wide receivers D. Hale and Jason Mitchell, sophomore tailback Darryl Poston, and a trio of incoming freshmen, safety Darnell Bing, tailback Hershel Dennis and cornerback Justin Wyatt.

HEAD COACH PETE CARROLL

Pete Carroll brought big doses of experience, enthusiasm and leadership in his quest to revive the USC football program when he was named the Trojans' head football coach on Dec. 15, 2000 (he signed a 5-year contract).

After Troy started off his opening 2001 season slowly at 1-4, Carroll stayed the course and got his troops to rally by winning 5 of their last 7 games (including the final 4 regular season contests) to finish at 6-6 overall. USC, which won its last 5 Pac-10 games after beginning league play at 0-3, placed fifth in the conference at 5-3 and earned a berth into the Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl. Putting an exclamation point on the regular season was a 27-0 blanking of No. 20 UCLA, USC's first shutout in the crosstown rivalry since 1947 and the series' biggest margin of victory since 1979.

The 50-year-old Carroll has 27 years of NFL and college experience, including 11 on the college level. He is 6-6 as a college head coach.

He was the head coach of the NFL's New England Patriots for 3 seasons (1997-99) and New York Jets for 1 year (1994). He guided the Patriots into the playoffs in his first 2 seasons, winning the AFC Eastern Division title at 10-6 in 1997 and advancing to the second round of the playoffs, then posting a 9-7 regular season mark in 1998. His overall record in New England was 27-21 in the regular season (including 8-8 in 1999) and 1-2 in the playoffs. He owns the franchise's second-best winning percentage (54.9%). After serving as the Jets' defensive coordinator for 4 seasons (1990-93), he became the team's head coach the following season. His 1994 Jets went 6-10. Only 3 other Jets head coaches won more games in their rookie campaign.

He spent the next 2 years (1995-96) as the defensive coordinator with the San Francisco 49ers, who won the NFC Western Division title both seasons. The 49ers were 11-5 in the 1995 regular season when they had the NFL's top-ranked defense and then went 12-4 in 1996.

Carroll began his coaching career at the college level, serving as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Pacific, for 3 years (1974-76), working with the wide receivers and secondary. He then spent a season each as an assistant in charge of the secondary at Arkansas (1977) under Lou Holtz as the Razorbacks won the 1978 Orange Bowl, at Iowa State (1978) under Earle Bruce (the Cyclones played in the 1978 Hall of Fame Bowl) and at Ohio State (1979) under Bruce. That Buckeye squad lost to USC in the 1980 Rose Bowl. He next spent 3 seasons (1980-82) as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at North Carolina State, then returned to Pacific in 1983 as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator.

He entered the NFL in 1984 as the defensive backs coach of the Buffalo Bills, then held a similar position with the Minnesota Vikings for 5 seasons (1985-89). The Vikings advanced to the playoffs his last 3 years there, getting to the NFC Championship game in 1987. The 1988 team was 11-5 in the regular season and the 1989 squad won the NFC Central Division crown with a 10-6 mark. His secondary averaged 25 interceptions a season and led the NFL in passing defense in 1989.

Carroll spent the 2000 season as a consultant for pro and college teams, doing charitable work for the NFL and writing a column about pro football for CNNSI.com.

Carroll was a 2-time (1971-72) All-Pacific Coast Conference free safety at Pacific and earned his bachelor's degree in 1973 in business administration. He received his secondary teaching credential and a master's degree in physical education from Pacific in 1976.

He was a 3-sport (football, basketball and baseball) standout at Redwood High in Larkspur, Calif., earning the school's Athlete of the Year award as a senior. He played quarterback, wide receiver and defensive back. He then played football at Marin Junior College in Kentfield, Calif., in 1970.

He was born on Sept. 15, 1951 in San Francisco. He and his wife, Glena, who played volleyball at Pacific, have 3 children: sons Brennan, 22, who played tight end at Pittsburgh (he previously played at Delaware) and is now an assistant at USC, and Nathan, 14, and daughter Jaime, 19, a junior at USC who played on the Women of Troy's highly-ranked volleyball team which competed in the 2000 NCAA Final Four. His late father-in-law, Dean Goranson, received his master's degree from USC.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT PETE CARROLL

COACHES

Bud Grant, former Minnesota Vikings head coach: "He's got that intangible I think head coaches have to have. There's an instinct you have to have. A lot of excellent coaches can't be head coaches. We used to talk a lot. He was always interested in the whys of things, and not just in his sphere. He wanted to know: 'Why do this? Where did you get this idea? Where did you come up with that idea? You do it differently. Why?' I think that has made him a better coach. Pete is special. He's the right kind of guy. Honorable. He has a good philosophy of the game, he teaches good technical skills and he understands the abilities of his players. The thing that helps Pete the most as a head coach is his ability to see the whole picture. Some head coaches don't have that ability to be able to stand in the middle of a practice field and know everything that's going on. And he's secure enough in his knowledge and his ability to take what he learns on the practice field and use it to make the tough decisions and stand by them. Pete has all of that and more."

Paul Wiggin, Minnesota Vikings defensive line coach during Carroll's tenure: "There was something there about Pete that Bud Grant saw. The thing that was so interesting about Pete is that he always studied Bud. Pete has football genius about him. He knows how to simplify and unscramble. The thing that's neat about Pete is that, when he calls a meeting, players will look forward to going. I think Pete will be an overwhelming success. I would bet on Pete Carroll."

Jerry Burns, former Minnesota Vikings head coach: "Pete is a very, very smart guy. Very innovative. He's football-wise. His rapport with players is excellent."

George Seiffert, former San Francisco 49ers head coach: "He's got quite an energy level. In fact, we kid him about being so hyper. I've been impressed by the way his players play, the enthusiasm with which they play."

Steve Sidwell, New England Patriots defensive coordinator under Carroll: "Pete is one of the brightest defensive minds I've ever been around."

Bill Walsh, former San Francisco 49ers head coach: "Pete is one of those unique, dynamic people with great charisma who has a gift. I don't think there's anybody better."

Ed Donatell, New York Jets assistant coach under Carroll: "USC got a dandy coach. He'll be a phenomenal recruiter. I think the college game is probably where he belongs. He's just a unique individual. He knows what's important in life. He knows the coaches don't have to be in the offices until midnight. But if people think he's easy, they're wrong, and the players will be the first to find out."

Jack Reilly, New England Patriots quarterbacks coach under Carroll: "Pete will do a good job at USC. He's a very, very hard-working guy. He's organized. He loves what he's doing. He's like a kid in a candy store. He's smart. He'll figure things out and make whatever adjustments are necessary. He's a great scheme guy. He was one of the best defensive coordinators in the NFL. He'll help the offense, too. He has a million ideas. He knows how people attack."

Steve Gutman, New York Jets president during Carroll's tenure: "He's a good guy in a business not famous for good guys. He has achieved a rare balance of man-husband-father-coach."

Chester Caddas, Carroll's Pacific head coach: "I loved Pete as a player. He was a tremendous college player. He truly loved the game. He was intense and he was smart and he looked forward to every snap. I knew once he committed himself 100 percent to coaching, he would make a great coach. He had an idea every 30 seconds. He also had great knowledge of the technical aspects of the game, on both sides of the ball. But most importantly, the players liked him. He was honest and upbeat. Whatever Pete tells you, you can go to the bank with. I think players appreciate that. One thing Pete has always had is an ability to deal with people. I think people enjoy his enthusiasm. He's always upbeat, but he's never out of control. I don't think I've ever seen him down."

Bob Troppman, Carroll's Redwood High head coach: "Pete was born to coach. His mind was always going. Even when he was playing Pop Warner and freshman football, he was the guy in the huddle drawing plays in the dirt. He was always off someplace working out new drills. He's really an ingenious type of guy. He's always been an innovator, always a step ahead."

PLAYERS

Willie McGinest, New England Patrios defensive end under Carroll: "Pete will be a good college coach. He'll be a good guy for USC. In my opinion, he's a good coach, he's approachable, you can speak to him, he's energetic, he knows how to motivate guys and he's also knowledgeable about the game. His style fits the college game, especially USC. College kids will definitely relate to him. His energy suits college guys. They'll love him. That type of enthusiasm he has will be great in the college game. He's fun to play for. He gets you fired up to play for him."

Steve Young, San Francisco 49ers quarterback under Carroll: "It's an absolutely great move for USC. If he walked into my living room and recruited me, there's no way I could turn him down."

Eric Davis, San Francisco 49ers All-Pro cornerback under Carroll: "He listens to the players. We have a voice. Everybody is not going to be happy. But, if you have a problem, you can go to him. He's a teacher. He wants to make sure that everybody not only knows what to do, but why they're doing it. That makes us better."

Lawyer Milloy, New England Patriots strong safety under Carroll: "We all believe in his system, we all believe in the type of coach he is. He's a great coach and I love playing for the guy."

Tim McDonald, San Francisco 49ers safety under Carroll: "Anyone who calls a corner blitz when there's 99 yards to go has some big kanoodles. And he's definitely got them. He's not afraid to take a chance. He also makes it fun. He tries to get a vibe for what a team needs. He's willing to do whatever it takes to get a team going."

Bart Oates, San Francisco 49ers center under Carroll: "His enthusiasm is infectious."

Marvin Washington, New York Jets defensive end under Carroll: "Pete expects hard work and we have to give it to him."

Art Monk, New York Jets end under Carroll: "His optimism and enthusiasm. I've never been around a coach like Pete. He gives energy."

Junior Bryant, San Francisco 49ers defensive tackle under Carroll: "He thinks he's a comedian in meetings. He'll always put a little smart remark in to loosen guys up. But joking aside, he's all business. He's fiery and upbeat and he has a positive attitude."

Gary Plummer, San Francisco 49ers linebacker under Carroll: "He's a diverse individual and he knows there's more to life than just football. He forges relationships with people. There are coaches out there who will leave you hanging, tell you one thing, and if it doesn't work, you get hung out to dry in the papers. Pete Carroll isn't one of those guys."

MEDIA

Clark Judge, FOXSports.com/San Jose Mercury News: "Carroll is the perfect fit for USC. He is from the West Coast. He was a successful defensive coordinator and experienced head coach in the NFL. He is a superb tactician. He is energetic. He is charismatic. In short, he is everything you'd want from your next college football coach. Don't you want someone coaching your team who can, first, get the talent, then, know how to use it? He proved he could win with ordinary talent and without having complete authority in New England. Carroll is a lead-pipe cinch for a head coaching position somewhere. He is young, he is enthusiastic, he is articulate, he works well with the media, he works better with his players and, most important, he does his job as proficiently as anyone in the business. Nobody will accuse Carroll of running with the pack. He quotes Jerry Garcia, splices film clips of beavers at work in with defensive highlight footage, used to surf the aisles of charter flights on cafeteria trays and, yes, spends afternoons after practice running with a football."

Dan Shaughnessy, Boston Globe: "Pete Carroll is the perfect coach for USC. He's a guy with great family values. I would send my son to USC to play under him."

C.W. Nevius, San Francisco Chronicle: "He is the kind of guy who can take a player to unexpected heights by sheer force of enthusiasm. The Jets players loved him in his four years as defensive coordinator, which was why he was an enormously popular choice to become their head coach. He's a great guy, talkative, bright and cooperative."

Mike Lupica, Newsday: "He is a good coach. Everyone talks about how hard the Jets played for Pete Carroll. I think he's better suited to coach college than the pros. He's a good person with a good heart."

Bob Glauber, The Sporting News: "Jets owner Leon Hess made a huge mistake when he fired Carroll after only one season. Carroll's ingenious schemes and player-friendly personality would have eventually turned around the Jets."

Glenn Dickey, San Francisco Chronicle: "He's bright and personable, able to relate to players and the media. Carroll did a great job in both coaching the 49ers defense and coming up with imaginative game plans. One of his biggest assets is his flexibility. The trick, always, is to keep the offense off-balance. Carroll is a master at that."

John Crumpacker, San Francisco Examiner: "Carroll's belief is to make fun what is often taken so darn seriously, this business that masquerades as a game."

Mark Cannizzaro, New York Post: "Pete Carroll permeates his energetic lightning-rod touch among his players and coaches. But part of Carroll's style is toughness."

Jim Thomas, South Bay Daily Breeze: "The temptation was to say that Mike Garrett did indeed get it right this time. That's how impressive Carroll was in his first public appearance as USC's football coach. The charismatic Carroll wowed the toughest crowd of them all–a bunch of heard-it-all-before reporters at a coming-out press conference. He was so smooth, so intelligent and sharp, so enthusiastic and sincere, he could easily have been mistaken for the CEO of a Dot.Com company. Acting like the star graduate of a public-speaking course taught by Tony Robbins, the confident Carroll could not have done more to set the stage for a new era."

Mark Whicker, Orange County Register: "What Carroll can do at USC is create a community. There are players, coaches, staff, parents, and the modern coach gets them involved, and the grinding season becomes a joyride. Pete Carrroll will try to build a cardinal brick road for the Trojans."

ASSISTANT COACHES

GREG BURNS
Secondary

Greg Burns, who was a defensive back in the Pac-10, is in his first year as USC's secondary coach. He joined the Trojan staff in February of 2002.

Burns, 29, handled the cornerbacks at Louisville the previous 4 years (1998 to 2001). The Cardinals were 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense and had 20 interceptions in 2001 (the team went 11-2 and beat BYU in the Liberty Bowl). In 2000, Louisville led the nation in interceptions (27) and was 20th in pass efficiency defense. In 1998, Cardinal cornerback Antonio Roundtree earned All-Conference USA first team honors. Louisville also played in the 1998 Motor City Bowl, 1999 Humanitarian Bowl and 2000 Liberty Bowl.

He was the secondary coach at Idaho in 1997, as the Vandals intercepted 13 passes.

He was a 4-year letterman (1991-93, 1995) and 2-year starter as a defensive back at Washington State, earning All-Pac-10 honorable mention honors in 1992. The 1992 Cougar squad won the Copper Bowl. He ranks eighth on WSU's career interception list with 9 (his 5 picks in 1992–including 2 against USC—is tied for seventh on the school's season chart). He won WSU's Laurie Niemi Award in 1995 (for the senior exhibiting courage, spirit and positive attitude). He missed the 1994 season with torn ligaments in his knee and his 1995 season was cut short because of a shoulder injury.

He earned a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1995 and a master's degree in counseling psychology in 1997, both from Washington State.

He was on the football and track teams at Dorsey High in Los Angeles, Calif.

Born Nov. 9, 1972, he is single.

His brother, Dexter, was a defensive back at San Jose State in the mid-1990s.

NORM CHOW

Offensive Coordinator

Norm Chow, regarded as one of the premier offensive coordinators in college football, is in his second year at USC. He joined the Trojan staff in January of 2001 as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach; in 2002, he'll just handle the offensive coordinator duties.

He spent the 2000 season as the offensive coordinator and quartterbacks coach at North Carolina State, where he helped the Wolfpack to an 8-4 season and a victory in the Micronpc.com Bowl. The NCSU passing offense was ranked 15th nationally (292.6). His quarterback, Philip Rivers, was a Freshman All-American who completed 53.7% (237-of-441) of his passes for 3,054 yards with 25 touchdowns and was 12th nationally in total offense (269.9).

Before that, the 56-year-old Chow spent the previous 27 years (1973-99) at BYU. At various times, he was the Cougars' assistant head coach, offensive coordinator, co-offensive coordinator, quarterbacks coach, receivers coach, recruiting coordinator and graduate assistant (1973 and 1974).

He coached 6 of the NCAA's top 12 career passing efficiency leaders and was involved with squads that hold 11 of the top 30 single season passing yardage totals in NCAA history. He coached in 22 bowls at BYU and was on the staff of the Cougars' 1984 national championship team. BYU went 244-91-3 during his time in Provo.

He was named the National Assistant Coach of the Year in 1999 by the American Football Foundation and in 1993 by Athlon. He was the 1996 Division I Offensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Quarterly. In 1996, he was a finalist for the Frank Broyles Award (given to the nation's top assistant).

Among the Cougar players he coached were a number of future NFL stars, including quarterbacks Steve Young, Jim McMahon, Marc Wilson, Gifford Nielsen, Ty Detmer and Robbie Bosco, plus tight end Todd Christensen. Detmer won the 1990 Heisman Trophy and was a Davey O'Brien Trophy winner (twice), as were Young and McMahon.

Chow began his coaching career as the head coach at Waialua (Hi.) High for 3 seasons (1970-72) before going to BYU.

He was a 2-year starter and 3-year letterman at offensive guard for Utah (1965-67). In 1967, he earned All-Western Athletic Conference first team and All-American honorable mention honors. He was selected to Utah's All-Century Team.

He then played briefly with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League in 1968 before a knee injury ended his playing career.

He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Utah in 1968, his master's in special education from Utah in 1970 and his doctorate in educational psychology from BYU in 1979.

He prepped at Punahou High in Honolulu, Hi., starring in football, basketball and baseball.

He was born on May 3, 1946. He and his wife, Diane, have 3 sons–Carter, 27, Cameron, 21, and Chandler, 16–and a daughter, Maile, 25.

TIM DAVIS

Offensive Line (Guards and Centers)

Tim Davis joined the USC staff in March of 2002, working with the offensive line (guards and centers).

Davis, 44, spent the previous 5 seasons (1997-2001) at Wisconsin in charge of the tight ends and offensive tackles. Badger tight end Mark Anelli was an All-Big Ten first teamer in 2001. Wisconsin played in the 1998 Outback Bowl, 1999 and 2000 Rose Bowls and 2000 Sun Bowl.

Davis began his coaching career at Wisconsin, working with the offensive line as a volunteer assistant in 1983 and 1986 and graduate assistant in 1984 and 1985. The Badgers appeared in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl.

He then coached a season each at Arizona (as the offensive line graduate assistant in 1987), Walla Walla (Wash.) Community College (as the offensive coordinator in 1988) and Idaho State (handling the offensive line in 1989).

He then was the offensive line coach at Utah for 7 seasons (1990-96). Ute center Lance Scott was a 2-time All-Western Athletic Conference pick, while tackle Anthony Brown also made All-WAC and tackle Barry Sims plays for the Oakland Raiders. Utah played in the 1992 and 1996 Copper Bowls and 1993 and 1994 Freedom Bowls (USC beat the Utes in the 1993 Freedom Bowl).

He was a 3-year (1978-80) letterman as an offensive tackle at Utah. He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Utah in 1982. In 1986, he earned a master's degree in higher education from Wisconsin.

He played professionally in 1981 with the CFL's Hamilton Tiger Cats and in 1983 with the USFL's Los Angeles Express.

He starred in football and track at Castro Valley (Calif.) HS.

Davis was born June 17, 1958. He and his wife, Janice, have a son, Nick, 7, and a daughter, Mary Rose, 3.

NICK HOLT

Linebackers

Nick Holt, now in his second year at USC, has just the kind of fiery demeanor to handle the linebackers. He joined the Trojan staff in January of 2001

He was the defensive line coach at Louisville for the previous 3 seasons (1998-2000). In 2000, the Cardinals were fourth nationally in rushing defense (79.9), set a school record for sacks with 50 (second in the nation) and were second nationally in turnovers with 38. Louisville appeared in a bowl game each season (the 1998 Motor City Bowl, 1999 Humanitarian Bowl and 2000 Liberty Bowl).

Holt, 39, came to Louisville after 8 seasons (1990-97) at Idaho. He was in charge of the defensive line for the first 5 years and then was the linebackers coach the final 3 seasons. He also served as the defensive coordinator for the last 4 of those seasons. His 1994 unit topped Division I-AA in run defense (and was fifth in 1995).

He began his coaching career in 1986 as an assistant at St. Mary's High in Stockton (Calif.). He then was a graduate assistant at UNLV in 1987 before becoming the Rebels' linebackers coach the following 2 seasons (1988-89).

He lettered 4 years (1981, 83-85) at linebacker for Pacific. He was an All-American honorable mention selection in 1985, when he also earned All-AP West Coast and All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association notice. He was Pacific's MVP in 1985 and a team captain as a junior and senior.

He earned his bachelor's degree in political economics from Pacific in 1986.

He played football and baseball at Bellarmine Prep in San Jose, Calif.

He was born Oct. 15, 1962. He and his wife, Julie (who was the head women's basketball at Nevada Reno, Pacific, Gonzaga and Idaho; she currently coaches Los Angeles Harbor Junior College), have 2 sons, Nick, 9, and Ben, 5.

His maternal grandfather was Clarence "Buster" Crabbe, USC's first All-American swimmer (1931) who was a 1931 NCAA freestyle titlist and 1932 Olympic gold medalist (he won a bronze in 1928) before starring in Hollywood as Tarzan, Flash Gordon and Buck Rogers.

LANE KIFFIN

Wide Receivers

Lane Kiffin, the son of longtime pro and collegiate coach Monte Kiffin, is in his second year at USC. He joined the Trojan staff in February of 2001 and spent the 2001 season handling the tight ends. He'll be the wide receivers coach in 2002.

Kiffin, 27, was the defensive quality control coach for the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars in 2000 (he worked with the secondary).

He began his coaching career at Fresno State, his alma mater, where for 2 seasons (1997-98) he worked with the quarterbacks, wide receivers and defensive backs.

He then was an assistant at Colorado State in 1999, working with the offensive line. The Rams played in the Liberty Bowl that season.

Kiffin was a quarterback at Fresno State for 3 seasons (1994-96).

He earned his bachelor's degree in leisure service management from Fresno State in 1998.

He prepped at Bloomington (Minn.) Jefferson High, where he played football, basketball and baseball.

He was born May 9, 1975. His wife's name is Layla.

His father, Monte, is the defensive coordinator of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. The elder Kiffin, a longtime NFL and collegiate assistant coach who served as North Carolina State's head coach in the early 1980s, has a long history with Pete Carroll (Carroll was as assistant on Kiffin's Wolfpack staff from 1980 to 1982, and they served as assistants together with Arkansas in 1977, the Buffalo Bills in 1984, the Minnesota Vikings from 1986 to 1989 and the New York Jets in 1990).

ED ORGERON

Defensive Line
Recruiting Coordinator

Ed Orgeron, regarded as one of college football's premier defensive line coaches, has been USC's defensive line coach the past 4 seasons (1998-2001). He took on the added responsibility of recruiting coordinator in 2001. He joined the USC staff in January of 1998.

In 1998, Trojan defensive tackle Ennis Davis was named to the All-Pac-10 first team and USC played in the Sun Bowl.

Orgeron, 41, has 16 years of coaching experience. He was Syracuse's defensive line coach the previous 3 seasons (1995-97) and the Orangemen played in a bowl game each year (1996 Gator, 1996 Liberty and 1997 Fiesta).

He came to Syracuse from Nicholls State, where he was the linebackers coach in 1994.

Before that, he was the defensive line coach at Miami for 4 seasons (1989-92), where he coached 8 All-Americans, including NFL first rounders Cortez Kennedy, Russell Maryland and Warren Sapp. In 1988, he was a graduate assistant at Miami, working with the defensive line. During his tenure, the Hurricanes won the national championship twice (1989 and 1991), finished second in the AP poll once (1988) and third twice (1990 and 1992) while appearing in 5 New Year's Day bowls (1989 Orange, 1990 Sugar, 1991 Cotton, 1992 Orange, 1993 Sugar).

Orgeron also was a graduate assistant at Northwestern (La.) State, his alma mater, in 1984 and McNeese State in 1985, working with the defensive line at both schools, then was an assistant strength coach at Arkansas for 2 years (1986-87). The Razorbacks were in the 1987 Orange Bowl and 1987 Liberty Bowl. He worked in private business in 1993.

He was a 4-year starting defensive lineman at Northwestern State, captaining the Demons as a senior. He received his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Northwestern State in 1984.

He starred in football, basketball and track at South Lafourche High in Galliano, La.

Born July 27, 1961, he and his wife, Kelly, have 3 sons, Tyler, 10, and 4-year-old twins Parker and Cody.

KENNEDY POLA

Special Teams Coordinator

Kennedy Pola, a former USC fullback and linebacker in the mid-1980s now in his third year on the Trojan staff, returns in 2002 as running backs coach after handling that duty in 2000. He was Troy's special teams coordinator in 2001, a job he will continue in 2002. He returned to his alma mater in December of 1999.

In 2001, cornerback Kevin Arbet won All-Pac-10 first team honors as a special teams player and placekicker David Davis led the Pac-10 in field goals (tied for 17th in the nation).

In 2000, tailback Sultan McCullough ran for 1,163 yards.

Pola, 38, spent 1999 as the linebackers coach at San Diego State, working under former USC head coach Ted Tollner.

He coached the running backs at Colorado in 1997 and 1998. The 1998 Buffalo team won the Aloha Bowl.

Before that, he spent 3 years (1994 to 1996) as San Diego State's running backs coach, guiding a pair of 1,000-yard rushers (Wayne Pittman in 1994 and George Jones in 1995). Jones, who was 32 yards shy of 1,000 yards in 1996, won All-WAC first team honors in 1995 and has played in the NFL with Pittsburgh and Jacksonville. Pola also worked with the Aztecs special teams in 1996 (punter Noel Prefontaine was an All-American first teamer, placekicker Peter Holt was runnerup for the Lou Groza Award given to the nation's top kicker and return specialist Leandrew Childs was an All-WAC first team pick).

Pola was a graduate assistant coach at UCLA in 1992 and 1993, working with the secondary and special teams. The 1993 Bruins squad played in the Rose Bowl.

He began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Crespi High in Encino, Calif., for 3 seasons (1986-88) and then Westlake High in Westlake Village (Calif.) for 3 years (1989-91). Crespi won the 1986 CIF Division I championship and he coached prep All-American running back Russell White, who starred at California.

Pola was a 4-year letterman (1982-85) at USC, playing both fullback and linebacker. He began his Trojan career as a backup linebacker, but was moved to fullback by midseason of his freshman year. He ended up starting there the last 2 games of 1982 against UCLA and Notre Dame, as well as most of the next 3 seasons. In his career, he ran for 681 yards (he also caught 23 passes and in 1983 threw a 65-yard scoring pass against Stanford). He helped USC to a victory over Ohio State in the 1985 Rose Bowl (he also played in the 1985 Aloha Bowl).

He earned his bachelor's degree in history from USC in 1987.

He attended at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana, Calif., where he was a prep All-American in football (he also was on the basketball and track teams). He also served as the student body president.

His nephew, Troy Polamalu, is a senior All-American first team safety on the USC football team. His brother, Al, played football at Penn State. Nephew Nicky Sualua has played running back in the NFL with Dallas and Cincinnati after attending Ohio State, while 3 other nephews played college football: Leie Sualua was a defensive lineman at Oregon, Joe Polamalu was at Oregon State in 1987 and 1988 and Kaio Aumua played at UTEP.

He was born in Pago Pago, American Samoa, on Nov. 22, 1963, the same day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated (Pola was named in his honor).

He and his wife, Diane, have 3 sons: K.C. (Kennedy Christopher), 10, Matthew Aoatoa, 9, and Raymond Trey, 4.

STEVE SARKISIAN

Quarterbacks

The third time is the charm for Steve Sarkisian, who is making his third stop at USC. The one-time Trojan athlete joined the USC staff as an offensive assistant in January of 2001. Then, after joining San Diego State briefly as the quarterbacks coach in January of 2002, he returned to USC in March of 2002 to handle the quarterbacks fulltime.

Sarkisian, 28, spent the 2000 season as the quarterbacks coach at El Camino Junior College in Torrance (Calif.). His quarterback, Robert Hodge, earned All-American honors. El Camino played in the CHIPs For Kids Bowl.

Sarkisian knows a few things about quarterbacks, as he starred at the position at the prep, collegiate and pro levels. Most recently, he was with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League for 3 seasons (1997-99). He started in 1999 and threw 16 touchdowns.

He had a record-setting 2-year (1995-96) career at BYU, where he was coached by offensive coordinator Norm Chow, now at USC. Sarkisian completed 549-of-824 passes (66.6%) for 7,755 yards and 55 TDs in his career. His 162.0 career passing efficiency rating is third on the all-time NCAA list. As a senior in 1996, he led the nation in passing efficiency (173.6, the seventh best mark ever) as the Western Athletic Conference champion Cougars went 14-1 and won the 1997 Cotton Bowl. He was the WAC Offensive Player of the Year in 1996, won All-American second team honors and played in the East-West Shrine Game and Hula Bowl. As a 1995 junior, he made the All-WAC team and led BYU to the WAC title. Against Fresno State that season, he set an NCAA game completion percentage record when he hit 31-of-34 passes (91.2%).

He came to BYU from El Camino Junior College, where he starred for 2 seasons (1993-94). He was a J.C. All-American first teamer as a 1994 sophomore and won All-Mission Conference honors in 1993 as a freshman. He also played baseball (shortstop) at El Camino in 1993.

He actually began his college career at USC, spending the fall of 1992 on the Trojan baseball team before transferring to El Camino.

He was a standout football and baseball player at West Torrance (Calif.) High.

He earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from BYU in 1997 after getting his associate's degree in general studies from El Camino in 1994.

He was born March 8, 1974. His wife's name is Stephanie. They have a newborn daughter, Ashley.

KEITH UPERESA

Offensive Tackles
Tight Ends

Keith Uperesa, who is in his second year at USC, has had success follow him throughout his coaching career. He came to USC in January of 2001 as the offensive line coach; in 2002, he'll work with the offensive tackles and tight ends.

He spent the previous 2 seasons (1999-2000) as the assistant head coach, offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Idaho State. The 1999 Bengals had one of the best offenses in school history, with a 3,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and a team scoring average of more than 30 points. In 2000, those numbers nearly repeated (a 2,800-yard quarterback, a 900-yard runner and a 29.9 scoring average).

Uperesa, 47, spent the previous 12 seasons (1987-98) at Snow Junior College in Ephraim, Ut., including as head coach for the last 4 years (1995-98). His head coaching mark was 35-8 (he was 4-0 in bowls). His 1995 squad went 9-2, was ranked seventh nationally and won the Real Dairy Bowl. In 1996, Snow was 10-1, ranked No. 4 and won the Midwest Bowl as he was named Western States Football League Coach of the Year. Snow went 8-3 in 1997 with a No. 6 ranking and a Mineral Water Bowl victory. His 1998 team finished 8-2, was ranked fifth nationally and captured the Dixie Rotary Bowl (that squad averaged 44.5 points per game and threw 36 touchdown passes); Josh Heupel, who guided Oklahoma to the 2000 national championship, was Snow's quarterback that season.

In his first 8 seasons at Snow, he was the offensive line coach and special teams coordinator (Snow played in the 1992 Dixie Rotary Bowl). During that time, he also held a variety of duties, including sports information director, director of student support services, assistant intramural director, health and physical education department instructor and Polynesian Club advisor.

Uperesa began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at BYU, his alma mater, for 2 seasons (1985-86). The Cougars played in the 1985 Florida Citrus Bowl and 1986 Freedom Bowl.

He played at BYU for 4 seasons (1974-77), where he was an All-Western Athletic Conference offensive tackle in 1977. He played in the 1977 Hula Bowl and Blue-Gray Classic.

He earned his bachelor's degree in recreational management in 1984 and his master's in physical education administration in 1986, both from BYU.

He played in the NFL with the Denver Broncos in 1978 and the Oakland Raiders in 1979. He then worked in private business before coaching at BYU.

He prepped at Punahou High in Honolulu, Hi., where he starred in football, basketball and track.

He was born July 28, 1955. He and his wife, Kaipo, have a son, Ikaika, 21, and 2 daughters, Naupaka, 19, and Kahikole, 13.

His brother, Kevin, played football at California in 1977 and 1978. His nephew, Dane Uperesa, is a freshman offensive lineman at Hawaii.

BRENNAN CARROLL

Offensive Assistant
Special Teams Assistant

Brennan Carroll, the oldest son of USC head coach Pete Carroll, joined the USC staff in August of 2002 as an assistant working with the offense and special teams.

Carroll, 23, was a reserve tight end and key special teams player at Pittsburgh the previous 3 years (1999-2001). He caught 3 passes for 25 yards (8.3 average) as a 2000 junior, including 1 for a touchdown (a 3-yarder versus Boston College). He added a 12-yard reception as a senior in 2001. The Panthers played in the 2000 Insight.com Bowl and the 2001 Tangerine Bowl. He redshirted the 1998 season.

He spent his 1997 freshman season at Delaware, but did not see action as a reserve tight end.

He prepped at Saratoga (Calif.) High, where he starred as a linebacker in football and also played basketball.

He earned his bachelor's degree in social sciences from Pittsburgh in 2001. He currently is working on his master's degree from USC.

Born March 20, 1979, he is single.

His father, Pete, has been USC's head coach since 2001 and has 27 years coaching experience in college and the NFL (he was the head coach of the New England Patriots and New York Jets). His mother, Glena, played volleyball at Pacific. His sister, Jaime, was on the USC women's volleyball team in 2000 and 2001 (the 2000 Women of Troy advanced to the NCAA Final Four). His grandfather, Dean Goranson, received his master's degree from USC.

ROCKY SETO

Defensive Assistant/
Safeties

Former USC linebacker Rocky Seto is in his second year as a Trojan defensive assistant, having been appointed in January of 2001. He'll handles the safeties in 2002.

He spent the 2000 season as an administrative graduate assistant with the USC program. In 1999, he was a volunteer assistant, working with the defense and special teams.

Seto, 26, was a linebacker at USC for 2 seasons (1997-98). After spending 1997 as a walk-on, he earned a scholarship for the 1998 season. He was awarded USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Defensive Player of the Year Award in 1998.

He transferred to USC from Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut (Calif.), where he was a fullback and defensive end in 1995 and 1996. His coach at Mt. San Antonio was ex-USC All-American offensive guard Bill Fisk.

He prepped at Arcadia (Calif.) High, where he was on the football and track teams.

He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from USC in 1999 after getting his associate's degree in general studies from Mt. San Antonio in 1997. He currently is working on his master's degree in public administration from USC.

Born March 12, 1976, he is single.

CHRIS CARLISLE

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Chris Carlisle is in his second year as USC's head strength and conditioning coach. He joined the Trojan program in February of 2001.

He came to USC from Tennessee, where he was the associate head strength and conditioning coach for 3 years (1998-2000). The Volunteer football team won the 1998 national title and Southeastern Conference championship.

Carlisle, 40, began his career as the head football coach and strength coach at Dodge (Neb.) High in 1985. He then spent 6 seasons (1986-91) as the offensive coach and strength coach at Blytheville (Ark.) High. He next was a strength and conditioning graduate assistant coach at Arkansas for 2 years (1992-93) before becoming the head football coach and strength coach at Subiaco (Ark.) Academy, a college prep school, for 4 seasons (1993-96). He spent 1997 as the offensive coach and strength coach at Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Tex. (Trinity was the NJCAA national champion that season).

After playing offensive line at North Iowa Area Community College in Mason City, Ia., in 1980, he was a 3-year (1981-83) starting offensive lineman at Chadron (Neb.) State College, earning All-Area honors.

He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Chadron State in 1985 and a master's degree in history from Arkansas in 1997.

He prepped at Mason City (Ia.) High, where he starred in football.

He was born on Aug. 7, 1962. He and his wife, Louon, have a son, Alex, 3.

He is assisted by Jamie Yanchar, Aaron Ausmus and Charr Gahagan.

MARK JACKSON

Director of Football Operations

Mark Jackson is in his second year as USC's director of football administration. He joined the staff in January of 2001.

He was a coaching assistant with the New England Patriots for the previous 3 seasons (1998-2000), including the first 2 years working for Pete Carroll. He assisted with the special teams and running backs.

He originally worked in the Patriots media relations department, serving internships in the summers of 1994 and 1995.

Jackson, 29, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Trinity College for 2 seasons (1995-96), helping with the offensive backfield and special teams.

He played cornerback at Colby College for 4 years (1991-94).

He received his bachelor's degree in government from Colby in 1995 and his master's in public policy from Trinity in 1997.

He was on the football, basketball and track teams at Xaverian Brothers High in Westwood, Ma.

He was born Sept. 14, 1972. He and his wife, Tricia, have a daughter, Grace, 1. He ran in the 1997 Boston Marathon.

(Players are listed in alphabetical order.)
(Newcomer bios begin after veteran bios.)

Marcell ALLMOND

Cornerback

6-0 • 200
Jr.*/Sr.

2002: The swift Allmond, who sat out the 2001 season after starting 8 games earlier in his career at wide receiver, was moved to cornerback in the spring of 2002 and emerged as a key backup there as a junior (he likely will be USC's nickel back). He also will serve as a backup holder on placekicks. He also is a hurdler and decathlete on the USC track team.

2001: Allmond was expected to return as a starting wide receiver in 2001 after rebounding from a broken leg in the middle of the 2000 season, but instead redshirted as a junior in 2001 while suspended from USC for a student conduct violation.

2000: Allmond started at wide receiver (flanker) for the first half of his 2000 sophomore season before a broken left leg suffered against Arizona sidelined him for the rest of the campaign. Overall in 2000 while appearing in USC's first 5 games (he started the first 4 contests), he had 16 catches for 244 yards (15.2 avg.). He also carried the ball twice on reverses for 46 yards (23.0 avg.) and returned a kickoff 16 yards. He had a 21-yard catch against Penn State, then added 3 grabs for 18 yards versus Colorado and 4 receptions for a career-best 99 yards against San Jose State. At Oregon State, he had 5 catches for 75 yards (tying for game high and career best in receptions). He had 3 receptions for 31 yards against Arizona before breaking his leg (he did not start that game because of disciplinary reasons).

1999: Allmond started 3 games (California, UCLA and Louisiana Tech)—more than any other USC freshman wide receiver in 1999—at a wide receiver as a freshman in 1999. Overall while appearing in 11 games (all but Washington State), he caught 14 passes for 233 yards (16.6 avg.) with 2 TDs. He also returned 3 kickoffs for 51 yards (17.0 avg.) and made 3 tackles on special teams. He had a personal-best 5 receptions for 55 yards at California, 3 for 90 yards (with a 64-yard score) against Stanford, 2 for 32 yards (with a 21-yard TD, his first as a Trojan) at Arizona) and 2 for 38 yards against Oregon State. In his first catch as a Trojan, he gained 9 yards at Hawaii despite having his helmet ripped off. He also had a 9-yard grab against Arizona State. His kickoff returns (all 17-yarders) came against Stanford, Arizona State and Louisiana Tech. He missed the Washington State game because of a sprained left shoulder (suffered against Arizona State).

TRACK: Allmond, a 2-time California state prep high hurdles champion and the nation's top-ranked junior decathlete, competes in the 110-meter high hurdles and decathlon for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2002, he was third in the 50-meter high hurdles at the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational in 6.85. He then competed in 8 meets in the high hurdles, placing second once (14.37 at the Benny Brown Invitational) and third 5 times (a season-best 14.14 at the BYU/Oregon Meet, 14.26 at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet, 14.32 at the Trojan Classic, 14.36 at the Claremont Classic and 15.04 in the season-opening Trojan Invitational). He also was ninth at the Sun Angel Invitational in 14.36 and tied for seventh at the Pac-10 Meet (14.76, after going 14.48 in the heats). He threw the javelin twice, getting fourth in the BYU/Oregon Meet with a personal-best 188-9 (also a USC season best) and fifth in the USC-UCLA Dual Meet at 169-0.

In the spring of 2001, he competed in 6 meets. In the high hurdles, he was fourth at the Willie Williams Invitational (in 14.62), third at both the USC-LSU Dual Meet (14.43) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (14.36), fourth at the Cal State Fullerton Invitational (14.71) and eighth at the Modesto Relays (14.74); he did not finish at the Bennie Brown Invitational. He also placed fifth in the javelin (155-9) at the USC-LSU Dual Meet.

In the spring of 2000, he was second in the high hurdles in a season-best wind-aided 13.89 (he was first in his heat at 13.95) and seventh in the decathlon (6,931 points) at the Pac-10 Championships. He ran 4 other high hurdles races in 2000, placing first once (14.18 at the Carl Rossi Relays), second once (14.17 at the ASU USTCA Meet) and third twice (14.20 at USC's Centennial Invitational and 14.28 at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet). He won the decathlon at the Occidental College Invitational with a season-best 7,152 points. He also high jumped in 3 meets, getting third at the ASU USTCA Meet (in a season-best 6-6 ¾), tied for fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (6-3 ¼) and eighth at USC's Centennial Invitational (6-4). He also threw the shot put at the Carl Rossi Relays, placing 10th at 43-10 ¾. At the Los Angeles Indoor Meet, he was second in the 60-meter hurdles in 6.73. He qualified for the World Junior Championships in the high hurdles and decathlon and the U.S. Junior Nationals in the high hurdles (placing second in 13.96).

HIGH SCHOOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team and All-Mission League MVP pick as a senior at St. Paul High in Santa Fe Springs (Calif.). In 1998, he had 900-plus receiving yards, intercepted 5 passes and returned punts for an average of 21.9 yards (with 3 scoring punt runbacks). He scored 14 touchdowns on offense and defense. St. Paul was a 1998 CIF Division III finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he earned All-Area (first team on defense and second team on offense) and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team honors while catching 36 passes for 746 yards (20.7 avg.) and 7 TDs on offense and getting 2 interceptions while averaging 8.5 tackles a game on defense.

He also starred in track, winning the 1998 state high hurdles race in 13.83 and posting bests of 6-10 in the high jump and 37.40 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles as a junior. In the decathlon, he won the 1996 Junior Olympics title and, as a 17-year-old, was leading the 1998 Junior National championship (for ages 19 and under) after 8 events, but sprained his ankle (ending his chance to qualify for the World Junior meet). At the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he won the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (37.40), was second in the 110-meter high hurdles and was seventh in the high jump. He then placed first in the high hurdles (13.94) and second in the long jump (23-10 1/4) in the prep portion of the 1999 Mt. SAC Relays. He won the high hurdles (in a wind-aided 13.79) and intermediate hurdles (37.89) at the 1999 CIF Division III Championships, then at the CIF Masters meet was first in the highs (wind-aided 13.68) and second in the intermediates (37.58). He defended his high hurdles title at the 1999 state meet (13.54) and was sixth in the intermediate hurdles (37.60, after going 37.48 in the prelims). In the summer of 1999, he was second in the decathlon (7,097 points, the first California to eclipse 7,000 points) at the USATF Junior Nationals (qualifying for the Pan Am Junior Games) and then set a National Junior Olympics record (7,377 points) in winning at that meet (he was fourth in the Junior Olympics high hurdles in 1999 at 13.94).

He also played basketball at St. Paul.

PERSONAL: He is a public policy and management major at USC.

Kevin ARBET

Cornerback

2002: Arbet, an experienced senior who came to USC in 1999 as a walk-on but quickly earned a scholarship, figures to start at cornerback in 2002. A top special teams player, he also might return punts and kickoffs again.

2001: Arbet played a number of roles as a junior in 2001: he backed up Kris Richard at cornerback, he was USC's nickel back, he played on many special teams and he returned punts and kickoffs. Overall while appearing in 11 games in 2001 (he missed the Oregon State contest with a sprained right ankle suffered at Arizona), he had 25 tackles, including 3 for losses of 11 yards (with 2 sacks for minus 7 yards), 6 deflections, 3 interceptions which he returned for 90 yards (30.0 avg.), including a 70-yard TD runback at Arizona, 1 fumble recovery, a team-best 25 punt returns for 225 yards (9.0 avg.) and 3 kickoff returns for 53 yards (17.7 avg.). For all this, he made the 2001 All-Pac-10 first team as the special teams player (non-kicker). He had 6 tackles at Washington and 4 at Arizona. Against Stanford, he returned 5 punts for 70 yards (including a career-best 47-yarder to set up a TD) and had the fumble recovery (leading to a Trojan field goal). His 20-yard interception return versus Arizona State set up a USC field goal. His other pick came against UCLA. He won USC's Special Teams Player of the Year Award.

2000: Arbet was an often-used cornerback as a sophomore in 2000, even starting 4 games (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford and Notre Dame). He was the backup to Kris Richard the rest of the time. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 31 tackles, including 1 for a loss of 1 yard, and 2 deflections. He also returned 7 kickoffs for 136 yards (19.4 avg.). He had 5 tackles against Oregon State and Oregon, 4 versus Colorado and Notre Dame, and 3 against Penn State, Stanford and Arizona State. He broke up 2 passes against San Jose State. He returned 3 kickoffs at Oregon State for 46 yards and 2 for 61 yards against San Jose State. He was also available at free safety (he was moved to that spot during 2000 spring drills).

1999: Arbet came to USC as a first-year freshman walk-on cornerback in 1999, but was so impressive in fall camp that he was given a scholarship in August, an almost unheard-of accomplishment. He served as a key backup cornerback (even starting as an extra defensive back against Hawaii and Louisiana Tech) and played on special teams. Overall, while appearing in 10 games in 1999, he made 13 tackles, 3 deflections, 1 interception and 1 fumble recovery. He had a huge game against Louisiana Tech, returning an interception 75 yards for a TD and recovering a fumble at the USC 22-yard line as Tech was threatening (he also had 7 tackles and 2 deflections in the game); for his performance, he was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week. Against Stanford, he made 2 tackles. He sprained his right ankle on the opening kickoff in the Hawaii opener (he did play in the first series, then sat out the rest of the game) and missed the San Diego State and Oregon games.

HIGH SCHOOL: He won 1998 All-Northern California, All-Region, Stockton Record All-Area MVP, Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame Foundation Defensive Back of the Year, Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame Student-Athlete Award, All-San Joaquin Athletic Association MVP and team MVP honors as a senior running back and defensive back at St. Mary's High in Stockton (Calif.). As a 1998 senior, he ran for 1,526 yards, scored 27 TDs, returned a kickoff 95 yards for a score and intercepted 6 passes (2 were returned for TDs). He once rushed for 250 on 10 carries in a game and had a 99-yard TD run in another. He had 1,200 rushing yards, 13 TDs and 5 interceptions as a 1997 junior while being named to the All-San Joaquin Athletic Assocation first team. As a sophomore in 1996, he was moved up to the varsity for the final 3 games of the season and rushed for 500 yards and 4 TDs.

He also was on the basketball and track teams at St. Mary's.

PERSONAL: He is a sociology major at USC. His stepfather is Jeff Simmons, a 3-year (1980-82) letterman wide receiver at USC who led the Trojans in receiving in 1982 and whose 106 career receptions set a since-broken USC record. His cousin, Lamarr Arbet, is a sophomore defensive lineman at San Jose State and his uncle, Darren Arbet, is the head coach of the San Jose SaberCats of the Arena Football League. His sports heroes are Michael Jordan and Muhammad Ali.

KEVIN ARBET ON: Pressure: "I'm kind of used to being thrown into the fire. I was thrown into the fire as a freshman. I think I do better under pressure. It's more of a challenge to me, I guess."

Winning a scholarship during 1999 fall camp: "I came in and just played hard. I knew I had the ability and that I could do it if I was given the chance...My goal was to get a scholarship as soon as possible so that my parents wouldn't have to pay. I thought maybe it would happen at the end of the semester, because I expected to redshirt in 1999. But I'm not really surprised because I have a lot of confidence in myself. It was just a matter of time."

His stepfather, ex-USC wide receiver Jeff Simmons: "My dad taught me a lot about football. We used to go out and run patterns and he would teach me how to get off the line against a cornerback. At the time I wanted to be a receiver, but I actually learned a lot about being a cornerback because I always was covering my dad."

Being a Trojan: "The first time I entered the practice field here was my most thrilling moment in sports because it was when I officially became a Trojan...I went to the 1982 USC-Notre Dame game. It was my first USC game and I just fell in love with the whole tradition. I loved the setting and the crowd. The band was something I really enjoyed and still enjoy. I knew then that I wanted to go to USC someday."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: His stepfather, Jeff Simmons: "On his touchdown against Louisiana Tech (in 1999), I was there in the Coliseum running every step of the way with Kevin. I'm serious, every step of the way. All my accomplishments when I was playing at USC were nothing in comparison to the thrill I received seeing Kevin scoring that touchdown. You can't imagine how I felt...We heard from some schools during Kevin's senior year, but he only had offers from three smaller schools. We knew he had a deep desire to attend USC ever since I took him to a game at the Coliseum when he was 9. So we sprang into action. (Then USC head coach) Paul Hackett was an assistant at USC in the 1970s and he recruited me out of Edison High in Fresno. So, I had access to him. I felt free to call. And I did. I told him they were making a mistake by not recruiting Kevin. Paul said, 'We don't have enough information on him.' We took care of that. We gave him films. We finally agreed that Kevin would come to USC as a walk-on, paying his own way. And, if he showed the coaching staff he had the stuff, he might get a scholarship. Well, during that first fall camp, the coaches told us Kevin was going to go on scholarship immediately. They told us, 'You know a lot more than we did.'"

William BUCHANON

Wide Receiver

Fr.*/So.
#31

2002: Buchanon will compete for playing time at wide receiver as a redshirt freshman in 2002.

2001: Buchanon saw brief action at wide receiver in USC's first 2 games (San Jose State and Kansas State) of 2001, his first year at USC, but then a lower back sprain sidelined him for the rest of the season. The early-season injury allowed him to redshirt. He did not catch a pass.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 2000 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Student Sports Senior All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego Section first team and All-Avocado League Co-MVP honors as a senior at Oceanside (Calif.) High. He had 30 receptions for 553 yards (18.4 avg.) and 5 TDs in 2000. Oceanside was 9-4-1 in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, he caught 24 passes for 553 yards (23.0 avg.) and 5 TDs as Oceanside won the CIF San Diego Section Division II title.

He made 30 catches for 302 yards (10.2 avg.) as a 1998 sophomore.

In his career, he caught 90-plus passes for 1,621 yards and 15 scores. He also had 5 career interceptions (1 for a TD) as a defensive back in his career.

He also ran track at Oceanside, with a best of 10.19 in the 100 meters and 48.6 in the 400 meters.

PERSONAL: His father, Willie, was a 1971 All-American cornerback at San Diego State who was a 3-time Pro Bowler during his 11-year (1972-82) NFL career, the first 7 seasons with the Green Bay Packers and the last 4 with the San Diego Chargers (he also prepped at Oceanside).

Doyal BUTLER

Tight End

Sr.*/Sr.
#88

2002: Butler will provide experienced depth as a senior backup tight end in 2002.

2001: Butler was a reserve tight end and played on special teams as a junior in 2001. He did not make a catch or tackle while appearing in 11 games (all but Kansas State).

2000: Butler, who transferred to USC in the fall of 2000 from a junior college, appeared in 10 games (all but the Colorado and Oregon State contests) as a reserve tight end as a sophomore in 2000. Overall in 2000, he caught 4 passes for 52 yards (13.0 avg.). He had 3 grabs for 46 yards against Arizona State (his other receptions was a 6-yarder against Washington State). He also returned 2 kickoffs (both against Washington State) for 16 yards (8.0 average) as an up-man.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1999 Super Prep JUCO 100 selection as a redshirt freshman tight end at Mesa (Ariz.) Community College.

PURDUE: He spent the 1998 season redshirting as a freshman at Purdue before transferring to Mesa.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep All-Farwest, All-State, All-City and All-League honors as a senior at Sabino High in Tucson (Ariz.). He caught 26 passes for 745 yards (28.7 avg) with 13 TDs as a senior tight end and also played linebacker. Sabino was 13-1 and the state finalists in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he was All-City and All-League while catching 11 passes for 341 yards (31.0 avg) and 5 TDs on offense and making 150 tackles with an interception on defense. Sabino went 78-7-1 in his 4 years.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He has a 1-year-old daughter, Lux.

Sunny BYRD

6-0 • 215
#39

2002: Byrd, who gained folk hero status in 2001 when he emerged as USC's starting tailback in mid-season, will return to the fullback corps in 2002 and should see lots of action there as a senior.

2001: When injuries decimated USC's tailback corps in the middle of the 2001 season, the Trojans turned to an unlikely player: little-known junior reserve fullback and special teamer Byrd. And Byrd responded with a solid performance. Overall, while appearing in 11 games in 2001 (all but Kansas State), he ran for 336 yards on 123 carries (2.7 avg.) with 4 TDs, caught 1 passes for 81 yards (7.4 avg.) and made 5 tackles. All of his carries came while running out of the tailback spot (against Arizona State, Notre Dame, Arizona, Oregon State, California, UCLA and Utah); he even started the last 6 of those contests, all at tailback. He had at least 20 carries in 5 of the 7 games that he appeared at tailback (all but California and Utah) and led Troy in rushing in the first 4 of those games and versus Utah.

Against Arizona State, he had a game-best 63 yards on 20 carries with 2 short TDs (he scored on his first career carry) off the bench for injured starting tailback Sultan McCullough (Byrd was handed the ball on all but the last of USC's final 17 rushes, including on 8 consecutive plays). He ran for 62 yards on 22 carries (he also caught 3 passes for 10 yards) at Notre Dame, then had a team-best 67 yards on 22 carries, with a 1-yard TD, and caught a 21-yard pass at Arizona. He ran for a team-best 54 yards on a game-high 20 carries and caught 3 passes for 14 yards versus Oregon State. He added 19 yards on 9 attempts at California, then 40 yards on 20 carries (and 19 yards on 2 receptions) against UCLA. He ran for a team-best 31 yards on 10 carries, with a 2-yard TD for USC's only score, and caught and 8-yard pass against Utah. Versus Stanford, Byrd had a 9-yard catch from the fullback spot and made 2 tackles on special teams. He missed part of 2001 spring practice with a sprained knee ligament.

2000: Byrd, who transferred to USC in the fall of 2000 from a junior college, redshirted as a junior fullback in 2000.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1999 J.C. Athletic Bureau All-State Region IV first teamer and All-Mission Conference first teamer as a sophomore running back at El Camino Junior College in Torrance (Calif.). In 1999, he rushed for 715 yards and 8 TDs and caught 25 passes for 276 yards (11.0 avg) with 3 TDs as he was named his team's MVP.

He also started at El Camino as a 1998 redshirt freshman. He attended El Camino in 1997 (as a part-time student in the fall of 1997), but did not play football. Current Trojan David Davis also attended El Camino.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1996 Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/Westside Back of the Year, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team and All-Ocean League MVP honors as a senior at Mira Costa High in Manhattan Beach (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,388 yards with 17 TDs and caught 28 passes for 506 yards (18.1 avg) with 7 scores. Mira Costa was the CIF Division IX runnerup in 1996.

He was a 1995 South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team and All-Ocean League first team (as a defensive back) pick as a junior. He ran for 1,203 yards with 10 TDs in 1995 and made 56 solo tackles with 1 interception.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He likes to surf in his free time (he started surfing when he was 7).

SUNNY BYRD ON: Playing tailback: "At first, it was overwhelming. I didn't know what to think. I just went out there and did it. It took me a while to realize I was the starting tailback for USC. It was an amazing opportunity...I was very shocked by it all. It was just a temporary thing, though. I'm not one who is going to go out and gain big yardage. I try, but I pretty much just go and pound my way for a few yards at a time...There was pressure. But the coaches knew they brought me over from the fullback position, so I don't think they expected me to make those huge plays."

Surfing: "I get out any chance I can get. It is kind of healing out there."

His first name: "My parents are hippies. My younger sister is named Coral, my brother is Jade and my older sister is Niaja. My parents? They're Pat and Lisa!"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC quarterback Carson Palmer: "He's not the type of player who is going to blow right by people because he's such a bruiser. He reminds me of (ex-USC tailback) Petros Papadakis, never trying to shake people or run by them, but always trying to hit someone. Sunny sees a defensive back and runs right at them. We like that. A defensive back doesn't like a guy who is 220 pounds coming at them full speed...Sunny has enough speed to where he can get outside and turn the corner. So if the defense tries to load up the inside, Sunny does have the ability to get outside."

Former USC fullback Charlie Landrigan: "He's a fun-loving California surfer kid...He works hard and he can play. He's always smiling, always has his head up, now matte what is happening. He is the Sunshine Boy."

Mike Cervantes, Daily Trojan: "When the 2001 football season started, most people would never figure a blond-haired surfer would be a major contributor to the Trojans...Sunny Byrd is a slower, punishing runner who gets the bulk of his yards after knocking a defender back a few yards. As a fullback-turned-tailback, Byrd has the hit-hard mentality that is evident on all his carries."

Frank CANDELA

Wide Receiver

5-7 • 175
Fr.*/So.

#19

2002: Known for his speed and quickness, former minor league baseballer Candela will look to break into the playing rotation at wide receiver as a 24-year-old redshirt freshman, but his main role in 2002 could be as a kickoff and punt returner.

2001: Candela, who spent the previous 4 years playing minor league baseball, enrolled at USC in the spring of 2001. He was bothered all season by a hamstring strain and redshirted as a freshman wide receiver in 2001.

PRO BASEBALL: He originally signed with Washington to play football out of high school, but instead inked a pro baseball contract with the Milwaukee Brewers after being selected in the fifth round of the 1997 June free agent draft.

He played rookie ball with the Ogden (Ut.) Raptors in the Pioneer League in 1997 and 1998. He hit .267 with 20 hits and 10 RBI in just 25 games in his 1997 rookie year, then hit .311 with 80 hits, 72 runs, 20 RBI and 43 stolen bases in 1998.

He next played A ball with the Beloit (Wisc.) Snappers of the Midwest League in 1999 and 2000. In 1999, he hit .299 with 32 hits and 14 stolen bases in just 30 games. He then hit .274 with 66 hits, 43 runs, 19 RBI and 28 stolen bases in 2000 while bothered with a hamstring injury.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star All-East Region first team, Boston Herald All-Scholastic and Boston Globe All-Scholastic pick when he ran for 1,784 yards and scored 28 touchdowns as a 1996 senior at Peabody (Mass.) Veterans Memorial High. In his 2-year career at Peabody Veterans Memorial, he had 3,381 rushing yards and 64 TDs, and had 4 games with 200-plus rushing yards. He also was a Boston Herald and Boston Globe All-Scholastic baseball player at Veterans Memorial.

He spent his first 2 years at Revere (Mass.) High. In his 4-year prep career, he ran for 4,452 yards (11th most in eastern Massachusetts history) and 65 touchdowns.

PERSONAL: He was born in Boston, Mass., but he soon moved with his family to the Italian island of Sicily, where he lived for 7 years before returning to Boston (his parents returned to Sicily when he was 14, but Candela remained in Boston with an older brother). His nickname is "The Flash."

FRANK CANDELA ON: Football versus baseball: "I love football. I missed it. When I played baseball, I missed the physical stuff. I missed catching those balls and returning punts. The excitement of football, it's what I missed the most...I'm so happy to be back. I feel so blessed."

How he ended up at USC: "I was unfulfilled by baseball. I wanted to give football another shot. So I sent letters to a variety of Division I coaches in December of 2000. I was hoping and praying. USC called and asked me to send a tape. I sent it. I guess Coach Carroll got it as he was going out Christmas shopping. He took it with him, popped it into a VCR at a Best Buy and he liked what he saw. He called me on my cell phone and said, 'Listen, Frankie. I'm at Best Buy right now. I just watched your film and I wanted to ask you, do you want to be a Trojan?' I heard shoppers in the background cheering the tape. I told him, 'You've got my 100 percent commitment!' I am so blessed to be at USC, with so much tradition, so much history. It's unbelievable, really. To get this opportunity is really amazing. What a great story."

His nickname, "The Flash:" "They gave me the nickname my freshman year in high school and it's kind of stuck. Now, all the coaches call me that. It's a great nickname. I hope to keep it my entire lifetime."

Matt CASSEL

Quarterback

So.*/Jr.
#10

2002: The versatile Cassel, who has seen limited action in his career as a quarterback, wide receiver, tight end-in-motion and special teamer, will battle with Matt Leinart to serve as the backup quarterback behind Carson Palmer as a sophomore in 2002.

2001: Cassel, the backup quarterback behind Carson Palmer as a redshirt freshman in 2001, proved to be a good enough athlete to get on the field in a variety of roles in 2001. He appeared in 7 games (Washington, Notre Dame, Arizona, Oregon State, California, UCLA and Utah) as a wide receiver and on special teams; he also played quarterback briefly at California. Overall in 2001, he was 1-of-2 (50.0%) for 5 yards passing, ran for 22 yards on 3 carries (7.3 avg.), caught a 12-yard pass and made a tackle. He did a little bit of everything at California, catching a 12-yard pass as a wide receiver, making a tackle on special teams and, in his first career action at quarterback, hitting 1-of-2 passes for 5 yards and gaining 20 yards on a run. He also gained 4 yards on a reverse at Notre Dame. He won USC's Co-Lifter Award.

2000: Cassel redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team and All-L.A. City second team pick as a senior quarterback at Chatsworth (Calif.) High. He completed 137-of-261 passes (52.5%) for 2,020 yards with 14 TDs and 5 interceptions in 1999, plus ran for 252 yards on 115 carries (2.2 avg) with 11 TDs. In one game, he passed for 324 yards with 5 TDs.

As a junior in 1998, he was named to the Student Sports Junior All-American, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Valley, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley second team and All-League. He hit 199-of-360 passes (55.3%) for 2,930 yards with 26 TDs and 7 interceptions as a junior and also rushed for 496 yards with 6 scores. Chatsworth won the L.A. City 3-A title in 1998.

Also a fine baseball player, he helped Chatsworth to the L.A. City title in 1999 while hitting .390 with 3 home runs and 29 RBI as a first baseman and third baseman.

PERSONAL: He is a communication major at USC with a B average (3.23 GPA). He played on the Northridge team that was a finalist at the 1994 Little League World Series. He was featured in the HBO documentary "Freshman Year," which was filmed at Chatsworth High in 1999-2000. In his spare time, he likes to jet ski and play ping pong. His sports hero is Joe Montana. As part of the "Read Across America" program, he read books to local elementary school classes in 2001. His older brother, Jack, is a pitcher in the San Diego Padres organization.

MATT CASSEL ON: Playing as a receiver and on special teams in 2001: "It was quite an experience. It's fun. It hasn't worked out yet where I can get on the field at quarterback, but it's worked out at other positions...I told the coaches I could help out and they gave me the opportunity. It actually wasn't a tough transition. I know where to go on routes and I know the receivers' blocking schemes. One of the easiest transitions for a quarterback is to go to receiver....It's a little different when you catch the ball. You're not touching the ball on every play. I've got to give credit to the receivers. There's a lot of pressure being a receiver, with a lot of guys coming at you...There is no doubt in my mind that I will be a quarterback. I'm just helping out the team right now."

The difference between high school and college football: "The players are just enormous and they can flat out move. I think the speed of the game is what most people don't understand or appreciate. Everything happens so much faster than in high school."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC quarterback Carson Palmer: "Matt is a perfect representative of the attitude we need to have to play on this team. He could have thrown it in at the beginning of 2001 camp, he could have quit. But he hung in there and started the Cal game at H-back."

Shaun CODY

Defensive Tackle-End

So./So.

2002: Just a sophomore who will start again at defensive tackle in 2002, Cody already is among the nation's top defensive linemen. He is able to play both tackle and end.

2001: Cody came to USC as a heralded prepster and he didn't disappoint as a freshman in 2001. After serving as a backup defensive lineman for USC's first 4 games, he started the last 8 at tackle. He made the 2001 Football Writers Freshman All-American first team, The Sporting News Freshman All-American first team, Football News Freshman All-American first team, The Sporting News Freshman All-Pac-10 first team and All-Pac-10 honorable mention squad. He began the year as an end, but was moved to tackle after the second contest. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 39 tackles, including 7 for losses of 33 yards (with 5 sacks for minus 26 yards, second most sacks on USC), and 1 fumble recovery, plus on special teams he returned a short kickoff for 22 yards. He had a game-high 8 tackles (including 3 for losses, with 2 sacks; both were game bests) and recovered a fumble against UCLA, 6 tackles at Notre Dame (2 were sacks), 5 at Washington and California, 4 against Oregon State and Utah and 3 versus Stanford.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 2000 honors included USA Today All-USA first team Defensive MVP, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Student Sports Senior All-American, Super Prep Elite 50, Prep Star Dream Team, Student Sports Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest Defensive Player of the Year, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30 Defensive MVP, Long Beach Press-Telegram first team (unanimous pick), Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division VII Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley MVP and All-Miramonte League MVP as a senior at Los Altos High in Hacienda Heights (Calif.). He had 105 tackles and 22 sacks as a defensive end in 2000, plus 50 receptions for 850 yards (17.0 avg.) and 15 TDs and 45 carries for 327 yards (7.3 avg.) with 10 TDs as a tight end and fullback on offense. Los Altos went 14-0 in 2000 and won its second consecutive CIF Division VII championship.

As a 1999 junior, he received Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division VII Defensive MVP and Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley Defensive MVP honors. He had 150 tackles, 51 tackles for losses, 35 sacks, 10 deflections and 10 forced fumbles in 1999, plus 271 receiving yards on 15 catches (19.1 avg.) with 2 scores on offense. Los Altos won the 1999 CIF Division VII title.

He also played basketball at Los Altos.

He spent his freshman year at Damien High in La Verne (Calif.).

PERSONAL: Tattooed on his right bicep is "SC," which stands for both his initials and his university.

SHAUN CODY ON: Playing defensive line: "Every play is a war. You're in the trenches. You've got to play hard because every play is a battle...Because of my size, it's all in the mentality. I've got to be tough in there."

Playing tackle versus end: "It's basically the same thing. Actually, it's a little easier, a little less responsibility, at tackle. On the outside, you have a little more freedom, a little more room to make plays. But you can make plays inside, too...Tackle is fun. My younger brother plays tackle and I used to dog him all the time, saying, 'Oh, you just take up blocks.' But there is more to it than that. You've got to be mentally and physically strong. It's a battle...The best thing for me is knowing how to play both positions. It doesn't hurt."

His style of play: "Relentless. That's what people say about me. I might not get you the first time or the second time, but I don't stop. I keep after it. I've always thought, 'Why stop until the whistle is blown?' It's my mentality to go get the ball."

The difference between high school and college: "In high school, it's 'Go get the ball.' Now, you've got to know this and you've got to know that. There's a lot more stuff to learn...It was a bit overwhelming at first with all the pressure on me. There was all that high school mumbo jumbo, the expectations...With all the hype, it was overwhelming at first when you realize how tough college football is. But my instinct kicked in and playing gave me so much experience."

His "SC" tattoo: "When I signed my letter of intent, I got the tattoo. I had thought about it for a while. I thought about the double meaning, how 'SC' also can mean Shaun Cody and all that. But the tattoo also looks like the school logo, so that kind of gives away the true meaning."

His early allegiance: "I hate to admit it, but I grew up following Notre Dame. My dad loved them, too, but he's changed. He is a 'Fight On' Trojan now."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC defensive line coach Ed Orgeron: "He's the kind of player you build around. He has savvy, maturity. And he's so down to earth. We always knew he could rush the quarterback, but he impressed us with the way he played the run. He can do whatever we need him to do."

USC safety Troy Polamalu: "He's awesome. It's amazing how a defensive lineman is always around the ball."

Former USC defensive end Lonnie Ford: "He stepped up big time. As a freshman, coming to college and playing on the defensive line, it's big time...His mindset is that he is so used to making plays in high school, his mind is trained to make plays."

Former USC cornerback Kris Richard: "The sky's the limit for him. It's evident he has the knack to make big plays. He's fast and he's physical."

Former USC defensive tackle Ryan Nielsen: "He is so mature and he has so much talent."

USC tailback Malaefou MacKenzie: "He's really good, and he's big and strong. He adjusted to the college game really well. I think he'll have a big impact in his career."

Keary COLBERT

Wide Receiver

6-1 • 205
Jr./Jr.

2002: The experienced, sure-handed Colbert will start for his third year at wide receiver as a junior in 2002.

2001: Colbert started 11 games (all but Utah) at wide receiver (flanker) as a sophomore in 2001 and came up with a number of big catches. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 12 games, he was second on USC with 34 receptions for 442 yards (13.0 avg.) with 2 TDs, plus he had 1 carry for 9 yards, 1 kickoff return for 22 yards and 2 tackles.

He had a game-best 6 catches for 67 yards at Oregon, a game-high 5 catches for 85 yards against Arizona State, 5 catches for a game-high 88 yards (including a 20-yard TD) at Notre Dame, 4 receptions for 51 yards at Arizona, 4 catches for 48 yards versus Stanford and 3 catches for 26 yards against UCLA, including a 4-yard TD. Against Utah, he had 2 receptions for 38 yards, including a spectacular one-handed 31-yard pickup.

2000: As just a true freshman in 2000, Colbert started 5 games (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, Washington State and UCLA) at wide receiver (flanker) and was impressive. He was an often-used backup to Marcell Allmond and Matt Nickels in the other contests. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he was second on USC in receptions with 33 for 480 yards (14.5 avg.) and 3 TDs. His 33 grabs were the second most ever by a Trojan true freshman. He broke a bone in his left wrist against UCLA, but he continued to play the rest of that game (and against Notre Dame in the season finale).

He had 3 catches for 34 yards against Colorado, 2 grabs for 40 yards versus San Jose State (with a key 29-yarder in USC's game-winning scoring drive) and 2 more for 39 yards at Oregon State. He then had 6 receptions for a game-high 113 yards (both career bests) at Arizona while starting, joining Kareem Kelly and R. Jay Soward as the only Trojan true freshmen with 100-plus receiving yards. He added 4 catches for 46 yards against Oregon, then a 13-yarder at Stanford and an 8-yarder against California. He had 6 receptions for 75 yards at Arizona State, getting his first career TD (an 18-yarder) and making a key 19-yard catch to set up USC's winning TD in overtime. He then had 5 grabs for 85 yards (with a 21-yard TD) against Washington State, 2 catches for 19 yards (with a 12-yard TD) at UCLA and an 8-yarder against Notre Dame.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, All-CIF Division IV first team and Los Angeles Times All-Valley second team honors as a senior at Hueneme High in Oxnard (Calif.). He caught 25 passes for 600 yards (24.0 avg) and 10 TDs as a wide receiver on offense, had 10 tackles for losses, 5 sacks and 6 forced fumbles as a safety on defense, and returned a punt 70 yards for a score. In one game, all 3 of his catches went for touchdowns averaging 62.0 yards.

As a 1998 junior, he made All-CIF Division IV first team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County second team and All-League Offensive MVP. He caught 40 passes for 920 yards (23.0 avg) with 14 TDs as a junior and had 5 tackles for a loss, 4 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 2 blocked punts.

He also ran track at Hueneme, with a best of 10.8 in the 100 meters and 21.8 in the 200 meters.

PERSONAL: He is a sociology major at USC. In his spare time, he enjoys listening to music, watching movies and going to church. His cousin is former Arizona State defensive lineman Tommie Townsend (1999-2001), who also attended USC.

KEARY COLBERT ON: Choosing USC: "One of my reasons for coming here was watching Kareem Kelly have so much success as a freshman. I figured that I could have the same success."

His jersey number: "When I was in high school, I wore No. 3 because of (ex-Trojan All-American wide receiver) Keyshawn Johnson. I wanted to come here and wear it, but Carson Palmer wears it. I'm thinking about sticking with No. 83 now. I think I'm making it look pretty good."

David DAVIS

Placekicker

5-11 • 160
Sr.*/Sr.

#48

2002: Davis, a senior, returns in 2002 as one of the nation's premier placekickers. Prior to 2002 spring drills, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove a bone chip in his right ankle.

2001: Davis, who had an impressive showing in camp upon arriving at USC in the fall of 2001 from a junior college and then continued that way throughout the season, was the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker (83.3%) as a junior. He hit 15-of-18 field goals, including 12 consecutive and 15 of his last 17. He tied for 17th nationally in field goals (1.4, first in Pac-10). He also made 31-of-34 PATs. And he had a 3-yard TD run on a fake field goal. He made the 2001 Football News All-American honorable mention and All-Pac-10 honorable mention squads.

He made all 3 of his PAT tries in his Trojan debut in the San Jose State opener, then in his only off outing of 2001 he came up short on a 42-yard field goal try and had his PAT kick blocked against Kansas State. He bounced back to hit all 3 of his field goal tries (the first of his career)—32, 43 and 39 yards—and his PAT at Oregon. Against Stanford, he connected on a 41-yard field goal (he missed a 26-yarder) and his only PAT try, then hit his only field goal try (a 40-yarder) and all 3 of his PATs at Washington. Against Arizona State, he nailed both of his field goal attempts (36 and 29 yards), plus all 6 of his PATs, then hit an 18-yard field goal and made 1 of his 2 PATs (his miss was wide left) at Notre Dame. He made 2 field goals (32 yards and a career-long 47-yarder) and all 5 PATs at Arizona, then hit his only field goal try (30 yards) and his PAT attempt against Oregon State. At California, Davis not only hit both of his field goals (33 and 26 yards) and all 7 PATs, but he had a 3-yard TD run on a fake field goal (on a flip from holder Mike MacGillivray). He made a pair of 20-yard field goals and all 3 of his PATs (including a 35-yarder because of penalty) against UCLA. He missed his only field goal and PAT tries against Utah (snapping a streak of 12 consecutive successful field goals).

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 2000 J.C. Grid-Wire All-American second team and J.C. Athletic Bureau All-State Region IV first team pick as a sophomore placekicker at El Camino Junior College in Torrance (Calif.). He hit 11-of-15 field goals and 29-of-31 PATs for 62 points in 2000.

As a 1999 redshirt freshman at El Camino, he made 6-of-11 field goals and all 47 of his PATs for 65 points.

He also played soccer in 1998 as a freshman at El Camino. Current Trojan Sunny Byrd also attended El Camino.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Bishop Montgomery High in Torrance (Calif.), where he played football (placekicker and wide receiver as a 1997 senior), soccer and baseball. He earned 1997 All-Mission Conference honors in football. Current Trojan Eric Torres also prepped at Bishop Montgomery.

PERSONAL: He is a left-footed kicker. His personal kicking coach is Joe Furlow, a placekicker at San Jose State in the mid-1990s. He is a health promotion major at USC. He wants to be a firefighter and paramedic; in fact, while in junior college, he became certified as an emergency medical technician when he worked 2 years as a fire explorer at an Inglewood fire station and with a Los Angeles ambulance company.

DAVID DAVIS ON: His demeanor: "I try to keep an even keel. If I can forget the bad, I can forget the good."

The transition from junior college: "I just came out here with what I was taught in junior college and did my best."

His unique kicking style (on his approach he kicks his knee high and takes a long first step): "My kicking coach, Joe Furlow, emphasized that the first step on my approach should be a big first step. By getting my knee up high like that, it allows me to get my foot out there. When I'm back there waiting for the kick, I tell myself, 'Big first step!' and that gets me into my technique."

Working with firefighters and paramedics: "I learned that composure is the defining characteristic. When you see the stuff that you see, you have to have a good mind, body and spirit and make the right decisions in those situations. You can't take it personally...Just the fact that I was part of saving peple's lives was great. It felt good to help them. But doing what I did, there's a lot of pressure. All eyes are on you...It puts everything in perspective and you see that this is something that can happen to your family. You see that it's not just about football and school. It's about God and family. School's important, but there are bigger things...I really enjoy playing football and I'd love to keep doing it. But I think I was meant to do something else in the long run."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC special teams coordinator Kennedy Pola: "I looked at him and couldn't believe how skinny he was, but he's got a great leg...David didn't disappoint us. We knew he would be accurate, but what surprised us is he has a stronger leg than we thought...Mentally, there aren't any highs and lows with him. He's steady all the way."

Former USC placekicker David Newbury: "David is very consistent and he has a great temperament. He's a great person and a really good kicker."

Joe Furlow, his personal kicking coach: "He's really low-key. He's not one to panic...Mentally, nothing fazes him. He's really strong, which you need as a placekicker. And he works really hard."

Anthony DAYE

Defensive Tackle-End

2002: Daye will serve as a backup defensive tackle (he can also play end) as a senior in 2002.

2001: As a junior in 2001, Daye saw brief action in 1 game (Arizona State) as a reserve defensive end. He did not make a tackle. He broke his right foot in practice prior to the Arizona game and was sidelined through the UCLA game.

2000: Daye did not see any action as a backup defensive end in his 2000 sophomore season.

1999: Daye, who was moved to defensive end (from linebacker) in 1999 fall camp, appeared in just the Hawaii opener as a reserve redshirt freshman in 1999. He did not make a tackle in 1999.

1998: Daye redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1998, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Medium Schools first team, All-CIF Division VIII first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and MVP of the All-Pacific Coast League honors as a senior at Laguna Hills (Calif.) High. In 1997, he made 143 tackles, 7 sacks and 3 interceptions as a linebacker (he also played fullback on offense). Laguna Hills went 14-0 in 1997 and won the CIF Division VIII title.

As a junior in 1996, he was an All-League first teamer while recording 135 tackles, 20 tackles for losses, 12 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 3 fumble recoveries.

PERSONAL: He was born in Rocky Mount, N.C. He's a political science major at USC. His hobbies include working on his 1971 El Camino car. His sports hero is ex-Trojan and current NFL star Junior Seau "because of his unreal intensity."

Phillip EAVES

Offensive Tackle

6-7 • 310
Sr.*/Sr.
#67

2002: Eaves will serve as a backup offensive tackle as a senior in 2002.

2001: As a backup left offensive tackle, Eaves saw action in 11 games (all but Arizona) as a junior in 2001. Almost all of his playing time came as a blocker on the field goal/PAT team, although he did get into the California game briefly on offense.

2000: Eaves, a junior college transfer who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2000 as a junior and participated in spring practice, redshirted as a reserve right offensive tackle in 2000.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was named a 1999 Prep Star JUCO Super 75, Super Prep JUCO 100 and All-Mission Conference as a sophomore offensive tackle at Riverside (Calif.) City College. He also started as a 1998 freshman at Riverside.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 All-CIF Division VII pick at Sultana High in Hesperia (Calif.), where he started at offensive tackle as a junior and senior (1995-96). He captained Sultana's team in 1996. His 1995 season was his first year playing football. He also played basketball at Sultana.

PERSONAL: He is an international relations major at USC. He spent part of 1997 in the Army at Fort Jackson, S.C.

PHILLIP EAVES ON: His Army experience: "I didn't get a scholarship out of high school and I just kind of panicked, so I joined the Army. Basic training was different. It was hot and humid. It's not like I could wake up and smell the roses. The drill sergeants were pretty bad the first couple weeks, but after that they were people, too...After things starting calming down, when I had time to think, I thought, 'What did I get myself into?' I made the decision real hastily. I didn't want to live my life thinking what I could have done. So I asked for and was granted a general discharge...The Army just wasn't football and it wasn't school, and in my heart that's what I wanted to do. Actually, I'm still fond of the military. I like the discipline and structure. I try to apply what I learned there to football and school."

Justin FARGAS

Tailback

2002: After a year's layoff, Fargas will attempt to cram his entire USC career into his 2002 senior season as he likely will start at tailback. He could be a big factor in USC's running attack in 2002. He had an eye-opening showing in 2002 spring practice (despite missing part of the drills with a bruised knee), rushing for 139 and 111 yards in 2 of USC's intrasquad scrimmages.

2001: Fargas, who spent the previous 3 years at Michigan, transferred to USC in the spring of 2001 as a tailback, but had to sit out his 2001 junior season because of transfer rules (he will be a senior with the 2002 Trojans). He spent 2001 serving as the scout team tailback and was impressive. Early in the spring of 2001, he had ligament surgery to straighten his right big toe (a residual effect from a broken leg he suffered at Michigan). He dislocated his left little finger prior to the California game.

MICHIGAN: Fargas spent 3 seasons (1998-2000) at Michigan, first as a running back before switching to safety in the middle of the 2000 season.

As a 1998 freshman, he ran for 277 yards with 1 TD on 77 carries (3.6 avg.) while appearing in Michigan's first 10 games before suffering a season-ending broken right leg in the fourth quarter versus Wisconsin. He led Michigan in kickoff returns in 1998 with 16 for 311 yards (19.4 avg.), and he also caught 1 pass for 5 yards and made 1 tackle that season. He had a team season-best 120 rushing yards on 31 carries at Northwestern. He started once (against Indiana). He was named one of the Top 10 Freshmen in the country by Sports Illustrated.

He redshirted the 1999 season while rehabilitating from 3 surgeries to repair his broken leg (2 titanium rods and 12 screws were implanted in his leg in the first surgery, then 4 months later—when the leg wasn't healing properly—doctors were forced to re-break the leg and insert 2 metal plates, then the third surgery was to fix tendons in his right big toe).

As a sophomore in 2000, he began the year as a backup running back and gained 85 yards on 18 carries (4.7 avg.), then asked to move to safety after 4 games (making 10 tackles and forcing a fumble). He also returned 7 kickoffs for 124 yards (17.7 avg.) in 2000. Current Trojan Tommy Huff also attended Michigan.

HIGH SCHOOL: He ran for 6,357 yards and 82 TDs on 668 carries (9.5 avg.), all school records, in his 3-year (1995-97) career at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks (Calif.). As a senior, he was regarded as the nation's top prep running back. He was named a 1997 Parade All-American, USA Today All-USA first team, Super Prep National 50, The Sporting News Top 100, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, ESPN/National Recruiting Advisor All-American second team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Western Region Offensive MVP, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley MVP and All-Mission League MVP. In 1997, he rushed for 2,818 yards and 35 TDs on a school-record 313 carries (9.0 avg.). In one game, he ran for 404 yards with 6 TDs. For the second consecutive year, Notre Dame was the CIF Division III runnerup in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he gained 2,970 yards (then the third most in California history) with 38 TDs on 281 carries (10.6 avg.) while earning USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III Offensive Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley MVP and All-Mission League MVP honors. He also caught 22 passes for 284 yards (12.9 avg.) with 4 scores in 1996. On one touchdown run, he somersaulted over a pile, landed on his feet and ran 40 yards to the end zone. Notre Dame was the CIF Division III runnerup in 1996.

As a 1995 sophomore fullback, he rushed for 569 yards and 9 TDs on 74 carries (7.7 avg.). He also played defensive back all 3 years at Notre Dame.

He also ran track at Notre Dame, winning the state 100 meters crown in 1997 (his best in the 100 was 10.47).

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His father, Antonio Fargas, is an actor who has appeared in television (including as Huggy Bear on "Starsky and Hutch") and film ("Shaft," "Pretty Baby," "The Gambler" and "Car Wash," among others).

JUSTIN FARGAS ON: Coming to USC: "I want to show that I'm still a quality back. This is my last chance...I'm getting bigger, older and stronger. I want to be the tailback for USC. That would be a dream to play tailback here. That would mean the world to me...I think about what if I had come to USC out of high school. It has crossed my mind. Everything happens for a reason. I think USC is a perfect fit now...The more I get adjusted to this program, the more I realize I should have been here a long time ago. Don't get me wrong. I had a good experience at Michigan, but I should have followed my gut and come to USC in the first place...The first time I touch the ball at USC, I'm going to be thinking score. It's been a long journey. When I get to step in the Coliseum and play, it's going to be like a dream come true...It's good to just put on my helmet and come out here and contribute. After everything I have been through, just the fact I am playing again is a great feeling. Now I want to do everything I can to help us win games...Last year, watching as the running game struggled and we lost some games by just a few points, I felt like I could get in there and make some yards and do something to help the team win. It was hard to watch."

Recovering from his injuries: "I'm just really glad to be playing football and in my natural position. Just to be able to practice. Hopefully, I'll have a chance to have a career here...I feel like I bring more with me now. Before I got hurt, I had a lot of speed. Now I feel I put on some weight and the lifting has given me the quick burst...I knew my speed would be there. It's really about getting confidence in my leg and my strength back...Now, when I'm out playing, I don't even think about the injuries anymore. All I'm thinking about is playing football."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC tailback Sultan McCullough: "He's my boy. He should have been here from the start. I always tell him that. We need him now. We make a great 1-2 punch. It's his turn to shine. He's like a power back...It's funny, but in high school I hated his guts. I was a running back. He was a running back. In high school, you wanted to be the best. I wanted him bad, whether it was in football or track."

Miguel FLETCHER

Cornerback

#40

2002: The fast ex-tailback Fletcher, who also has sprinted for the USC track team, will serve as a reserve cornerback as a senior in 2002.

2001: Fletcher did not see any action in 2001 as a junior reserve tailback. He was moved to a reserve cornerback role prior to the Utah game.

2000: Fletcher did not see any action as a reserve tailback in his 2000 sophomore season.

1999: As a reserve redshirt freshman in 1999, Fletcher was moved to cornerback from tailback prior to 1999 spring practice and then switched back to tailback in the middle of the 1999 season. His only action came at the end of the Louisiana Tech game, but he did not carry the ball. He also sprinted for the USC track team in the spring of 1999.

TRACK: Fletcher has been a sprinter on USC's track team.

In the spring of 2001, he ran the 100 meters 5 times, placing first at the Trojan Invitational (10.47), third at both the Willie Williams Invitational (10.56) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (in a career-best 10.31), sixth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.60) and a non-advancing seventh in a heat at the Pac-10 Meet (11.07). He also ran the 200 meters 4 times, getting second at both the Trojan Invitational (21.27) and Willie Williams Invitational (21.36), fourth at the USC-LSU Dual Meet (21.53) and fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (21.87). He was first in his heat in the 50-meter dash at the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational (5.83). He also ran the second leg on USC's 400-meter relay team which was first at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39) and the leadoff leg on the winning squads at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.98) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.74).

In the spring of 2000, he ran the 100 meters 3 times, getting fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.61), fourth in a heat of the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (10.62) and 11th at the ASU USTCA Meet (11.02). He also ran the 200 meters in 5 meets, going 21.06 for third in a heat at the USTCA Invitational, 21.29 for fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet, 21.52 for fifth at the USC Centennial Invitational, 21.67 for ninth at the ASU USTCA Meet and 21.96 for seventh in a heat at the Pac-10 Meet. He also ran a leg 3 times on the 400-meter relay squad which won the Long Beach Relays (40.13) and Trojan Invitational (40.08) and placed second at the Pac-10 Meet (39.93).

In his first race as a Trojan in the spring of 1999, he posted a season-best 10.40 while placing second in the 100 meters in the Trojan Invitational. He also ran 5 other 100s, finishing third once (in a wind-aided 10.39 at the UNLV Invitational) and fourth 3 times. He ran the 200 meters once, going 22.20 at the LSU Collegiate Series meet. He was the leadoff runner on USC's Pac-10 champion 400-meter relay team and its second-place NCAA meet unit, as well as the victorious quartet at the Trojan Invitational. In the summer of 1999, he placed eighth in the 100 (10.48) at the USATF Junior Nationals (he was second in his qualifying heat at 10.46).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest and All-Del Rey League pick as a senior at Alemany High in Mission Hills (Calif.). In 1997, he ran for 896 yards (5.4 avg.) and 8 TDs and caught 10 passes for 150 yards (15.0 avg.) on offense and also played cornerback on defense.

As a 1996 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team and All-Del Rey League second team while rushing for 1,222 yards (8.1 avg.) with 8 TDs. In his 3-year career, he ran for 3,350 yards (6.8 avg.) with 30 TDs.

He was a 3-year All-American (1996-98) in track at Alemany, placing second in the 1997 and 1998 state 100 meters and the 1998 state 200 meters. He posted prep bests of 10.36 in the 100 and 20.94 in the 200. In the CIF Southern Section Division III meets, he won the 100 twice (1996 and 1998) and the 200 for 3 straight years (1996-98). He was named the 1998 Los Angeles Times Valley/Ventura Boys' Track Athlete of the Year. He won the 100 and 200 in the 1996 Junior Olympics.

PERSONAL: He was born in Thibodaux, La. He's majoring in sociology and communication at USC. His sports hero is Michael Jordan. His father, Ned, was on the football and track teams at Cal State Northridge.

Sandy FLETCHER

Wide Receiver

6-1 • 200
Jr.*/Sr.

2002: Fletcher, an athletic junior, will battle to get into the wide receiver playing rotation in 2002. He also has played for the USC men's basketball team earlier in his career.

2001: Fletchersaw action in 2001 as a sophomore reserve wide receiver and on special teams. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 2 receptions for 11 yards (5.5 avg.) and made 2 tackles. His catches came at Notre Dame (6 yards, the first of his career) and California (5 yards).

2000: Fletcher was a reserve wide receiver and key special teamer as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He did not catch a pass on offense, but did make 4 tackles on special teams (2 versus Arizona State) while appearing in all 12 games in 2000, plus he scored USC's first touchdown of the season when he returned a blocked punt 6 yards in the Penn State opener and he recovered a fumbled kickoff against California (which led to a USC field goal).

1999: Fletcher redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a safety, but was moved to wide receiver in mid-season. He was named USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Offensive Player of the Year.

BASKETBALL: After his 1999 football season, Fletcher joined the 2000 USC men's basketball team. He was on the team from mid-December to mid-January, then stopped playing to concentrate on his academics. As a backup point guard, he appeared briefly in 4 games and averaged 1.0 points, 0.5 rebounds and 0.2 assists.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was All-Area, All-Bay League first team and team MVP while playing safety and wide receiver as a 1998 senior at Inglewood (Calif.) High. He had 67 tackles and 6 interceptions on defense in 1998, while on offense he scored 12 TDs and averaged 150 all-purpose yards.

He also started as a 1997 junior (earning All-Bay League second team) and 1996 sophomore.

He also starred in basketball, winning 1999 All-CIF Division II first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team, Bay League Co-MVP, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention and team MPV honors as a 1999 senior guard. He averaged 19.0 points, 7.0 rebounds and 3.0 steals as a senior. Inglewood was 30-5. He was a 3-year starter and earned All-Bay League second team honors as a junior.

He also sprinted for Inglewood's track team.

PERSONAL: He's a political science major at USC.

SANDY FLETCHER ON: Not deciding on what school to attend or what sport to play until June of 1999: "I wanted to see what the basketball season had in store...It was very difficult. It took me a while to decide what I really wanted to do. There was a lot of pressure. After high school, you want to choose a path that you can live with. It was my decision. When it comes down to it, it's my life...Then I started getting down on myself. I know that's the wrong attitude to take, but you start questioning yourself. All the other kids around me were going big-time. At first I was real bitter. But people have worse problems. You can have a lot worse problems than trying to decise what sport you want to play...When I decided, I felt more comfortable instead of worrying. I was able to sleep better knowing that I was going to be in school come fall."

Derek GRAF

Center

Sr.*/Sr.

2002: Graf, whose father played at USC in the early 1970s, will serve as a backup center as a senior in 2002.

2001: Graf broke his right leg in 2001 fall camp and was sidelined for the first 6 games of his junior season. He then returned as a reserve offensive lineman, able to play guard, center or tackle. He saw brief action at center in the California game.

2000: Graf did not see any action as a reserve offensive guard and tackle in his 2000 sophomore season. He was slowed in 2000 fall drills by a sprained ankle.

1999: Graf saw brief action only in the Hawaii opener as a reserve offensive tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1999. He was slowed after mid-season by a lower back strain.

1998: Graf redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1989, his first year at USC. He was bothered by a sprained knee throughout the year.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region and All-Marmonte League first team honors as an offensive lineman at Agoura (Calif.) High. He had an 85% blocking grade as a 1997 senior. Agoura sent 7-4 in 1997.

A 2-year starter, Agoura led the league in rushing both seasons. He also played nose guard on defense. He also played basketball at Agoura. Current Trojan Andre Woodert also prepped at Agoura.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His father, Allan, lettered 3 years (1970-72) at offensive guard at USC, playing on Troy's 1972 national championship team and then appearing in the 1973 College All-Star Game (he is now a stunt coordinator and second unit director in the movie industry).

Aaron GRAHAM

Linebacker

2002: The capable Graham, who has started 5 times in his career, will serve as a backup weakside linebacker as a senior in 2002.

2001: Graham saw action as a backup middle linebacker and on special teams as a junior in 2001. He even started at middle linebacker against Utah. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 8 games (all but Kansas State, Oregon, Stanford and Washington), he had 11 tackles, including a 1-yard sack. He had 4 tackles against Utah and 3 stops at both Arizona and California.

2000: Graham began his 2000 sophomore season as the backup middle linebacker behind Zeke Moreno and a key special teams player. But when Moreno moved to weakside linebacker (for an injured Markus Steele) for USC's final 4 contests, Graham started in the middle and made quite an impact. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 26 tackles, including 2 for losses of 5 yards (with a 2-yard sack), plus 2 deflections and a forced fumble (against Washington State). At Arizona State in his first career start, he had 9 tackles (with a sack), then added 7 stops with a forced fumble against Washington State, 3 tackles and a deflection at UCLA and 4 stops versus Notre Dame.

1999: Graham appeared in 11 games (all but the Hawaii opener) as a reserve linebacker and special teams player as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999, he made 4 tackles and recovered a fumble (at Oregon). He made 2 tackles against Oregon State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1998 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-Area Defensive MVP and All-Southeast Yosemite League Defensive MVP as a senior at Bakersfield (Calif.) High. In 1998, he posted 132 tackles, 18 tackles for losses, 2 sacks, 1 interception, 2 deflections, 1 fumble recovery and 1 forced fumble.

As a 1997 junior, he was selected to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass second team, All-Area and All-Southeast Yosemite League Linebacker MVP. He made 134 tackles, including 21 for losses and 2 for sacks, plus recovered a fumble and forced 3 others. Bakersfield was 22-5 (posting 11 shutout wins) and twice was the section runnerup in his last 2 seasons there.

He also wrestled at Bakersfield, where he ranked first in California and fifth in the U.S. in the prep heavyweight division. He was the 1998 CIF champion at 215 pounds and placed fourth in the state meet.

PERSONAL: He's an economics major at USC.

Matt GROOTEGOED

Linebacker

So.*/Jr.

2002: Grootegoed, who has uncanny football instincts and can usually be found at the point of action, returns as the starting strongside linebacker as a sophomore in 2002. He missed 2002 spring practice while recovering from a leg injury he suffered during the 2001 season.

2001: Normally a safety, Grootegoed was moved to strongside linebacker in 2001 fall camp and, when he was healthy, the redshirt freshman showed a knack for always being around the ball as the starter. However, he missed 4 games (Oregon and Stanford with a left shoulder sprain suffered against Kansas State and then UCLA and Utah after breaking his right lower leg at California). He started 7 games (San Jose State, Arizona State, Notre Dame, Arizona, Oregon State and California on the strong side and Kansas State on the weak side for an injured Frank Strong). Overall in 2001 while appearing in 8 games (he played briefly at Washington, but did not start), he had 32 tackles, including 8 for losses of 13 yards (with a 4-yard sack), a fumble recovery and 2 deflections. He was named to the 2001 The Sporting News Freshman All-American third team and The Sporting News Freshman All-Pac-10 first team.

He had 9 tackles (1 for a loss) against Kansas State, 7 stops (3 for losses) versus Arizona State, 7 tackles (2 for losses) and recovered a fumble to set up a USC field goal at Notre Dame and 5 stops (with a sack) and a deflection against Oregon State.

2000: Grootegoed, a reserve safety, appeared briefly on special teams in the Penn State opener (he did not make a tackle), but then came down with mononucleosis and was sidelined for the rest of his 2000 freshman season. Because of the early illness, he was allowed to redshirt in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1999 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Reebok ESPN All-American, The Sporting News Top 101, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Co-Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times Glenn Davis Award (as the top Southern California prep football player), Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County Defensive MVP and All-Serra League MVP as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He made 138 tackles, 6 interceptions (2 were returned for TDs), 7 tackles for losses and 2 forced fumbles as a free safety and ran for 945 yards on 116 carries (8.1 avg) with 14 TDs as a running back (he also played some quarterback early in the season, completing 21-of-41 passes, 51.2%, for 300-plus yards) in 1999. Mater Dei was the CIF Division I co-champion.

As a junior in 1998, he made Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Back of the Year and Orange County Register All-Orange County Defensive MVP. He rushed for more than 1,600 yards with 21 TDs on offense and made 130 tackles, 6 forced fumbles and 3 interceptions on defense in 1998. In the 1998 CIF Division I championship game, which Mater

Dei won, he earned Offensive and Defensive Player of the Game honors (he ran for 244 yards, with a 7.4 average, and 2 TDs).

As a 1997 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team. He played in 4 CIF championship games in his career, winning 3 of them. Current Trojans Lenny Vandermade, Matt Leinart and Chris Doyle also went to at Mater Dei.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. In his spare time, he likes to fish. His brother, John, was an offensive guard at San Jose State in 1994 and 1995.

MATT GROOTEGOED ON: Switching from safety to linebacker in 2001: "My first reaction was that I would play anywhere as long as I could get on the field. But for the first couple of days, I was lost...For me, I knew Troy Polamalu, a really good player, was starting at strong safety, and I'd have to play behind him all season. So when they told me there was an opening somewhere else, I felt maybe this was a good break...It gave me a chance to blitz and do some things I'd never done before. You know, kind of like (ex-Trojan) David Gibson did at this position a couple of years ago. Make a couple of sacks so everyone can see them. That's kind of fun...The change suited me. I'm more of a physical, hit-you-in-the-face player...Eventually, I want to switch back to strong safety. In think that's my natural position. I think that's where my future is. (NFL star) John Lynch is my prototype. I watch him on film whenever I can. I try to emulate him on the field."

Redshirting because of an early illness in 2000: "It was really frustrating. I wanted to be playing football, not standing on the sideline watching it...I was real excited going into the season and even got in for a few plays in the opener. But then I got sick right after that. I was really bummed. After that, I just felt left out of the whole season...I was really difficult. I couldn't go to meetings or practice because I was contagious. I didn't feel like I was part of the team."

Gregg GUENTHER JR.

Tight End

6-8 • 245
So.*/Jr.

#44

2002: Guenther, USC's tallest player at 6-8, will serve as a backup tight end as a sophomore in 2002. He also has played on the USC men's basketball team.

2001: Guenther was sidelined for most of his 2001 redshirt freshman season while recovering from a 2000 back injury. He returned late in the 2001 season, but did not see any action as a reserve tight end.

2000: Guenther appeared as a reserve tight end in the Penn State opener (he did not catch a pass) but then suffered a herniated disk in his back and had surgery, which sidelined him for the rest of his 2000 freshman season. Because of the early injury, he was allowed to redshirt in 2000, his first year at USC.

BASKETBALL: After the 2001 football season, he joined the 2002 USC men's basketball team and served as a reserve center on a Trojan squad that got into the NCAA tourney. He appeared in 9 games (starting 3 times, twice against Stanford and once against California). He scored 1 point, grabbed 9 rebounds and had a block and an assist in 34 minutes of action (3.8 minutes an outing).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Tom Lemming All-West, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention selection as a senior at Taft High in Woodland Hills (Calif.) while playing offensive line, tight end and defensive end. Despite missing 4 games in 1999 with a dislocated shoulder, he had 6 catches for 56 yards (9.3 avg) with a TD on offense and 40 tackles, 7 sacks and 1 interception (for a TD) on defense. Current Trojans Greig Carlson and Brandon Hance also prepped at Taft.

He also played basketball (earning All-L.A. City and All-League MVP honors) and baseball at Taft.

He spent 1998 at Crespi High in Encino (Calif.).

PERSONAL: His sports hero is NFL star tight end Tony Gonzalez.

D. HALE

6-1 • 185
Jr.*/Sr.

#82

2002: Hale, a one-time walk-on who was awarded a scholarship in the spring of 2002, will compete for playing time at wide receiver as a junior in 2002. He also might returns kickoffs. He missed part of 2002 spring practice with a sprained left shoulder.

2001: Hale played a significant role as a sophomore walk-on reserve wide receiver, seeing action in USC's last 8 games and even starting at Arizona. Overall in 2001, he caught 7 passes for 106 yards (15.1 avg.) and carried the ball twice on reverses for 14 yards (7.0 avg.). He had 3 catches at California (for 61 yards) and 2 versus Oregon State (for 17 yards).

2000: He did not play football in 2000 while a student at USC.

1999: Hale did not play football in the fall of 1999 (his first year at USC), but did participate in 2000 spring practice as a freshman walk-on wide receiver.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1998 All-Section, Sacramento Bee All-City first team and All-Metro League honors as a senior wide receiver and defensive back at Hiram Johnson High in Sacramento (Calif.). He had 62 receptions for 1,200-plus yards and 9 TDs on offense in 1998, made 10 interceptions on defense and returned 6 kickoffs and punts for scores.

As a 1997 junior, he made 32 catches for 800-plus yards with 7 TDs and had 7 interceptions. A 3-year starter, he had 25 receptions and 3 interceptions as a 1996 sophomore.

PERSONAL: He is a political science major at USC. His first name is Donald, but he goes by D. ("Only my mother calls me Donald," he said.). His older brother, Damon Boddie, played tailback at Montana in the mid-90s. He has an interest in music and even has a recording studio in his home.

Brandon HANCOCK

Fullback

Fr./Fr.
#28

2002: The big and strong Hancock, who graduated a semester early from high school and enrolled at USC in the spring of 2002, will serve as a reserve fullback as a freshman in 2002.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 2001 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Far West, Prep Star All-Western Region, Tom Lemming All-West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Fresno Bee All-Fresno second team pick as a senior fullback at Clovis West High in Fresno (Calif.). He ran for 1,280 yards in 2001 and had 1,600-plus all-purpose yards with 15 TDs.

As a junior in 2000, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team as he rushed for 700-plus yards with 5 scores and, as a linebacker, had 80 tackles (31 solo), 2 fumble recoveries, 2 forced fumbles and an interception despite missing some game with a mid-season ankle sprain. He also played some at quarterback and defensive end while at Clovis West.

Also a fine student, he was valedictorian at Clovis West.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with an A-average (team-best 3.81 GPA).

Billy HART

Quarterback

Fr.*/So.
#13

2002: Hart, who was impressive running USC's scout team offense in 2001, will serve as a reserve quarterback as a redshirt freshman in 2002. He missed part of 2002 spring drills with an ankle sprain. He also has played for the USC baseball team.

2001: Hart redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 2001, his first year at USC. He served as the scout team quarterback. He won USC's Service Team Offensive Player of the Year Award.

BASEBALL: After the 2001 football season, he joined the 2002 USC baseball team as a reserve infielder, but redshirted.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 2000 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest and Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 as a senior at Mission Viejo (Calif.) High. He completed 95-of-180 (52.8%) of his passes for 1,800 yards with 14 TDs and 7 interceptions in 2000, plus ran for 6 scores. Mission Viejo went 9-3 in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, he was an All-South Coast League second team choice while completing 112-of-229 passes (48.9%) for 1,700 yards, 15 TDs and 12 interceptions (he also ran for 275 yards and 2 TDs). He didn't play quarterback until his junior year. Current Trojan Collin Ashton also prepped at Mission Viejo.

He also played baseball at Mission Viejo, twice earning All-League honors as a shortstop and centerfielder.

He spent his freshman and sophomore years at Foothill High in Santa Ana (Calif.). Current Trojan Norm Katnik also prepped at Foothill.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with a B+ average (3.35 GPA). His father, Wilson, attended USC. He likes to snowboard in his spare time. His sports hero is ex-NFL star John Elway.

Linebacker-Snapper

Jr./Jr.
#50

2002: Hayward returns as the snapper on all punts as a junior in 2002. He also is available at linebacker.

2001: Hayward, who transferred to USC in the fall of 2001 from a junior college, was the snapper on all punts as a sophomore and did a flawless job. Overall while appearing in all 12 games in 2001, he made 1 tackle (at Arizona).

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a linebacker and snapper as a freshman in 2000 at Glendale (Ariz.) Community College. Glendale won the 2000 National Junior College Athletic Association national championship.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 3-year (1997-99) starting linebacker and offensive guard at Mountain Ridge High in Glendale, earning All-Region second team and All-Conference honors in 1998 and 1999.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with a B average (3.29 GPA).

DeShaun HILL

Safety

2002: The capable Hill, who has started 8 times in his career, figures to start at free safety as a senior in 2002.

2001: Hill, who served as the backup to Antuan Simmons at free safety for most of his 2001 junior season, took over the starting job there for USC's last 3 games (California, UCLA and Utah) when Simmons moved to cornerback because of injury. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 42 tackles, including 1 for a 3-yard loss, 1 deflection, 2 interceptions which he returned 10 yards (5.0 avg.), a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. He had a career-high 14 tackles against Utah (and forced a fumble that USC recovered), 7 tackles and an interception against Stanford, a team-best 6 tackles and an interception at California, and 4 stops versus San Jose State (with a fumble recovery) and Arizona.

2000: When starting free safety Ifeanyi Ohalete suffered a season-ending ankle injury, Hill started 5 mid-season games (Oregon, Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State) there as a sophomore in 2000. He began the year as an often-used backup to Troy Polamalu at strong safety. He suffered a neck stinger against Washington State and was slowed for USC's final 2 contests. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 39 tackles, including 3 for losses of 15 yards (with an 11-yard sack), plus 5 deflections and tied for the team lead in interceptions with 2 (against Arizona to set up a USC touchdown and at the goal line at Stanford), which he returned 12 yards. Against Arizona, he had a game-high 9 tackles (2 for losses, with a sack), plus an interception. He had 7 stops versus Oregon and Arizona State, 4 at Stanford (with an interception and 3 deflections), and 3 against San Jose State and Notre Dame.

1999: Hill, who transferred to USC in the fall of 1999 from a junior college, appeared as a reserve safety and special teams player in 3 of USC's first 4 games (Hawaii, San Diego State and Oregon State) as a 1999 sophomore. But he was bothered by a back sprain that sidelined him the rest of the season and he was allowed to redshirt. Overall in 1999, he made 2 tackles.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He made the 1998 All-Mission Conference Northern Division second team as a freshman at Long Beach (Calif.) City College. In 1998, he had 68 tackles (second on the team), including 48 solo, plus 8 deflections and 1 forced fumble. He once had 16 tackles and 5 deflections in a game. Long Beach City was 10-1 in 1998 and ranked third in the state and sixth nationally.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. He missed his 1997 senior season (Long Beach Poly was the CIF Division I champion that year) because of a broken leg. He was a part-time starting defensive back as a 1996 junior. Current Trojans Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Darnell Bing, Hershel Dennis, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

DeSHAUN HILL ON: His football idol, ex-Trojan All-American safety Mark Carrier: "I love Mark Carrier. He is just so smart. It's like he knows what is going to be run before they run it. I don't know how he does it, but my goal is to be just like him."

Long Beach Poly's football tradition: "It's a great tradition going on there. Before I was even born, the system was set. It was well known that players who come out of Poly are talented and well coached."

His Pop Warner team: "The name of the team was the Poly Trojans. They put me on defense and I found out right away that I could play. That's pretty much how it happened. I was just out there having fun."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Long Beach City College head coach Larry Reisbig: "Once I saw him play, I knew we had something special. Here is a kid with great speed, quickness and intelligence. He played free safety for us but he's quick enough and fast enough to play corner."

Alex HOLMES

Tight End

6-3 • 265
Jr./Jr.
#81

2002: The sure-handed Holmes, the most experienced of USC's tight ends, has earned the starting job there as a junior in 2002.

2001: Just a sophomore, Holmes saw lots of action in 2001 as the backup tight end behind Kori Dickerson. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 22 receptions for 166 yards (7.5 avg.) with 2 TDs.

He had 3 catches against UCLA (37 yards), Oregon State (17 yards, including a difficult 9-yarder on third-and-8 from the Beaver 12-yard line to set up USC's winning TD in overtime), San Jose State (15 yards) and Arizona (14 yards), and 2 grabs versus Washington (24 yards), Utah (16 yards), Kansas State (13 yards) and Arizona State (11 yards). He caught his first career TD (a 4-yarder) against Arizona State and added a 1-yard TD at Arizona.

2000: Holmes saw significant action as a backup tight end to Antoine Harris as a freshman in 2000, his first year at USC. Overall, he caught 7 passes for 53 yards (7.6 avg.), plus returned a kickoff for 6 yards as an up-man (against Washington State) and threw an incomplete pass on a trick play at UCLA. His 7 receptions came in 7 different games: Penn State (1 yard), San Jose State (15 yards), Arizona (6 yards), California (13 yards), Arizona State (5 yards), Washington State (6 yards) and Notre Dame (7 yards). He made the 2000 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected as a 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 101, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team pick despite not playing football in 1999 at Harvard-Westlake High in North Hollywood (Calif.). He was not eligible to compete in athletics in 1999 because he had to repeat his freshman year of high school at La Jolla (Calif.) High after missing 13 weeks of school while suffering complications following sinus surgery.

As a 1998 junior tight end and inside linebacker at Harvard-Westlake, he was a Student Sports Junior All-American, All-CIF Division VII first team, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team and All-League MVP. He caught 46 passes for 990 yards (21.5 avg) and 8 TDs (including a 90-yarder), ran for 200 yards on 28 carries (7.1 avg) with 4 TDs and hit 6-of-8 passes (75.0%) with 4 TDs on offense and made 130 tackles, 23 tackles for losses, 9 sacks, 3 fumble recoveries and an interception (returned for a 65-yard TD) on defense.

As a 1997 sophomore at Harvard-Westlake, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team as he had 38 receptions for 739 yards (19.4 avg).

He also played basketball and was on the track team at Harvard-Westlake. He scored over 1,300 points on the SAT exam and 3 times placed first on a national Latin exam while at Harvard-Westlake, one of the nation's top prep schools. Current Trojan Spencer Torgan also prepped at Harvard-Westlake.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. His father, Mike, lettered at defensive end at Michigan in 1974 and 1975. His workout partner is NFL Hall of Fame running back Eric Dickerson (he says Dickerson is his sports hero and says his favorite sports moment was watching Dickerson get enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame). He volunteers with the Special Olympics.

ALEX HOLMES ON: Playing tight end: "I love playing tight end because I just love catching the ball and running people over."

Studying Latin and Greek in high school: "I took Latin and classical Greek courses in high school. I love the classical languages. They're very interesting languages to study. My mother is full-blooded Greek, there's the connection."

Scott HUBER

Tight End

#85

2002: Huber will serve as a reserve tight end as a senior in 2002. He is also a key special teams player. He was moved back to tight end (from fullback) in 2002 spring practice.

2001: Huber was switched from reserve tight end to reserve fullback early in his 2001 junior season. He saw limited action on offense (he did not have a carry or catch), but appeared in all 12 games in 2001 on special teams (he did not make a tackle).

2000: Huber served as a backup tight end to Antoine Harris as a sophomore in 2000. He appeared briefly in 6 games, but did not catch a pass. He even started the Arizona game for an injured Harris. In 2000 spring practice, he was converted from tight end to strongside linebacker, but moved back to offense in 2000 fall drills.

1999: Huber served as a backup to Antoine Harris at tight end and was on some special teams as a redshirt freshman in 1999. He saw action in 11 games (all but the California game) in 1999. His only catch of 1999 was a 2-yarder against San Diego State.

1998: Huber redshirted as a freshman tight end in 1998, his first year at USC. He was sidelined all season with a hip fracture that occurred in fall drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division II first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/Westside first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team and All-Bay League Lineman of the Year as a senior tight end and defensive end at Peninsula High in Rolling Hills (Calif.). In 1997, he caught 15 passes for 315 yards (21.0 avg.) and 3 TDs on offense and had 77 tackles, 25 tackles for losses, 16 sacks, 6 deflections and 3 forced fumbles on defense. Peninsula went 14-0 in 1997 and won the CIF Division II championship.

As a junior in 1996, he made the Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay first team and South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team while catching 3 passes and getting 11 sacks. He also started as a sophomore. In his career, he recorded 40 sacks.

PERSONAL: He's a communication major at USC with a B-average (2.97 GPA). He was a 1999 and 2000 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention selection. His mother attended USC.

2002: Jackson, whose father played at USC in the mid-1970s, was moved from linebacker to defensive end in the spring of 2002 and will serve as a backup there as a redshirt freshman in 2002.

2001: Jackson redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 2001, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 2000 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State honorable mention, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division VII, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/Westside, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team and All-Angelus League MVP honors as a senior at Serra High in Gardena (Calif.). He made 130 tackles, 10 tackles for losses, 9 sacks, 1 interception for a TD and 2 fumble recoveries for TDs as a linebacker in 2000, plus caught 20 passes for 342 yards (17.1 avg.) with 3 TDs as a tight end.

As a 1999 junior, he was the All-Angelus League MVP as he had 100-plus tackles, 6 sacks and an interception on defense and 14 receptions with 3 scores on offense.

He also had 100-plus tackles (with 4 sacks) as a 1998 sophomore.

In his career, he notched 365 tackles, 32 tackles for losses, 19 sacks, 2 interceptions, 10 fumble recoveries (with an 80-yard TD return) and 7 forced fumbles.

He also was on the basketball and track teams at Serra.

PERSONAL: His father, Melvin, lettered at USC as an offensive tackle in 1974 and 1975 (the 1974 Trojans won the national championship), then played guard with the Green Bay Packers for 5 years (1976-80).

AUSTIN JACKSON ON: What his father told him about playing at USC: "He told me to be tough. He said I'd have to work hard and fight to get through things."

Norm KATNIK

Jr.*/Sr.

2002: Katnik, USC's experienced jack-of-all-trades on the offensive line, likely will start at center as a junior in 2002, but he might also is available at guard and tackle. He has started at each of those spots in his career. In the spring of 2002, he had surgery to repair torn ligaments in his thumb.

2000: Katnik was a reserve center as a redshirt freshman in 2000 (he was also available at guard, tackle and tight end). He also was a backup long snapper on punts behind Zeke Moreno. He appeared briefly in 2 games (as a snapper against San Jose State and at tight end versus Arizona). He made 1 tackle (versus San Jose State) in 2000.

1999: Katnik redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the season as an offensive tackle, was moved to tight end in fall camp, then to center by mid-season.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was picked to the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest and All-Century League first team as a senior at Foothill High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He played on both the offensive and defensive lines.

He also played baseball at Foothill. Current Trojan Kurt Katnik also prepped at Foothill, while current Trojan Billy Hart also spent part of his prep career at Foothill.

PERSONAL: He's a social sciences/economics major at USC. His brother, Kurt, is a freshman offensive guard at USC. His father, Norman, was a 2-year starting center at Arizona (1978-79), while his uncle, John Katnik, started at center for USC in 1986 and 1987. He was born in Tucson, Ariz. He likes to play golf. His sports hero is ex-USC All-American and current NFL star offensive tackle Tony Boselli.

NORM KATNIK ON: Playing all positions on the offensive line: "It's not as difficult to play so many positions as one might think. I try to mentally focus on the position and think back to a practice situation in order to do what the coaches need me to do. Switching positions used to throw me off, but now it seems like I have been doing this for so long, it doesn't faze me any more."

Playing center: "I didn't like it at first. It had to do with how light I was. I got pushed around by bigger guys. The center is set off from the rest. When the defensive line runs stunts, it's easy to get picked off. Your technique has to be more sound. I hadn't played it that much and it was difficult."

Overcoming his lack of size: "I've always had a lot of faith and was cocky about my ability. I felt I was good, but my weight held me back...I've always been the little guy. I've never been the super big guy. People are always taller and heavier. But it all comes down to how well you know the game and how much more you know than the other guy across from you. Someone else may be a little bigger or stronger, but if I've got the edge on technique and understand my role in the play, I've got the advantage. That's what got me here and gets me on the field. It's about the right footwork and being in the right places. That usually will prevent defenders from getting to the ball...Nothing can beat a good technician."

His difficulty in gaining weight: "I'm not a huge meal eater. It always seemed my metabolism was moving faster than my mouth was and I could never catch up. But I finally have."

His reliability: "I like being reliable and knowing that the coaches can send me into the game to take care of things. I also enjoy knowing that they can count on me to not just do something, but do something right."

Pressure: "I definitely like moving at a faster pace. It is more challenging and makes me a better player. I love the adrenaline that comes along with having some pressure placed upon me to do well...Football is so much more complicated than life. Knowing how much I can handle on the field makes handling situations off the field much easier to deal with."

Kareem KELLY

6-0 • 190

CAREER: With 158 career receptions, the speedy, acrobatic Kelly is fifth on USC's all-time pass catching list (tied for 20th on the Pac-10 career chart). His 2,499 career receiving yards are 14th on the Pac-10 career ladder. He is on pace to break Johnnie Morton's USC career reception (201) and receiving yardage (3,201) records. He has caught a pass in every game he has played in since he arrived at USC (35; he sat out the 2000 Arizona game with an injury), within range of John Jackson's USC record of 37. He has 9 100-yard receiving games in his career.

2002: Kelly returns for his fourth year as a starting wide receiver as a senior in 2002. He also might returns punts. He missed part of 2002 spring practice with a hamstring strain. He also has sprinted for the USC track team.

2001: Kelly started for his third season at wide receiver (split end) as a junior in 2001. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games (he did not start against Arizona State and Arizona, but did play), he had a team-best 49 receptions for 801 yards (16.3 avg.) with 3 TDs, plus ran for 38 yards on 6 reverses (6.3 avg.) and returned 8 punts for 51 yards (6.4 avg.). He had a pair of 100-yard receiving games in 2001 (165 yards at Oregon and 127 yards versus Arizona State). He was on the "Watch List" for the 2001 Biletnikoff Award, given to the nation's top receiver.

He had 3 catches for 18 yards in the San Jose State opener and returned a punt 10 yards, then added 7 grabs for 75 yards (both game bests) against Kansas State. He had 4 catches for a game-high 165 yards at Oregon, including a 93-yard TD (the longest catch of his career). He had a game-high 6 receptions for 46 yards against Stanford. At Washington, he caught 3 passes for 93 yards, including a 58-yard TD. He added 5 receptions for 127 yards (both game highs) versus Arizona State, 2 catches for 16 yards at Notre Dame, 5 grabs for 64 yards (both team bests) at Arizona and 5 catches for 73 yards (both team highs) against Oregon State. At California, he caught a team-best 4 passes for a game-high 88 yards, including a 5-yard TD, and also ran 2 reverses for 23 yards. He caught 2 passes for 3 yards against UCLA and ran 2 reverses for 6 yards. He added a team-high 3 receptions for 33 yards (with a 22-yarder) against Utah.

2000: Kelly started at wide receiver as a sophomore in 2000. He started 8 times (Penn State, Colorado, San Jose State, Oregon State, Stanford, Arizona State, UCLA and Notre Dame) at split end and once (California) at flanker. He missed the Arizona game after spraining his ankle and straining his quad at Oregon State. He was the much-used backup in the other 2 games (Oregon and Washington State). Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games, he led USC in receptions (55) and yardage (796 yards) for a 14.5 average with 4 TDs. He also carried the ball 5 times on reverses for 8 yards (1.6 avg.) and returned 6 punts for 22 yards (3.7 avg.). His 55 catches in 2000 is tied for 10th on USC's season list and is the most ever by a USC sophomore. By the end of 2000, he had 109 career receptions for 1,698 yards, with both marks being the most by a Trojan at the end of his sophomore season.

Kelly had 2 catches for 15 yards against Penn State, then a career-best 10 catches for 145 yards (both game highs) against Colorado. Against San Jose State, he had a game-high 7 catches for 106 yards (including a 61-yard TD). He had 1 for 11 yards at Oregon State before suffering a strained right quad which sidelined him for the Arizona contest. He returned for the Oregon game and had 3 grabs for 45 yards. He had a team-best 4 catches for 51 yards at Stanford, then a game-high 5 catches for 42 yards against California (he also had 2 carries for 8 yards) and 6 receptions for a game-high 85 yards at Arizona State. He had a game-high 7 catches for 114 yards (with a 34-yard TD) against Washington State, then a game-high 6 catches for 91 yards (with a 39-yard TD) at UCLA and 4 catches for a game-best 91 yards (with a 59-yard TD) against Notre Dame.

1999: In 1999, Kelly had the best season that any Pac-10 freshman wide receiver ever had. As the often-used backup to Windrell Hayes (he even started the Oregon State and Arizona games when Hayes was injured), he appeared in all 12 games in 1999 and caught 54 passes (second on USC) for a team-best 902 yards (team-high 16.7 avg.) with 4 TDs. He set Pac-10 and USC freshman records for most catches (54, 11th on USC's single season chart) and receiving yards (902, the most by a Trojan since Keyshawn Johnson had 1,434 in 1995). He was third in the Pac-10 in receiving yards (75.2). He was the only Trojan with a catch in every game in 1999. He had 4 outings with 100 receiving yards (104 at Hawaii, 100 at Arizona, 129 against Stanford and 170 at California). He was named the 1999 Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and to the 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team. He also returned 5 punts for 14 yards (2.8 avg.) and ran 2 reverses for 17 yards (8.5 avg.).

He began his USC career impressively, catching 5 passes for a game-best 104 yards at Hawaii. Against San Diego State, he had 6 catches for 98 yards (both game highs), including a 13-yard TD in the fourth quarter (the game's decisive points) as he outleaped an Aztec defender (who ripped off his helmet on the tackle). He had 5 catches for 87 yards at Oregon, 3 receptions for 56 yards against Oregon State, and then 6 catches for 100 yards at Arizona. At Notre Dame, he hauled in a spectacular 58-yard pass to set up a score. He caught 8 passes for 129 yards (both game bests) against Stanford, then had 9 catches for 170 yards (both career and game bests) with a 72-yard TD (a USC 1999 long reception) at California. He had 6 catches for 51 yards against Arizona State, added a 10-yard reception at Washington State, had 3 grabs for 32 yards (with touchdowns of 22 and 5 yards) against UCLA and 1 for 7 yards versus Louisiana Tech.

TRACK: Kelly, a 3-time California state prep sprint champion, has sprinted for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2002, his only track appearance came as the anchor leg on USC's sprint relay team at the NCAA meet which finished fifth in 39.27 (the squad also was third in its heat in 39.28).

In the spring of 2001, he competed in a pair of March meets before spring football practice began. He won his heat in the 100 meters (10.53) at the Trojan Invitational. He also anchored USC's victorious 400-meter relay squads at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39). He did not return to the track squad after spring football drills because of a slight hamstring strain.

In the spring of 2000, he competed in February and March before having to sit out because of eligibility reasons. In his Trojan sprinting debut, he clocked a world junior record and American collegiate record 5.67 to place second in the 50-meter dash in the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational (it was tied for the ninth fastest time in the world in 2000). He then won a heat in the 100 meters at the Trojan Invitational in 10.33 and was fifth in the 100 meters at the ASU USTCA Invitational in 10.57. He also anchored the victorious 400-meter relay teams at the Trojan Invitational (clocking a 40.08) and USC's Centennial Invitational (39.18). He qualified for the World Junior Championships in the 100 and 200.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous selection), Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a senior at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. In 1998, he had 50 receptions for 1,096 yards (21.9 avg.) and 17 TDs. He had one game with 8 catches for 181 yards and 3 TDs. Long Beach Poly was a CIF Division I finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he made All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division I first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram second team and All-League while catching 43 passes for 560 yards (13.0 avg.) and 9 TDs. Long Beach Poly was the CIF Division I champion. In his 3-year career, his team went 36-5. Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Darnell Bing, Hershel Dennis, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

He also starred on Long Beach Poly's track team, which won the 1997 and 1998 state titles. As a junior, he was the 1998 state 200-meter champion in a meet-record 20.76 and a member of the state winning 400-meter relay squad. As a senior at the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he was first in the 200 meters (21.27). At the 1999 CIF Division I meet, he was second in the 100 (10.54) and 200 (21.04), and ran on the winning 400-meter relay quartet. At the 1999 CIF Masters meet, he won the 100 (wind-aided 10.30, tied for 12th in the world on the under-20 windy list in 1999) and 200 (wind-aided 20.61, fourth fastest under-20 windy mark in the world in 1999) and ran a leg on Poly's state record-setting victorious 400-meter relay team (40.14). He was the 1999 state champion in the 100 (10.47 wind-aided) and 200 (20.76 wind-aided), and ran a leg on the state meet record-setting 400-meter relay squad (40.33). His best times are 10.28 in the 100 meters (the top time in the state in 1998) and 20.53 in the 200.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His sports hero is Muhammad Ali. His cousin is ex-USC safety (1995-98) Rashard Cook, now in the NFL.

KAREEM KELLY ON: His ability: "If I'm on top of my game, I don't see any way a defensive back can stop me. I'm not a one-dimensional player. I have speed, soft hands and I play physical...I don't think anyone in the country can catch me from behind...When people sleep on me, that's my opportunity to open up my arsenal...I want to work hard and be considered one of the best receivers ever to play at USC. I feel I'm a difference maker...I want to show everyone who Kareem Kelly is. He's a guy who comes to work with a lunch pail ready to compete on every down...If you're on the defensive side of the ball, I don't have too much love for you...I know the sky is the limit for me. I know if I work hard I can perform well...But there's always room for improvement. I'm never content with my play. I'm still trying to get better."

His philosophy: "You can't take any plays off, and you have to work hard and give it all you've got while staying focused and humble. Just be a complete football player."

Being compared to former Trojan star receivers Lynn Swann and Keyshawn Johnson: "I don't think I should be compared to them. They're on a higher pedestal...Keyshawn has been my inspiration. I really look up to him. He overcame a lot of obstacles. There were people out there doubting him, but he overcame things...I don't really play like Keyshawn, but watching him has taught me that I need to sharpen my routes and learn to read defenses. And I need to improve my hands. If I do those things, I will help the team win and also attain my goal of winning the Biletnikoff Award someday...I want to be the best in whatever I do. I want to be the best receiver in the country. I want to be the best receiver to come out of USC. I want to reach the same level as Keyshawn and Randy Moss."

His speed: "I was always faster than the other guys, even when I was little. My friends who knew me would place bets on me and I'd race the older guys. I'd be about 10 and would beat guys who were 13 or 14. That's when I knew that I was blessed with speed."

His doubters: "Those doubters are back. I'm hearing whispers that I'm not really a complete player. I'm hearing, 'Kelly is just fast, he's all hype.' That's why I worked hard in the summer...I understand wny people say those things. I wasn't in shape coming into my sophomore year. I thought, 'I had a big year as a freshman, I don't have to do that much in the summer.'...At one point, my confidence was down. It took a lot out of me and took a lot for me to realize what caused the mediocre season in 2000."

Running track: "It helps you with your confidence. On the track it's just you by yourself. If you take that attitude to the football field, as far as the confidence level, it's going to be boosted because you feel no one out there can see you. That's the approach I bring to the football field and it has helped me physically and mentally."

The tatoo of Bob Marley on his left arm: "It means I'm a soldier."

Basketball: "Basketball was my first love. Lots of kids have 'hoop dreams' growing up and I was one of them. I played the off-guard spot and I could shoot really well. I was dunking in the eighth grade, even though I was only 5-8. After a while, though, my coaches convinced me to start running track."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC quarterback Carson Palmer: "Any time you're a quarterback and you've got a guy like Kareem, you love it. With his speed and the way he goes after the ball, you can't not have confidence in him. The desire he has for catching balls and making plays just makes it easier on me and the whole offense."

USC tailback Sultan McCullough: "He's a deep threat. He's agile and, with his speed, he makes plays. When he's out there, the defense can't just key on a certain guy. They have to key on him and it opens up the running game."

Former USC tailback Chad Morton: "He's going to be one of the game's greats. That's the Biletnikoff Award winner right there."

USC cornerback Darrell Rideaux, his prep teammate: "He's competitive on the field and in the classroom. On the field, he's got this macho, flashy athletic appearance. But he's got a sensitive side. He makes people feel comfortable...He's got good hands and he's physical. We battle all the time...He has confidence, and it oozes. You can't miss it."

Steve Bisheff, Orange County Register: "Kareem Kelly catches the ball with more flair than anyone at USC since Lynn Swann. Keyshawn Johnson? Sure, he was a great college receiver. But he was more physical, exuding power and strength. Kelly, like Swann, is about finesse and acrobatic, ballet-like moves. Kareem is R. Jay Soward, with even more speed and a better attitude...Neither Swann nor Johnson could run as fast as Kelly. Few can...He is the playmaker at USC. He is the home run hitter. He is Ken Griffey Jr. in a helmet and shoulder pads."

Karen Crouse, Los Angeles Daily News: "Kareem Kelly has more tools than a carpenter. Before he's through, he could add on another wing to Heritage Hall. He has height, heart, great hands, a gazelle's gait and as many gears as a Ferrari...He's just naturally equipped for success...He is an astute student of the game. On the field, the only thing churning faster than his legs is his mind."

Long Beach Poly track coach Don Norford: "His gait is so smooth and relaxed that you really can't judge how fast Kareem is. It's like when a cheetah attacks the gazelle. The gazelle doesn't realize how fast the cheetah is until it's right into him. With Kareem, a cornerback thinks he has an angle on him, then he shifts into another gear. And Kareem has about three or four more gears he can use."

2002: Kirtman will serve as a reserve fullback as a redshirt freshman in 2002.

2001: Kirtman redshirted as a freshman tailback and fullback in 2001, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 2000 Super Prep All-Farwest and Prep Star All-Western Region pick as a senior at Mercer Island (Wash.) High. He ran for 1,380 yards and 18 TDs, plus has 480 receiving yards, in 2000. He set 11 school records.

As a 1999 junior, he made All-KingCo 3-A first team while rushing for 1,311 yards (7.9 avg.) and 18 TDs, along with 16 receptions for 228 yards (14.3 avg.) and 2 scores.

He also was on the track team (100 and 200 meters and shot put) at Mercer Island.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with a B-average (2.92 GPA). He grew up in Northern California. His father, Louis, ran track at California. His uncle, Nate, played football at Stanford in 1967.

2002: Leach will back up Troy Polamalu at strong safety again in 2002 as a sophomore and also play on special teams.

2001: Leach backed up Troy Polamalu at strong safety, but saw significant action in extra defensive back situations and on special teams as a redshirt freshman in 2001. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 8 tackles and a deflection. He had 3 tackles against UCLA and 2 versus Arizona State and California.

2000: Leach redshirted as a freshman safety in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Division I first team and Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team pick as a senior defensive back at Bishop Amat High in La Puente (Calif.). He had 75 tackles, 5 tackles for losses, 9 sacks, 2 forced fumbles and 5 interceptions in 1999, as well as 13 punt returns for 150 yards (11.5 avg) with a TD and 11 kickoff returns for 250 yards (22.7 avg) with a TD.

As a 1998 junior, he posted 70 tackles, 6 tackles for losses, 5 interceptions, 4 fumble recoveries and 2 forced fumbles.

As a 1997 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team.

He also ran track at Bishop Amat, with a best of 10.9 in the 100 meters. Current Trojan Alex Gomez also prepped at Bishop Amat.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC.

Matt LEINART

Fr.*/So.
#11

2002: Leinart will compete with Matt Cassel for the backup quarterback job behind Carson Palmer as a redshirt freshman in 2002. He also will serve as a backup holder on placekicks.

2001: Leinart redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 2001, his first year at USC. He spent the season as the co-backup to Carson Palmer, although he never got into a game.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 2000 honors included Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Student Sports Senior All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Student Sports Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Gatorade California Player of the Year, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Co-Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Back of the Year, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Serra League as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He completed 192-of-309 passes (62.1%) for 2,870 yards, 28 TDs and 10 interceptions in 2000. Against national champion De La Salle High, he was 31-of-47 for 447 yards and 4 TDs. Mater Dei went 9-3 in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, he was the All-Serra League Offensive MVP while hitting 150-of-233 passes (64.4%) for 2,400 yards with 15 TDs and 6 interceptions. Mater Dei was the CIF Division I co-champion in 1999.

CAREER: In his career, MacKenzie has 765 rushing yards while starting 4 times.

2002: MacKenzie, who has been plagued by injuries throughout his USC career, was granted a rare sixth year of eligibility in 2002 by the NCAA. Because he was out of action for 2 seasons due to "medical or extraordinary circumstances," the NCAA allowed a year's extension of the normal 5-year eligibility "clock" (in which an athlete can compete 4 seasons within a 5-year period). The hard-running senior tailback could play a key role in USC's offensive attack as a threat both running and catching the ball. He had arthroscopic surgery to remove debris in his right knee prior to 2002 spring practice (he missed some of spring drills while recuperating).

2001: MacKenzie was set to join with Sultan McCullough to give USC a potent 1-2 punch at tailback as a senior in 2001. But MacKenzie left the team in midseason without seeing action in 2001: he missed USC's first 2 games with a right knee sprain, the third while attending his father's funeral in Western Samoa and the next 2 after re-spraining his knee in practice prior to the Stanford game. He then decided to go back to Western Samoa for the rest of the season.

2000: MacKenzie served as the backup to Sultan McCullough at tailback as a junior in 2000. He played often in passing situations. He even started started the California and Notre Dame games. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for 284 yards (second on the team) on 41 carries (6.9 avg.), caught 27 passes for 249 yards (9.2 avg.) and returned 4 kickoffs for 91 yards (22.8 avg.). His 27 receptions were the most by a Trojan running back since Rodney Sermons had 39 in 1996. He also made a tackle and forced a fumble on special teams (both at Oregon State).

He ran for 28 yards on 9 tries at Oregon State, then had 47 rushing yards on 3 tries (including a 34-yarder) and caught 2 passes for 10 yards against Oregon. He had a career-long and USC season-long 69-yard non-scoring run the only time he ran the ball (he also caught a 10-yard pass) at Stanford; that long run won him USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award. He had 28 yards on 7 carries (plus 3 catches for 14 yards) as the starter against California. At UCLA, he came up with some big runs (51 yards on 4 carries) and catches (57 yards on 5 grabs), plus had a 29-yard kickoff return, then ran for 18 yards on 5 carries and caught 3 passes for 44 yards versus Notre Dame.

1999: MacKenzie was a backup tailback as a sophomore in 1999. He appeared in 8 games, missing the San Diego State, Oregon, Oregon State and Arizona contests with a pulled left hamstring suffered in practice prior to the SDSU game. Overall in 1999, he gained 121 yards (third on USC) on 25 carries (4.8 avg.) and scored 3 TDs, and also caught 5 passes for 40 yards (8.0 avg.). He also made 1 tackle (versus Louisiana Tech). In the Hawaii opener, he scored short TDs while rushing for 25 yards on 8 carries. He had 71 yards on 8 tries against Louisiana Tech. He caught 3 passes for 21 yards against Arizona State. He was limited in 1999 spring drills while recuperating from a 1998 knee injury.

1998: MacKenzie tore a left knee ligament in the Purdue opener and had season-ending surgery as a sophomore tailback in 1998. He gained 28 yards on 7 carries (4.0 avg.) in that Purdue game. Because of the early-season injury, he redshirted the 1998 season and sat out 1999 spring drills.

1997: MacKenzie proved his precocious nature as a first-year freshman tailback in 1997. He started twice (against Arizona State and Oregon) to become just the third true freshman to start at tailback for USC (Scott Lockwood did so twice in 1987 and Charles White once in 1976). He served as a backup there the rest of the season and also played on some special teams. Overall while appearing in 9 games in 1997 (he missed the Stanford game with a bruised left shoulder and did not play against UCLA), he gained 332 yards (second on USC) on 96 carries (3.5 avg.) and ran for 3 TDs. He also caught 5 passes for 22 yards (4.4 avg.), returned a short kickoff 7 yards (at Notre Dame) and made a tackle on special teams (versus UNLV). He did all this while nagged much of the season with a sore foot arch and then a bruised shoulder.

After rushing for just 24 yards on 17 carries in USC's first 3 games, he came of age against UNLV when starter LaVale Woods went down early in the game with an injury and MacKenzie finished with 104 yards and 2 TDs on 19 tries to become only the fifth USC first-year freshman to eclipse the century mark in rushing (the others were Delon Washington once in 1994, Ryan Knight twice in 1984, Michael Harper once in 1979 and Charles White 4 times in 1976). Then, in his first start, he gained 35 yards on 10 tries (a second-quarter shoulder injury slowed him the rest of the game). He led USC with 69 rushing yards on a career-high 20 carries off the bench at Notre Dame, then added 40 yards on 9 carries while starting versus Oregon. He came off the bench at Washington to get 20 yards on 9 carries. He did not play against Stanford because of a shoulder injury, but returned off the bench at Oregon State to gain 40 yards on 12 carries. He didn't see action against UCLA. Earlier in the season, MacKenzie scored his first USC touchdown against Washington State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Schutt Sports All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, and Orange County Register All-Orange County first team as a senior at Capistrano Valley High in Mission Viejo (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,488 yards on 181 carries (8.2 avg.) with 17 TDs (including a 97-yarder). Against eventual prep national champion Mater Dei High, he rushed for 213 yards. Capistrano Valley was a CIF Division I quarterfinalist in 1996.

A 3-year starter, he earned Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County second team and All-League honors as a 1995 junior and Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 and All-League notice as a 1994 sophomore. Capistrano Valley head coach Dave Brown was a 3-year (1970-72) letterman center at USC and played on Troy's 1972 national championship team.

MacKenzie clocked 10.9 in the 100 meters for Capistrano Valley's track team.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His first name, Malaefou, means "new-found land" or "a kind of paradise" in Samoan. He lived in Apia, Western Samoa until he was 9 years old. He played rugby as a youngster in Western Samoa. His personal trainer was ex-USC lineman Marv Marinovich (1959, 1961-62), the father of former USC quarterback Todd Marinovich (1989-90).

MALAEFOU MacKENZIE ON: The competition at tailback: "Of course, we'd all like to be the guy. We all want the ball as much as possible. But more than that, we want to help the team win in any way we can."

His running style: "I like to do both, run inside or outside, depending on the situation. If it's a third down and short yardage, I'll try and run over somebody. Whatever makes the opponent look bad."

His 1998 torn knee ligament injury: "I just wanted to make a hard cut, go upfield, get some yardage. I thought I could break it because I saw a little seam. I guess I planted too hard and my leg gave way. It was just a freak accident...I broke down because I had never had an injury of that magnitude. My parents were like, 'Keep your head up. Keep your faith and the Lord will take care of you.'...Six weeks afterwards, I felt like a baby, to tell you the truth. I felt like I couldn't walk. My mind wouldn't function with my leg. I'd try to step, but it'd just give way...It was a really tough mentally, kind of a helpless feeling...It was really frustrating for me, but I tried to be patient. I didn't know if I would play football again, or even walk again. I had a lot of faith in God that he had a plan for me, whether it was rehabbing and coming back to football or not...Now, I thank the Lord every day for my health. I'm a lot stronger now in the mental stuff and the details of the game. I've learned a lot more about running, finding the opening and following blockers and that's the difference."

Playing most of 1997 with nagging injuries: "It set me back mentally to have all the little nagging injuries. As a result, my confidence went down. I guess it wasn't meant to be my year."

College versus high school football: "In college, the hole is going to close in a fraction of a second. In high school, it's going to stay open for a few seconds. I just have to adjust to it, because it's a different running style. Everything you do in college has to be up the field, because everyone is faster and stronger...I'm learning to stay low when I hit the hole and just explode through the hole."

Rugby versus football: "I never knew what football was until I came to the United States. I used to think it was a wussy sport, compared to rugby. I'd tease my brother when he had it on TV. But I found out football is not a wussy sport. Both are physical, but I think rugby is more physical because there are no pads. But in football, people are bigger and stronger."

His late brother, Hornell, who had Down Syndrome and died of a heart ailment at the age of 17 (when Malaefou was 10): "I wear a shirt with his picture and name on it. I used to wear it under my jersey, but now I only wear it before and after games. I don't want to ruin it. I carry a cross with his name on it and I play in his memory. He was a good kid, always so caring and loving. Always...Everything I do on the football field is for him. When I get ready for a game, I'll always tell myself, 'This is for you, brother.'"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Capistrano Valley High coach Dave Brown: "His cousin told me that he'd look at my 1972 national championship ring and say, 'I'm going to get one of those some day.'"

His late father, Vernon: "He is obsessed with running and lifting weights. I told the USC strength coaches to try to get him to let up a little. When he was at home, I tried to tell him that he was overtraining. He was staying up until 1 or 2 in the morning. Everyone would be asleep, and he'd be pushing weights in the garage, out on the road doing wind sprints, tying a tire around him and dragging it. It was too much. You have to do a lot more than the average guys to make it, but I thought he was obsessed. I was worried, no doubt. I told the weight coaches at USC, 'I'd appreciate it if you can corral him.'"

Punter

Fr./Fr.
#14

2002: Malone, who graduated a semester early from high school and enrolled at USC in the spring of 2002, will be USC's punter as a freshman in 2002. He will be expected to increase the position's production and consistency.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 2001 Super Prep All-American, Max Emfinger All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division V first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southern California first team, Los Angeles Times All-Inland Empire first team and Riverside Press Enterprise All-Riverside County first team as a senior punter and placekicker at Temescal Canyon High in Lake Elsinore (Calif.). He averaged 43.4 yards per punt in 2001 and 9 of his 38 punts pinned opponents inside the 10-yard line. He also kicked 46- and 47-yard field goals in 2001.

As a junior in 2000, he made the All-CIF Division V first team while averaging 41.5 yards per punt despite missing the season's first 5 games with a broken left foot. Besides his punting, placekicking and kickoff chores, he was a wide receiver.

He also played basketball and was on the track team (running the 200 meters in a school-record 22.37).

Also a fine student, he was valedictorian at Temescal Canyon.

PERSONAL: He's a kinesiology major at USC with a B average (3.2 GPA). His personal punting coach is former Arizona State 1997 All-Pac-10 first team punter Marcus Williams.

Grant MATTOS

2002: Mattos will be a key member of the wide receiver corps as an often-used backup as a senior in 2002.

2001: Mattos, who came to USC in the fall of 2001 from a junior college, made an immediate impression as a sure-handed junior wide receiver (often playing an H-back role). Overall in 2001 while appearing in 8 games, he made 10 receptions for 104 yards (10.4 avg.) and added 2 tackles on special teams. He even started against Arizona State. He missed the Notre Dame, Arizona, Oregon State and California contests with a sprained right knee.

In his Trojan debut in the San Jose State opener, he had a team-best 5 catches for a game-high 75 yards. He added 3 grabs for 9 yards at Oregon, then had an 8-yard catch versus Stanford and a 12-yard grab against Arizona State before hurting his knee. He returned from the injury against UCLA and saw brief action, but did not catch a pass.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 2000 J.C. Athletic Bureau All-American first team, J.C. Grid-Wire All-American honorable mention, Super Prep JUCO 100, J.C. Athletic Bureau All-State Region II Offensive MVP and All-League MVP choice as a sophomore wide receiver at Foothill Junior College in Los Altos Hills (Calif.). He had 76 receptions for 1,200 yards (15.8 avg.) and 14 TDs in 2000, plus returned 5 punts for 17 yards (3.4 avg.). He was sixth in the California juco ranks in receptions per game (6.8) and 18th in scoring (7.8). Foothill went 8-3 and won the Silicon Valley Bowl in 2000.

As a 1999 freshman at Foothill, he had 46 catches for 509 yards (11.1 avg.) with 6 TDs. Foothill was 10-1 and won the Silicon Valley Bowl in 1999. He was named a Scholar-Athlete at Foothill.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 3-year (1996-98) starter at St. Francis High in Mountain View (Calif.), playing wide receiver, defensive back and defensive line. St. Francis won the CIF Central Coast Section Division I championship in 1996 and 1998 and was the runnerup in 1997. He was injured for most of his 1998 senior season.

He caught 56 passes for 826 yards (14.8 avg.) with 4 scores, plus had 8 interceptions, as a 1997 junior while earning All-Area and All-West Catholic Athletic League first team honors.

He also competed in basketball, baseball and track at St. Francis. Current Trojans Matt Lemos, Forrest Mozart and Ronald Nunn also prepped at St. Francis.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His sister, Adrienne, was an All-American freestyler on California's swim team and set several school records. His sports hero is NFL star Jerry Rice.

GRANT MATTOS ON: Being labeled a possession receiver: "I definitely don't want that tagged on me. It motivates me to try to improve myself."

Playing receiver: "I've always wanted to play receiver since I was a little kid. In my mind, that was always my position. I've always worked hard at whatever I need to do to become a great receiver and I'm still working hard to improve...I really like (NFL star receiver) Ed McCaffrey. He's the kind of receiver that I try to emulate."

Being spotted accidentally in junior college by USC offensive coordinator Norm Chow, who was recruiting his quarterback: "I guess I just happened to be at the right place at the right time. I really didn't think much of coach Chow being there until afterwards."

Landing a USC scholarship after not getting any other offers: "It's just a great feeling. Being rejected by everyone makes me work all that much harder to try to establish myself."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC offensive coordinator Norm Chow: "It's amazing people didn't recruit him. I think it was the thing of being a 'slow white guy.' Actually, he can run pretty well...He's got great hands and has the ability to find the creases and seams in a defense."

USC quarterback Carson Palmer: "He has awesome hands and he doesn't drop anything. He's a lot like (ex-USC receiver) Matt Nickels. Only he has more potential. He's bigger and stronger and capable of more."

Foothill College head coach Marshall Sperbeck: "He's everything you look for. Hard worker, great size, catches the ball, understands the game."

Sultan McCULLOUGH

6-0 • 190

CAREER: McCullough's 1,986 career yards puts him 14th on USC's career rushing list. He has 9 100-yard rushing games in his career.

2002: McCullough, the 1999 Pac-10 champion in the 100-meter dash and the fastest player ever to wear a Trojan football uniform, has rebounded from a season-ending injury in 2001 and will battle to regain his starting tailback job as a senior in 2002. He also has sprinted for the USC track team.

2001: McCullough was aiming for a second consecutive 1,000-yard season as a tailback in 2001, but an injury cut short his junior campaign. Overall in 2001 while starting USC's first 6 games, he ran for team-best 410 yards on 115 carries (3.6 avg.) with 5 TDs and caught 6 passes for 100 yards (16.7 avg.) with a score. He had a pair of 100-yard outings in 2001. His 410 rushing yards were the lowest total to lead USC since Hal Tobin's 318 yards in 1960. He was listed as a candidate for the 2001 Doak Walker Award. But he sat out most of the Arizona State contest and all of the Notre Dame, Arizona, Oregon State, California, UCLA and Utah games with a strained abdominal muscle (he had surgery following the UCLA contest).

He rushed for 167 yards with 3 TDs (14, 35 and 7 yards) on 25 carries (all game highs) in the San Jose State opener (it was the most rushing yards by a Trojan in a season opener since Marcus Allen had 210 yards versus Tennessee in 1981, as well as McCullough's eighth 100-yard outing in his career and his first multi-TD game). He then scored USC's only touchdown (a 7-yard run) versus Kansas State while running for 40 yards on 18 carries. At Oregon, he ran 20 times for just 31 yards, but caught 3 passes for 84 yards, including a 75-yard TD (the longest reception of his career and the first career TD catch). He had just 32 yards on 16 carries against Stanford and caught 3 passes for 16 yards. At Washington, he had his second 100-yard outing of 2001 (ninth of his career) with a game-best 132 yards on a career-high 32 carries (the most by a Trojan since Chad Morton had 36 versus UCLA in 1999). He then suffered a strained abdominal muscle (it had been bothering him all season) late in the first quarter against Arizona State and had only 8 yards on 4 carries.

2000: McCullough started at tailback as a sophomore in 2000 and had an outstanding season. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for a team-high 1,163 yards on 227 carries (5.1 avg.) with 6 TDs and caught 9 passes for 25 yards (2.8 avg.). He started 10 games (he was slated to start the California game but hurt his ankle on the opening kickoff and didn't come in until the second series, and then came in early in the Notre Dame contest). His 1,163 rushing yards in 2000 tied him for 16th on USC's season rushing chart and was the 22nd time that a Trojan has eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark. It is the most rushing yards at USC since Mazio Royster's 1,168 in 1990. He reached the 1,000-yard plateau quicker (9 games) than any Trojan since Marcus Allen did so in his 1981 Heisman Trophy season (5 games). He had 7 100-yard games in 2000 (and in his career), including 4 in a row (128 versus Penn State and 136 versus San Jose State earlier in the year, then the 4-game string of 152 against Oregon, 130 at Stanford, 122 versus California and a career-high 176 at Arizona State, and then 105 at UCLA). It was the first time that a Trojan had 4 consecutive 100-yard outings since Ricky Ervins had 5 straight in 1989. His 7 100-yard outings were the most by a Trojan in a season since Ervins had 9 in 1989. He had long runs of 59, 51, 46, 39, 35 and 32 yards in 2000. He was named to the 2000 All-Pac-10 second team (the first Trojan tailback to win first or second team honors since 1989), plus The Sporting News All-Pac-10 first team and Football News All-Pac-10 first team. He also took a handoff on a kickoff against California and returned it 7 yards.

In his first-ever career start, he ran for 128 yards on 29 carries (both career highs) against Penn State (he also caught 3 passes for 16 yards) to gain Kickoff Classic MVP honors. Against Colorado, he ran for a team-best 91 yards on 28 carries and had a 5-yard TD run. He had 21 carries for a then-career-best 136 yards, both game highs, against San Jose State. At Oregon State, he had a team-best 33 yards on 10 carries before leaving early in the second half with a knee injury. He had just 32 yards on 13 tries against Arizona. Against Oregon, he ran for a then-career-best and game-high 152 yards on 23 carries and raced a personal-best 59 yards for a TD. He had a game-high 130 yards on just 11 carries at Stanford and scored on a 39-yard burst (he also had a 46-yard non-scoring jaunt). He had a game-best 122 yards on 15 carries, with a 32-yard TD, off the bench against California. At Arizona State, he ran for a career-best and game-high 176 yards on 23 carries (he had 103 yards by halftime) and had a 51-yard TD burst to open the game's scoring (it was the most rushing yards by a Trojan since Shawn Walters had 234 at Stanford in 1994 and put him over the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the season). He had 44 yards on 18 carries against Washington State. He ran for a game-high 105 yards on 26 carries with a 6-yard TD at UCLA. He had just 14 yards on 10 tries off the bench against Notre Dame.

1999: McCullough was USC's No. 2 rusher as a back up to Chad Morton at tailback as a redshirt freshman in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for 413 yards on 90 carries (4.6 avg.) with a TD. He also caught a 6-yard pass (at California). He won USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award for the longest run of the season (48 yards against UCLA). He missed the last half of 1999 spring practice because of academic issues.

At Hawaii, he ran for then-career-best 83 yards on 17 carries (with a 5-yard TD). He then gained 10 yards on 3 carries against San Diego State. His only carry at Oregon was for a 3-yard loss. He then had 17 yards on 4 rushes against Oregon State, 15 yards on 5 tries at Arizona, 13 yards on 6 carries at Notre Dame, 47 yards on 6 carries against Stanford, 37 yards on 7 rushes at California (he also caught a 6-yard pass), 8 yards on 2 carries against Arizona State and 38 yards on 10 carries at Washington State. He ran for 69 yards on 8 tries (with a USC season-long 48-yard pickup) against UCLA. Against Louisiana Tech, he had 79 yards on a then-career-best and a game-high 21 carries.

TRACK: McCullough has been a sprinter for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2002, he placed fifth in the 100 meters at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.55) and ran the second leg of Troy's victorious 400-meter relay team (39.68) in that meet. He then ran 10.51 to win the 100 at the Occidental Invitational. At the Pac-10 Meet, he was second in the 100 (10.41, after going 10.49 in the heats) and ran the second leg on USC's winning 400-meter relay squad (39.44). He ran the second leg on USC's sprint relay team at the NCAA meet which finished fifth in 39.27 (the squad also was third in its heat in 39.28).

In the spring of 2001, he did not compete until after spring football drills. In his first meet of the season, he won the 100 meters at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.28) and anchored the victorious 400-meter relay team (39.98). Then, at the Pac-10 Meet, he was second in the 100 meters (10.33, after running 10.27 in the heats) and anchored USC's winning 400-meter relay squad (39.74).

In the spring of 2000, he placed eighth in the 100 meters at the NCAA Championships in 10.38 (he equalled his career-best 10.17 while running fourth in the semifinals and ran a 10.26 for fourth in his heat). He won the 100 in the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.25) and in a heat at the Trojan Invitational (10.26), was second at USC's Centennial Invitational (10.22) and third at the ASU USTCA Meet (10.53). He won the 200 meters at the ASU USTCA Meet in 20.89. He strained his groin while running the 200 in the USC-UCLA Dual Meet and missed the Pac-10 Meet. He also ran a leg on the 400-meter relay squad (usually the second leg) which finished first at the Long Beach Relays (40.13), Trojan Invitational (40.08), USC's Centennial Invitational (season-best 39.18) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.47), was second at the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (39.59) and was fifth at the NCAA Meet (39.54, after going 39.47 for fourth in a heat). He qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trials 100, but did not compete.

In the spring of 1999, in his first race as a Trojan (on March 6), he set a USC freshman record and Cromwell Field record by winning the 100 meters in 10.17 in the Trojan Invitational. It was the fifth fastest time in Trojan history and the fastest ever by a USC runner before May (it was also the fastest ever by a Trojan footballer). It was also the fastest time recorded by a junior-level (under 20) sprinter in the world in 1999. He then won the 100 meters at the 1999 Pac-10 Championships in 10.18, tied for the fifth fastest winning time at the Pac-10 meet. He went 10.17 again in winning a 100 heat at the NCAA meet, but strained his left hamstring in the semifinals. He also ran the second leg on USC's Pac-10 champion 400-meter relay team and its second-place NCAA meet unit, and anchored the quartet to second place at the Texas Relays.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1997 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA second team, The Sporting News Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley Back of the Year and All-Pacific League Offensive MVP as a senior at Muir High in Pasadena (Calif.). In 1997, he rushed for 2,145 yards and 27 touchdowns on 215 carries (10.0 avg.). In one outing, he had 317 yards and 5 scores on just 9 carries (35.2 avg.).

As a junior in 1996, he made Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team, Pasadena Star News All-West Valley first team and All-Pacific League Offensive MVP. He ran for 2,100 yards and 35 TDs on 305 carries (6.9 avg.) and also caught 10 passes for 160 yards (16.0 avg.), plus made 19 tackles as a defensive back. Muir made it to the CIF Division III finals.

As a 1995 sophomore, he gained 631 yards with 6 TDs while being named All-Pacific League.

He also ran track at Muir, advancing to the finals in the 100 meters at the 1997 California state meet (he was favored to win, but a pulled hamstring prevented him from running). His best prep times were 10.41 in the 100 meters (10.24 wind-aided for the best time in the state and second fastest in the nation in 1997), 20.61 in the 200 meters (tops in the nation in 1997) and 45.8 in the 400 meters. He also anchored the nation's fastest 400-meter relay (40.2) and 1600-meter relay (1:08.2) squads in 1997. He twice was named a track All-American. Muir won 2 national and state track titles during his career.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. Sultan's brother, Saladin, was a tailback at Oregon in 1996 and 1997 who played in the XFL and NFL. His late father, Bruce, ran track at San Jose State in the 1960s. His mother, Mabel, played basketball on the 1959 state championship team at Booker T. Washington High in Texarkana, Ark. One of his sports heroes is ex-USC Heisman Trophy winner and former NFL star Marcus Allen.

SULTAN McCULLOUGH ON: The advantage of speed: "Speed is what I was blessed with...I think I can run a 10 flat (in the 100)...It's hard to stop somebody when he's always at full-go and full-motion. It's hard to tackle him if he's always going hard because you don't know when he's going to cut or slip or slide or run you over. It's just hard to stop speed...But I don't use my speed yet like I should. I have speed, but I don't have quickness. I'm still learning about the tailback position...I'm so fast that I'm reading holes as I'm running. But I've learned that I should just go and let the offensive line make the holes. I need to attack...People in football at first thought of me as a sprinter. Early on, I never got a chance to show them any different. I'm getting that chance now."

Football versus track: "It's not my fault that I'm fast. People think I'm a track guy playing football. I want to get that off people's minds. I want to be a strong football player...I'm not a sprinter playing football. I'm a football player who also runs track. I know the quickest way to the end zone is through the defense. I can take the punishment. I've been doing it all my life...Football is my main sport. I'm just gathering confidence in myself running track and improving my speed...It's hard doing both sports, but I don't want to limit myself. Whatever you do, you try and open doors. You don't know what's going to pay off for you...I originally ran track at USC to make a name for myself while I was waiting my turn in football...The thing about track is you can do it all yourself, you don't need blockers or anybody else...I think I could be the best in the world in the 100, the world's fastest human. But I have to think of my future. You could get up at dawn every day for months, getting ready for the one big race, and then you pull something and you're not right that day, and it's over...But I want to be a professional football player, not a professional track runner. But I don't want to look too far into the future. Anything can happen. I have to stay focused and keep praying...During the spring, switching back and forth is tough. One day you're running up high with your knees up and the next you're running down low and taking hits. It's different...People don't realize that if you run track, you have to be tough. If you're not tough, you'll quit. When a person running with you challenges you, you'll either be a winner or a quitter. Track is 90 percent mental. It prepares you for anything in life. And that's how it is on the football field, too. If you want to win, you'll do anything to win. So for me, the two go hand in hand...I like being bigger than those other little sprinters, intimidating them."

His philosophy: "When I'm out there, I have to make a play. There are a lot of plays out there that should be touchdowns and big catches...I want to be the type of back to get a lot of yards on every play...All I need is a crease."

His determination: "People always tell me what I can't do and I want to prove I can do anything I set my mind to...I want to be the next star, the next running back, the next go-to guy...It's my dream to be the next Marcus or the next O.J. or the next Deion, where I walk around and everyone knows me. I want to walk through a door and have everybody say, 'That's Sultan McCullough.' I want it so I can go to certain places because of who I am. But I don't want to be in the limelight. I want to stay low-key."

His toughness: "People who don't know me want to see how tough I can be. They say, 'He has so much speed but he doesn't have enough toughness to carry the rock.' That's just talk. They don't know me and what's inside me. You can't judge a book by its cover."

His dedication: "I don't party. I just sit at home. I have such a big family that when I go home, it's like a big party anyway. To be at the top in sports, you have to really prepare yourself. You can't just go out and eat chili fries and drink soda. It requires constant discipline."

His athletic family: "It's kind of cool to come from an athletic family. There was lots of competition growing up. All my brothers played sports. It's good to have the talent, but I know I have to use it right. I need to use it to my advantage because you never know when it won't be there."

His brother, Saladin: "He's a much, much better back than me. It's a proven fact. If I can do it, Saladin can do it twice as well. If I get 100 yards, it means he would have gained 200 yards...If I do something good, it's showing everyone how good he is...We both have speed, but he has that God's gift. He's a pure running back."

The difference between high school and college football: "I discovered that high school football isn't college football. I learned that I wasn't big enough to break tackles in college. And if you're going to make it in college, you at least have to break that first tackle...So I got into weight training in a big way."

His first name: "Growing up, I didn't know what my name meant. I asked my mom and she told me it meant 'King.' I thought I was kind of special. I thought I couldn't die. I thought I could endure pain. Then I got beat up a few times and found out that wasn't true."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Oregon head coach Mike Bellotti: "There's no question that the speed factor with Sultan McCullough is scary. You have to play great defense, you have to cancel gaps and you have to take the proper leverage angles. Your pursuit has to be almost perfect. If you leave a seam open, he can hit that seam and be gone."

Saladin McCullough, his brother: "It's scary what he's going to be. He's a home run hitter every time he touches the ball."

USC head track coach Ron Allice: "He's such an amazing athlete. He will do very, very well in football, because he's not only quick, but he's tough. Can you imagine a sweep where he takes the pitch and turns the corner? Watch out...He's probably as gifted a track athlete as I've ever had. He does this on a part-time basis and is one of the premier college sprinters in America. To run in the low 10s is phenomenal. I hate to think what would happen if he did it full time...His work ethic is good. He oozes confidence. He is a tremendous competitor and he'll let you know that. One of the things people don't realize is he really wants to be better at everything he does. It's not just talk...They say he's intimidating sometimes verbally. He wants to prove he's the best. But Sultan can back it up. There are a lot of people who talk and deep down don't believe it. Sultan believes he can do it."

USC assistant track coach John Henry Johnson: "Sultan is a fiery competitor. He is definitely a game-day guy. He has this knack, this talent. The things he doesn't do right in practice all week long he somehow manages to do right on race day. Some athletes are flat on the day of competition. They get insecure. Sultan is the exact opposite."

Joe McGUIRE

Offensive Guard-Tackle

So.*/Jr.

2002: McGuire, a backup offensive guard and tackle, likely will miss his 2002 sophomore season while recuperating from reconstructive surgery on his right shoulder following 2002 spring practice. Prior to 2002 spring practice, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove torn cartilage in that shoulder.

2001: McGuire saw limited action in 4 games (San Jose State, Kansas State, Notre Dame and Arizona) as a backup right offensive tackle and on special teams as a redshirt freshman in 2001. He missed 4 early-season contests (Oregon, Stanford, Washington and Arizona State) after having arthroscopic surgery to repair torn cartilage in his right knee. He also was available to play guard.

2000: McGuire redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 2000, his first year at USC. He suffered a herniated disk in his back in practice prior to the Colorado game and was slowed the rest of the season.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Parade All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 101, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Lineman of the Year, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Serra League Defensive MVP honors as a senior two-way lineman at Servite High in Anaheim (Calif.).

As a 1998 junior, he was a Student Sports Junior All-American, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division VI first team and Orange County Register All-Orange County first team. Servite was a CIF Division VI semifinalist in 1998. He did not allow a sack in 1998 and 1999.

He also played basketball at Servite.

JOE McGUIRE ON: His ability: "The main thing that I bring is my size, strength and my quickness to get outside and help the running game."

Why he chose USC: "The main reason I decided to attend USC was because of its great offensive linemen tradition. I consider it an honor to be able to come and play at USC and walk in the footsteps of past guys like Anthony Munoz and Tony Boselli. Those are two guys who I most admire because of their size, ability and what they accomplished."

On not allowing a sack in high school: "My teammates would always bring up the fact that I hadn't allowed a sack, but I didn't focus or dwell on that. My main job then and from now on is to protect the quarterback and keep him upright and off of his back."

Jason MITCHELL

Wide Receiver

2002: Mitchell, a junior college transfer who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2002 as a junior, will compete to be in the wide receiver playing rotation in 2002. He also might returns kickoffs.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 2001 Super Prep JUCO 100, J.C. Grid-Wire All-American honorable mention, J.C. Athletic Bureau All-State Region III first team and All-Western State Pacific Division first team selection as a sophomore wide receiver at Los Angeles Harbor Junior College in Wilmington (Calif.). He caught 69 passes for 897 yards (13.0 avg.) with 11 TDs in 2001 (his 89.7 yards per game average was sixth in the state) and returned 13 kickoffs for 353 yards (27.2 avg.) with a TD.

As a 2000 freshman, he had 36 receptions for 550 yards (15.3 avg.) with 5 scores and returned 14 kickoffs for 384 yards (27.4 avg.) to earn All-Western State Southern Division notice.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 2-time (1997 and 1998) South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team pick at North Torrance (Calif.) High, then signed a letter of intent with Utah, but never enrolled in 1999. At North Torrance, he set school career records for receptions (135), receiving yards (2,371) and touchdowns (23), as well as longest reception (95 yards) and longest punt return (98 yards). He caught 48 passes for 907 yards (18.9 avg.) with 8 TDs as a 1998 senior.

He earned 1997 All-Bay League first team notice as a junior after grabbing 60 passes for 955 yards (15.9 avg) with 7 scores.

He also played defensive back and was on North's track team, setting school records in the 200 meters (21.7) and 400 meters (47.5).

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His cousin, Christian Radley, is a junior coxswain on the USC women's rowing team.

Omar NAZEL

Defensive End

Jr.*/Sr.

2002: The rangy Nazel will compete for a starting job at defensive end as a junior in 2002.

2001: As a sophomore in 2001, Nazel saw significant action while backing up Lonnie Ford and then Kenechi Udeze at the defensive end spots. Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 15 tackles, including 4 for losses of 15 yards (with 3 sacks for minus 14 yards), 1 deflection and 1 interception for 11 yards. He had 4 tackles at California (2 for losses, with a sack), 3 versus Stanford and 2 against San Jose State, Oregon State and UCLA. His interception came at Arizona and set up a USC touchdown.

2000: Nazel was a reserve defensive end as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He saw brief action in 5 games (San Jose State and then the final 4 contests against Arizona State, Washington State, UCLA and Notre Dame). He did not make a tackle in 2000.

1999: Nazel redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a linebacker, but was moved to defensive end. He was slowed by a mid-season concussion.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Oakland Tribune All-Oakland MVP and San Francisco Examiner All-Metro first team as a senior at Skyline High in Oakland (Calif.). In 1998, he made 86 tackles, 16 sacks, 2 interceptions (including 1 for a touchdown) and 1 block.

As a 1997 junior, he was picked to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass second team while he had 63 tackles, 16 sacks, 10 tackles for losses, 4 fumble recoveries, 4 forced fumbles and 4 blocked punts.

He also played basketball at Skyline and was a 1998 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-West selection.

PERSONAL: He's a social sciences/psychology major at USC. His sports hero is Michael Jordan.

So./So.
#41

2002: Otani will serve as a backup weakside linebacker as a sophomore in 2002. He missed 2002 spring practice while recovering from a knee injury he suffered during the 2001 season.

2001: Otani saw action as a backup outside linebacker and on special teams as a freshman in 2001. But he strained his right hamstring against Arizona and missed the Notre Dame game, then tore ligaments in his right knee prior to the Arizona game and was sidelined the rest of the season. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 5 games (Kansas State, Oregon, Stanford, Washington and Arizona State), he made 1 tackle (at Washington).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a Super Prep All-Farwest and All-CIF Division XI pick as a senior at St. Bonaventure High in Ventura (Calif.). He made 115 tackles, 6 sacks, 1 interception and 1 fumble recovery in 2000 as a linebacker and also played running back. For the second consecutive year, St. Bonaventure went 14-0 and won the CIF Division XI title.

As a 1999 junior, he had 97 tackles, 18 tackles for losses and 12 sacks. St. Bonaventure was 14-0 and captured the CIF Division XI championship.

He also was on the baseball, track and wrestling teams at St. Bonaventure.

He spent his freshman and sophomore years at Oxnard (Calif.) High. Current Trojans Chad Pierson and Jacob Rogers also prepped at Oxnard.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. He also was a national champion in judo. He likes to hunt and fish in his spare time. His sports hero is ex-NFL star Dick Butkus.

Carson PALMER

CAREER: Palmer ranks third on USC's career passing list, with 618 completions. He is also third on Troy's all-time total offense chart (7,801 yards), 12th on the Pac-10 career list. His 7,876 career passing yards are third-most in USC history and 11th in Pac-10 annals. His 39 career TD tosses are fourth most at USC and tied for 30th on the Pac-10 ladder. He is on pace to break Rob Johnson's USC career records for completions (676) and passing yards (8,472), as well as Rodney Peete's school career total offense yardage mark (8,640). He also is within range of Peete's career record for interceptions (42; needs 3 to tie) and pass attempts (1,081; needs 1 to tie). He owns the USC single game total offense record (419 yards at Oregon in 2001) and his 411 passing yards in that game were 4 shy of tying another school mark. He and Peete are the only Trojans to throw for 2,500-plus yards in 2 different seasons. With 32 career starts under his belt, he has completed at least 60.0% of his passes 15 times (including 6 contests at 70.0%-plus) and thrown for at least 200 yards 19 times.

2002: The experienced, strong-armed Palmer should be one of college football's top quarterbacks in 2002 as he starts for his fourth year as a senior.

2001: Palmer had a solid year as a junior in 2001 in USC's revamped offense and, while starting for his third season, proved to be one of the nation's better quarterbacks. Overall in 2001 while starting all 12 games, he completed 221-of-377 passes (58.6%) for 2,717 yards with 13 TDs and 12 interceptions. He also ran for 34 yards on 88 carries (0.4 avg.) with 1 TD. He was on the "Watch List" for the 2001 Davey O'Brien Award, given to the top collegiate quarterback. His 58.6% completion rate in 2001 was tops among Pac-10 starting quarterbacks. His 221 completions in 2001 is fourth on the USC season chart and his 2,751 yards of total offense in 2001 is fifth on Troy's season list (23rd on the Pac-10 list). He had a span in 2001 where he threw 87 consecutive passes without an interception before getting picked off at Notre Dame.

He was 21-of-28 for 213 yards (with an interception) and hit his first 9 aerials in the San Jose State opener. Against Kansas State, he ran for a team-best and career-high 60 yards on 12 carries (the most rushing yards by a Trojan quarterback since Reggie Perry's 60 versus Memphis State in 1991) and hit 16-of-36 passes for 197 yards. He set the USC single game total offense record with 419 yards at Oregon and his career-high 411 passing yards were 4 yards shy of another school mark; he completed 25-of-40 aerials, including TDs of 93 and 75 yards (the 2 longest passes of his career), but he was intercepted 3 times and sacked 5 times. He was 22-of-42 for 240 yards against Stanford, but he threw 2 interceptions. He was 8-of-14 for 152 yards and 2 TDs at Washington, including a perfect 7-of-7 for 94 yards and a score in the first half; it was his fewest completions since the 1998 Washington State game and his fewest attempts since the 1999 Oregon game. Against Arizona State, he was 18-of-26 for 295 yards and 3 TDs (the second most of his career) and also ran for 28 yards on 8 tries. He was 19-of-30 for 230 yards with 2 TDs at Notre Dame, but was intercepted twice and sacked 5 times. He was 24-of-49 for 248 yards with 2 TDs at Arizona, but was intercepted twice. He scored the game-winning TD in overtime against Oregon State on a 4-yard naked bootleg run in which he broke one tackle and dove to the flag while getting slammed by another Beaver; passing, he was 21-of-28 for 171 yards and an interception (including 13-of-15 for 80 yards in the first half while connecting on his first 9 aerials) despite getting sacked 6 times. At California, he hit 18-of-35 passes for 230 yards and a TD (with no interceptions) and also ran for 45 yards (with a career-long 54-yard scramble) on 8 carries. He was 14-of-23 for 180 yards and a TD (with an interception) against UCLA. He hit 15-of-26 passes for 150 against Utah, but was sacked 4 times for –45 yards.

2000: Palmer returned as USC's starting quarterback as a sophomore in 2000 after an injury knocked him out of the lineup early in 1999. Although he struggled somewhat in 2000, he often exhibited his outstanding potential. He completed 228-of-415 passes (54.9%) for 2,914 yards and 16 TDs with 18 interceptions. His 228 completions in 2000 put him second on USC's season passing list and his 2,919 yards of total offense was second on the Trojan season total offense list. He ranked 24th nationally in total offense (243.3, second in Pac-10). His 18 interceptions in 2000 tied a USC season mark. His 2,914 yards and 16 TDs in 2000 were the most by a Trojan sophomore. His completions (228), attempts (415) and yardage (2,914) in 2000 were the second most in USC history. With 5 rushing yards on 63 carries (0.1 avg.) with 2 TDs, he was the first fulltime USC quarterback since Reggie Perry in 1991 to finish a season with positive rushing yards. His 5,159 career passing yards through the 2000 season were the most by a Trojan at the end of his sophomore year.

In his first game after an 11-month layoff, he was 10-of-20 passing for 87 yards (with an interception) against Penn State. He bounced back from that shaky debut by hitting 25-of-30 passes (83.3%) for 275 yards and a TD (3 of his passes were dropped) against Colorado (on USC's game-winning drive—a 9-play, 72-yard drive that began with 1:14 on the clock and culminated with a game-winning field goal with 13 seconds to play—he was 6-of-6 for 68 yards). Then, for the second game in a row (and the first time since Rodney Peete did it in 1987 against Arizona and UCLA), he led USC on another late game-winning scoring drive: this time against San Jose State, he brought Troy back from a 12-point deficit midway through the fourth quarter by guiding the Trojans to 22 unanswered points (overall, he hit 22-of-38 passes for a then-career-high 338 yards with 2 TDs, including 10-of-12 for 148 yards and a TD in the fourth quarter; he had 6 passes dropped. At Oregon State, he was 19-of-38 for 282 yards and 2 TDs, but threw a career-high 3 interceptions. He was 26-of-50 (a career-best in attempts) for 321 yards and a TD against Arizona, but for the second week in a row he threw a career-high 3 interceptions. He hit 15-of-35 passes for 194 yards with a TD and an interception against Oregon and also ran for 31 yards on 5 tries (with a then-career-long 28-yard scramble). At Stanford, he was 15-of-30 for 190 yards (with 2 interceptions) and also ran for a 1-yard TD. He was 19-of-39 for 202 yards and a TD against California, but threw 2 picks and was sacked 7 times. He was 22-of-37 for 279 yards with 2 TDs (and 2 picks) at Arizona State. Against Washington State, he was 12-of-26 for 145 yards and an interception in the first half and was replaced by Mike Van Raaphorst in the second half. He had career highs in passing yards (350) and TD passes (4) in the dramatic win at UCLA while completing 26-of-37 passes (he also gained 31 yards on 5 rushes, including key 35- and 16-yard scrambles, with the 35-yarder being a career long); for his performance, he was named the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week and USC's Player of the Game versus UCLA. He was 17-of-35 for 251 yards with 2 TDs and 2 picks against Notre Dame and also led USC in rushing with 22 yards (with a TD) on 10 attempts (the first time a quarterback led Troy in rushing since Peete did so against Michigan State in the 1988 Rose Bowl).

1999: Palmer, coming off an eye-opening 1998 campaign, was off to an impressive beginning while starting USC's first 3 games (Hawaii, San Diego State and Oregon) of 1999 at quarterback as a sophomore. But he broke his right collarbone 2 plays before halftime (scrambling for a 3-yard gain) at Oregon and was sidelined the rest of the season (because of the early-season injury, he was allowed to redshirt). Overall in 1999, he completed 39-of-53 passes (73.6%) for 490 yards with 3 TDs and 3 interceptions. He also had 7 carries for 2 yards (0.3 avg.) with a TD.

He was a near-perfect 14-of-16 (87.5%) for 167 yards and a 32-yard TD pass at Hawaii (he was never sacked) and also ran 9 yards for a score on a bootleg in just over 2 quarters of action. He played the whole game against San Diego State, where he was 16-of-24 for 188 yards and 2 TDs, but threw a pair of interceptions. At Oregon, he completed 9-of-13 passes for 135 yards (with a pick) before getting injured.

1998: Just a first-year freshman, Palmer showed his precociousness with an impressive showing at quarterback. After sharing playing time with starter Mike Van Raaphorst in USC's first 8 games, Palmer took over the starting job against Washington to become only the second true freshman to start at quarterback for USC (along with Rob Johnson, who started once in 1991) and continued as the starter against Stanford, UCLA, Notre Dame and TCU in the Sun Bowl. Overall while appearing in all 13 games in 1998, Palmer was 130-of-235 (55.3%) for 1,755 yards and 7 TDs with 6 interceptions. His 130 completions ranks 17th on USC's season passing chart. He also carried the ball 47 times for –116 yards (-2.5 avg.) with a TD.

In the Purdue opener, he appeared on 3 series in the second half and led USC to 17 points while going 3-of-6 for 79 yards. The pattern held true against San Diego State, as he was 5-of-8 for 50 yards and 1 score (the first of his career) seeing action in 3 second-half series. Against Oregon State, he hit just 1-of-7 throws for 6 yards playing in 5 series in the second and third quarters. He struggled at Florida State (2-of-10 for 18 yards) while playing all but the first series of the second half. In the Arizona State game, he came off the bench late in the third quarter to guide Troy on a TD drive and spark USC's comeback (he was 4-of-7 for 69 yards and a TD overall in 3 series). He played just 2 series in the third quarter against California, hitting 1-of-2 passes for 9 yards. He was 8-of-16 for 143 yards and a TD while leading USC to 28 unanswered points at Washington State when he came in midway through the second quarter when Van Raaphorst became ill. At Oregon, he was 10-of-19 for 179 yards as he saw action in most of the second quarter, the end of the third quarter and all of the final quarter. He played the entire Washington game, hitting 18-of-31 passes for 279 yards (all then-career highs) and a TD to become only USC's second true freshman starting quarterback. At Stanford, he went 19-of-26 (a then-career-best for completions; 2 passes were dropped, including 1 in the end zone) for 203 yards and a TD while going the whole way. He was 28-of-43 (both career bests; he since upped his career high in attempts) for 252 yards and a TD (but he threw 2 interceptions) while going the whole way at UCLA. He was 14-of-32 for 188 yards against Notre Dame and he ran for his first career touchdown (a 2-yarder to put USC on the board and give Troy its decisive points) while playing the entire game. Against TCU in the Sun Bowl, he completed17-of-28 passes for a then-career-best 280 yards and 1 TD, but was sacked 6 times.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep National 50, The Sporting News Top 100, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division V Offensive Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Seaview League Offensive MVP honors as a senior at Santa Margarita High in Rancho Santa Margarita (Calif.). In 1997, he completed 136-of-216 passes (63.0%) for 2,685 yards, 31 TDs and just 4 interceptions, plus ran for 290 yards and 3 scores. He did all this despite missing 2 earlier-season games with a foot injury. Santa Margarita went 14-0 in 1997 and won its second consecutive CIF Division V championship; in that title game, Palmer threw for a school-record 419 yards with 5 TDs and ran for another TD. Earlier in 1997, he threw for 356 yards in a game and had 5 TD tosses in less than 2 quarters of action in another contest.

As a junior in 1996, he made the Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, All-Seaview League first team and team Offensive MVP while completing 58.0% of his passes for 2,089 yards, 25 TDs and 5 interceptions. Santa Margarita went 13-1 in 1996 and was the 1996 CIF Division V champ. In his career, he set 23 school records while going 261-of-435 (60.0%) for 4,692 yards and 55 TDs with just 10 interceptions. He also ran for 565 yards (including 150 yards in a game) with 10 scores in his career.

Palmer also played basketball at Santa Margarita (he averaged 8.0 points and 8.0 rebounds as a 1998 senior) and was named to the 1998 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-American second team. Santa Margarita went 32-2 in 1998 and won the 1998 CIF and State Division II titles.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. As part of the "Read Across America" program, he read books to local elementary school classes in 1999, 2000 and 2001. His personal quarterback coach was Bob Johnson, the father of ex-USC (1991-94) and NFL signalcaller Rob Johnson. He was born in Fresno, Calif. He says the funniest thing that happened to him in a game was when he twice "lined up to take a snap from the left guard." His most thrilling moment in sports was winning the 1998 state high school basketball title. His brother, Jordan, is a freshman quarterback at UTEP.

CARSON PALMER ON: Being coached by offensive coordinator Norm Chow: "I really didn't know much about coach Chow until the first day he got here. When I saw his bio, I was like, 'Wow!' I had no idea. I thought, 'I can't wait to work with this guy.'"...He has no ego. And he's old-school. When I say he's old-school, I mean he dresses old-school, too! His shorts are up over his belly button and his shirt is tucked into his shorts."

Coach Chow's offense: "We are running a lot of routes that are completely different now. I had never thrown a comeback or a hook-and-go off a five-step drop before. Coach Chow wants to throw it all game. And I love that...The key to it is taking what the defense gives you. That's what coach Chow tells me. I had been greedy, trying to throw the long ball when there's a guy 5 or 6 yards in front of me who's open. He told me I just have to be more patient."

His hype: "A lot of that stuff about me is false—the Golden Boy, Gold Arm, all that crap. It's just the media talking. I think I know who I am. I really don't pay attention to what all those other people are saying...I haven't done anything yet. I haven't won any big games. I don't even think I've played well...You just have to block it out and not worry about it too much. There are a lot of people on magazine covers, so it really doesn't mean a whole lot. What matters is who's on the magazine covers at the end of the season...I guess that's one of the things about playing quarteback. The quarterback gets most of the recognition."

His struggles in 2000: "The 2000 season was a huge learning experience. It made me grow up a lot more as a quarterback...I was shocked when I would look at the stats and see all those interceptions...It was all new to me. My first couple of years, I hadn't been behind in a game...A couple times, I tried to make plays when there was nothing there. I'd get frustrated and try to make a play...It got me almost every time...When you're a quarterback, you're either the bum or the hero. And in 2000 I was the bum all year...I tried as hard as I could to block it out. I was throwing a lot of interceptions and people were saying a lot of things. You have to just keep plugging away. You can't let the outside world affect your game. You can't hold back anything. You can't play a different game."

Returning from his 1999 injury: "Playing football is like riding a bike. You never really forget...I felt clumsy at times with my footwork and sitting in the pocket. And I had to get used to having defensive linemen flying at me again...I felt like a rookie, clumsy and goofy. I hadn't felt like that in a long time...The entire time I was out I was itchy. The hardest part was watching games, especially the losses. I realized that if I kept thinking about it, it would always put me in a bad mood. I thought about it for a while, but it's time to move on...It made me think I couldn't take football for granted. You really can't take anything for granted. I used to come to practice and go through the motions. I don't do that anymore. I look forward to practices. I enjoy every rep, every snap that I get. Before, I wouldn't go as hard as I could. Now I try to be perfect every chance I get...Sitting on the sidelines all that time made me understand that you have to use every day in practice to get better...I never thought I'd ever say this, but I really don't want to see practice end...I even enjoy the wind sprints now...It might have been the best thing to happen to me. It taught me a lot about myself and about this game...By sitting out all that time, when I had football taken away from me, I learned something. I learned that football means everything to me. I learned I missed every practice, every drill. I missed hurting from working my hardest...I've learned so much. Everybody said when it happened that it would make me a better person, and it's true...I am never going to complain again about practice or work or anything. I think I've grown up a lot...When I got hurt, it gave me a new perspective. I take every snap like it's my last."

His 1999 injury: "I was so excited about the 1999 season. I had worked hard and I couldn't wait to see what would happen. Then, in one instant, it was gone...One second changed my life...I see the hit all the time. It's going to be with me always. I'm going to replay the hit when I work out or run. It's real good motivation...Next time I'll run out of bounds...I couldn't believe what happened...I lost 15 or 20 pounds. I watched my right shoulder atrophy. I saw the muscle disappear. I couldn't do anything and I wasn't hungry and that first day (early February) I was able to throw the ball again, I felt so weak."

His 1998 performance: "I never expected to be starting. I just hoped to contribute...Not a lot of people do start at quarterback as a freshman. I'm thankful I got the chance...My goal was to come in and play. I didn't want to redshirt. I didn't think I would start. The playbook was so overwhelming. I didn't think I would get it down in one year...I didn't know what to expect. I was kind of overwhelmed by everything. I was hoping I'd make the travel team, or maybe redshirt. I didn't know what was going on. I was probably guessing on 20 percent of the plays...Everything was going a million miles an hour, trying to learn the offense and stuff."

His on-field composure: "I just don't have a bad temper. I'm pretty easygoing about everything...I'm just concentrating on the plays and what's going on, so I don't get that nervous. I'd always been the youngest guy on the team ever since fifth grade because I weighed more than everybody else, and I had to go up to the higher division. So maybe that's where it comes from."

Improving: "I still have a long, long, long way to go. I've learned a ton, but there's twice as many things I need to learn in the next couple of years...It's not technique as much as it is mental. You've got to know what the defense is doing. I think that's where I've come along the most, reading coverages, picking out where the corners aren't as good as the opposite ones, and deciding where to go with the ball...You can always get quicker and faster, work harder on your dropback, accuracy on your deep ball. But the main thing is to get those footsteps down...Now, I'm smarter, quicker and read defenses better. From my freshman year, everything has improved. There's no comparison."

Choosing USC: "It probably started when I was in the ninth grade and some of my friends' parents would take us to USC football games. I just fell in love with everything about their football games and the tradition. I always imagined myself running out of the Coliseum tunnel toward the field."

His future: "I'm not setting myself up for the NFL. I'm not trying to do anything special to go to the NFL, but if it happens, it happens. If that's where God wants me to go, it's going to happen. But I also want to work in business, maybe work in health insurance."

His bi-coastal family during his prep years (his father took a job in Connecticut prior to his junior year in high school, while the rest of the family stayed in California so he could continue at Santa Margarita): "I felt real guilty because I was putting them through this for me. My dad only got to see his family one-and-a-half days a week. But it kept me aligned, kept me focused, because I knew all the sacrifices my family was going through."

His cooking ability: "I don't cook anything unless I can pop it into the microwave. I don't even have pots or pans. Mostly, I eat at a catering truck by my place!"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Justin Simon, FOXSports.com: "If given the weird-science project of building a prototypical quarterback, the specifications would be easy. He'd be tall and big. He'd have a cannon for an arm. He'd have the scrambling ability to elude pressure. He'd have a square jaw with chiseled good looks. He'd have natural leadership abilities and an ease with people. Basically, he'd be Carson Palmer."

J.A. Adande, Los Angeles Times: "Palmer just has 'it.'"

Shana Newell, El Paso Times: "Rarely has a Trojan quarterback demonstrated as much promise as Carson Palmer. He could become USC's biggest name yet."

USC offensive coordinator Norm Chow: "Carson has all the tools. He wants to get better. And he really wants to learn...He's as good as any of the quarterbacks I had at BYU. And he's better than most of them."

Former USC tailback Chad Morton: "He's very calm. He doesn't get too excited, too emotional. He's going to be a great leader for this team. Looking at him, you have all this confidence in him. He has a great attitude."

Former USC tailback Petros Papadakis: "Someday I can tell my kids that Carson Palmer handed me the ball once...He's got the gift. He knows he still has a lot to prove, but Carson has that innate ability to lead guys."

USC tailback Malaefou MacKenzie: "He has an aura. He's a playmaker on the field. He can make plays happen because of his physical attributes. He's a great person and a great leader."

USC wide receiver Kareem Kelly: "I knew he was good from watching him in high school. But I had no idea he was this good...He's the nucleus of the team. We need Carson. He's a playmaker...He's a great competitor, too...He just adds so much to the offense. It's a totally different team when he's in...On the first day of (2000) spring practice after his injury, you could tell right away how bad he wanted to be back because usually he would just be walking to practice, but now he was sprinting out there."

Former USC wide receiver Matt Nickels, Palmer's prep teammate: "In high school, the whole varsity would watch his freshman games and just stand around in awe. I knew this guy was going to be big-time some day."

Former USC safety David Gibson: "In 1998, he was a wide-eyed freshman who got by a lot of the time just because he has such a strong arm. But now he understands the offense and knows exactly where to go with the pass...He has, by far, the strongest arm I've played against. And it's just not how hard he throws, either. It's his accuracy and touch, too. He can put the ball anywhere. You can have a receiver covered, but he's going to find a way to get the ball to him."

Former USC wide receiver Windrell Hayes: "He's matured a lot. He has always had the arm. Ability was never a question with Carson. It was just picking up the offense. As far as recognizing coverages, that's where he's made progress."

Former USC All-American quarterback Paul McDonald, now USC's radio analyst: "He's so far ahead of the learning curve, it's scary...But everybody expects the guy to walk on water."

Former USC wide receiver Billy Miller: "I knew he was the guy the first time he came into the huddle. Just the fact that he has field presence. You feel a little something different. There's a confidence that comes over the team...He has a big responsibility. He's labeled now as the star of the team. That's a heavy burden to carry. He has to understand what he's about to go through. He'll be expected to carry the Trojans to the promised land every year. But he has to understand that when things go wrong, and things go wrong for everybody, to hang in there. He has to realize who his real friends are and don't feed too much into the hype. He'll be all-everything, people will expect him to complete 100 percent of his passes and lead the nation in passing and he has to show leadership at a young age."

Former USC quarterbacks coach Ken O'Brien: "He is such a talented young man, with the potential to be as great as anyone I've seen."

Former Oregon defensive lineman Saul Patu: "He has a confidence about himself. It even stirs up the crowd."

Former UCLA tailback DeShaun Foster, a high school rival: "In high school, you're not prepared for quarterbacks like him. Carson's arm was unbelievable and it was so accurate."

Former UCLA cornerback Julius Williams, another prep rival: "If a receiver has a little bit of room and the defensive back is not covering him completely, Carson is going to throw the ball right there and there's no way the defensive back is going to get the ball."

Santa Margarita High coach Jim Hartigan: "Carson has the size of Troy Aikman and the arm strength of John Elway. He's got the super quick release of Dan Marino and the ability to put zip on the ball or touch depending on what the situation calls for. He is extremely calm and poised and he always makes the right decisions. He thrives on pressure. The bigger the game, the better he performs."

Tustin High coach Myron Miller: "He stood back there and it was like he had a cannon for an arm and every ball was perfect."

His father, Bill: "The first comment anybody made to us, since he was a quarterback in the ninth grade, was how much poise he had. Don't misread him. He's very competitive. He doesn't like to lose. He's always been easygoing. What's going on inside is probably different...When he was young, if he threw an interception, he wouldn't get upset. He'd come right back and throw a touchdown."

Defensive Tackle

So./So.
#99

2002: Patterson, just a sophomore, figures to see plenty of action as a backup defensive tackle (nose tackle) in 2002.

2001: Patterson made a nice conrtibution as a freshman in 2001 while backing up Bernard Riley and then Ryan Nielsen at nose tackle. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 11 games (all but the San Jose State opener), he had 9 tackles, including 5 for losses of 34 yards (with 3 sacks for minus 32 yards), 2 fumble recoveries and 2 forced fumbles. He tied for fifth in the Pac-10 in fumble recoveries (2) and forced fumbles (2). He had 2 tackles against Washington, California and Utah. His fumble recoveries came against Washington and Oregon State, while his forced fumbles came against Arizona State and California.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 2000 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the West second team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team and All-Sunset League honors as a senior at Los Alamitos (Calif.) High. He posted 94 tackles, 18 tackles for losses and 7 sacks in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, his honors included All-CIF Division VI Defensive MVP, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team and All-Sunset League first team. Current Trojan Bernard Riley also prepped at Los Alamitos.

PERSONAL: He used to live in Sacramento. His sports hero is NFL star Warren Sapp.

Chad PIERSON

2002: Pierson, who not only blocks well but is a threat to run and catch the ball effectively, likely will start at fullback as a senior in 2002.

2001: As a backup fullback, Pierson missed USC's first 6 games of his 2001 junior season while recuperating from pre-season surgery on a herniated disk in his back. But he made an immediate impact upon his return, catching a 54-yard TD pass at Notre Dame the first time he touched the ball in 2001. He added a 5-yard catch at Arizona, a 2-yard grab against Oregon State and 11 rushing yards on 4 tries (his first carries of 2001) at California. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 5 games (he didn't see any action against UCLA), he had 3 receptions for 61 yards (20.3 avg.) with the TD and 11 yards on 4 carries (2.8 avg.). He also can run out of the tailback spot. He missed some of 2001 spring drills with that herniated disk in his back.

2000: Pierson was the often-employed backup to Charlie Landrigan at fullback as a sophomore in 2000 and proved to be equally adept at blocking, running and catching. He even started the Arizona State game. At times, he ran out of the tailback spot. He also played on special teams. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games, he ran for 133 yards on 31 carries (4.3 avg.) with 1 TD, caught 10 passes for 147 yards (14.7 avg.) with 2 TDs, returned a short kickoff 11 yards and made a tackle. He suffered a left calf strain suffered prior to the Colorado contest and was slowed for that game, then missed the San Jose State contest while recovering.

He had 16 yards on 2 carries and another 28 yards on 2 catches against Penn State. He caught 2 passes for 33 yards (including a 1-yard TD grab) at Oregon State. He had a 22-yard reception at Stanford, then added 2 grabs for 29 yards (including a 19-yard TD) against California. At Arizona State, he started and—despite coming into the game with only 15 rushing yards on 4 carries in his career—had his best-ever outing with 72 yards and a TD (a game-winning 2-yarder in the second overtime) on 16 tries while running out of the tailback and fullback spots (he also caught 2 passes for 29 yards). He then ran for 36 yards on 5 carries (and had a 6-yard catch) against Washington State and added 6 yards on 5 rushes at UCLA.

1999: Pierson was a reserve fullback and special teams player as a redshirt freshman in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 6 games (Hawaii, Notre Dame, Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State), he had 1 carry for minus 1 yard (at California), 2 catches for 16 yards (8.0 avg.)—a 5-yarder at Notre Dame and an 11-yarder at Washington State—and 1 kickoff return for 2 yards (at Washington State). He sprained his left ankle in the Hawaii opener and missed the next 3 games. He then suffered a concussion at Washington State and was sidelined for USC's final 2 contests.

HIGH SCHOOL: He rushed for more than 1,000 yards as a 1997 senior at Oxnard (Calif.) High (and he blocked for a 2,000-yard tailback). His 1997 honors included All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County MVP, Ventura County Star Ventura County MVP and All-Channel League Offensive MVP.

He ran for 721 yards on 90 carries (8.0 avg.) with 7 TDs as a 1996 junior. Current Trojans Jacob Rogers and Bobby Otani also attended Oxnard.

He also starred in baseball at Oxnard, hitting over .400 as an outfielder.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in public policy and management at USC. He was born in Cheyenne, Wyo. His sports hero is NFL star Mike Alstott.

CHAD PIERSON ON: Playing football as a youngster: "My first year of football, when I was 8, after the season I went to my dad and I said that I didn't want to play this game again. I just didn't like it. I preferred to play soccer. But my dad told me that I had to play. He told me that this is what I was going to be able to do. I'm just really glad now that my dad made me stick with football."

His football idol, Mike Alstott: "He does both of the things that I would like to do, play fullback and maybe become a running threat at tailback. I just try to do the things that he can do and build myself to look the way he looks."

Troy POLAMALU

CAREER: He has blocked 4 punts in his career and has returned 3 of his 5 career interceptions for touchdowns. He also has 213 career tackles, including 20 for losses.

2001: Polamalu made a number of big plays seemingly in every game in 2001. In his second season as the starting strong safety as a junior in 2001, he was named to the 2001 Football Writers All-American first team, College & Pro Football Newsweekly All-American first team, AP All-American second team, The Sporting News All-American third team, Football News All-American third team and All-Pac-10 first team. A team captain, he was USC's first All-American safety since Mark Carrier in 1989. He also won USC's MVP Award. Overall in 2001 while starting all 12 games, he had a team-high 118 tackles, including 13 for losses of 24 yards (with a 2-yard sack), 6 deflections, a team-best 3 interceptions which he returned 116 yards (38.7 avg.)—including a pair run back for TDs—2 forced fumbles, 1 fumble recovery (to set up a TD), 3 blocked punts and 3 punt returns for 27 yards (9.0 avg.). He tied for second in the Pac-10 in tackles (8.9) and tied for fifth in forced fumbles (2). His 118 tackles were the most by a Trojan safety since Tim McDonald had 140 in 1986. He was USC's leading tackler in 8 games in 2001, including 6 in a row (and his tackles in 7 of those 8 games were also game highs).

In the San Jose State opener, he had 7 tackles (1 for a loss) and a deflection, then had a game-high 13 tackles (3 for losses) and forced a fumble against Kansas State. He added 7 stops and a deflection at Oregon, a game-high 10 tackles (1 for a loss) and also blocked a punt against Stanford, and a team-best 13 tackles (2 for a loss) and returned an interception 22 yards for a TD (the second scoring pick of his career) at Washington. He then had a game-high 8 tackles versus Arizona State, a game-high 11 tackles and recovered a fumble (which set up a TD) at Notre Dame and a game-best 12 tackles (with a sack) at Arizona. He was named the Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week as he had a game-best 11 tackles (2 for losses), deflected 2 passes, forced a fumble and blocked a punt which USC recovered for a TD against Oregon State. At California, he had 4 tackles and ran an interception 58 yards for an interception (his second scoring pick return of 2001 and third of his career. He was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week as he had 2 stops to go along with a 36-yard interception runback and a blocked punt to set up a pair of USC field goals against UCLA. Against Utah, he had a Las Vegas Bowl-record and career-high 20 tackles (including 12 solo, also a game record), with 3 for losses, and a deflection to earn USC's game MVP honor.

2000: As just a sophomore, Polamalu started all 12 games of 2000 at strong safety and made an impressive impact. Overall in 2000, he was second on the Trojans in tackles with 83 (including 5 for losses of 10 yards, with a 4-yard sack), plus he tied for the team lead in both interceptions with 2 (1 returned for a TD in the Penn State opener) and deflections with 7, and had a fumble recovery which he returned 19 yards (against Colorado to set up a TD and Oregon). He was a 2000 All-Pac-10 honorable mention pick.

He had a 43-yard scoring interception return to go along with 2 tackles in the Penn State opener. He made 5 stops and returned a fumble 19 yards to set up a USC TD against Colorado. He added 4 tackles with a deflection versus San Jose State, another 5 stops (with a sack) at Oregon State and 1 tackle against Arizona. He had a game-high and then-personal-best 13 tackles (2 for losses) and intercepted a pass against Oregon, then had 11 tackles at Stanford and 5 (1 for a loss) against California. He had a team-high and career-best 14 tackles at Arizona State, then had 7 tackles and a deflection against Washington State and 2 more stops at UCLA. His 14 tackles (1 for a loss) tied for a game high and career best against Notre Dame.

1999: Polamalu was an often-used backup safety and linebacker, as well as a special teams player, as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 8 games, he made 12 tackles, including 2 sacks for minus 28 yards, forced 2 fumbles (at Hawaii and Oregon), broke up a pass and blocked a punt (against Louisiana Tech). He had 4 tackles (with a sack) each at Hawaii and Oregon. He missed the Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State contests after suffering a concussion in practice prior to the Stanford game.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to 1998 Super Prep All-Northwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and All-Far West League second team as a senior at Douglas High in Winston (Ore.). He played in only 4 games of the 1998 season because of injuries (bruised kidney, sprained shoulder and torn back muscles), but still rushed for 671 yards and 9 touchdowns, plus had 3 interceptions.

As a 1997 junior, he rushed for 22 TDs and 1,040 yards, had 310 receiving yards and made 65 tackles and 8 interceptions. He was All-State and All-Far West League Offensive MVP as Douglas went 9-1.

He ran for 1,003 yards, had 340 receiving yards and scored 20 TDs (plus picked off 6 passes) as a 1996 sophomore while making the All-Far West League first team as a running back and second team as a defensive back.

He added 430 rushing yards, 5 scores and 2 interceptions as a freshman in 1995 and was named to the All-Far West League second team. In his career at Douglas, he averaged 6 touchdowns a season.

He also played baseball (he was an All-State centerfielder) and basketball (twice making All-League first team) at Douglas.

PERSONAL: He's a social sciences/history major at USC. His brother, Kaio Aumua, played football at UTEP. His uncle is former USC fullback Kennedy Pola (1982-85), now the Trojans' running backs coach and special teams coordinator. Another uncle, Al Pola, played football at Penn State. A cousin, Nicky Sualua, was a running back with the Cincinnati Bengals and the Dallas Cowboys who attended Ohio State. Another cousin, Leie Sualua, was a defensive lineman at Oregon. Another cousin, Joe Polamalu, played for Oregon State in 1987 and 1988. His full name is Troy Polamalu Aumua. He was born in Garden Grove, Calif., and lived Santa Ana until he was 9, when he moved in with an aunt, uncle and 3 cousins in Tenmile, Ore. (200 miles from Portland in the southwest part of the state) to get away from Orange County gang influences. His hobbies are woodworking and making furniture, as well as reading the Bible. He learned how to play the piano (and read music) during his 2001 junior year.

TROY POLAMALU ON: Being named an All-American in 2001: "I hate to get an award that separates me from the team."

Playing safety: "The thing I like about the safety position is the freedom. You can see more of the field and have more room to react and make plays...I always dreamed of coming to USC and playing running back. I guess, though, that I am more suited to playing safety."

His playing philosophy: "Go out there and give it everything you've got. I have developed the Samoan mentality—you have to be a gentleman everywhere but on the field. On the field, play like it is a game of life. Give everything you have...The way I feel is that if you go out and half-speed things and play things safe, you can end up getting hurt. So I always try to lay myself out on the line and sacrifice my body for the team."

His daily ritual of staying after practice to work on his technique and conditioning: "I use the time to think about what I did during the last game. I think about what I need to work on...There are so many things you can do to get better. A lot of people take things for granted. They just want to get through practice. I just want to do whatever I can to become the best...I believe that God has blessed me with a gift, an ability, and that it's something I need to keep working on. I never walk away when I can still push myself and try to improve...Sometimes I burn myself out during practice and I know that's not good. But I believe that you get everything you work for, so I always want to work hard...When I came to USC, I was the least-recruited player. I came in here and nobody knew who I was. It was all about working hard and making a name for myself. It's nice to go from nobody talking about you to being in somebody's conversation...My freshman year, I had to establish that everyone on the practice field was equal. They threw a bad pass and (ex-USC receiver) R. Jay Soward—he was the big star at the time—was kind of trotting through his route, and I went over and blindsided him. He got up cussing me, but later he told me I was okay. I think that got me noticed a little bit."

His uncle, USC assistant coach Kennedy Pola: "Having him out on the field is just like having another coach. I know that if he were coaching me he would be pushing me harder. So thank God he's not the secondary coach! But I'm happy to have him here and around. It's made it so much easier on me to have somebody to talk to and someone to help me out...There's absolutely nothing I don't like about having him on the coaching staff. He helps me out so much, just being there to talk to him. I'd hate to see what it would be like without him. Plus, I can hit him up for money whenever I need it! Just kidding...When he was coaching at Colorado, I wanted to go there. Then he went to Washington, but I didn't want to go there because it rains so much. I think he gave (then USC head) coach Hackett a call and said, 'Check out my nephew.' So I came down here on a trip and fell in love with it. At that time, Kennedy was down coaching at San Diego State and he was telling me, 'I'll be there with you one of these days.' And here he is."

How football teaches life lessons: "Say it is first and goal, we're playing Notre Dame and we're down by 2 points. Someone needs to make a big play. That's a tough situation in football. If I was actually able to make a play in that sort of situation, I can tell myself in life, when my back is to the wall, I can pull myself up because I've been in a similar situation. I think that is what God is trying to tell me, that he is trying to teach me lessons through the game of football rather than in life. That's why I take football so seriously."

His first name: "I believe God named me Troy for a reason. I was born to come here."

Moving to Oregon when he was young: "I was only supposed to stay for three weeks. But I fell in love with the place. It's beautiful. I called my mom and asked if I could stay one more week. That week ended, and I called and begged her to let me stay up there. I just knew I had to get away...She had maybe a split second to make the decision. It's got to be the hardest decision a mother can make...My mom made a very brave decision. It must have hurt her a great deal, but she let me stay. She knew it was best...I loved it up there. Of course, the sun was out then!"

Wanting to be a teacher: "I love working with children. I want to be a teacher. I want children to look up to me. I want to be a good role model...Being an athlete, you are automatically a role model. But this will end one day, so I've always wanted to become a teacher. I've always dreamed about kids saying, 'Mom, Dad, guess who our teacher is? It's Troy Polamalu!"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC head coach Pete Carroll: "He's as good a safety as I've every coached. He's a brilliant football player. He's just as effective as those NFL guys I coached...He is creative, fast, tough and instinctive. He has a great heart, which all great players have...He adapts to everything that we can throw out there. He makes all the adjustments, all the checks, all the calls. He helps other people play well. He can do anything we ask: blitz, cover deep, play man-to-man, and he always does a little bit extra."

USC tailback Malaefou MacKenzie: "He's going to be one of the greats before he leaves USC."

Former Utah offensive guard Ed Ta'amu: "When we watched film, everywhere we looked he was in the picture."

UCLA head coach Bob Toledo: "He's a great football player. He's all over the field. He makes plays. You'd better account for him because he's going to be around the football all the time."

USC assistant coach Kennedy Pola, his uncle: "He's a small-town boy and he respects his peers and his teammates. That comes from the family, environment and community that he was raised in."

Ken Peters, Associated Press: "Sometimes it seems there's a whole group of Trojans wearing No. 43, blocking punts, returning interceptions for touchdowns, forcing fumbles, smacking punt returners to the ground. Actually, there's only one—Troy Polamalu, playing 'Fa'a Samoan' style. That roughly translates, he says, to being a gentleman everywhere but on the football field."

Mike POLLARD

#45

2002: The heady, steady Pollard returns as the starting middle linebacker as a senior in 2002.

2001: Pollard, after a fine showing in 2001 spring practice at weakside linebacker, was moved to middle linebacker in 2001 fall camp and earned the starting job there as a junior. Overall in 2001 while starting USC's first 11 games (he missed the Utah game after spraining his left knee in practice), he had 81 tackles (second on USC), including 8 for losses of 17 yards, a team-best 7 deflections, 1 fumble recovery and 2 forced fumbles. He led USC in tackles in 4 games (Oregon, Notre Dame, Oregon State and California). He tied for fifth in the Pac-10 in forced fumbles (2). He made the 2001 All-Pac-10 honorable mention squad. He won USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award (for biggest hit of the year). After the season, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove torn cartilage in his left knee.

In the San Jose State opener, he had 5 stops while forcing a fumble that USC recovered and deflecting a pass that Troy intercepted. He added 6 stops against Kansas State, a game-best 11 tackles (1 for a loss) at Oregon, 9 tackles and 3 deflections versus Stanford and 7 tackles (2 for losses) at Washington. Against Arizona State, he had 5 stops, recovered a fumble and deflected a pass, then had a game-high 11 tackles (1 for a loss) and forced a fumble (which USC recovered to set up a TD) at Notre Dame. At Arizona, he had 7 tackles and deflected a pass that USC intercepted. He had a game-high 11 tackles (with a team-best 3 for losses) against Oregon State, a team-best 6 tackles with a deflection at California and 3 stops against UCLA.

2000: Pollard was a reserve middle linebacker and played on special teams as a sophomore in 2000. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 7 games (Penn State and Oregon and then the final 5 contests, California, Arizona State, Wahsington State, UCLA and Notre Dame), he made 2 tackles.

1998: Pollard served as the backup to Chris Claiborne at middle linebacker as a freshman in 1998. Overall in 1998 while appearing in 10 games (all but Purdue, Washington and UCLA), he had 8 tackles, including 2 for losses of 10 yards (with a 7-yard sack), plus he forced a fumble (against San Diego State). He had 2 tackles at Florida State and Washington State. Originally a 1997 signee, he entered USC in the spring of 1998 as a first-year freshman after improving his test scores at a junior college.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He actually signed with USC in 1997, but did not qualify academically, so he elected to attend Cypress (Calif.) College that season as a part-time student (he didn't play football there).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Best in the West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team and All-Moore League Defensive MVP as a senior at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). In 1996, he made 125 tackles, 7 sacks, 5 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 4 pass deflections. His best outing in 1996 was 19 solo tackles and 6 tackles for a loss in a single game.

As a 1995 junior, he only played in 2 games (getting 25 tackles, with 7 tackles for losses) before tearing ligaments in his right knee and having surgery. He had 76 tackles and 5 sacks as a 1994 sophomore. During his 3-year career, Poly went 31-7 (including 12-1 in 1995) and twice advanced to the CIF Division I semifinals. He also played baseball at Poly. Current Trojans Kareem Kelly, Darrell Rideaux, DeShaun Hill, Darnell Bing, Hershel Dennis, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Poly.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC.

MIKE POLLARD ON: His style: "I like to take lanes and make plays behind the line. I like to use my speed and instincts to get into the backfield before the play develops."

His doubters: "Hearing 'Mike Pollard can't do this, Mike Pollard won't be an athlete at USC,' I use that as my motivation...It's a challenge. I just want to prove everybody wrong...It's been a long journey. I believe that while some of the events of the past have been rough, everything happens for a reason...I know if I believe in my skills and believe in God, everything will work out."

Chris Claiborne, USC's former Butkus Award winning linebacker who he backed up in 1998: "When I played behind Chris as a freshman, I paid close attention to everything he did in hopes of being able to do well once I got the chance to play the position...I learned how to be patient, being open to everything and learing what it takes to be good. He took the time to help me get better so I could take over his position when he left. He was a great person to learn from...I want to follow in his footsteps. You never know what's going to happen. Only time will tell, and I have time on my side...I am getting more comfortable and confident. I want to prove to people I am worthy of succeeding Chris. He is the perfect person to pattern the football aspect of my life after. He is open to criticism and, mentally, he is just awesome. Maybe someday I'll be even better than him."

Coming back from his 1999 knee injury, the second of his career: "That knee injury was the worst challenge I had to overcome. It was more emotional than anything else. I went from playing a lot in my freshman year and then not playing at all, which was difficult...It's over, that's what I thought. I thought my football career was over. I thought I wouldn't play ball anymore...I came out to the following spring's practice (in 2000) at about 250 pounds. I tried to get through spring ball and I was pathetic. I said to myself, 'I've got to change everything about me.'...When I got demoted down to the scout team, it humbled me and made me mad. I got made at everyone and it made me work harder. There were a lot of people who didn't think I could come back after a second knee injury and I had to work hard to prove it to both myself and those who doubted me...I was motivated by the career of Anthony Munoz, who had five knee surgeries. He lasted so long after all those surgeries. He barely played at USC because of them, but he had a long career afterwards. If he had had five surgeries on his knees and could do that, I knew I could do it with just two. After that, it was all about getting my mindset right and being determined...The most important things I have learned from the knee surgeries are to stay with something until the end, stay focused and hard work does pay off eventually...Now, I am a stronger, faster person and things have been working out great."

Sitting out the 1997 season: "That was tough. I felt totally out of sync...I didn't even go around USC. I watched the games, but I didn't feel like I belonged...It kind of hurt. Nobody talked about me, and when they did, all they would mention was the academic problems...God puts you in certain situations to challenge you. If you handle things right, you become a better person...The experience really matured me. I am so appreciative of where I am now. Like they say, you never know how good you have it until you lose it."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC linebackers coach Nick Holt: "Mike is never going to be the biggest guy or fastest guy on the field. But he works his butt off and makes a lot of big plays."

Former USC Butkus Award winning linebacker Chris Claiborne: "There's no limit for Mike."

USC safety Troy Polamalu: "He was third string, but then worked his way up, which is the best way to prove yourself to the team."

Tailback

So./So.

2002: Poston, who showed marked improvement in 2002 spring practice, will compete for playing time at tailback as a sophomore in 2002. He also might returns kickoffs.

2001: Poston showed flashes of his potential as a freshman reserve tailback in 2001, but he sprained his right knee at Notre Dame and missed the Arizona, Oregon State, California and UCLA games. Overall in 2001, he appeared in 4 games (Oregon, Arizona State, Notre Dame and Utah), running for 16 yards on 8 carries (0.8 avg.) with 1 TD and catching a 10-yard pass. He saw his first career action at Oregon, getting 1 yard on 2 carries. Against Arizona State, he had 3 yards on 2 carries (including a 7-yard TD, the first of his career). He added a 10-yard reception (and 1 carry for no yards) at Notre Dame before hurting his knee. He then returned to action against Utah and ran for 12 yards on 3 carries.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 2000 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the West first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Division I and Orange County Register All-Orange county second team as a senior at Edison High in Huntington Beach (Calif.). He ran for 1,619 yards on 263 carries (6.2 avg.) with 20 TDs and had 280 receiving yards with 2 scores in 2000. Edison went 10-3 in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, he was Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and All-Sunset League Offensive MVP while running for 1,800 yards with 29 TDs and catching 12 passes for 339 yards (28.3 avg.).

His career rushing totals of 3,419 yards and 29 TDs set school records.

He also sprinted for Edison's track team, finishing fifth in the 100 meters at the 2000 CIF Division I meet. As a senior, he was first in the 200 (in 21.40) at the 2001 CIF Southern Section meet and third in the 200 (in 21.48) at the 2001 CIF Masters Meet (he ran 21.81 in the prelims at the 2001 California State meet, but did not advance to the finals).

Chris PROSSER

Jr.*/Sr.
#59

2002: Prosser, who has started 5 games in his career, will serve as a backup strongside linebacker as a junior in 2002. He missed part of 2002 spring practice while concentrating on his academics.

2001: When he was available, Prosser made a contribution at strongside linebacker as a sophomore in 2001. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 6 games, he had 20 tackles, including 4 for losses 22 yards (with 2 sacks for minus 17 yards), and a deflection. He started 3 games in 2001 (Stanford, Washington and UCLA) for an injured Matt Grootegoed and saw action at Oregon, California and Utah as the backup. He missed USC's first 2 games of 2001 while ineligible, then missed the Arizona State, Notre Dame, Arizona and Oregon State games with a concussion suffered at Washington. He had 8 tackles (with a sack) and a deflection against Stanford, 5 stops against Utah, 3 at Oregon and 2 (with a sack) at California.

2000: Prosser spent most of his 2000 redshirt freshman season backing up Kori Dickerson at strongside linebacker and playing on special teams, but he did start 2 late-season games (Washington State and Notre Dame). Overall in 2000 while appearing in 9 games (all but Penn State, Colorado and Oregon State), he made 7 tackles. He had 3 tackles against Notre Dame and 2 at Arizona State.

1999: Prosser redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1999, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF San Diego Section first team as a senior at Morse High in San Diego (Calif.). In 1998, he had 104 tackles, 27 tackles for losses, 18 sacks, 6 forced fumbles and 2 blocked punts.

As a 1997 junior, he was named All-County and All-League while posting 85 tackles and 20 sacks. Morse made it to the CIF San Diego Section championship game in his 1996 sophomore season.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He is allergic to grass, which causes his skin to get rashes when he plays football.

CHRIS PROSSER ON: His allergy to grass: "The first time I got it (in 1999), it was really bad, with bubbles and blotches forming on my hands. I had been playing football for about 14 years and that was the first time it happened. It's kind of a pain to have, but whatever. It doesn't stop me from playing...It's kind of a joke now. When I went to the dermatologist, he asked me what I do and I said I play football. People say, 'So, you're allergic to grass and you go into it every day.' They say, 'You're probably doing the wrong sport.' But hey, that's my job. I'm in the grass all the time."

Darrell RIDEAUX

2002: The super-quick, experienced Rideaux, who has 8 career starts under his belt, could emerge as a starting cornerback as a senior in 2002. He also might return kickoffs again. He also has sprinted for the USC track team.

2001: Rideaux backed up Chris Cash at cornerback as a junior in 2001, in addition to playing on many special teams. He also was USC's top kickoff returner. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 10 games (he missed the Oregon State and California contests with a sprained left ankle he suffered at Arizona), he had 8 tackles and returned 19 kickoffs for 362 yards (19.1 avg.). He had 3 tackles and returned 4 kickoffs for 97 yards (including a 40-yarder) at Oregon. He won USC's Bob Chandler Award (top underclassman student/athlete/leader).

2000: Rideaux was a part-time starting cornerback and was on special teams as a sophomore in 2000. He started 6 of USC's first 7 games in 2000 (Penn State, Colorado, San Jose State, Oregon State, Oregon and Stanford) before spraining his left ankle against Stanford and missing the next 2 contests. He returned as the often-used backup to Chris Cash for USC's final 3 games. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 10 games, he had 21 tackles and 4 deflections. He had 5 tackles against Oregon, 3 stops and 2 deflections versus both Penn State and San Jose State, and 2 tackles each against Oregon State, Arizona and Stanford.

1999: Rideaux made an immediate impact as a freshman cornerback in 1999, his first year at USC. He served as a backup cornerback behind Antuan Simmons and a key special teams player. He even started USC's last 2 games (UCLA and Louisiana Tech) when Simmons was injured. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 10 games, he had 31 tackles and 5 deflections. He 9 tackles at Washington State, 6 against UCLA, 5 versus Arizona State, 4 against Louisiana Tech and 3 at Arizona. He missed the Hawaii and San Diego State games with a back sprain. He was named to the 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team.

TRACK: Rideaux, a one-time California state prep sprint champion, has sprinted for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2002, he placed second in the 100 meters at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.44) and ran the leadoff leg of Troy's victorious 400-meter relay team (39.68) in that meet. At the Pac-10 Meet, he was fifth in the 100 meters (10.51, after going 10.42 in the heats) and ran the leadoff leg on USC's winning 400-meter relay squad (39.44). He ran the leadoff leg on USC's sprint relay team at the NCAA meet which finished fifth in 39.27 (the squad also was third in its heat in 39.28).

In the spring of 2001, he ran the 100 meters in 5 meets, finishing second 3 times (10.58 at the Trojan Invitational, 10.37 at the Willie Williams Invitational and a career-best 10.27 at the USC-LSU Dual Meet), plus third at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.44) and seventh at the Pac-10 Meet (10.59, after going 10.49 in the heats). He also ran the leadoff leg on USC's 400-meter relay team that was victorious at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39) and the third leg on USC's winning squads at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.98) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.74). He won his heat in the 50-meter dash at the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational in 5.78 (the 13th fastest time in the world in 2001 and the sixth fastest in the U.S.).

In the spring of 2000, he ran the 100 meters 6 times, finishing second twice (10.52 in a heat of the Trojan Invitational and 10.45 wind-aided in a heat of the Pac-10 Meet), third twice (season-best 10.37 at USC's Centennial Invitational and 10.48 at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet), fifth once (10.37 wind-aided in the Pac-10 final) and seventh once (10.73 at the ASU USTCA Meet). He also ran the leadoff leg on the 400-meter relay squad which finished first at the Long Beach Relays (40.13), Trojan Invitational (40.08), USC's Centennial Invitational (season-best 39.18) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.47), was second at the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (39.59) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.93), and was fifth at the NCAA Meet (39.54, after going 39.47 for fourth in a heat).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1998 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Student Sports All-American, Rivalnet All-American first team, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team (for the third consecutive year), Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a senior at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. In 1998, he had 44 tackles (37 solo), 2 interceptions, 11 deflections, 1 blocked punt and 1 blocked field goal. Long Beach Poly was a CIF Division I finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I MVP, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team while getting 45 tackles, 4 interceptions and 4 blocks. Long Beach Poly won the CIF Division I championship.

He was on the All-CIF Division I first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a 1996 sophomore. In one game as a soph, he intercepted 4 passes, blocked 2 kicks, caused and recovered a fumble and had 11 tackles. A 4-year starter at Poly (the first in school history), he had 14 interceptions and 18 blocks in his career.

He also starred on Long Beach Poly's track team, which won the 1997 and 1998 state titles. He was the 1998 state 100-meter champion with a best of 10.30 (he was third in 1997) and ran a leg on the 1998 state champ 400-meter relay team. He has run the 200 meters in 21.03. He won the 60-meter dash (6.77) at the 1999 National Scholastic Indoor Championships. At the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he was first in the 100 meters (10.65). At the 1999 CIF Division I meet, he won the 100 (10.49), was third in the 200 (21.26) and ran on the winning 400-meter relay quartet. At the 1999 CIF Masters meet, he was second in the 100 (wind-aided 10.30) and 200 (wind-aided 20.73) and ran a leg on Poly's state record-setting victorious 400-meter relay team (40.14). At the 1999 state meet, he was second in the 100 (10.49 wind-aided, after going 10.47 wind-aided in the heats) and fourth in the 200 (21.30 wind-aided, after going 21.28 wind-aided in the heats), and ran a leg on the state meet record-setting 400-meter relay squad (40.33). Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darnell Bing, Hershel Dennis, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

DARRELL RIDEAUX ON: Improving upon his 2001 season: "I was disappointed with my limited amount of contributions on defense in 2001. I felt as if I let out team down by not preparing myself to compete at a championship level. I questioned my ability, my potential to develop and whether I had displayed the level of commitment to our team that could sustain under the pressures of a fourth-quarter drive. I accepted the challenge, make a decision to focus only on football before 2002 spring practice, and improved my strength, size and speed. That has proven to be the best decision I have made as a Trojan, because it has allowed me to concentrate on the details of my position."

His size: "What I have learned is that my God-given limitations, such as my height and size, are not limitations unless I submit to them and declare that they will prevent me from doing my job. All my life I have had to prove that I am more than capable of performing my duties as a football player. For that, I am considered an overachiever."

Football versus track: "Before every season, I entertain thoughts about dedicating myself to just one sport. But I always seem to come full circle and conclude that I am a two-sport athlete and I can't have one without the other...But it's a hard adjustment to reprogram my body to go forward after 6 months of backpedaling...When football comes I am devoted to football, and same for track season. When I'm on the track, I don't consider myself a football player. But I love both sports and I am blessed with the talent to do both...But if you are not disciplined, you won't succeed...With each sport, I focus all my time and energy. They're equally demanding. I never have an off-season and am always playing catch-up...I think track complements football because of the speed required for both. It's also the same in terms of pressure. Like in track, there's a lot of pressure because you are the only one out there, and the pressure placed on an individual in a football game is greater than you can imagine...The pressure I feel running in a 100 meters final is no different than covering a wide receiver in the fourth quarter of a football game."

Bernard RILEY

2002: Riley should regain his defensive tackle spot (nose tackle) and start for a third season as a senior in 2002. He missed 2002 spring practice while recovering from a knee injury he suffered during the 2001 season.

2001: After starting 7 games in 2000 at a defensive tackle spot, Riley started USC's first 5 contests of his 2001 junior season at nose tackle until he tore ligaments in his right knee at Washington and was sidelined for the rest of the year. Overall in 2001 in those 5 games, he had 26 tackles, including 5 for losses of 11 yards (with a 2-yard sack), 1 fumble recovery, 1 deflection and 1 interception that he returned 3 yards. In the San Jose State opener, he had 4 tackles and made a nice 1-handed interception of a deflected pass. He then had 10 tackles, recovered a fumble (to set up a USC TD) and deflected a pass against Kansas State. He added 4 stops (1 for a loss) at Oregon, 4 more tackles (2 for losses) versus Stanford and another 4 stops with a sack at Washington while playing most of the game after tearing ligaments in his knee.

2000: Riley was a part-time starter at defensive tackle as a sophomore in 2000. He started 7 games in 2000 (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, California, Arizona State, Washington State and UCLA) and was Ryan Nielsen's often-used backup in the other contests. He also was a backup long snapper. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games (he missed the Oregon State outing after spraining his left ankle against San Jose State), he had 20 tackles, including 3 for losses of 5 yards, plus he recovered a fumble (against Arizona) and blocked a field goal (against Colorado). He made 5 tackles against Notre Dame, 3 versus California and 2 against Penn State, Colorado (with the blocked field goal), Arizona (with the fumble recovery), Oregon and UCLA.

1999: Riley backed up Ryan Nielsen at defensive tackle and was used primarily in short yardage situations as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 11 games (all but the Louisiana Tech contest), he made 5 tackles. He had 2 stops each against California and Arizona State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Student Sports All-American, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous selection), Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Lineman MVP, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team, Orange County Player of the Year and All-Sunset League Defensive MVP as a senior at Los Alamitos (Calif.) High. In 1998, he had 114 tackles (49 solo), 29 tackles for losses, 9 sacks and 5 deflections despite playing with a broken finger and separated shoulder. He also played linebacker and fullback. Los Alamitos went 12-1 and was a CIF Division I semifinalist.

As a 1997 junior, he was picked to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team while making 107 tackles (57 solo), 19 tackles for losses, 9 sacks and 4 deflections. He also rushed for 7 touchdowns as a fullback in goal line situations.

During his 1996 sophomore season, he once had 4 interceptions in a game. Current Trojan Mike Patterson also prepped at Los Alamitos.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His father, Bernard Sr., was a starting offensive guard at Oregon in 1975. He and 3 of his Trojan teammates—Steve Stevenson, Malcolm Wooldridge and Kyle Matthews—received national attention for coming to the aid of a USC student who fell out of her apartment window on Sept. 1, 2000 and became impaled on the spikes of a security fence. He lived in the Bay Area until his sophomore year in high school. His sports hero is NFL star defensive lineman John Randle.

BERNARD RILEY ON: Helping rescue the USC student who fell out her window and became impaled: "We rushed out, saw her and went over to hold her up by her shoulders so the bars wouldn't go further into her. She was screaming right into my face, and I'm trying to tell her everything was all right. But I didn't know how much more I could take. We had had a long practice that day and I didn't know how much longer I could hold out. It was just instinct, the same things you use in football. You see something happen and you react."

Jacob ROGERS

6-6 • 305
Jr.*/Sr.
#77

2002: Rogers returns for his second season as the starting left offensive tackle as a junior in 2002.

2001: Rogers started 11 games at left offensive tackle in 2001 and did a commendable job. He did not start at California (but he did play) because of a hyperextended left elbow suffered against Oregon State. He made the 2001 All-Pac-10 honorable mention squad. He won USC's Offensive Lineman of the Year Award. He missed 2001 spring practice while recovering from 2000 shoulder surgery.

2000: Rogers backed up Brent McCaffrey at left offensive tackle as a redshirt freshman in 2000 and saw considerable action in all 12 games at that spot and on special teams. He was moved from tight end to offensive tackle in 2000 spring drills. After the season, he had surgery to repair a separating right shoulder. He had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from his right hip and right shoulder following 2000 spring practice.

1999: Rogers redshirted as a freshman tight end in 1999, his first year at USC. He also was available as a punter. He had surgery on a dislocating left shoulder late in the season. To get a jump on his college career, he entered USC in the spring of 1999 and participated in spring drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the West first team, Orange Country Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention as a senior at Oxnard (Calif.) High. In 1998, he had 39 receptions for 412 yards (10.6 avg.) and 4 TDs, despite missing the last 4 games of the season with a separated shoulder. He also played defensive end, linebacker and punter (he averaged more than 40 yards per punt).

As a 1997 junior, he caught 17 passes for 201 yards (11.8 avg.) and 5 TDs. In his career, he had 62 catches for 712 yards (11.5 avg.). He played quarterback as a 1995 freshman.

He also played basketball at Oxnard, averaging 10 rebounds a game. Current Trojans Chad Pierson and Bobby Otani also prepped at Oxnard.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in public policy and management at USC. He likes to hunt and fish in his free time.

JACOB ROGERS ON: Playing left offensive tackle: "I get a lot of speed rushers on my side. It's challenging, but I accept that challenge and I like it. It's important to stick to your fundamentals or they will get around the edge on you. You just have to go out there and have the attitude that you are going to beat the guy across from you on every play. He's going to have that attitude against you, so it's just a matter of who's going to do it. It's his job to beat you and your job to beat him."

His ability: "My strength is my footwork. Coming from a tight end background, I have pretty good feet. It helps me to stay in front of the guys a little better."

Punting: "I kind of miss punting. Every once in a while, I mess around with it. It's something that's hard to do after putting on all the weight that I have. My first spring here I was able to punt pretty well. Then I put on 30 pounds and it just wasn't the same."

Melvin SIMMONS

Linebacker

Jr.*/Sr.
#51

2002: After sitting out the 2001 season, Simmons—a one-time starter at Washington State—has emerged as the starting weakside linebacker as a junior in 2002.

2001: As a junior linebacker in 2001, Simmons had to sit out the season after transferring from Washington State (a year was waived from the 2-year in-conference transfer rule, making him eligible in 2002 instead of 2003).

WASHINGTON STATE: He started 10 games at both middle and weakside linebacker as a 2000 sophomore at Washington State, getting 59 tackles (fourth on WSU), including 7 for losses of 24 yards (with 4 sacks for minus 19 yards), plus a deflection. He posted 9 stops against Stanford, 7 versus Washington and Utah and 6 (with 2 sacks) against Arizona State in 2001. He missed the 2000 California game with a shoulder injury.

He saw action in 12 games as a first-year freshman in 1999, as a reserve linebacker and on special teams. He had 6 tackles in 1999.

HIGH SCHOOL: He received Blue Chip All-American, Super Prep All-Far West, All-CIF and All-League MVP honors as a 1998 senior at Dominguez High in Compton (Calif.). He made 142 tackles with 5 sacks in 1998.

As a 1997 junior, he made All-League first team while notching 138 tackles (with 6 sacks).

He was on the All-State Sophomore and All-League second team as a 1996 sophomore as Dominguez won the CIF title. Current Trojans LaJuan Ramsey and Justin Wyatt also prepped at Dominguez.

He also was on the track and baseball teams at Dominguez.

PERSONAL: He's a social sciences/history major at USC with a B average (3.01 GPA). His nickname is "Champ."

MELVIN SIMMONS ON: Sitting out the 2001 season: "What many people don't understand is that when you sit out a year, you get so hungry."

So.*/Jr.

2002: Single was moved to defensive end (from center) in 2002 spring drills and willl serve as a backup there as a sophomore in 2002 (he can also play defensive tackle).

2001: Single, who was moved from linebacker to center in 2001 spring drills, did not see any action as a reserve redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Single redshirted as a freshman linebacker and defensive end in 2000, his first year at USC. He was hampered by a left knee sprain suffered in 2000 fall drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1999 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego first team, San Diego Scholar-Athlete of the Year and All-Metro League Defensive MVP as a senior linebacker and tight end at Bonita Vista High in Chula Vista (Calif.). He had 85 tackles, 22 tackles for losses, a school-record 15 sacks, 6 forced fumbles and 4 fumble recoveries in 1999.

As a 1998 junior, he made All-County and All-Metro League, notching 110 tackles and 13 sacks and catching 4 TDs.

He had 10 sacks as a 1997 sophomore.

He also played basketball at Bonita Vista.

PERSONAL: He's a political science major at USC. His initials stand for Alexander James. He was born in Evanston, Ill. His father, Doug, lettered in football at Stanford in 1971 and 1972 (the 1971 team won the Rose Bowl), then was Stanford's offensive line coach for 3 years (1976-78) before serving as athletic director at Northwestern and SMU.

Nate STEINBACHER

Jr.*/Sr.
#71

2002: Steinbacher will serve as a backup offensive tackle as a junior in 2002. He also was a shot putter for USC's track team.

2001: Steinbacher saw brief action in 7 games (Washington, Arizona State, Arizona, Oregon State, California, UCLA and Utah) as a backup left offensive tackle and on special teams as a sophomore in 2001. He missed some of 2001 spring practice with an ankle sprain.

2000: Steinbacher was a backup right offensive tackle behind Faaesea Mailo and backup right offensive guard behind Zach Wilson, as well as a special teams players, as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He appeared briefly in 2 games (California and Arizona State) in 2000.

1999: Steinbacher redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1999, his first year at USC.

TRACK: Steinbacher has been a shot putter for the USC track team. In the spring of 2001, he competed in 2 meets, placing eighth at the Long Beach Relays (in a personal-best 44-8 ¼) and ninth at the Carl Rossi Relays (38-10 ½).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Sunset League first team as a senior at Esperanza High in Anaheim (Calif.). He was a 2-year starter on the offensive line.

As a 1995 freshman, he attended Costa Mesa (Calif.) High and was on the varsity golf team.

Eric TORRES

Offensive Tackle

Jr.*/Sr.
#66

2001: Torres started all 12 games at right offensive tackle as a sophomore in 2001 and did a commendable job.

1999: Torres redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1999, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention and All-Mission League teams as a senior at Bishop Montgomery High in Torrance (Calif.). He played offensive line, tight end (5 catches for 100-plus yards), linebacker and defensive end. Current Trojan David Davis also prepped at Bishop Montgomery.

He also played basketball at Bishop Montgomery, once scoring 18 points in a game.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. His sports hero is ex-USC offensive tackle and NFL Hall of Famer Anthony Munoz. He enjoys playing pool.

ERIC TORRES ON: Why he took a ballet class: "Ballet helps your flexibility and coordination. It did wonders for me. But it was hard. Sometimes I didn't want to go. I sort of dreaded it because my feet were sore...I eventually believed in what I was taught and saw that I could transfer what I learned to what I could do in the weight room, and that's get lower and bend my knees. It allowed me to be a better football player and lift weights with better technique...But a big dude in a ballet class looks funny. It was serious, but at the same time I was having fun."

Kenechi UDEZE

Defensive End

So.*/Jr.

2002: Udeze, just a sophomore but already a proven young defensive end, returns for his second season as the starter there in 2002.

2001: Udeze was a pleasant surprise as a redshirt freshman defensive end in 2001, starting 10 games (all but Oregon and Stanford). Overall in 2001 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 35 tackles, including 9 for losses of 43 yards (with 4 sacks for minus 25 yards), a fumble recovery, 3 forced fumbles and a deflection. He tied for third in the Pac-10 in forced fumbles (3). He made the 2001 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team and The Sporting News Freshman All-Pac-10 first team. He won USC's Co-Lifter Award. He was moved to end from tackle in 2001 fall camp.

In the San Jose State opener, he had 4 tackles (1 for a loss) in his Trojan debut. He added 7 stops (with a sack) against Kansas State. He had 3 tackles versus Stanford (with a fumble recovery), Washington (1 for a loss), Notre Dame (with a forced fumble) and California (with a sack and a forced fumble that USC returned for a TD) and 2 at Arizona (1 for a loss) and Oregon State (both were for losses, with a sack). Against UCLA, he had a tackle for a loss and forced a fumble that USC recovered. He had 6 tackles (including a 12-yard sack) against Utah.

2000: Udeze redshirted as a freshman defensive tackle in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1999 honors included Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Small Schools first team, All-CIF Division XI first team, Los Angeles Times All-Central City first team and All-Camino Real League Defensive MVP as a senior two-way lineman at Verbum Dei High in Los Angeles (Calif.). He made 88 tackles, 24 tackles for losses, 13 sacks, 2 forced fumbles and 3 blocked kicks in 1999.

As a 1998 junior, he posted 79 tackles and 14 sacks on defense and did not allow a sack on offense.

He also was a shot putter on Verbum Dei's track team, with a best of 56-7.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His nickname, "BKU," stands for Big Kenechi Udeze. His first name means "God's love will always be with me" in Nigerian. His sports heroes are NFL star defensive linemen Warren Sapp and Michael Strahan.

KENECHI UDEZE ON: Playing end versus tackle: "As long as I'm playing, I really don't mind playing end. But I think I'm more of an inside guy because my speed isn't really up to par to play end, but it's getting there. Soon, I'll have prototypical defensive end speed and I should be a better pass rusher. And I need to use my hands better. Coming off the edge, you can't just bull-rush tackles. You have to use your hands."

Weighing 355 pounds in high school: "It was hard to do things at that weight. It was hard to tie my shoes. I really didn't think a lot of schools would be looking at me because I was so big. It wasn't until my high school coach said that schools wouldn't recruit me because of it that I started to do something about it...Basically, what I did was I stopped eating a lot of carbohydrates and stopped drinking soda. I exercised a lot and lifted weights. A lot of it took care of itself. I also didn't eat past 9 p.m. That's when I used to call Pizza Hut and say, 'Can I get two large pizzas?' I lost 25 pounds in the first month of my diet...I picked USC because even when I was overweight, they stayed with me and said they still wanted me...By the time the 2001 season started at USC, I had dropped 80 pounds. I felt really good about myself. Now, people think I'm narcissistic because I take off my shirt in the weight room, but it's really because it's such a big turn-around from what I used to look like. When I first came to USC, I had 31 percent body fat. Now I'm at about 10 percent."

Having a career in the music industry: "I'm interested in the music industry. I want to be a producer. I've been in a couple of studios. I know how to do a few things on the mixing board. I'm not ready to make a platinum CD just yet, though that's one of my goals, but I can do a little something."

*Starter

Lenny VANDERMADE

Offensive Guard-Center

Jr.*/Sr.
#78

2002: Vandermade returns for his third season as a starter on the offensive line, this time at left guard as a junior in 2002. He also has seen action at center in his career.

2001: Vandermade started for his second season at center as just a sophomore in 2001. He started 8 games (all but Oregon, Washington, Arizona State and Notre Dame) and appeared in 11 contests (he did not play at Washington). He also saw some action at guard in 2001. He was on the "Watch List" for the 2001 Dave Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top center.

2000: As just a redshirt freshman in 2000, Vandermade did an exceptional job while starting all season, the first 5 games at left offensive guard (for an injured Trevor Roberts) and then the final 7 contests at center (for an injured Eric Denmon). He was named to the 2000 Freshman All-American first teams by The Sporting News and Football News.

1999: Vandermade redshirted as a freshman offensive lineman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a center, but by mid-season he was backing up Zach Wilson at right offensive guard (he never got into a game).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-South Coast League first team as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He did not allow a sack in 1998 as a left offensive tackle. On defense, he had 26 tackles with 2 sacks. Mater Dei went 13-1, won the CIF Division I championship and was ranked No. 2 nationally by USA Today.

As a 1997 junior, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and All-South Coast League first team.

He made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team and All-South Coast League second team as a 1996 sophomore as Mater Dei went 14-0, won the CIF Division I title and was named national champion by USA Today. He earned at least a 90% blocking grade in all of his games as a junior and senior. He also posted 78 career tackles (7 were sacks). A 3-year starter, Mater Dei went 40-2 during that time. Current Trojans Matt Grootegoed, Matt Leinart and Chris Doyle also prepped at Mater Dei.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. His sports hero is NFL star wide receiver Jerry Rice.

LENNY VANDERMADE ON: His first action as a Trojan (starting versus Penn State in 2000): "I was just drawing blanks. I didn't know what was going on. I remember not being able to catch my breath and that things were just flying around. But once I got settled in, then it was just football. I just played the game and it was just another game."

Redshirting: "I'm very happy that I had the redshirt year. You always want to play, but I needed to get stronger and learn the offense better. I knew the offense, but I didn't have a feel for it. Now, I have a feel for it and I know what everyone is doing."

College versus high school football: "College players are a whole lot faster and everyone is bigger, too. Technique becomes that much more important. I consider myself more of a technician, but you also have to have a little bit of attitude out there."

John WALKER

Safety

Fr.*/So.
#18

2002: Walker, a redshirt freshman with a promising future, will serve as a backup free safety in 2002. He missed part of 2002 spring practice while concentrating on his academics.

2001: Walker redshirted as a freshman safety and cornerback in 2001, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 2000 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-L.A. City, Los Angeles Times All-San Fernando Valley and Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team choice as a senior at Birmingham High in Van Nuys (Calif.). He had 5 interceptions (1 for a TD) as a defensive back, 30 receptions for 640 yards (21.3 avg.) and 5 TDs as a wide receiver, and 2 kickoff returns for scores in 2000. In one game, he scored 3 times on just 5 catches (for 136 yards). Birmingham went 10-2 in 2000.

As a 1999 junior, he was All-L.A. City second team and All-West Valley League while making 78 tackles, 3 interceptions and 2 fumble recoveries.

In 1998 as a sophomore, he made the All-Northwest Valley League first team.

He also was on the basketball and track teams at Birmingham, with bests of 14.2 in the 110-meter high hurdles and 6-3 in the high jump (he won the Sportsmanship Award at the 2000 California state meet). He was third in both the 110-meter high hurdles (14.44) and 300-meter intermediate hurdles (39.35) at the 2001 L.A. City meet. He was ninth at the 2001 California State meet in the high hurdles in 14.95 (he ran 14.25 in the prelims); he also ran 49.06 in the intermediate hurdles prelims, but did not advance to the finals.

PERSONAL: He was born in Wahiawa, Ha. As a youngster, he was a television actor who appeared in such shows as "E.R." and "7th Heaven" (in fact, he didn't play football until his sophomore season at Birmingham because of a clause in his acting contract that prevented him from doing anything that could affect his appearance).

Travis WATKINS

Offensive Guard

So.*/Jr.
#63

2002: Watkins will serve as a backup offensive guard as a sophomore in 2002. He also was a shot putter for USC's track team.

2000: Watkins redshirted as a freshman offensive guard and center in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego first team, All-County, All-Conference and All-Grossmont South League pick as a senior two-way lineman at Helix High in La Mesa (Calif.).

As a 1998 junior, he made All-CIF San Diego first team, All-County and All-Grossmont South League. Helix was the CIF San Diego Section champion in 1998.

He also was a shot putter and discus thrower on the Helix track team, with bests of 59-11 and 172-0, respectively. He was the 2000 CIF San Diego Section and Grossmont League shot put champion.

TRACK: Watkins has been a shot putter for the USC track team. He redshirted in the spring of 2001.

PERSONAL: His sports hero is Jackie Robinson. His brother, Todd, is a redshirt freshman wide receiver on the Norfolk State football team. His father, Don, was a lineman at Pasadena City College and also played with the San Diego Police Department's team. His uncle, Tom Watkins, played in the NFL in the 1960s with the Cleveland Browns, Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams.

Lee WEBB

Linebacker

So.*/Jr.
#35

2002: Webb will provide solid, experienced depth as a backup middle linebacker in his 2002 sophomore season.

2001: When he was healthy, Webb served as a backup to Mike Pollard at middle linebacker as a redshirt freshman in 2001. He also played on special teams. He broke his right foot against Stanford and missed USC's next 5 games, not returning until the California game. Overall in 2001 while appearing in 7 games, he had 8 tackles and a forced fumble. He had 5 tackles against Kansas State. He was switched from fullback to middle linebacker in 2001 spring drills.

2000: Webb redshirted as a freshman fullback in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Prep Star All-Western, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Central City Lineman of the Year and All-League honors as a senior at Crenshaw High in Los Angeles (Calif.). In 1999, he ran for more than 1,100 yards with 20 TDs as a fullback and also played defensive line and linebacker. In one game, he ran for more than 200 yards.

As a 1998 junior, he earned All-League notice when he made 136 tackles, 45 tackles for losses and 19 sacks.

He was an All-League choice as a 1997 sophomore.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC.

Zach WILSON

#69

2002: The reliable Wilson will start for his fourth season at right offensive guard as a senior in 2002.

2001: Wilson started for his third season at right offensive guard as a junior in 2001 and did a steady job. He started 11 games in 2001 (he did not start at Arizona because of an elbow injury, but did play).

2000: As just a sophomore in 2000, Wilson started for his second season at right offensive guard and did a solid job. After the season, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove torn cartilage in his left knee.

1999: Wilson began his 1999 redshirt freshman season as the backup to Jason Grain at right offensive guard and as a special teams performer, but when Grain suffered a season-ending knee injury, Wilson started there for USC's final 7 games. He did well enough to earn 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team honors. He appeared in all 12 games in 1999. He made 1 tackle (against Arizona State).

1998: Wilson redshirted as a freshman offensive guard in 1998, his first year at USC. He was named USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Offensive Player of the Year.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1997 Prep Star All-American, ESPN/National Recruiting Advisor All-American second team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Medium Schools first team, All-CIF Division VIII first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team and All-Suburban League (offense and defense) as a senior at Mayfair High in Lakewood (Calif.). A 2-way lineman, he had 40-plus tackles, 5 sacks, 1 fumble recovery and 1 deflection on defense in 1997. Mayfair went 7-3 in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he earned Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team honorable mention and All-Suburban League (offense and defense) honors and posted 57 tackles (42 solo), 24 tackles for losses, 4 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries on defense. He had an 87% blocking grade in 1996. Mayfair was 10-1 in 1996.

He started for 3 years (Mayfair went 8-2 in 1995). He posted 111 tackles and 16.5 sacks in his career. On offense during his career, Mayfair ran behind him 23 times on fourth down and converted 22 times.

He also wrestled at Mayfair, twice winning the league championship, and was on the track team (shot put and discus).

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. He was born in Little Rock, Ark.

Poly High (Long Beach, Calif.)

He was a 2001 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming All-American, Max Emfinger All-American, USA Today All-USA second team, Super Prep Elite 50, Prep Star Dream Team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast/South Coast first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a senior at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). He had 86 tackles (34 solo), with a sack, plus 5 interceptions, 2 fumble recoveries, a forced fumble and 5 deflections in 2001 as a safety and ran for 256 yards on 20 carries (12.8 avg.) with 5 TDs on offense.

As a junior in 2000, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team while notching 62 tackles (37 solo), 2 interceptions, 3 fumble recoveries, 2 forced fumbles, 3 deflections and scoring 3 times on defense despite missing part of the year with injuries.

He had 85 tackles and 10 deflections as a 1999 sophomore. He was a 3-year starter as Poly went 39-1-1 and won 3 CIF Division I titles.

He also was on Poly's track team as a sprinter (with bests of 10.6 in the 100 meters and 21.8 in the 200 meters), long jumper and triple jumper. Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Hershel Dennis, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Poly.

Van BROWN

Defensive End

Pasadena (Calif.) City College

He made the 2001 Super Prep JUCO 100 and Prep Star JUCO All-American squads although did not play football in 2001 while attending Lansing (Mich.) Community College. He signed with Michigan State in 2001, but did not enroll there.

As a freshman in 2000, he played at Pasadena (Calif.) City College, where he earned All-Mission Conference (North) first team honors as a defensive lineman. He made 44 tackles, with 12 for losses (including 6 sacks), and 7 deflections in 2000.

He originally signed with Oregon in 1999, but did not enroll there, then sat out the 1999 season before attending Glendale (Calif.) Community College in the 2000 spring semester.

He prepped at Alhambra (Calif.) High, where as a 1998 senior he was a Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Almont League selection. In 1998, he made 60 solo tackles, 13 sacks, 3 fumble recoveries and 2 interceptions as a defensive end and had 12 receptions for 289 yards (24.1 avg.) with 2 TDs as a tight end.

He was an All-League choice as a 1997 junior, getting 85 tackles, including 28 for losses (with 12 sacks), 2 forced fumbles, a fumble recovery and an interception.

Before that, he attended Marshall High in Pasadena (Calif.).

His brother, Chad, is an All-Pro linebacker who has played with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1993-96) and Seattle Seahawks (1997-2001) after starting 4 seasons at Colorado (1989-92).

Dominique BYRD

Tight End

6-3 — 250 Fr./Fr. #86
The Breck School (Minneapolis, Minn.)

He earned 2001 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming All-American, Max Emfinger All-American, USA Today All-USA second team, Student Sports All-American second team, Super Prep Elite 50, Super Prep All-Midwest Offensive MVP, Prep Star All-Western Region and Student Sports All-Midwest first team honors as a senior at The Breck School in Minneapolis (Minn.). He caught 62 passes for 1,236 yards (19.9 avg.) and 25 touchdowns as a tight end in 2001 and had a team-high 108 tackles, including 21 for losses (with 4 sacks), and made 4 interceptions (returning 3 for TDs) as a linebacker.

As a junior in 2000, he had 56 receptions for 1,280 yards (22.9 avg.) and 17 scores on offense and 109 tackles on defense.

In his career (he also played some at wide receiver), he had 147 catches for 3,008 yards (20.5 avg.) and 49 TDs while starting for 4 years.

He also was on the basketball team, earning 2002 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-American third team notice while averaging 17.3 points as a junior, and track team, going 11.2 in the 100 meters and 6-4 in the high jump. He started on the varsity basketball team since the eighth grade after obtaining a waiver to play at that level.

Hershel DENNIS

Tailback

5-11 — 175 Fr./Fr. #26
Poly High (Long Beach, Calif.)

His 2001 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming All-American, Student Sports All-American second team, Super Prep Elite 50, Prep Star Dream Team, Super Prep All-Far West, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Student Sports All-West first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team Co-Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times Glenn Davis Award (as the top Southern California prep football player), Los Angeles Times All-Southern California first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast/South Coast first team MVP and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team Offensive MVP as a senior running back at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). He ran for 1,740 yards on 221 carries (7.9 avg.) with 24 touchdowns, averaging 134 yards a game, in 2001, even though he was pulled out of most games in the third quarter because Poly had large leads. He had some of his best performances in Poly's biggest games: getting 161 yards on 20 carries versus national champion De La Salle High and then 189 yards and 3 scores on 29 carries against Edison High in the CIF Division I final.

As a junior in 2000, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team Co-Offensive MVP, All-CIF Division I first team Co-Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast/South Coast first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team Offensive MVP. He set school and Moore League records for rushing yards (2,106) and rushing touchdowns (32) in 2000 while carrying 209 times (10.1 avg.). In one game as a junior, he had 41 carries for 237 yards and 5 TDs. He scored the winning touchdown on an 11-yard catch in overtime in the 2000 CIF Division I championship game against Loyola High.

He made the All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times

All-Southeast/South Coast first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a sophomore in 1999 while running for 1,400-plus yards.

He set school career records for rushing yards (5,440) and rushing touchdowns (82). He returned 7 kicks for scores in his career. He was a 3-year starter as Poly went 39-1-1 and won 3 CIF Division I titles.

He also was on Poly's track team, with bests of 10.7 in the 100 meters, 22.3 in the 200 meters, 22-plus in the long jump and 6-6 in the high jump, and basketball team. Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Darnell Bing, Winston Justice and Manuel Wright also prepped at Poly.

His father, Hershel Sr., played tailback at North Carolina A&T.

Chris DOYLE

Center-Offensive Guard

6-1 — 285 Fr./Fr. #68
Mater Dei High (Santa Ana, Calif.)

He was named a 2001 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, All-CIF Division I first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and All-League selection as a senior two-way lineman at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.).

As a junior in 2000, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass second team and Orange County Register All-Orange County second team. Current Trojans Matt Grootegoed, Matt Leinart and Lenny Vandermade also prepped at Mater Dei.

Brandon HANCE

Quarterback

Purdue

He started Purdue's first 9 games of 2001 at quarterback as a sophomore and led the Boilermakers to a 6-3 record. Overall, he completed 136-of-258 (52.7%) passes for 1,529 yards with 8 TDs and 10 interceptions, averaging 169.9 yards a game. He also was the team's No. 3 rusher, getting 242 yards on 112 carries (2.2 avg.) with 4 scores. He averaged 196.8 yards of total offense. He also caught a 31-yard TD pass (versus Minnesota). He threw for a career-best 306 yards and 3 TDs on 22-of-36 passing versus Minnesota, plus ran for 70 yards on 13 tries. He was 21-of-37 for 252 yards and 2 scores versus Akron. He hit 16-of-33 throws for 198 yards and a TD versus Michigan and 14-of-31 passes for 190 yards and a TD, plus 49 rushing yards and a score on 9 tries, versus Northwestern. His other starts came against Cincinnati (14-of-25, 117 yards), Iowa (17-of-33, 147 yards, plus 52 yards and a TD on 14 rushes), Illinois (15-of-25, 132 yards, 1 TD), Ohio State (10-of-22, 122 yards) and Michigan State (7-of-12, 65 yards before being replaced for the rest of the season by Kyle Orton). He was the Big Ten Co-Offensive Player of the Week (Sept. 30) and was named to the Academic All-Big Ten team.

As a freshman in 2000, he played in 2 games as a reserve, completing 5-of-9 passes (55.9%) for 40 yards and a TD, plus ran for 37 yards on 7 carries (5.3 avg.). He went 4-of-6 for 22 yards with a TD versus Kent State. He entered Purdue in the spring of 2000 after graduating early from high school. Current Trojan Doyal Butler also attended Purdue.

He won 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Far West, Prep Star All-Western Region, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and All-L.A. City second team honors as a senior at Taft High in Woodland Hills (Calif.). He completed 169-of-281 passes (60.1%) for 2,400 yards with 22 TDs and 9 interceptions in 1999, plus ran for 500-plus yards and 7 scores.

As a junior in 1998, he was an All-L.A. City second team pick as he threw for 2,200-plus yards with 22 TDs and 6 interceptions and ran for 400-plus yards with 7 scores. Taft won the 1998 L.A. City title. He completed 60% of his passes in his prep career. Current Trojans Gregg Guenther and Greig Carlson also prepped at Taft.

Winston JUSTICE

Offensive Tackle

6-6 — 305 Fr./Fr. #74
Poly High (Long Beach, Calif.)

He earned 2001 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming All-American, Max Emfinger All-American, Super Prep Elite 50, Prep Star Dream Team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southern California Lineman of the Year, Los Angeles Times All-Southern California first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast/South Coast first team Lineman of the Year and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team honors as a senior offensive lineman at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). He had 38 pancake blocks in 2001.

As a junior in 2000, he was named to the Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team third team.

He was a member of 3 Poly teams that went 39-1-1 and won 3 CIF Division I titles (he started 2 years). He didn't play football until his sophomore year in high school. Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Darnell Bing, Hershel Dennis and Manuel Wright also prepped at Poly.

His parents are from Barbados and he likes calypso music.

Kurt KATNIK

Tiebreaker Procedure

Here is the NCAA tiebreaker system, which first was put in effect for all post-season games in the 1995 season:

1. At the conclusion of a tie game, the team captains will meet at the center of the field for a coin toss. The winning captain has 2 options: a.) offense/defense or b.) choose the end of the field the first overtime period will be played. The choice may not be deferred.
2. Each overtime period consists of an offensive series by each team. A team continues on offense until it scores, loses the ball on downs, or loses possession of the ball (fumble, intercepted pass, etc.). All series begin on a 25-yard line.
3. If a team loses the ball due to a fumble, etc., the ball continues in play until the end of that down. Team B may score (the game is over) or if Team A gets the ball back during the down, it may score. If there is no score, that series is concluded. Once a series is concluded, the defensive team begins its series, or if that series was the second of that overtime period, the period is over.
4. If the teams remain tied at the end of the first overtime period, a second period is played. The loser of the overtime coin toss has first choice as outlined in No. 1 above. Thereafter, the teams alternate first choice for as many periods as needed to determine a winner.
5. Each team is allowed 1 timeout for each extra period. No unused timeout from the regular game may be carried over to an extra period, nor may an unused timeout from an extra period be carried over to a succeeding extra period.
6. Although the 25-second clock operates during overtime, the game clock does not run.

2001 GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1 – September 1, Los Angeles Coliseum
USC 21, San Jose State 10
Att: 45,568

San Jose State	0	3	0	7	–	10
USC	7	7	0	7	–	21

TB Sultan McCullough ran for 3 touchdowns to propel new USC head coach Pete Carroll to a successful debut with a 21-10 victory over San Jose State before 45,568 fans in the Coliseum and a local FOX Sports Net 2 cable audience.

McCullough, who rushed for 167 yards on 25 carries (both game highs), scored on runs of 14 yards in the first quarter, 35 yards in the second quarter and 7 yards in the fourth quarter. It was the most rushing yards by a Trojan in a season opener since Marcus Allen had 210 yards versus Tennessee in 1981. It was also McCullough's eighth 100-yard outing in his career and his first multi-TD game.

San Jose State got a 37-yard field goal by PK Nick Gilliam at the first half gun and then TB Deonce Whitaker—who was held to just 65 yards on 22 carries—ran 3 yards for a score with 6 minutes to play. Spartan QB Marcus Arroyo was 20-of-37 for 213 yards, but was picked off twice.

For USC, QB Carson Palmer was 21-of-28 for 213 yards (with an interception) and hit his first 9 aerials, while junior college transfer WR Grant Mattos led Troy with 5 catches for a game-high 75 yards and FB Charlie Landrigan added a career-best 4 grabs for 45 yards.

USC had 50 more total yards (378 to 328) than SJSU and the Trojans got 3 turnovers (interceptions by CB Chris Cash and DT Bernard Riley and a fumble recovery by S DeShaun Hill).

LB Frank Strong had game bests with 8 tackles and 2 deflections, while S Troy Polamalu added 7 stops.

Kansas State 10, USC 6
Att: 69,659

Kansas State	3	7	0	0	–	10
USC	0	0	6	0	–	6

USC came oh-so-close to upsetting No. 12 Kansas State in the first-ever meeting between the teams, but Troy fell 10-6 in a hard-fought game before 69,959 fans in the Coliseum and a live FOX Sports Net cable audience.

It was the fewest points scored by KSU in an opener since being shut out in 1989 (coach Bill Snyder's first season there) and it was USC's fewest points in a game since being blanked at Washington in 1997. The win was Snyder's 100th and marked the first loss for new Trojan head coach Pete Carroll.

USC fell behind 10-0 in the first half following a 41-yard field goal by PK Jared Brite on KSU's opening series and then a Wildcat touchdown midway through the second quarter when OG Nick Leckey fell on TB Josh Scobey's fumble in the end zone.

But the Trojans rallied in the second half, as TB Sultan McCullough ran for a 7-yard score midway through the third period just 4 plays after DT Bernard Riley recovered a KSU fumble (however, PK David Davis' conversion kick was blocked; he also came up short on a second quarter 42-yard field goal). USC threatened late in the game, driving to the Wildcat 24-yard line before QB Carson Palmer fumbled the ball away on a scramble.

Overall, Kansas State had more total yards (366-297), first downs (20-13) and possession time (35:27-24:33). KSU got 340 of its yards rushing, the most against USC since California had 389 in 1991. However, the Trojans held the Wildcats to just 26 passing yards, the fewest by a USC opponent since Oregon State had no yards in 1993.

Scobey had a game-best and career-high 165 rushing yards on 27 carries and QB Eli Roberson added a career-best 119 yards on 21 tries, the first time a pair of opposing players rushed for 100 yards in a game against Troy since 1993.

For USC, Palmer had a team-best and career-high 60 yards on 12 carries (the most rushing yards by a Trojan quarterback since Reggie Perry's 60 versus Memphis State in 1991) and hit 16-of-36 passes for 197 yards, while WR Kareem Kelly had 7 catches for 75 yards (both game bests) and FB Charlie Landrigan caught 5 passes for 58 yards (both career highs).

Both punters had impressive performances, as USC's Mike MacGillivray averaged 41.6 yards on 9 boots and Brite averaged 43.1 yards on 8 kicks.

Trojan S Troy Polamalu had a game-high 13 tackles (2.5 for losses) and forced a fumble, Riley added 10 stops and S Antuan Simmons intercepted a pass (the eighth of his career).

Both teams were penalized 10 times and both teams penetrated the opponent's 30-yard line just 3 times.

GAME 3 – September 22, Eugene, Oregon
Oregon 24, USC 22
Att: 45,765

USC	3	3	7	9	–	22
Oregon	7	7	7	3	–	24

Freshman Jared Siegel hit a 32-yard field goal with 12 seconds to play to give No. 7 Oregon a dramatic 24-22 win on a warm evening before a sold-out crowd of 45,765 fans in noisy Autzen Stadium and a national FOX Sports Net cable audience.

The loss was USC's second straight heartbreaker of 2001 (both to Top 12 teams) and was reminiscent of Troy's previous visit to Eugene, a 33-30 triple overtime loss to the Ducks in 1999 that also was decided by a field goal despite a furious Trojan comeback. It was USC's unprecedented fourth consecutive loss to UO and it extended Oregon's school-record home winning streak to 23 games. It was the Pac-10 opener for both squads, as well as the Trojans' first road contest of the year.

USC trailed 21-6 midway through the third quarter before QB Carson Palmer threw a swing pass to TB Sultan McCullough, who raced 75 yards with it for a score (the longest reception of his career). Next, on the opening play of the fourth quarter with the Trojans pinned at their 7-yard line by a Duck punt, Palmer hit wide-open WR Kareem Kelly for a 93-yard score to pull within 21-19 (Palmer tripped to the ground on the unsuccessful 2-point conversion attempt). Kelly's catch was the longest of his career (and the longest in Autzen Stadium history), while Palmer's 2 TD tosses were the longest aerials in his career. Then, on USC's next possession, PK David Davis nailed a 39-yard field goal to give Troy a 22-21 lead with 10:20 to go. It was Davis' third 3-pointer of the evening (and they were the first of his career).

USC held Oregon on its next 2 possessions, with DE Bobby DeMars blocking PK David Rosenberg's 43-yard field goal try with 1:30 to go. But the Ducks stopped USC and got the ball back at their 24-yard line with 56 seconds to play, long enough to march 61 yards in 7 plays to the winning kick.

Oregon had a 14-6 halftime lead on a 35-yard trick pass from TB Onterrio Smith to TE Justin Peelle in the first quarter and a 38-yard scoring interception return by CB Steve Smith (he had 3 picks in the game, tying a stadium record) late in the second quarter. Davis provided USC with its early points on field goals of 32 yards late in the first quarter and a 43-yarder late in the second quarter. Oregon added a TD on its first possession of the second half (3 plays after Smith's third interception) when QB Joey Harrington hit Peelle for 21 yards.

Palmer—operating often out of a no-huddle attack—set the USC single game total offense record with 419 yards and was 4 yards shy of tying the school passing yardage mark as he threw for a career-high 411 yards while hitting 25-of-40 tosses, but he had 3 interceptions and was sacked 5 times. WR Keary Colbert had a game-best 6 grabs for 67 yards, while Kelly (with a game-high 165 yards) and TE Kori Dickerson (32 yards) each had 4 receptions.

The Trojans had the edge in total yards (451-303), plays (72-62) and possession time (32:08-27:52). USC averaged 6.3 yards per play, but managed only 40 rushing yards and was penalized 10 times.

For Oregon, Harrington was 22-of-35 for 188 yards (including 5-of-6 for 61 yards on the game-winning drive), Peelle had 6 catches for 95 yards, TB Maurice Morris ran for a game-high 86 yards on 15 carries and TB Allan Amundson returned 4 kickoffs for 181 yards (overall, Oregon returned 6 kickoffs for 228 yards).

LB Mike Pollard had a game-best 11 tackles for Troy.

It was the highest-ranked Oregon squad USC had ever faced. And, despite both teams coming off of byes, there was a reflective mood to the game as it was college football's first weekend of games since the tragic Sept. 11 hijackings on the East Coast.

GAME 4 – September 29, Los Angeles Coliseum
Stanford 21, USC 16
Att: 53,962

Stanford	7	14	0	0	–	21
USC	0	0	10	6	–	16

USC lost its third close game in a row, this time 21-16 to Stanford before 53,962 fans in the Coliseum and a live FOX Sports Net 2 local cable audience.

The Trojans, who dropped to 1-3 for the first time since 1961 (and 0-2 in the Pac-10 for the second consecutive season), have lost by a total of 11 points. It was Stanford's third win in a row over USC (also by a margin of just 11 points), the first time that has happened since 1954-56, and its first 3-0 start since 1986.

The Cardinal jumped off to a 21-0 halftime lead (Troy's largest halftime deficit since a 35-point gap in the 1994 Penn State game) on a 4-yard run by TB Kerry Carter in the first quarter and a pair of second quarter passes from QB Randy Fasani to FL Luke Powell (34 yards) and TE Brett Pierce (2 yards). The last 2 scores followed Trojan turnovers in USC territory.

The Trojans got untracked in the second half, sparked by some big defensive and special teams plays. First, after CB Kevin Arbet recovered a fumble (LB Frank Strong stripped Fasani of the ball), PK David Davis nailed a 41-yard field goal in the third quarter. Then 2 series later, after Arbet returned a punt a career-long 47 yards to the Stanford 8-yard line, TB Sultan McCullough ran it in on the next play. Finally, with 6:34 to play in the game, CB Chris Cash blocked PK Mike Biselli's 39-yard field goal try and CB Kris Richard raced 65 yards for a TD (USC's 2-point conversion try failed). It was Troy's first TD return with a blocked field goal since Jerald Henry's 60-yarder against California in 1994. The Trojans got the ball back again with 5:20 to go, but had to punt after 3 plays and Stanford ran out the clock (in fact, it was Troy's only possession of the quarter).

USC missed on several other scoring opportunities, getting within the Cardinal 36-yard line 4 times but coming away with no points (turning the ball over on downs, missing a 26-yard field goal, throwing an interception and being forced to punt), and were hampered by some untimely penalties (9 for 93 yards).

Overall, USC had just 268 total yards (only 28 on the ground, with just 1 rushing yard in the first half) to Stanford's 397 (only 166 came after the half, including just 44 passing). The Trojans held the ball only 24:12, converted only 4-of-15 third downs, had just 13 first downs and had 3 turnovers.

For USC, QB Carson Palmer was 22-of-42 for 240 yards, but had 2 interceptions, while WR Kareem Kelly caught a game-high 6 passes for 46 yards. Fasani was 11-of-25 for 194 yards and the 2 scores, but was picked off once and lost 2 fumbles (he added 43 yards on 10 rushes). Pierce caught 5 passes for 40 yards for Stanford, Powell had 4 grabs for a game-best 124 yards, Carter ran for 79 yards on 23 carries and TB Brian Allen added 63 yards on 12 tries.

S Troy Polamalu had a game-high 10 tackles and blocked a punt, LB Mike Pollard added 9 stops and 3 deflections, LB Chris Prosser had 8 tackles (with a sack) and S DeShaun Hill made 7 stops and intercepted a pass.

GAME 5 – October 6, Seattle, Washington
Washington 27, USC 24
Att: 72,946

USC	0	14	3	7	–	24
Washington	7	0	7	13	–	27

For the second time in the 2001 season, USC lost on a late field goal, this time as PK John Anderson kicked a 32-yard field goal at the gun to give No. 11 Washington a 27-24 win before 72,946 fans in sold-out Husky Stadium and a FOX Sports Net national cable audience in first meeting between the schools after a 2-year layoff.

It was USC's fourth consecutive loss of 2001 (by a total of just 14 points) and dropped the Trojans to 1-4, their worst start since 1958. It was also the Huskies' 12th straight win (and ninth Pac-10 victory in a row).

After UW scored late in the first quarter on a 7-yard pass from QB Cody Pickett to FL Todd Elstrom following a Trojan turnover, USC took a 14-7 halftime lead (its first at a half since the San Jose State opener) on a 21-yard pass from QB Carson Palmer to FB Charlie Landrigan (Landrigan's first-ever TD) and then a 22-yard interception return by S Troy Polamalu (the second scoring runback of his career).

The game see-sawed in the second half, starting with Washington tying the score on its opening possession on a 13-yard pass from QB Tyler Barton—who replaced an injured Pickett—to WR Reggie Williams. PK David Davis put USC back ahead on a 40-yard field goal later in the quarter. Anderson's 25-yard field goal tied it up again early in the fourth period and then, after Anderson missed a 35-yard try on UW's next possession, the Huskies took the lead with 5:35 to go on Barton's 14-yard toss to TB Willie Hurst. But USC struck right back to tie it at 24-24 as Palmer hit WR Kareem Kelly on a 58-yard bomb with 3:47 left. The Huskies then drove 49 yards to set up Anderson's game-winner.

The statistics were close at halftime, but the Huskies controlled the second half stats, allowing USC to hold the ball only 11:33 while getting more total yards (305 to 115), plays (42 to 23) and first downs (14 to 5) than the Trojans.

Overall, Washington had more total yards (441-286), plays (75-55), first downs (22-15) and possession time (32:57-27:03). Although USC was penalized just 3 times to UW's 10 (Troy's fewest since getting 3 at Notre Dame in 1999), the Trojans converted just 3-of-12 third downs and had a stretch after Davis' field goal of 4 consecutive 3-and-out series.

However, USC re-established its running game by getting 134 yards (including 71 by the end of the first quarter) after getting just 68 yards on the ground in the previous 2 games. TB Sultan McCullough ran for a game-high 132 yards (his ninth career 100-yard outing and second of 2001) on a career-best 32 carries (the most by a Trojan since Chad Morton ran 36 times versus UCLA in 1999). Palmer was 8-of-14 passing for 152 yards with the 2 TDs (his fewest completions since the 1998 Washington State game and his fewest attempts since the 1999 Oregon game), including 7-of-7 for 94 yards in the first half. Kelly caught 3 passes for 93 yards.

For Washington, Hurst had 102 yards on 19 rushes. Barton was 11-of-20 for 197 yards and 2 scores in relief of Pickett, who went 8-of-14 for 70 yards with a TD, and Williams had 5 grabs for 101 yards (both game highs).

Polamalu led USC with 13 tackles (2 for losses).

GAME 6 – October 13, Los Angeles Coliseum
USC 48, Arizona State 17
Att: 43,508

Arizona State	3	7	7	0	–	17
USC	0	21	14	13	–	48

USC snapped a 4-game losing streak in a big way as it overwhelmed Arizona State, 48-17, before 43,508 fans in the Coliseum and a live FOX Sports Net Syndicate audience.

It was USC's most points and biggest victory margin since a 62-7 win at Hawaii in the 1999 season opener, as well as the Trojans' most points at home since getting 61 versus California in 1994. It also ended USC's 8-game losing skid in October and evened its series with ASU at 9-9 (now no Pac-10 team leads a series with Troy).

Besides a 3-touchdown outing by QB Carson Palmer and a strong showing by the defense, USC had some unlikely offensive heroes, as 4 Trojans—FB Sunny Byrd, TEs Kori Dickerson and Alex Holmes and TB Darryl Poston—scored the first touchdowns of their careers.

After ASU opened the scoring with a 36-yard field goal by PK Mike Barth midway through the first quarter (Troy had minus 13 total yards in the quarter), USC scored 3 second-quarter TDs: a 21-yard pass from Palmer to Dickerson, a 20-yard Palmer pass to FB Charlie Landrigan and a 3-yard run by Byrd on his first career carry (he was running from the tailback spot because starting TB Sultan McCullough was sidelined late in the first quarter with a strained abdominal muscle). Byrd's score came a play after CB Kris Richard's interception off backup QB Matt Cooper, who came in when starter Jeff Krohn (he was second nationally in passing efficiency) was knocked out with an ankle sprain early in the quarter. However, Cooper brought the Sun Devils to within 21-10 when he hit WR Fulton Skyler on a 4-yard scoring toss with 11 seconds to go in the half.

USC took control in the second half on a 4-yard Palmer pass to Holmes on its opening drive, a 2-yard Byrd run late in the third quarter, a pair of field goals (36 and 29 yards) by PK David Davis early in the fourth quarter (coming after picks by LB Frank Strong and CB Kevin Arbet) and a 7-yard run by Poston late in the game.

ASU's only score came on a 6-yard reverse by WR Shaun McDonald late in the third quarter to close to 28-17.

Byrd finished with a game-best 63 yards on 20 carries (he was handed the ball on USC's last 16 rushes before Poston's TD, including on 8 consecutive plays). Palmer hit 18-of-26 passes for 295 yards and the 3 scores, including a game-high 5 completions each to WRs Kareem Kelly (for a game-best 127 yards) and Keary Colbert (85 yards). Palmer also ran for 28 yards on 8 tries.

USC had 413 yards of total offense and limited ASU to 298. The Sun Devils, who came into the contest averaging 45.5 points a game, had a season-low point production. USC's 3 interceptions were its most since getting the same amount against Louisiana Tech in 1999.

S Troy Polamalu had a game-high 8 tackles, while 3 of LB Matt Grootegoed's 7 tackles were for losses.

GAME 7 – October 20, South Bend, Indiana
Notre Dame 27, USC 16
Att: 80,795

USC	7	6	3	0	–	16
Notre Dame	3	7	7	10	–	27

Notre Dame, using a strong second half showing, beat USC for the third consecutive year, this time 27-16 before a sold-out crowd of 80,795 in South Bend and a national NBC-TV audience in the 75th anniversary of the series.

The Irish—trailing 13-10 at halftime—had 214 of their 346 total yards and 12 of their 19 first downs in the second half while holding the ball for 18:25 of that half. They limited Troy to just 98 yards and 3 first downs after the intermission (USC had 290 total yards, including 230 through the air, and 12 first downs overall). Notre Dame ran for 208 yards in the game. USC converted just 4 of 16 third downs on the day and had 3 turnovers, all in the fourth quarter. Notre Dame, which trailed 13-3 at one point, scored 24 of the game's final 27 points.

After Irish PK Nicholas Setta hit a 38-yard field goal on ND's first possession, the Trojans answered as QB Carson Palmer hit FB Chad Pierson for a 54-yard scoring pass (it was the first time Pierson touched the ball in 2001, following a back injury). Then, early in the second quarter, after S Troy Polamalu recovered an Irish fumble, WR Keary Colbert ran 20 yards with a Palmer aerial for another touchdown (PK David Davis' point after kick was wide) to put the Trojans up 13-3.

But, late in the half, after USC P Mike MacGillivray was stopped short on a fake punt at the USC 28, the Irish closed to 13-10 on TB Terrance Howard's 4-yard run.

LB Frank Strong recovered QB Carlisle Holiday's fumble near midfield on the opening drive of the second half, but the Trojans had to settle for Davis' 18-yard field goal after they couldn't get into the end zone despite having first-and-goal at the Irish 1.

Notre Dame recaptured the lead for good on its next possession, as Holiday raced 35 yards for a score. Late in the fourth quarter, Setta added a 29-yard field goal and TB Julius Jones ran for a 5-yard TD after Palmer fumbled the ball away.

USC FB Sunny Byrd, who started at tailback, led USC with 62 yards on 22 carries, Palmer was 19-of-30 for 230 yards and the 2 TDs, but was picked off twice, FB Charlie Landrigan had a game-best 6 catches for 46 yards and Colbert added 5 grabs for a game-high 88 yards.

For Notre Dame, Holiday ran for a game-best 98 yards on 18 carries and completed 9-of-12 passes for 133 yards, while Jones had 95 yards on 21 rushes.

LB Mike Pollard and S Troy Polamalu each had a game-topping 11 tackles, while 3 of DE Lonnie Ford's 8 tackles were for losses (he also forced a fumble) and 2 of DT Shaun Cody's 6 stops were sacks.

It was only the third time in the series' 73 games that both teams had losing records and just the eighth time that both squads were unranked.

GAME 8 – October 27, Tucson, Arizona
USC 41, Arizona 34
Att: 46,399

USC	3	28	0	10	–	41
Arizona	10	3	14	7	–	34

CB Kris Richard returned an interception 58 yards for a touchdown with 1:50 to play to give USC a wild 41-34 win at Arizona before 46,399 fans and a live FOX Sports Net Syndicate television audience.

The Trojans—who picked off 4 passes in the game and returned 2 for TDs—scored 28 unanswered points in the second quarter and led 31-10 just before halftime, but the Wildcats tallied 24 of the next 27 points to tie the game midway through the final quarter before Richard's heroics (he was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts).

After the teams traded first quarter field goals (a 24-yarder by UA's PK Sean Keel and a 32-yarder by Trojan PK David Davis), Wildcat CB Michael Jolivette picked off a deflected pass from QB Carson Palmer and ran it back 60 yards for a touchdown late in the opening quarter.

But Trojan CB Kevin Arbet returned the favor early in the second quarter, running back an intercepted pass from QB Jason Johnson 70 yards for a TD. Four plays after DE Omar Nazel picked off Johnson on UA's next series, Palmer hit TE Alex Holmes for a 1-yard TD. The Trojans scored on their next 2 possessions—a 1-yard run by TB Sunny Byrd and Palmer's 17-yard toss to TE Kori Dickerson—before Keel hit a 46-yard field goal at the halftime gun to make it 31-13.

Although it was all USC in the first half—Troy had a decided edge in first downs (14-6), plays (46-33) and total yards (215-157) while limiting the Wildcats to –16 yards rushing—Arizona turned the tide in the second half.

In the game, UA had more first downs (20-18) and total yards (412-312) as USC managed just 4 first downs and 97 total yards in the last half.

The Wildcats scored TDs on 3 of their first 5 possessions of the second half—a 22-yard run by HB Clarence Farmer and a 24-yard Johnson pass to WR Brandon Marshall in the third quarter and then a 9-yard run by Johnson with 7:05 to play—as USC could counter with only a career-long 47-yard field goal by Davis early in the fourth quarter.

Palmer was 24-of-49 for 248 yards with the 2 scores, but was picked off twice, WR Kareem Kelly had 5 catches for 64 yards (both team highs) and WR Keary Colbert added 4 grabs for 51 yards, and Byrd ran for 67 yards on 22 carries (Troy had just 64 rushing yards overall).

For UA, Johnson was 23-of-43 for a career-best 311 yards, including 8 throws to WR Bobby Wade for 84 yards, and Farmer had a game-high 78 yards on 17 tries.

USC S Troy Polamalu had a game-best 12 tackles, while CB Chris Cash added 8 stops and LB Mike Pollard had 7. Troy's defense posted 6 sacks, including a pair by DE Lonnie Ford and DT Shaun Cody in Trojan territory on UA's final 2 plays. USC's 4 interceptions (the fourth was by DE Bobby DeMars) was its most in a game since also getting 4 versus San Diego State in 1999 and its 2 scoring runbacks on picks was its most since doing so against Washington in 1998.

It was Arizona's fifth straight loss of 2001 and its 10th consecutive Pac-10 defeat.

GAME 9 – November 3, Los Angeles Coliseum
USC 16, Oregon State 13 (1 Overtime)
Att: 44,880

Oregon State	0	7	7	0	3	–	13
USC	7	0	3	0	6	–	16

QB Carson Palmer ran 4 yards on a naked bootleg for the game-winning touchdown in the first overtime period to give USC a 16-13 victory over Oregon State before a Homecoming crowd of 44,880 in the Coliseum and a regional ABC-TV audience, the second week in a row that the Trojans won a nail-biter.

The Beavers had driven to first-and-goal at the USC 5-yard line on their overtime possession, but USC's defense stiffened, forcing a 29-yard field goal by PK Ryan Cesca. Then, after 4 runs by TB Sunny Byrd on Troy's ensuing overtime possession, Palmer threaded a 9-yard pass to TE Alex Holmes on third-and-eight from the OSU 12 to set up Palmer's winning run in which he broke one tackle and dove to the flag while getting slammed by another Beaver.

The Trojans dodged defeat twice late in regulation when Cesca, the 2000 All-Pac-10 first team placekicker, missed field goals of 35 yards with 6:14 to play and 29 yards with 33 seconds to go.

USC won despite generating just 204 total yards of offense, its fewest since getting 189 at Florida State in 1998 (and its fewest in a win since getting 197 at Baylor in 1986). The Trojans ran for just 33 yards, saw Palmer sacked 6 times, averaged just 3.2 yards on their 64 offensive plays, had only 11 first downs (their fewest since getting 8 at Florida State in 1998), converted just 6-of-17 third downs and held the ball only 26:49.

With Oregon State was backed up deep in its own territory on its first possession, USC got on the board first when S Troy Polamalu blocked P Carl Tobey's punt and WR Steve Stevenson recovered it in the end zone (it was Polamalu's second blocked punt of 2000 and third of his career, as well as Stevenson's second career TD on a blocked punt).

Cesca hit a 24-yard field goal midway through the second quarter, but USC PK David Davis answered with a 30-yarder early in the third quarter. OSU then drove 96 yards to tie the game at 10-10 late in the third quarter, culminating on a 4-yard pass from QB Jonathan Smith to TB Steven Jackson.

Palmer was 21-of-28 for 171 yards and an interception (including 13-of-15 for 80 yards in the first half while connecting on his first 9 aerials), Byrd had a team-best 54 yards on 20 carries and WR Kareem Kelly caught a team-best 5 passes for 73 yards.

For OSU, Jackson came off the bench to run for a game-high 119 yards on 16 tries, TB Ken Simonton added 85 yards on 19 carries, Smith hit 20-of-33 passes for 203 yards with 1 pick and the TD, and WR James Newson had 6 catches for 94 yards (both game highs). The Beavers had 384 total yards (181 rushing) and averaged 5.1 yards on their 75 plays.

Polamalu and LB Mike Pollard each had a game-best 11 tackles (3 of Pollard's were for losses), while LB Frank Strong added 8 stops and recovered a fumble. Polamalu was named the Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week. USC sacked Smith 5 times. P Mike MacGillivray averaged 41.2 yards on his 10 punts.

The win was USC's 18th in a row over Oregon State in the Coliseum and gave Troy its first 2-game winning streak since early in the 2000 season.

GAME 10 – November 10, Berkeley, California
USC 55, California 14
Att: 33,506

USC	7	21	10	17	–	55
California	7	0	7	0	–	14

USC starters and reserves scored touchdowns on offense, defense and special teams as the Trojans overwhelmed California, 55-14, in front of 33,506 fans in Berkeley (it rained throughout the second half).

It was the most points and biggest victory margin by Troy since a 62-7 win over Hawaii in 1999 and the greatest over the Golden Bears since a 61-0 blanking in 1994 (it was also USC's most points ever in Berkeley). The outcome got Troy to .500 for the first time since the second game of the season and extended Cal's school-record losing streak to 12 games (it came just 6 days after head coach Tom Holmoe announced his resignation at season's end). It also snapped the Trojans' 3-game losing skid to the Bears.

After Cal drove 75 yards on the game's opening series, ending in a 5-yard TD run by QB Kyle Boller, USC scored the next 35 points. First, backup TB Chris Howard raced 25 yards through the right side late in the first quarter on his first carry of the game for his first career TD. USC got the ball back on the next play on S DeShaun Hill's interception and turned it into another TD on a 5-yard pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Kareem Kelly early in the second quarter. Midway through that period, S Troy Polamalu stepped in front of a Boller pass and returned it 58 yards for a score (his second TD interception of 2001 and the third of his career). Howard got his second touchdown run of the game on a 15-yarder around the left side late in the first half on his second carry of the day. The Trojans used a tricky fake field goal to score a touchdown on their opening possession of the second half as holder Mike MacGillivray flipped the ball to PK David Davis, who ran 3 yards around the left end.

Cal broke Troy's scoring run on an 8-yard TD toss from backup QB Reggie Robertson to WR Charon Arnold late in the quarter, but USC answered with a pair of Davis field goals (33 and 26 yards) and a 15-yard scoring dash by reserve TB Eric Reese (seeing his first-ever action at tailback) on its next 3 drives. The Bears got to the USC 5-yard line late in the game, but DE Kenechi Udeze sacked reserve QB Eric Holtfreter and forced a fumble, which LB John Cousins returned 89 yards for a TD.

The Trojans had a productive day, notching season highs bests in plays (84), first downs (27), rushing yards (213), possession time (35:09) and sacks (7) and allowed season lows in first downs (12), rushing yards (68), plays (60) and total offense (223). USC's 448 yards of total offense were its second most of 2001. Cal suffered from 10 penalties, converted just 2-of-12 third downs and had to punt 9 times.

Palmer was 18-of-35 for 230 yards (he also gained 45 yards on 8 rushes), Howard had a team-best 61 rushing yards on 8 tries, Kelly (88 yards) and WR Devin Pitts (32 yards) each caught 4 balls, Hill and LB Mike Pollard both made 6 tackles and walk-on CB Justin Tolliver had USC's third interception at game's end.

For Cal, TB Terrell Williams had a game-high 63 yards on 14 carries, Boller was 6-of-15 for 92 yards with the 2 picks and Arnold had 4 receptions for 36 yards.

The game was not televised, snapping a streak of 48 consecutive USC games on live TV.

GAME 11 – November 17, Los Angeles Coliseum
USC 27, UCLA 0

USC	14	3	7	3	–	27

In a thoroughly dominating performance, USC blanked No. 20 UCLA, 27-0, before 88,588 fans in the Coliseum and a national FOX Sports Net cable audience.

It was USC's first shutout in the crosstown series since 1947 (and its first of any team since 1998) and just the eighth overall whitewash in the 71-game rivalry. It was also the biggest margin of victory in the series since 1979. The Trojans, who became bowl eligible with the victory, posted their third consecutive win over the Bruins. It was also USC's fourth straight win in 2001 (and fifth in 6 games) after beginning the season at 1-4 and UCLA's fourth loss in a row after starting off 6-0.

The victory was so complete that the Trojans held UCLA to USC-opponent season lows in first downs (10), rushing yards (28), total yards (114, USC's lowest allowed since holding Oregon to 112 in 1988) and plays (55). UCLA's 28 rushing yards were its fewest against USC since gaining 23 in 1956 and its 86 passing yards were its fewest versus Troy since getting 86 in 1975 (the ground and air yardage was also UCLA's lowest in 2001). UCLA averaged just 2.1 yards per play, converted only 2-of-11 third downs and held the ball just 27:01. The Bruins penetrated USC territory on just 3 of their 12 drives and got no closer than the 22-yard line (that fourth quarter drive ended on CB Kevin Arbet's interception at the 2).

USC set the tone early, driving 80 yards in 8 plays on the game's opening possession for a touchdown, a 4-yard pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Keary Colbert (it was set up by TE Kori Dickerson's career-long 66-yard reception of a Palmer third down aerial). Then, as the first quarter ended, CB Antuan Simmons made an amazing through-the-legs interception of a QB Cory Paus pass that bounced off WR Brian Poli-Dixon and returned it 36 yards for a TD (the third scoring pick of his career). After S Troy Polamalu blocked P Nate Fikse's punt on UCLA's ensuing series (it was Polamalu's third blocked punt of 2001 and fourth of his career), PK David Davis made it 17-0 with a 20-yard field goal.

TB Chris Howard raced a career-long 34 yards for a TD late in the third quarter (the first offensive touchdown UCLA had allowed in the third quarter in 2001) and then, after Polamalu intercepted Paus 2 plays later, Davis hit another 20-yard field goal early in the final quarter to close out the scoring.

Palmer completed 14-of-23 passes for 180 yards (he was intercepted once, a short pass at the goal line late in the first half), with 3 throws each to Dickerson (for a career-best and game-high 92 yards), TE Alex Holmes (37 yards) and Colbert (26 yards). Howard had a game-best 49 yards on 8 carries, while FB Sunny Byrd added 40 yards on 20 carries out of the tailback spot. USC DT Shaun Cody made a game-high 8 tackles (3 for losses, with 2 sacks) and recovered a fumble. Polamalu was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts.

Paus was 7-of-15 for 45 yards with 2 interceptions and was sacked 5 times before being replaced after the third quarter by QB Scott McEwan (3-of-8 for 29 yards and a pick) and QB Ryan McCann (3-of-4 for 12 yards). Bruin WR Craig Bragg had a game-leading 6 receptions, but for just 29 yards, while TB Manuel White (subbing for ineligible TB DeShaun Foster, the Pac-10's leading rusher and scorer) had only 23 yards on 9 attempts.

GAME 12 – December 15, Las Vegas, Nevada
Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl
Utah 10, USC 6
Att: 22,385

Utah	7	3	0	0	–	10
USC	0	0	6	0	–	6

Behind a time-consuming, powerful running attack and a dominating defense, Utah beat USC, 10-6, in the 10th Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl before 22,385 fans and a national ABC-TV audience.

The outcome–the Trojans' fifth loss of 2001 by 5 or less points–snapped USC's 4-game winning streak and Utah's 2-game losing skid. It also ended the Utes' 6-game losing streak to USC (Utah last beat Troy in 1916).

The defensive struggle produced the lowest scoring Las Vegas Bowl ever. But that figured, as both squads were highly-ranked nationally in scoring defense (USC was 11th at 17.9 and Utah was 13th at 18.6).

Utah, which entered the game ranked in the Top 25 nationally in all 4 defensive categories, limited the Trojans to just 151 total yards, including only 1 yard rushing. It was USC's fewest total yards since getting 124 against Washington in 1996 and its fewest rushing yards since having -20 at Arizona in 1999. USC had just 12 first downs, converted only 2-of-12 third downs and was sacked 4 times (including twice by ROV Sheldon Deckart, who had a team-high 6 tackles). USC punted on 8 of its 11 possessions (including on its first 4 drives and its final 4), went 3-and-out 5 times and penetrated Utah territory only 4 times (getting inside the 30 just once). At halftime, USC had just 15 total yards (with -53 on the ground) and 3 first downs.

On offense, Utah–which was 12th nationally in rushing offense at 218.9–controlled the clock (holding the ball 16 minutes more than USC, 38:01 to 21:59) by running 54 times for 222 of its 358 total yards. The Utes ran off 75 plays (USC had just 51). HB Adam Tate ran for a game-best 103 yards on 23 carries, while fellow HB Dameon Hunter (a 1,000-yard runner in 2001) rushed for 94 yards on 17 tries and was named Utah's game MVP. Utah QB Lance Rice was 12-of-21 for 136 yards while hitting some timely passes, including a game-best 4 to WR Josh Lyman (for 41 yards) and 3 to TE Michael Richardson (for 35 yards).

Utah scored on its second possession of the game as Tate ran for a 3-yard TD to cap a 7-play, 48-yard drive late in the first quarter. Then, after USC PK David Davis–the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker in 2001–missed a 47-yarder (breaking his string of 12 consecutive successful field goals), the Utes drove 61 yards in 12 plays to set up PK Ryan Kaneshiro's 26-yard field goal with 29 seconds to play in the half.

USC came alive to start the second half, taking the opening kickoff and driving 80 yards in 12 plays, finishing with a 2-yard scoring run by FB Sunny Byrd (but Davis missed the PAT). But despite getting a pair of turnovers–CB Kris Richard recovered a fumble and LB John Cousins intercepted a pass–on Utah's next 2 possessions, the Trojans couldn't get any closer than the Ute 40-yard line the rest of the way.

Trojan QB Carson Palmer was 15-of-26 for 150 yards, while WRs Kareem Kelly (33 yards) and Devin Pitts (32 yards) each had 3 receptions.

Trojan All-American safety Troy Polamalu–picked as USC's game MVP–had a Las Vegas Bowl record and career-high 20 tackles (with a game record 12 solo), including 3 for losses, while S DeShaun Hill (14 stops and a forced fumble) and LB Frank Strong (12 tackles, including 4 for losses) also posted career bests in tackles.

It was USC's first game in the state of Nevada and its sixth contest on Christmas Day (but its first since 1934). The crowd was the smallest ever to see USC in a bowl and the fewest at a Trojan game since 20,938 showed up at Oregon State in 1997.

USC'S Record vs. Conference Foes

The information in this opponents' year-by-year section is, reading from left to right: (1) year; (2) date (with "Th" indicating a game played on Thanksgiving Day); (3) AP ranking going into the game, with USC's given first, and USC's opponent's given second; (4) other miscellaneous information ("N" for night game if contest began after 5:00 p.m. local time, "U" for upset if the result was considered a significant upset, time remaining in the game if a late score resulted in a win or tie, and weather conditions, with "R" indicating most of the game was played in the rain and "Sn" indicating most of the game was played in snow conditions); (5) game result (W, L or T); (6) game score, with USC's given first; (7) game site (home, away or neutral); and (8) attendance. It was compiled by Michael J. Glenn. USC appreciates his invaluable efforts.

ALL-TIME USC RECORD

The following is believed to be an accurate record of the outcome of all games of American football played by the USC varsity team. It was compiled by Michael J. Glenn. USC appreciates his invaluable efforts.

The information in this history is set forth in as brief a fashion as possible. To illustrate this, review the entries under 1989. Reading from left to right, the following information is given on the first line under the coach and captain data: (1) Date (Sept. 4); (2) Result (L-USC loss); (3) USC's Associated Press ranking going into the game (5); (4) USC's opponent (Illinois); (5) An indication that the game began after 5:00 p.m., local time (N); (6) An indication that the winning score occurred with 2:19 left in the game (2:19); (7) USC's opponent's Associated Press ranking going into the game (22); (8) Game score, with USC's point total given first (13-14); (9) An indication that the game was played at USC's home field (H); (10) Game attendance (54,622).

Other information may be noted on the line concerning the UCLA game. The "c" before the attendance figure indicates a capacity crowd. "(UCLA-13:43)" indicates that UCLA made the tying score with 13:43 left in the fourth quarter.

The line beneath the UCLA game record presents USC's regular season record, conference record, and conference finish, in that order. Next come the points scored and points given up.

Beneath this is USC's bowl game result, followed on the next line by USC's final overall record, USC's overall points scored and given up, and the season attendance total.

Other symbols: N1, N2, etc., indicate games played at a neutral site; (HC) indicates USC's Homecoming game; (U) indicates that the game result was a significant upset; (R) indicates that a major portion of the game was played in the rain; (Sn) indicates the game was played in snow conditions; and "Th" indicates a game played on Thanksgiving Day.

Records include games played by USC at site when USC was not the designated home team.

USC totals include all games played on campus, including games played at Bovard Field.

Rose Bowl totals include games played against UCLA.

Athletic Park took its name from its builder, the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Located on the northeast corner of Seventh and Alameda, it opened on Thanksgiving Day, 1891. The first major college football game played there was on Dec. 29, 1894, when Stanford defeated the University of Chicago, 28-0. Athletic Park gained national recognition when Los Angeles and Stockton of the California League played a night baseball game there on July 2, 1893. Los Angeles won, 5-2, before a crowd of 9,000. Twenty kerosene lamps and one swiveled search light were used.

Fiesta Park, located on the northwest corner of Grand and Pico, also dates from the 1890s. It was the site of what was apparently the first night college football game on Nov. 18, 1905. St. Vincent's College (now Loyola Marymount University) shut out the University of Arizona, 54-0. In 1916, a rebuilt Fiesta Park served as USC's home grounds. The following year, however, its bleachers were transported to USC to revamp Bovard Field.

At the turn of the century, Washington Park, at the corner of Washington and Grand, was primarily a baseball field. It was sometimes referred to as Chutes Park, after the adjacent amusement park. St. Vincent's College was located across the street. Washington Park was the early home of the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League.

A larger ball park for the Angels was built in 1911. Also known as Washington Park, this structure was located at Washington and Hill.

Prager Park served as USC's home in 1903. It was located near Chutes Park.

Tournament Park, located at the southeast corner of California and Wilson in Pasadena, served as the initial home of the "East-West" game, as the Rose Bowl was originally known. The Tournament of Roses Association acquired the property in 1901, and Michigan and Stanford played there in the first Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1, 1902. After a series of other sporting activities, football returned to the New Year's Day celebration in 1915, and continued at Tournament Park through 1922.

Sportsman's Park, located at North Los Robles and Colorado, was the site of USC's first Pasadena appearance, its first Thanksgiving game, and its first varsity football game outside of Los Angeles--all in 1889 against Pasadena. The game occurred just a month before Sportsman's Park hosted the initial Tournament of Roses.

Prior to 1893, USC's campus games were played on a field adjoining Jefferson. This field might have been the site of USC's first official football game in 1888.

In early 1893, the University's then-existing athletic grounds were developed, apparently for neighborhood housing. According to the Rostrum, USC's earliest student newspaper, the students petitioned for a replacement athletic field. Eventually they were granted space on the "northwest portion of campus."

These grounds, while appropriate for practice and practice games, were not suitable for major games. As a result, most of USC's important "home" games up until 1904 were played in rented space: Athletic Park, Fiesta Park, Washington Park, and Prager Park.

In the summer of 1904, USC's football field was "upgraded." Bleachers were constructed on the south side of the field, and a small stand was placed on the north side. A "kid-proof" fence was built around the site. At the start of the season, the site was referred to as "College Campus" in a published football schedule, but by the end of the year it had become "Bovard Field."

Bovard never appears to have been a very adequate home. USC still used Fiesta Park for some of its more important games up until 1908. In 1915, USC's first Los Angeles game against California was played at the new Washington Park, which was primarily a baseball venue. The following year, USC attempted to use a revitalized Fiesta Park as its home base. In the summer of 1917, the new bleachers at Fiesta Park were transported to USC's Bovard Field. These new seats increased Bovard's capacity to about 10,000.

The "new" Bovard was quickly obsolete. Interest in USC football, under Coach Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, outpaced the limits of even the expanded Bovard. By 1920, USC was playing its more important games in Pasadena, first at Tournament Park, and then at the Tournament of Roses' new stadium in the Arroyo Seco.

USC's last on-campus varsity football game was played on Sept. 29, 1923, against Cal Tech. The following week the Trojans played their initial game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

DRAMATIC FINISHES

Over the years, USC has been involved in many games featuring dramatic finishes at the end. Here's a sampling of some of the more famous such contests.

1931--USC 16, Notre Dame 14. Johnny Baker kicked a game-winning 33-yard field goal with 1:00 remaining. All of USC's points came in the fourth quarter. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten streak and was USC's first-ever win in South Bend. Troy won the national championship.

1938--USC 7, Duke 3 (1939 Rose Bowl). Al Krueger, a second-team end, and fourth-string quarterback Doyle Nave came off the bench to connect on 4 straight passes, the last a 19-yard TD with about 40 seconds left to upset previously unbeaten, untied and unscored-upon Duke.

1939--USC 0, UCLA 0. Bobby Robertson knocked down Ned Matthews' 4-yard pass in the end zone with less than 5 minutes to play to preserve the tie for USC, sending the Trojans to the Rose Bowl.

1941--USC 13, Oregon State 7. Doug Essick caught a game-winning 6-yard pass from Ray Woods with 13 seconds to play.

1953--USC 23, Stanford 20. Sam Tsagalakis kicked a victorious 38-yard field goal with 13 seconds left.

1958--USC 15, UCLA 15. Luther Hayes returned a kickoff 74 yards for a TD and Tom Maudlin ran in for the 2-point conversion with 6:50 to play to get the Trojans a tie.

1964--USC 26, California 21. Behind 21-14 in the fourth quarter, USC scored twice late, the second time (while trailing 21-20) on a 22-yard pass from Craig Fertig to Rod Sherman with 50 seconds to culminate a 95-yard drive.

1964--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Rod Sherman caught a 15-yard TD pass from Craig Fertig with 1:33 to play to upset unbeaten and top-ranked Notre Dame. USC was down, 17-0, at halftime.

1969--USC 26, Stanford 24. Ron Ayala kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 0:00 on the clock.

1973--USC 27, Stanford 26. Chris Limahelu kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 3 seconds to play.

1974--USC 18, Ohio State 17 (1975 Rose Bowl). Johnny McKay caught a 38-yard TD pass from Pat Haden with 2:03 remaining to pull USC to within a point of Ohio State. Then Shelton Diggs grabbed the subsequent 2-point conversion pass from Haden for the victory, which wrapped up a national championship for USC.

1977--USC 29, UCLA 27. Frank Jordan kicked a 38-yard field goal with 2 seconds remaining, knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1979--USC 17, LSU 12. Kevin Williams caught a game-winning 8-yard TD pass from Paul McDonald with 32 seconds to play.

1979--USC 17, Ohio State 16 (1980 Rose Bowl). Charles White scored on a 1-yard run with 1:32 remaining. USC drove 83 yards in 8 plays on the winning drive, with White carrying 6 times for 71 yards.

1981--USC 28, Oklahoma 24. Fred Cornwell caught a 7-yard TD pass from John Mazur with 2 seconds to play to give No. 1 USC the win over No. 2 Oklahoma.

1981--USC 14, Notre Dame 7. Todd Spencer ran 26 yards for the game-winning TD with 4:52 to play.

1981--USC 22, UCLA 21. George Achica broke through the line on the final play of the game to block Norm Johnson's 46-yard field goal try, preserving the win and knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1982--USC 17, Notre Dame 13. Michael Harper, fumbling as he dove over the goal line, scored on a controversial winning 1-yard run with 48 seconds to play. It was coach John Robinson's last game of his first tenure at USC.

1985--USC 17, UCLA 13. Rodney Peete scored the winning points on a 1-yard sneak at 1:13 to go.

1986--USC 17, Baylor 14. Don Shafer kicked a game-winning 32-yard field goal in a driving rainstorm with 0:00 on the clock.

1987--USC 12, Arizona 10. Quin Rodriguez kicked an 18-yard field goal with 1:11 remaining, his fourth three-pointer of the game.

1987--USC 17, UCLA 13. Erik Affholter made a juggling, corner-of-the-end zone 33-yard TD catch of a Rodney Peete pass with 7:59 to play in the game, bringing USC all the way back from a 13-0 third quarter deficit. The win put USC in the Rose Bowl.

1988--USC 24, Stanford 20. John Jackson caught a game-winning 10-yard TD pass from Rodney Peete with 1:19 remaining. USC trailed, 13-0, in the second quarter.

1989--USC 18, Washington State 17. Known as "The Drive," Todd Marinovich guided USC 91 yards in 18 plays (all through the air) with 3:31 remaining, culminating with a 2-yard TD pass to Ricky Ervins with 4 seconds to play. Marinovich then hit Gary Wellman for the winning 2-point conversion.

1989--USC 10, UCLA 10. A 54-yard field goal try by UCLA's Alfredo Velasco with 2 seconds to play hit the crossbar and bounced away, preserving the tie.

1989--USC 17, Michigan 10 (1990 Rose Bowl). Rose Bowl MVP Ricky Ervins ran 14 yards for the winning TD with 1:10 to play to cap a 75-yard drive.

1990--USC 35, Ohio State 26. The second half was played in heavy rain with thunder and lightning, getting so bad that officials suspended the game with 2:36 to play after USC recovered an onside kick.

1990--USC 31, California 31. Cal's Robbie Keen missed a 43-yard field goal try with 4 seconds remaining, ending the game in a tie.

1990--USC 45, UCLA 42. In the highest-scoring and perhaps most thrilling USC-UCLA game, Todd Marinovich threw a game-winning 23-yard TD pass to Johnnie Morton with 16 seconds left. The contest featured a 42-point fourth quarter (including 3 TD's in the final 3:09) with 4 lead changes. Morton also caught a 21-yard scoring TD from Marinovich with 3:09 to play to give USC a short-lived 38-35 lead, but Kevin Smith scored on a 1-yard run with 1:19 to go to put the Bruins up 42-38.

1992--USC 31, San Diego State 31. San Diego State's Andy Trakas missed 2 field goals (30 and 55 yards) in the last 0:54 to allow USC to hold onto the tie.

1992--USC 27, California 24. Down 24-13, Estrus Crayton scored twice in the final 5:45 on 2- and 1-yard runs, the second with 2:27 to play to give USC the win. Brian Williams' interception with 2:19 to go sealed Troy's victory.

1995--USC 21, Washington 21. Down 21-0 going into the fourth quarter, USC scored 3 touchdowns, the last a 2-yard pass from Brad Otton to Johnny McWilliams with 33 seconds to go (Adam Rendon's PAT tied it), thus allowing the Trojans to keep hold of the inside track in the Rose Bowl race.

1995--USC 31, Stanford 30. A week after the dramatic Washington tie, USC--behind 16-0 in the second quarter--scored with 39 seconds to play on an 8-yard Kyle Wachholtz pass to Keyshawn Johnson, who then came in as a safety on defense and knocked down a Hail Mary pass at the goal line at the gun.

1996--USC 29, Washington State 24. Delon Washington's 17-yard TD run with 2:05 to play proved decisive and then USC had to hold off the Cougars, who got to the Trojan 11-yard line with 39 seconds to go before fumbling the ball away.

1996--USC 27, Notre Dame 20. In its first overtime win in 3 tries in 1996, Delon Washington scored on a 15-yard run with 1:50 to go in regulation and then barely edged the ball over the goal line on the ensuing 2-point conversion run to tie the game at 20-20. After Rodney Sermons caught a 5-yard TD pass from Brad Otton in the first overtime, Troy stopped the Irish, breaking USC's 13-game non-winning streak to Notre Dame.

1997--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to go--4 plays after Mark Cusano ran 27 yards with an interception--gave USC its first win in South Bend since 1981.

1997--USC 24, Oregon 22. Marc Matock partially deflected Joshua Smith's 36-yard field goal try that fell just short with 8 seconds to play to preserve the win.

2000--USC 17, Colorado 14. David Newbury, who had missed a pair of field goals earlier in the game, nailed a 24-yarder with 13 seconds to play for the victory.

2000--USC 34, San Jose State 24. USC, trailing by 12 points midway through the fourth quarter, scored 22 unanswered points in the final 8:07 to win.

2000--USC 44, Arizona State 38. After Arizona State scored 29 consecutive second-half points to force overtime, Chad Pierson scored on a 2-yard run in the second overtime and then Sultan Abdul-Malik forced a Sun Devil fumble which Matt Childers recovered to seal the win.

2000--USC 38, UCLA 35. David Bell, USC's third string kicker at the start of the season, hit a game-winning 36-yard field goal with 9 seconds to play (it was only his second field goal in 6 career attempts, as he had missed 3 previous tries in 2000, including a 24-yarder earlier in the game's fourth quarter).

2001--USC 16, Oregon State 13. Carson Palmer ran 4 yards on a naked bootleg for the game-winning touchdown in the first overtime period (USC dodged defeat twice late in regulation when Ryan Cesca missed 35- and 29-yard field goals).

Of course, USC has been on the wrong end of some dramatic last-minute finishes, too. For instance, there was the 1926 Notre Dame game (Art Parisien threw a 23-yard TD pass to Butch Niemiec with 2 minutes to go for a 13-12 Irish win), the 1937 Notre Dame game (Mario Tonnelli ran 13 yards for a TD with 1:45 left in the Irish's 13-6 win), the 1944 UCLA game (Johnny Roesch scored twice in the last 2 minutes, including an 80-yard punt return with no time on the clock, and then Bob Waterfield's extra point kick hit the crossbar but rolled over, to give UCLA a 13-13 tie), the 1948 Notre Dame game (Emil Sitko ran for a 2-yard TD with 35 seconds to go and Steve Oracko hit the extra point as Notre Dame, riding a 27-game unbeaten streak, escaped with a 14-14 tie), the 1954 Notre Dame game (Jim Morse caught a 72-yard pass from Ralph Guglielmi with 5:57 to go to give Notre Dame a 23-17 victory), the 1963 Notre Dame game (Ken Ivan kicked a 33-yard field goal with 6:38 to go as Notre Dame won, 17-14), the 1965 UCLA game (Kurt Altenberg caught a 52-yard scoring bomb from Gary Beban with about 4 minutes to play as UCLA overcame a 16-6 deficit and won, 20-16), the 1967 Rose Bowl (USC's 2-point conversion pass attempt with 2:28 to play was intercepted by George Catavolos, allowing Purdue to hold onto a 14-13 win), the 1975 Stanford game (Mike Langford kicked a 37-yard field goal with no time on the clock as Stanford won, 13-10), the 1977 Alabama game (under pressure from Alabama's Wayne Hamilton,Rob Hertel's 2-point conversion pass to Mosi Tatupu with 35 seconds to play was intercepted by Barry Krauss, sealing the Tide's 21-20 victory), the 1980 UCLA game (Freeman McNeil pulled down a tipped 58-yard pass from Jay Schroeder for the game-winner at 2:07 to play for a 20-17 win), the 1982 UCLA game (Bruin Karl Morgan preserved UCLA's 20-19 win by sacking Scott Tinsley on an attempted 2-point conversion pass after USC had scored at the gun), the 1986 Notre Dame game (the Irish rallied back from a 20-9 halftime deficit, culminated by John Carney's 19-yard field goal as time expired to give Notre Dame a 38-37 win), the 1989 Illinois game (a pair of late fourth quarter Jeff George TD passes, the second to Steve Williams with 2:19 to play, gave the Illini a 14-13 win), the 1991 Stanford game (USC went ahead 21-17 with 3:37 to play only to see Steve Stenstrom hit Chris Walsh with a game-winning 12-yard TD pass with 1:11 left; USC's Cole Ford barely missed a 45-yard field goal at the gun), the 1992 UCLA game (UCLA came back from a 31-17 fourth quarter deficit to go ahead 38-31, only to see Rob Johnson score on a 1-yard sneak with 41 seconds to play, but Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Yonnie Jackson was deflected by Bruin Nkosi Littleton), the 1993 Penn State game (Rob Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Johnny McWilliams with 37 seconds to go fell bounced incomplete, allowing the Nittany Lions to hold on to a 21-20 win), the 1993 UCLA game (a win or tie would have put USC in the Rose Bowl, but Rob Johnson's 3-yard, third-down pass with 56 seconds to play to Tyler Cashman was intercepted in the end zone by Bruin Marvin Goodwin to preserve UCLA's 27-21 victory), the 1996 Arizona State game (after ASU tied the game at 28-28 with 1:30 to play, the teams went to double overtime with Sun Devil Courtney Jackson returning a controversial Brad Otton fumble 85 yards for a TD in the second overtime to end the game in ASU's favor, 48-35), the 1996 UCLA game (USC held a 17-point lead with less than 7 minutes to play in regulation but couldn't hold on and then, in its second double overtime game of the season, the Trojans couldn't score in the second overtime after Skip Hicks' 25-yard TD run gave the Bruins a 48-41 victory), the 1997 Washington State game (Kevin McKenzie made a one-handed grab of a 51-yard Ryan Leaf TD pass with 4:18 to play to give WSU a 28-21 win), the 1998 California game (the Bears scored 22 unanswered points in the final 19 minutes, including a decisive 3-yard TD run by Marcus Fields with 3:30 to play), the 1999 Oregon game (third string kicker Josh Frankel hit a 27-yard field goal in the third overtime to give Oregon a 33-30 win), the 1999 Notre Dame game (the Irish scored 22 unanswered points in the second half, the last when Jabari Holloway recovered a Notre Dame fumble in the end zone with 2:40 to go for a 25-24 win), the 2000 Stanford game (backup Chris Lewis threw a 20-yard TD pass to Jamien McCullum on fourth-and-goal as time expired to give Stanford a 32-30 win), the 2001 Oregon game (after Oregon drove 61 yards on 7 plays in the final minute, Jared Siegel hit a 32-yard field goal with 12 seconds to play for the 24-22 victory) and the 2001 Washington game (John Anderson kicked a 32-yard field goal at the gun to give Washington a 27-24 win).

"THE COMEBACK"

1974: USC 55, Notre Dame 24

In what is regarded as one of the most dramatic and incredible comebacks in the history of college football, the 1974 Trojans erased a 24-point deficit to beat Notre Dame, 55-24, in the Coliseum. In a December 1998 list by SPORT magazine, the game was ranked as the No. 6 top college football moment of the 20th century.

USC trailed the Irish, 24-0, late in the first half, and the Trojans' chances looked bleak because Notre Dame sported the nation's top-ranked defense. But with 10 seconds remaining before halftime, Anthony Davis scored on a 7-yard pass from Pat Haden (Troy missed the 2-point conversion) to send the Trojans into the lockerroom behind 24-6...but with a glimmer of hope.

Davis took the opening kickoff of the second half and raced 102 yards for a score, opening the floodgates as USC rallied for 35 points in the third quarter. Davis scored 2 more times that quarter, both on short runs, and Haden threw TD passes of 18 and 45 yards to Johnny McKay.

Then, before 2 minutes had elapsed in the fourth quarter, Haden hit Shelton Diggs for a 16-yard score and Charles Phillips returned an interception 58 yards for a touchdown.

In all, USC blitzed to its 55 points in under 17 minutes.

"We turned into madmen," was how Davis described the comeback.

Added receiver Johnny McKay, son of USC coach John McKay, right after the game: "I can't understand it. I'm gonna sit down tonight and have a beer and think about it. Against Notre Dame? Maybe against Kent State...but Notre Dame?"

The victory propelled USC, which then beat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, 18-17, to the national championship.

Interestingly, that Rose Bowl win was dramatic, too. USC trailed, 17-10, with just minutes left. Then Haden teamed with McKay on a 38-yard TD pass with 2:03 to go, and followed that with a 2-point conversion toss to Diggs for the victory.

USC: AMERICA'S BOWL TEAM

USC has a remarkable record in bowl games. The Trojans have the nation's sixth highest bowl winning percentage (.625) among the 61 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances (behind only Oklahoma State's .692, Penn State's .667, Georgia Tech's .667, Florida State's .655 and Oklahoma's .643). USC is just 4 wins behind Alabama for most bowl victories, 29 to 25. Troy's 40 bowl appearances rank fourth behind only Alabama (51), Tennessee (42) and Texas (41), and are tied with Nebraska. USC once won 9 consecutive bowl games (the 1923-30-32-33-39-40-44-45 Rose Bowls and 1924 Christmas Festival); only Florida State has won more in a row (11).

USC's overall post-season record is 25-15. The Trojans were a bowl participant each year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Troy has appeared in an unprecedented 28 Rose Bowls, where it has a 20-8 mark. That's not only the most Rose Bowl wins of any team, but also the most wins by a school in a single bowl. USC has won 7 of its last 9 Rose Bowls. USC has also appeared in 10 other bowls--the Christmas Festival, Liberty Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Aloha Bowl, Florida Citrus Bowl, Sun (John Hancock) Bowl (twice), Freedom Bowl (twice), Cotton Bowl and Las Vegas Bowl.

USC BOWL GAME SUMMARIES

USC 14, Penn State 3

In the first Rose Bowl game played in the present Rose Bowl stadium, USC, a substitute Western entry for California, which had declined the invitation, defeated Penn State, 14-3. USC's first touchdown was set up by Harold Galloway, who caught a pass while flat on his back at the two-yard line. Penn State arrived at the game 45 minutes late after being caught in a traffic jam, and the game concluded in moonlight as sportswriters had to strike matches to complete their stories.

USC	0	7	7	0	-- 14
Penn State	3	0	0	0	-- 3

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Campbell, Baker. PAT, Hawkins (2).
Penn State--Field Goal, Palm.

1924 Christmas Festival
USC 20, Missouri 7

Played on Christmas Day in the Coliseum, USC posted one of its biggest wins in its early history, 20-7 over Missouri. The Trojans stopped the Tigers early, then dominated the latter part of the contest, with Hayden Pythian, Wallace Newman and Henry Lefebvre starring.

Missouri	0	0	0	7	-- 7

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Lefebvre, Badgro, Pythian. PAT, Hawkins (2).
Missouri--Touchdown, Walsh. PAT, Unknown.

1930 Rose Bowl
USC 47, Pittsburgh 14

Quarterbacks Russ Saunders and Marshall Duffield combined to pass for 279 yards and four touchdowns to lead Coach Howard Jones' first USC Rose Bowl team past Pittsburgh, 47-14. Saunders' first three passes went for touchdowns, two to Trojan end Harry Edelson. USC built a 26-0 halftime lead in coasting to the triumph.

USC	13	13	14	7	-- 47
Pittsburgh	0	0	7	7	-- 14

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Edelson (2), Duffield (2), Pinckert, Saunders, Wilcox. PAT, Shaver (2), Baker (2), Duffield.

1932 Rose Bowl
USC 21, Tulane 12

Erny Pinckert ran for touchdowns of 25 and 30 yards to lead USC's Thundering Herd to a 21-0 halftime lead, and the Trojans held off Bernie Bierman's Tulane team in the second half for a 21-12 victory. Six USC players on that team were named All-American during their college careers.

USC	0	7	14	0	-- 21

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Sparling, Pinckert (2). PAT, Baker (3).
Tulane--Touchdowns, Haynes, Glover.

Attendance: 75,562 Date: Jan. 1

1933 Rose Bowl
USC 35, Pittsburgh 0

Quarterback Cotton Warburton scored two touchdowns as USC wore down a lighter Pittsburgh team for a 35-0 win. Warburton, a 145-pounder who went on to become one of the Trojans' greatest backs, broke the game open in the second half.

USC	7	0	7	21	-- 35

Scoring: USC--Touchdown, Schindler, Krueger. PAT, Jones, Gaspar.

Attendance: 92,200 Date: Jan. 1

1944 Rose Bowl
USC 29, Washington 0

In the only Rose Bowl game which was not intersectional (because of wartime travel restrictions), USC raced past Washington, 29-0. Quarterback Jim Hardy led the Trojans, throwing three touchdown passes. Washington entered the game as a strong favorite.

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, G. Callanan (2). G. Gray (2). PAT, Jamison (3). Safety, Planck blocked Austin's punt which was recovered in end zone by Washington.

Attendance: 68,000 Date: Jan. 1

1945 Rose Bowl
USC 25, Tennessee 0

Quarterback Jim Hardy passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third as USC defeated Tennessee, 25-0. Hardy thus in two games threw for five touchdowns and scored a sixth. Tennessee fielded a predominantly freshman team.

1963 Rose Bowl
USC 42, Wisconsin 37

John McKay made his debut in the Rose Bowl as USC coach and saw his undefeated national champion Trojans outscore Wisconsin, 42-37. USC, with Pete Beathard throwing four touchdown passes, ran up a 42-14 lead. Then Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen got hot, bringing the Badgers to within five points when time ran out. VanderKelen completed 33 of 48 passes for 401 yards, and 11 Rose Bowl records were broken.

USC	7	14	14	7	-- 42
Wisconsin	7	0	7	23	-- 37

1967 Rose Bowl
Purdue 14, USC 13

A two-point conversion attempt by USC with less than three minutes remaining was foiled and Purdue emerged a 14-13 victor. After Troy Winslow flipped a 19-yard touchdown pass to Rod Sherman, Boilermaker back George Catavolos intercepted the conversion pass. Perry Williams scored both Purdue touchdowns on short bursts.

Purdue	0	7	7	0	-- 14

Ohio State 42, USC 21

The 1974 game was a reverse of the 1973 contest as Ohio State, held to a 14-14 tie at halftime, exploded in the second half for a 42-21 win over USC. Freshman fullback Pete Johnson scored three touchdowns and Archie Griffin ran for 149 yards. But the Player of the Game was OSU quarterback Cornelius Greene, who completed six of eight passes for 129 yards and scrambled effectively.

1975 Rose Bowl
USC 18, Ohio State 17

Rhodes scholar Pat Haden threw a 38-yard touchdown pass late in the game to John McKay, the coach's son, then fired a two-point conversion pass to Shelton Diggs to give USC a narrow 18-17 win over Ohio State and the national title. Haden threw for 181 yards and two touchdowns to offset the loss of Anthony Davis, who suffered a rib injury.

1975 Liberty Bowl
USC 20, Texas A&M 0

1977 Rose Bowl
USC 14, Michigan 6

After an opening game loss, USC won its 11th-straight game by grinding out a 14-6 win over Michigan. Michigan's Rob Lytle opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge, but Trojan quarterback Vince Evans got that back with a one-yard rollout. Freshman tailback Charles White, filling in for the injured Ricky Bell, rushed for 122 yards, including a seven-yard scoring jaunt that closed out the scoring for USC. John Robinson became only the second rookie coach from the Pac-8 to capture a Rose Bowl.

1977 Bluebonnet Bowl
USC 47, Texas A&M 28

In a wild game in Houston's Astrodome, USC beat Texas A&M, 47-28. Down 14-0 in the first quarter, the Trojans scored the next 34 points and coasted to victory. Both teams combined for 1,139 yards of total offense, including 620 by USC. Dwight Ford raced 94 yards for a score, a USC record, while Rob Hertel threw four touchdown passes (including two to Calvin Sweeney).

1979 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Michigan 10

In a tough defensive struggle, the Pac-10 ran its victory string to five in a row as USC outlasted Michigan 17-10. Trojan tailback Charles White rushed for 99 yards and scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown on a disputed three-yard plunge in the second quarter. Michigan quarterback Rick Leach almost brought the Wolverines back from a 14-point halftime deficit by completing eight of 11 second-half passes, including a 44-yard scoring bomb to Roosevelt Smith. White and Leach shared Player of the Game honors.

1980 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Ohio State 16

USC's Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White stole the show as he led the Trojans to a come-from-behind win in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. White, named Player of the Game for the second straight year, rushed for a Rose Bowl record 247 yards, including a one-yard touchdown dive with 1:32 remaining in the game that gave USC the win. The Trojans jumped out to an early 10-0 lead, but Ohio State came back to take a 16-10 lead in the fourth quarter. Then White took over. With 5:21 remaining in the game, the Trojans got the ball on their own 17-yard line. USC marched 83 yards in eight plays, all on the ground. On the winning drive, White carried six times for 71 yards.

1982 Fiesta Bowl
Penn State 26, USC 10

Penn State's fine defense and key Trojan miscues led to USC's first non-Rose Bowl post-season defeat, 26-10. Marcus Allen, who was held to 85 yards, fumbled away the ball on USC's first possession and the Lions' Curt Warner, who gained 145 yards, went in to score several plays later. USC's only touchdown came on a 20-yard interception by Chip Banks.

1985 Rose Bowl
USC 20, Ohio State 17

USC's defense prevailed over Ohio State's potent offense featuring Heisman Trophy runnerup Keith Byars, 20-17. Interceptions set up USC's two touchdowns and the Trojan defense also stopped two key Buckeye drives--one early in the contest that got to the four-yard line and one late in the game which ended up at the 38. For USC, Tim Green threw touchdown passes to Joe Cormier and Timmie Ware while Steve Jordan kicked two 51-yard field goals. Most of Ohio State's points were provided by Rich Spangler, who hit three field goals.

1985 Aloha Bowl
Alabama 24, USC 3

The nation's top two bowl teams (USC with the most wins and Alabama with the most appearances) faced off in balmy Honolulu. The score was tied at halftime, 3-3, but the Crimson Tide rolled in the second half to win, 24-3. USC managed only 197 total yards (just 61 rushing) and 10 first downs. On the other hand, Alabama had 317 total yards, 205 coming on the ground. Mike Shula, Al Bell, Gene Jelks, Cornelius Bennett and Jon Hand starred for the Crimson Tide.

1987 Florida Citrus Bowl
Auburn 16, USC 7

In Ted Tollner's final game as USC's head coach, his Trojan defense held down a high-powered Auburn offense (led by Brent Fullwood, the nation's top runner). But Troy's offense was ineffective and the Tigers won, 16-7, in chilly Orlando. Outside linebacker Marcus Cotton provided USC with its only score on a spectacular 24-yard scoring interception return early in the game. Two long second-quarter drives by Auburn, plus a safety late in the game, gave Auburn its only points. USC made it interesting at the end after Louis Brock blocked a Tiger punt, but the Trojans couldn't score on fourth-and-inches at the goal line. Fullwood had 152 yards rushing and one TD for Auburn, which had just 290 total yards on the day.

1988 Rose Bowl
Michigan State 20, USC 17

For just the fifth time ever, teams that had played each other earlier in the season (Michigan State had beaten USC in the 1988 season opener, 27-13) faced off in the Rose Bowl. The Spartans prevailed again, this time 20-17, breaking a six-game Big Ten losing streak in Pasadena. Despite getting more total yards (410 to 276) and first downs (21 to 11) than Michigan State, the Trojans were hurt by five turnovers, including a lost fumble on a mishandled snap on the Spartan 30 with 1:37 to play as Troy was marching downfield on an impressive drive. USC trailed 14-3 at halftime, but two touchdowns passes from quarterback Rodney Peete to split end Ken Henry eventually evened the score at 17-17 midway through the last quarter. On the next series, Michigan State moved into its winning field goal position with the help of a spectacular 36-yard jump pass from quarterback Bobby McAllister to split end Andre Rison. USC had to play Michigan State for the second time that season without star Trojan tailback Steven Webster (he sat out the opener with a sprained ankle and tore knee ligaments in the regular season finale against UCLA).

1989 Rose Bowl
Michigan 22, USC 14

In a "teacher-versus-pupil" matchup (USC coach Larry Smith served under Wolverine coach Bo Schembechler at both Miami of Ohio and Michigan), the teacher got the better of it as Michigan came back from a 14-3 halftime deficit to win 22-14. It was a disappointing way for USC to conclude its 100th anniversary of football. After falling behind 3-0 on a Mike Gillette field goal, USC charged back as quarterback Rodney Peete ran for a pair of short touchdowns (1 and 4 yards) in the second quarter. But it was all Michigan in the second half, as the Wolverines amassed 230 of their 352 total yards then. They scored 3 times on long drives, the first on a 6-yard Demetrius Brown-to-Chris Calloway aerial that capped a 67-yard drive to open the third quarter. Then Rose Bowl MVP Leroy Hoard scored twice for Michigan on 1-yard runs in the final period, coming off of 92 and 70-yard drives. Hoard had 142 yards rushing (the first time anyone broke the century rushing mark against the Trojans all year), including a key 61-yard run to set up the Wolverines' final score. USC, which managed a season-low 296 total yards, didn't help its cause with 5 turnovers, 11 penalties and numerous missed tackles. The win was only Schembechler's second in 9 tries in Pasadena.

1990 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Michigan 10

After losing the previous 2 Rose Bowls, USC beat Michigan, 17-10, in a rematch of the 1989 game. The win, in Bo Schembechler's final game as Wolverine coach, ended Michigan's national title hopes. It was a bittersweet victory for USC coach Larry Smith, who served 6 years as an assistant under Schembechler at Miami of Ohio and Michigan. Trojan tailback Ricky Ervins, the Rose Bowl MVP, scored the game-winning TD on a 14-yard run with 1:10 to play. Ervins, who lives 5 minutes from the Rose Bowl and used to park cars there on New Year's Day, ran for 126 yards on 30 carries and caught 5 passes for 44 yards. USC, which dominated the stats, pulled off a key play early in the second quarter when defensive guard Dan Owens blocked a punt. Six plays later, quarterback Todd Marinovich, who was 22-of-31 passing for 178 yards, scored on a 1-yard run. Kickers J.D. Carlson of Michigan (19 yards) and USC's Quin Rodriguez (34 yards) then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run by tailback Allen Jefferson in the third quarter and the game looked like it would end deadlocked. But, with less than 6 minutes to go, Michigan was called for holding on a successful Wolverine fake punt and USC took over at its 25-yard line. Troy then went 75 yards in 11 plays for the winning score. Michigan tailback Leroy Hoard became the first player to run for 100-plus yards against USC all season (he had 108 yards on 17 carries).

1990 John Hancock Bowl

Playing in its eighth different bowl, USC lost to Michigan State, 17-16, in the John Hancock Bowl in El Paso, Tex., on New Year's Eve day. It was the 900th game in Trojan gridiron history. USC dominated the stats, getting more total yards (336-215), plays (76-52), first downs (21-12) and possession time (35:45-24:15). Troy limited the powerful Spartan rushing attack (which averaged 253.9 yards a game to rank 10th nationally) to an MSU season-low 84 yards. Big Ten rushing champ tailback Tico Duckett got just 18 yards. But Troy had 4 costly turnovers (including 2 in MSU's end zone) and converted only 5 of 14 first downs. USC scored first when quarterback Todd Marinovich hit flanker Gary Wellman with a 7-yard TD pass late in the opening quarter. Marinovich was 18-of-30 for 174 yards, but threw 3 interceptions (including 1 in the end zone) and also fumbled the ball on fourth-and-goal at the Spartan 1-yard line in the middle of the second quarter (which MSU recovered in the end zone). Michigan State marched 80 yards to a TD after that fumble recovery, with tailback Hyland Hickson scoring on an 18-yard run to tie the score at 7-7 at halftime. After placekicker Quin Rodriguez hit a 20-yard field goal on USC's opening possession of the second half (which ended on the MSU 3-yard line), the Spartans countered with a 21-yard TD pass from quarterback Dan Enos to flanker Courtney Hawkins (the first TD reception by a MSU wide receiver all year), who was the game's MVP with 6 catches for a season-high 106 yards, and a career-long 52-yard field goal by John Langeloh. Rodriguez capped USC's next series with a career-long 54-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter. Then, down 17-13, cornerback Stephon Pace intercepted an Enos pass to give USC the ball near midfield. But the Trojans could get no closer than the MSU 17 before backup quarterback Shane Foley's errant pitch stalled the drive and USC had to settle for another Rodriguez field goal, this one 43 yards with 5:54 to play. Troy, however, could never get the ball back. Tailback Mazio Royster had a game-high 125 yards on 32 carries, only the second player to break the century rushing mark against Michigan State in 1990. USC rushed for 156 yards versus an MSU defense which was ranked 17th nationally against the run (allowing just 113.2 yards a game). Trojan outside linebacker Craig Hartsuyker, who had 2 quarterback sacks and forced a fumble, was named the game's Most Valuable Lineman.

Fresno State 24, USC 7

USC, making its 35th bowl appearance, was stunned by unranked, 8-point underdog Fresno State, 24-7, in the ninth Freedom Bowl in Anaheim Stadium. It was the first meeting ever between the Trojans and Bulldogs. Fresno State dominated, particularly in the second half. FSU, with the nation's No. 1 scoring offense (40.5) and No. 2 total offense (482.9), held the ball 15-plus minutes more (37:32-22:28), had 322 more total yards (405-183), 10 more first downs (24-14) and 34 more plays (84-50). USC's 183 total yards were its fewest since getting 163 at Washington in 1990 and its 95 passing yards were its fewest since getting 74 at Oregon in 1991. The Trojans had 4 turnovers (FSU had none) and converted just 1-of-9 third downs. The first half, played in a steady rain, ended in a 7-7 tie. It was the fewest points FSU had scored in a half all season (and it was the first time the Bulldogs were shut out in the first quarter in 1992). USC tailback Deon Strother opened the scoring with a 1-yard plunge early in the second quarter, but FSU answered when fullback Lorenzo Neal ran for a 1-yard TD. While attempting to catch a pass on the last play of the half, USC flanker Curtis Conway sprained his right knee and missed the second half (it was the first time in 23 games that he didn't catch a pass). After a 43-yard field goal by placekicker Derek Mahoney in the third quarter, FSU scored twice late in the game on runs by tailbacks Anthony Daigle (2 yards) and Ron Rivers (5 yards). Rivers had a game-high 104 yards on 19 carries, while Freedom Bowl MVP Neal had 75 yards on 19 tries. Bulldog quarterback Trent Dilfer was 13-of-28 for 164 yards. Tailback Estrus Crayton, USC's game MVP, led Troy with 79 yards on 19 attempts. Defensively, safety Jason Sehorn had a game-high 10 tackles, while inside linebacker Brian Williams added 9 stops, cornerback Jerald Henry had 8, and cornerback Jason Oliver had 7 along with a blocked field goal.

USC 28, Utah 21

USC, exorcising the demons of Anaheim Stadium, scored 28 points in the first 17 minutes of the game and then held off a furious Utah second-half rally to win Freedom Bowl X, 28-21, before 43,150 fans and a national Raycom television audience. The Trojans, making their 36th bowl appearance, were playing in Anaheim Stadium for the third time in 14 games, but had yet to win there (losing in the 1992 Freedom Bowl to Fresno State and the 1993 season-opening Disneyland Pigskin Classic to North Carolina). It was the first USC-Utah meeting in 45 years. USC, a 17-point favorite, scored easily on its first 4 possessions. In the first quarter, quarterback Rob Johnson hit All-American wide receiver Johnnie Morton on TD throws of 31 and 9 yards, and tailback David Dotson dove over from 2 yards out. Then, Johnson connected with tight endJohnny McWilliams on a 5-yard scoring toss just 1:26 into the second quarter. But after that, USC's offense--hampered by an ineffective running game (the Trojans ran for just 91 yards)--stalled. Utah, playing in just its fourth bowl game, came alive after halftime, scoring on 3 of its first 5 possessions: a 59-yard TD pass from quarterback Mike McCoy to slotback Henry Lusk, a 34-yard run by fullback Jamal Anderson and a 1-yard run by tailback Keith Williams. But USC got the ball with 3:19 to play and held it until just 8 seconds remained, when McCoy's desperation pass was intercepted by cornerback John Herpin (Herpin's second pick of the game). Morton was named the game's MVP as he caught a Freedom Bowl-record 10 passes for 147 yards and the 2 scores (to tie a Freedom Bowl TD catch mark) despite playing weakened with the flu (7 of his catches for 121 yards and both TDs were in the first half). Johnson, who also had come down with a slight case of the flu, completed a Freedom Bowl-record 30 passes in 44 attempts for 345 yards and the 3 TD aerials (in the first half, he was 17-of-25 for 255 with the 3 TDs). Morton became the Pac-10's No. 2 career receiver with 201 grabs, while Johnson set USC's season pass completion percentage mark (68.6%). USC tailback Shawn Walters ran for a game-high 70 yards on 19 carries, while fullback Deon Strother added 50 rushing yards on 9 attempts and caught 6 passes for 63 yards. USC wide receiver Ken Grace, who had 4 catches for 48 yards, returned a punt 31 yards, a Freedom Bowl mark. USC generated 436 yards of total offense on 82 plays and held the ball 32:14. Utah threatened 3 times inside the USC 30-yard line in the opening half, but USC's defense held each time, including an impressive goal line stand and an interception in the end zone by cornerback Jason Sehorn. Utah came into the game averaging 484.6 total yards (fifth in the U.S.), 324.3 passing yards (seventh in the U.S.) and 30.8 points, but was limited to 350 total yards (286 through the air). McCoy, who was second nationally in total offense (330.8), was 23-of-40 for 286 yards, 1 TD and 3 interceptions (at the half, he was 10-of-20 for 81 yards with 2 picks). Lusk had 6 catches for 140 yards and the TD, while Anderson ran for 67 yards and the TD on 16 carries and caught 7 passes for 61 yards. Outside linebacker Brian Williams and safety Mike Salmon topped USC in tackles with 9 each (both had 2 for losses). USC coach John Robinson, who has led USC to at least 8 wins in each of his 8 seasons there, upped his bowl record to 5-1.

1995 Cotton Bowl

USC (ranked 20th by UPI, 21st by AP and 22nd by USA Today/CNN) made quite an impression in its first visit to the Mobil Cotton Bowl Classic, smashing Texas Tech, 55-14, in a record-filled performance before a sellout crowd of 70,218 and an NBC-TV national audience. It was USC's 24th bowl victory, its 37th bowl appearance (in 10 different bowls), its 17th win in the last 19 games against Southwest Conference opponents, its third win in 3 tries over Texas Tech, and coach John Robinson's sixth bowl win in 7 trips (giving Robinson at least 8 wins in each of his 9 seasons at Troy). After 59 years, it was also the last Cotton Bowl where an SWC team served as host. Texas Tech was making only its second visit to the Cotton Bowl (the first was in 1939). The game was over quickly, as it was 28-0 after the first quarter and 34-0 at halftime. USC led 48-0 before Texas Tech scored against the Trojan reserves late in the third quarter. USC set Cotton Bowl records for most points in a game, most points in a quarter (USC's most since also scoring 28 in the second quarter against California in 1978) and most touchdowns (7), while scoring its most points ever in a bowl and posting its biggest bowl victory margin (second in Cotton Bowl history). It was the most points scored against Texas Tech since Miami had 61 in 1986. Troy's first 3 scores came in a 1:16 span. After tailback Shawn Walters, 1 of 8 Texans on the Trojan roster, ran 11 yards for a TD, USC recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and, on the next play, quarterback Rob Johnson hit fullback Terry Barnum for a 19-yard score. Three plays later, cornerback John Herpin, another Texas native, intercepted a Zebbie Lethridge pass and returned it 26 yards for a TD. Herpin, who intercepted another pass in the second quarter to set up a field goal, was named the game's Outstanding Defensive Player. USC's next 3 TDs came on aerials to wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson of 12, 22 and 86 yards (the 86-yarder was 1 yard shy of the longest pass in Cotton Bowl and USC history), the first 2 from Rob Johnson and the third from quarterback Brad Otton. Keyshawn Johnson, selected as the game's Outstanding Offensive Player, had 8 catches overall for a Cotton Bowl-record 222 yards (just 7 yards shy of the Trojan single game record). His 3 TD catches set a Cotton Bowl record and equalled a Trojan mark. Rob Johnson, who became USC's career passing yardage leader and the Pac-10 and USC recordholder for career completion percentage, was 16-of-21 for 289 yards (the second most yards in Cotton Bowl history). The other Trojan scores came on a late 2-yard Otton pass to tight end Jeff Diltz and second quarter field goals by placekicker Cole Ford of 39 and a career-best 42 yards. Ford's 7 PAT kicks was a Cotton Bowl record. Walters ran for a game-best 82 yards on 14 carries. Otton was 8-of-14 for 146 yards. USC thoroughly dominated the statistics, more than doubling Texas Tech in total yardage (578-260) and possession time (40:02-19:58) while also having more first downs (21-14) and plays (80-63). USC, which averaged 7.2 yards per play, set Cotton Bowl records for total yards, passing yards (a USC record 435) and completions (24). USC did this against a Texas Tech defense which entered the game third nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.6), 10th in scoring defense (17.4) and 22nd in total defense (311.0). The Red Raiders had held 5 foes to single digits in scoring and had given up just 47 points in their previous 5 games. Inside linebacker Jeff Kopp led USC in tackles with 7, while safety Sammy Knight added 6. Texas Tech, which punted 10 times, advanced into USC territory on just 4 of its 16 possessions.

USC 41, Northwestern 32

Behind the stellar play of wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson and quarterback Brad Otton, USC (ranked 15th by UPI and 17th by USA Today/CNN and AP) put an end to No. 3-ranked Northwestern's Cinderella season with an exciting 41-32 Rose Bowl win before a sellout crowd of 100,102 and a national ABC-TV audience. It was the 50th anniversary of the Pac-10/Big Ten agreement in the Rose Bowl. It was USC's 20th victory in its unprecedented 28th trip to Pasadena (but its first since the 1990 game) and Troy's first win over a Top 3 team since defeating Michigan in that 1990 Rose Bowl, while Northwestern--having its first winning season since 1971 (the Wildcats came in with a 10-1 record)--was playing in only its second-ever bowl (its first since winning the 1949 Rose Bowl). It also gave USC coach John Robinson a 4-0 Rose Bowl record (and 7-1 in all bowls). The Trojans jumped off to a quick start, driving 83 yards with the opening kickoff while using a no-huddle offense as running back LaVale Woods scored on a 1-yard plunge. But Northwestern answered on its first possession, as running back Darnell Autry ran 3 yards for a TD to cap a 68-yard drive. USC then scored 17 unanswered second quarter points: a scrambling 21-yard TD pass from Otton to running back Terry Barnum, a 30-yard field goal by placekicker Adam Abrams and, on Northwestern's next possession, cornerback Daylon McCutcheon's 53-yard fumble return after safety Sammy Knight knocked the ball loose from Wildcat wide receiver Brian Musso. Northwestern got a 29-yard field goal from placekicker Brian Gowins with 2 seconds to go in the half following a Trojan fumble, but Troy led 24-10 at intermission (it was USC's most first half points since scoring 34 against Texas Tech in the 1995 Cotton Bowl). The Wildcats then scored on their first 4 possessions of the second half: another Gowins field goal (this one from 28 yards), a 9-yard Autry run (after Northwestern recovered a surprise on-side kick), a 1-yard sneak by quarterback Steve Schnur (which followed a 56-yard Trojan scoring strike from Otton to Johnson), and a 2-yard Autry run early in the fourth quarter that gave Northwestern its first lead of the day, 32-31. But USC came right back, getting a 46-yard Abrams field goal (the longest by a Trojan since Quin Rodriguez hit a 54-yarder against Michigan State in the 1990 John Hancock Bowl). Safety Jesse Davis then sealed the victory for USC with an interception which led to a 5-yard TD by running back Delon Washington. Johnson, who served as a Trojan ballboy at the 1985 Rose Bowl, was named the Rose Bowl MVP, as he grabbed 12 passes (all for first downs) for a Rose Bowl record 216 yards (his 17th 100-yard outing in his career and the eighth of 1995). Otton played the entire game for the first time in the 1995 season, hitting 29-of-44 passes for 391 yards (all career highs) with 2 TDs and no interceptions; the yardage was 1 yard shy of Rob Johnson's USC record and was the third most in Rose Bowl history. Autry had his 13th consecutive 100-yard rushing game, getting 110 yards on 32 carries with the 3 TDs, while Schnur was 23-of-39 for a career-best 336 yards (including 7 completions for 145 yards to wide receiver D'Wayne Bates). Northwestern outgained USC in total yards, 475-520, and limited Troy to just 29 rushing yards (its fewest since getting 7 yards against UCLA in 1993), but the Wildcats' uncharacteristic 2 turnovers led to 14 Trojan points, proving costly to a team which was third nationally in turnover margin (1.82). The Wildcats also had a TD pass called back because of a penalty late in the game and missed 2 field goals, including a 49-yard attempt that hit the upright with 35 seconds to go. USC, on the other hand, had 11 penalties (including 9 in the second half). Trojan cornerback Brian Kelly had a game-high 11 tackles (along with 2 deflections), while Knight and linebacker Scott Fields added 7 stops each.

1998 Sun Bowl
TCU 28, USC 19

In a stunning upset, 16-point underdog TCU—which barely qualified for post-season play with a 6-5 record—used a potent option attack and a stingy run defense to beat USC, 28-19, in the 65th Norwest Sun Bowl before 46,612 fans and a national CBS-TV audience. The Horned Frogs' option offense gained 314 yards on the ground (the most against the Trojans since Notre Dame had 330 in 1992) and their defense limited Troy to a USC and Sun Bowl record low -23 rushing yards. It was TCU's first bowl win since 1957. TCU, which scored touchdowns on its first 3 possessions of the opening half on runs of 3 and 60 yards by TB Basil Mitchell and 7 yards by QB Patrick Batteaux, led 21-3 at intermission. USC's only first-half points came on a 35-yard field goal by PK Adam Abrams late in the second quarter. The Horned Frogs opened up a 25-point lead on their initial drive of the second half as Batteaux scored on a 3-yard run. USC battled back by scoring on its first 3 drives of the second half, first on a 23-yard pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Billy Miller, then on a 1-yard run by TB Petros Papadakis and a 46-yard Abrams field goal early in the fourth quarter (Abrams was the game's Special Teams MVP). The Trojans got the ball back twice more, but those drives resulted in a loss of 30 yards as Palmer was sacked 3 times. Mitchell, the game's MVP rushed for 185 yards on 19 carries (including 114 in the first half) for a 9.7 average per carry. Batteaux added 94 yards on 28 tries while executing the option to perfection (he also completed 4-of-5 passes for 51 yards). TCU stayed mainly on the ground, as 61 of its 67 plays were runs (the most rushes against USC since Penn State had 66 in 1993). The Horned Frogs threw for only 51 yards (the fewest allowed by USC since Oregon State had 29 in 1995). TCU amassed 365 total yards, converted 10-of-16 third downs (including 7-of-9 in the first half) and held the ball 35:51. USC managed just 257 total yards and 12 first downs on only 49 plays. Troy converted just 1-of-11 third downs (that came in the first quarter). Palmer was 17-of-28 for a career-best 280 yards, but was sacked 6 times (all in the second half). WR R. Jay Soward had a game-best 6 catches for 64 yards, WR Larry Parker added 4 for 104 yards and Miller had 3 for 67 yards. LB Chris Claiborne had a game-best 13 tackles and S Grant Pearsall added 11 stops.

Utah 10, USC 6

Behind a time-consuming, powerful running attack and a dominating defense, Utah beat USC, 10-6, in the 10th Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl before 22,385 fans and a national ABC-TV audience. The outcome–the Trojans' fifth loss of 2001 by 5 or less points–snapped USC's 4-game winning streak and Utah's 2-game losing skid. It also ended the Utes' 6-game losing streak to USC (Utah last beat Troy in 1916). The defensive struggle produced the lowest scoring Las Vegas Bowl ever. But that figured, as both squads were highly-ranked nationally in scoring defense (USC was 11th at 17.9 and Utah was 13th at 18.6). Utah, which entered the game ranked in the Top 25 nationally in all 4 defensive categories, limited the Trojans to just 151 total yards, including only 1 yard rushing. It was USC's fewest total yards since getting 124 against Washington in 1996 and its fewest rushing yards since having -20 at Arizona in 1999. USC had just 12 first downs, converted only 2-of-12 third downs and was sacked 4 times (including twice by ROV Sheldon Deckart, who had a team-high 6 tackles). USC punted on 8 of its 11 possessions (including on its first 4 drives and its final 4), went 3-and-out 5 times and penetrated Utah territory only 4 times (getting inside the 30 just once). At halftime, USC had just 15 total yards (with -53 on the ground) and 3 first downs. On offense, Utah–which was 12th nationally in rushing offense at 218.9–controlled the clock (holding the ball 16 minutes more than USC, 38:01 to 21:59) by running 54 times for 222 of its 358 total yards. The Utes ran off 75 plays (USC had just 51). HB Adam Tate ran for a game-best 103 yards on 23 carries, while fellow HB Dameon Hunter (a 1,000-yard runner in 2001) rushed for 94 yards on 17 tries and was named Utah's game MVP. Utah QB Lance Rice was 12-of-21 for 136 yards while hitting some timely passes, including a game-best 4 to WR Josh Lyman (for 41 yards) and 3 to TE Michael Richardson (for 35 yards). Utah scored on its second possession of the game as Tate ran for a 3-yard TD to cap a 7-play, 48-yard drive late in the first quarter. Then, after USC PK David Davis–the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker in 2001–missed a 47-yarder (breaking his string of 12 consecutive successful field goals), the Utes drove 61 yards in 12 plays to set up PK Ryan Kaneshiro's 26-yard field goal with 29 seconds to play in the half. USC came alive to start the second half, taking the opening kickoff and driving 80 yards in 12 plays, finishing with a 2-yard scoring run by FB Sunny Byrd (but Davis missed the PAT). But despite getting a pair of turnovers–CB Kris Richard recovered a fumble and LB John Cousins intercepted a pass–on Utah's next 2 possessions, the Trojans couldn't get any closer than the Ute 40-yard line the rest of the way. Trojan QB Carson Palmer was 15-of-26 for 150 yards, while WRs Kareem Kelly (33 yards) and Devin Pitts (32 yards) each had 3 receptions. Trojan All-American safety Troy Polamalu–picked as USC's game MVP–had a Las Vegas Bowl record and career-high 20 tackles (with a game record 12 solo), including 3 for losses, while S DeShaun Hill (14 stops and a forced fumble) and LB Frank Strong (12 tackles, including 4 for losses) also posted career bests in tackles. It was USC's first game in the state of Nevada and its sixth contest on Christmas Day (but its first since 1934). The crowd was the smallest ever to see USC in a bowl and the fewest at a Trojan game since 20,938 showed up at Oregon State in 1997.

2002 BOWL INFORMATION

Rose Bowl Selection Procedures

The Pacific-10 Rose Bowl representative shall be that member's team with the best record in the loss and tie columns (a tie being counted as one-half loss) in all Conference games. If, however, the lowest loss-tie totals of two or more members are identical, determination of the Rose Bowl representative shall be as follows:

a. Two-Team Tie. If the tied teams played one another, the winner of their game shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, if either team is ranked first or second inthe nation in the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If they tied or did not play and are not so ranked, then the following formula shall be used:

(1) 4 points for a Conference win.
(2) 3 points for a non-Conference win against a Div. I-A team.
(3) 2 points for a non-Conference win against a non-Div. I-A team.
(4) 2 points for a Conference tie.
(5) 1 1/2 points for a non-Conference tie against a Div. 1-A team.
(6) 1 point for a non-Conference tie against a non-Div. 1-A team.

The team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative.

If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

b. Multiple Ties. When three or more teams are tied in the loss-tie column in Conference play, if one has defeated all others, that team shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, and one of the teams is ranked first or second in the nation by the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, a team defeated by all other tied teams shall be eliminated. If one team has not defeated the others, the point formula above shall be computed. Only the top two teams on the point system shall thereafter be considered. If a tie for the second position occurs upon application of the point formula, the second team shall be the winner of the game between the tied teams, or, if the teams did not play each other or played a tie game, the team which has not played in the Rose Bowl for the longest period of time shall be the second team. If the remaining two teams played one another, the winner shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative as in paragraph "a" above. If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

NOTES: Teams ineligible to participate in the Rose Bowl shall not be included in the tie-breaking formula. Games in Alaska or Hawaii shall not be counted in the point system if they are "12th games" permitted under NCAA legislation. Participation in the NACDA Kickoff Classic or the Pigskin Classic shall not be counted in the point system.

Bowl Championship Series

The Bowl Championship Series, in its fifth year, guarantees a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game. The BCS consists of the Rose, Nokia Sugar, Tostitos Fiesta and FedEx Orange Bowls. Conferences with automatic berths are the Pac-10, Big Ten, Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12 and Southeastern. Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any other Division I-A conference ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings also will be included in the BCS. Otherwise, any Division I-A team can qualify for the at-large selection pool if it has won nine games and is ranked in the Top 12 of the BCS rankings. The BCS utilizes its own ranking system, which includes four major components: (1) media polls; (2) computer rankings; (3) strength of schedule rankings; (4) won-loss record. At the end of the regular season, the National Championship contest will match the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season rankings.

Pac-10 Bowl Arrangements

College football entered a new era in 1998 as the Pac-10, Big Ten and Rose Bowl become associated with the Bowl Championship Series or BCS (formerly known as the Bowl Alliance).

In 2002, the Pac-10 champion will go to the Rose Bowl, unless it is ranked as one of the top 2 teams in the nation at the conclusion of the regular season. In that case, the Pac-10 champ would play in the National Championship Game (this season at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl). If so, the Rose Bowl will fill that berth with another team from the BCS pool. That could be a second Pac-10 team, but would not necessarily be so. The traditional opponent in the Rose Bowl is the Big Ten champion.

Regardless of the disposition of the Pac-10 champ, a second Pac-10 team may be selected for an at-large berth in the BCS in any given year. Pac-10 agreements with its other bowl partners provide for that occurence.

Agreements are in place with the Holiday, Wells Fargo Sun, Insight.com and Las Vegas Bowls to place 4 other Pac-10 teams in bowls (besides the Pac-10 champ).

After the Pac-10 champion goes to the Rose Bowl (or BCS Championship Game), the Holiday Bowl receives the highest remaining team in the Pac-10 standings. If there is a tie for that position, the Holiday Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams. The opponent in the Holiday Bowl is the Big 12's No. 3 team.

The Sun Bowl then receives the highest remaining team in the Pac-10 standings. If there is a tie for that position, the Sun Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams. The Big Ten's No. 5 team will be the opponent in the Sun Bowl.

The Insight.com Bowl will host the next highest remaining Pac-10 team. If there is a tie for that position, the Insight.com Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams. The Big East Conference's No. 3 team will fill the opponent's slot.

Finally, the next highest remaining Pac-10 team will play in the Las Vegas Bowl against the second pick from the Mountain West Conference. If there is a tie for that position, the Las Vegas Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams.

There have been 33 matchups between the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the Associated Press poll (20 times during the regular season, 13 times in bowls). The No. 1 team has won 20 times, the No. 2 team has won 11 times, and there have been 2 ties. USC is 2-2 in such matchups, winning both times it was No. 1 and losing both times it was No. 2. The AP poll began in 1936.

+ Selectors:

Ann--Illustrated Football Annual (1930-60). A rating system by Williams F. Boand published in the highly-regarded fan magazine Illustrated Football Annual (1932-42) and Football News (1942-44, 1951-60). Predated national champions from 1919-29.

AP--Associated Press (1936-current). Poll of sportswriters and broadcasters which began in 1936. The award actually originated in 1924 with the awarding of the Rissman Trophy to the top-rated team in the Dickinson System. It was retired in 1930, then the Knute Rockne Trophy was awarded beginning in 1931 (again to the winner of the Dickinson System through 1935, then to the winner of the AP poll). That was retired in 1940, then the Dr. Henry L. Williams Trophy was awarded beginning in 1941. That was retired in 1947, then the Father O'Donnell Trophy was awarded beginning in 1948. That was retired in 1956 and beginning in 1957, the award was known as the AP Trophy. Since 1983, the award has been known as the Paul "Bear" Bryant Trophy.

Berry--Berryman (QPRS) (1940-current). A mathematical rating system based on a quality point rating formula developed by Clyde P. Berryman.

Bill--Billingsley Report (1970-current). A mathematically based power rating system developed by Richard Billingsley. Predated national champions from 1869-1970.

Davis--Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1933). Chosen by Davis, a former player at Princeton and former coach at Wisconsin, Amherst and Lafayette. First published in the 1934 Spalding's Football Guide.

DeV--DeVold System (1945-current). A mathematical rating system developed by Harry DeVold, a former football player at Cornell. The rating have appeared in The Football News since 1962. Predated national champions from 1939-44.

Dick--Dickinson System (1926-40). Based on point formula devised by Illinois economics professor Frank G. Dickinson.

Dunk--Dunkel System (1929-current). A power index rating system devised by Dick Dunkel Sr (1929-71), Dick Dunkel Jr. (1972-1995) and John Duck (1996-current).

FACT--Foundation for the Analysis of Competitions and Tournaments (1968-current). A computerized mathematical ranking system developed by David Rothman.

FBN--Football News (1958-current). A weekly poll of Football News' staff writers.

FBR--College Football Researchers Association (1982-92). Founded by Anthony Cusher and Robert Kirlin, it determined its champion by a Top 10 vote of membership on a point system. Predated national champions from 1919-81, conducted on a poll by Harry Carson Frye.

FWA--Football Writers Association of America (1954-current). Chosen by five-man committee representing membership. Award called the Grantland Rice Trophy.

Helms--First Interstate Bank Athletic Foundation (1883-1982). Originally called Helms Athletic Foundation, then changed to Citizen Savings Athletic Foundation before new name adopted in 1982.

HF--National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame (1959-current). Chosen by a committee representing membership. Award called the Gen. Douglas MacArthur Trophy. Merged with UPI in 1991 and with USA Today in 1993.

Lit--Litkenhous System (1934-84). A rating method developed by Frank and Edward (a professor of chemical engineering at Vanderbilt) Litkenhous.

Mat--Matthews Grid Ratings (1966-current). A mathematical rating system developed by college mathematics professor Herman Matthews.

NCF--National Championship Foundation (1980-current). An annual report established by Mike Riter. Predated national champions from 1869-1979.

Pol--Poling System (1935-84). A mathematical rating system developed by Richard Poling, a former football player at Ohio Wesleyan. Ratings were published annually in the Football Review Supplement and various newspapers. Predeated national champions from 1924-34.

Sag--Sagarin Ratings (1956-current). A mathematical rating system developed by Jeff Sagarin, a 1970 MIT mathematics graduate. It runs annually in USA Today.

Thes--The Football Thesaurus (1927-58). A system devised by Deke Houlgate and syndicated in newspapers, plus published in Illustrated Football and the Football Thesaurus (1946-58).

TSN--The Sporting News (1975-current). Voted on annually by the staff of The Sporting News.

UPI--United Press International (1950-1995). Originally a poll of college coaches, in 1991 voters comprised of college football enthusiasts. In 1992, National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame co-sponsored poll, with voters consisting of 100 NFF members (athletic administrators, journalists, ex-players, and ex-coaches) and award called the Gen. Douglas MacArthur Trophy. Beginning in 1993, voters were 16 bowl representatives.

Wms--Williamson System (1931-1963). A power rating system by Paul Williamson, a geologist and Sugar Bowl committee member.

(NOTE: The national champion was selected before bowl games as follows: AP, 1936-64 and 1966-67; UPI, 1950-73; FWA, 1954; HF, 1959-70. In all other latter-day polls, champions were selected after bowl games.)

USC in Top 25 Rankings

Since the AP poll began in 1936, the weekly rankings have been published 865 times. USC has been ranked in the poll's Top 25 537 times (62.1% of the time). Here's the list of the 10 most frequently ranked teams:

1.	Michigan	659
2.	Notre Dame	648
3.	Ohio State	625
4.	Nebraska	593
5.	Alabama	574
6.	Oklahoma	569
7.	USC	537
8.	Texas	531
9.	Penn State	498
10.	UCLA	449

In those 865 AP polls, USC has held the No. 1 ranking 47 times. The 10 teams ranked No. 1 most often are:

1.	Notre Dame	95
2.	Oklahoma	78
3.	Ohio State	72
4.	Nebraska	62

1928 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

They whip the ends, they buck the guards, the line begins to yield
And the "greatest team in history" backs slowly down the field
And finally comes the whistle as a seal to Stanford's fate,
And the "greatest team in history" goes staggering through the gate

--Excerpt from a 1928 poem about the USC-Stanford clash.

The "Thundering Herd," under Hall of Fame coach Howard Jones, galloped to the Trojans' first national championship in 1928. A swarming defense, led by tackle Jesse Hibbs and end Garrett Arbelide, gave up only 59 points all season, while an offensive backfield of Harry Edelson, Russ Saunders, Don Williams and Marshall Duffield rolled over, under, and through their opponents.

USC finished the season with nine wins and no losses, with the only blemish being a 0-0 tie with Cal as the Golden Bears continued to be a nemesis for Troy in the 1920s.

The Trojans beat Glenn "Pop" Warner's Stanford Indians, 10-0, forcing five fumbles in the process. Warner had never lost to Jones and he considered his 1928 team to be his best. But USC used a special strategy called the "quick mix" to disrupt Stanford's offense and help offset the Indians' 10-pound-per-man weight advantage. The strategy worked in what was a landmark game for the Trojans, who established themselves as the preeminent football power on the West Coast. Warner never beat Jones again.

The 1928 season also saw USC beat Notre Dame and Knute Rockne for the first time, 27-14. Williams passed for 111 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for 93 more as the Trojans clinched the national title.

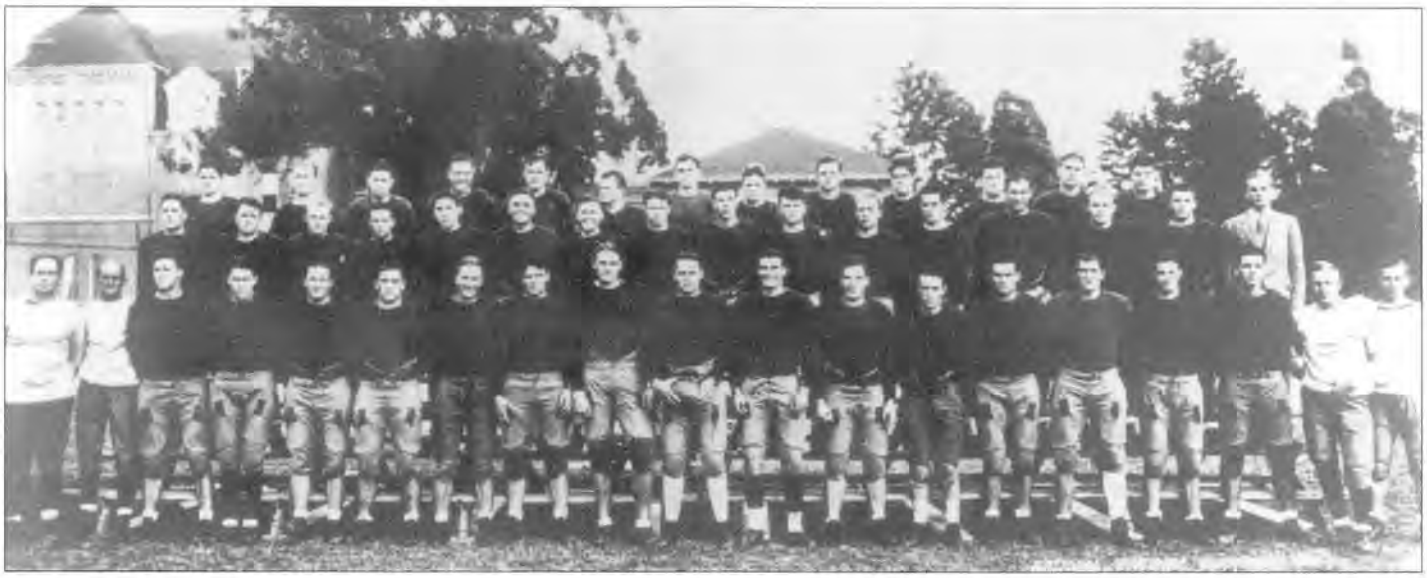
1931 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"I've waited for two years for this day — but, boy, what revenge!"

— USC's Erny Pinckert after beating the Irish.

The 1931 edition of Howard Jones' "Thundering Herd" was the team that captured the imagination of college football fans everywhere, and the hearts of the citizens of Los Angeles. More than 300,000 welcomed the Trojans home from a thrilling 16-14 victory over Notre Dame in South Bend—a victory clinched by what sportswriter Maxwell Stiles called "Johnny Baker's 10 little toes, and three BIG points."

USC trailed the Irish14-0 at the outset of the final stanza, but stormed back behind the running of Gus Shaver and the passing of Orv Mohler. Baker's 33-yard field goal with one minute remaining made the difference. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten streak and was the Trojans' first victory in South Bend.

The season started inauspiciously enough with a 13-7 loss to St. Mary's. "I have no alibis to offer," said Jones afterward. But Troy then proceeded to roll over its next 10 opponents by a combined score of 356 to 39. There were six shutouts.

"(USC is) the greatest team I have ever seen," said Georgia coach Harry Mehre, after his Bulldogs were blanked, 60-0. The usually taciturn Jones agreed, calling his team "the greatest offensive machine I have ever coached."

USC capped the season with a 21-12 victory over Tulane in the Rose Bowl. Four Trojans garnered All-American acclaim: Baker, Shaver, Erny Pinckert and team captain Stan Williamson.

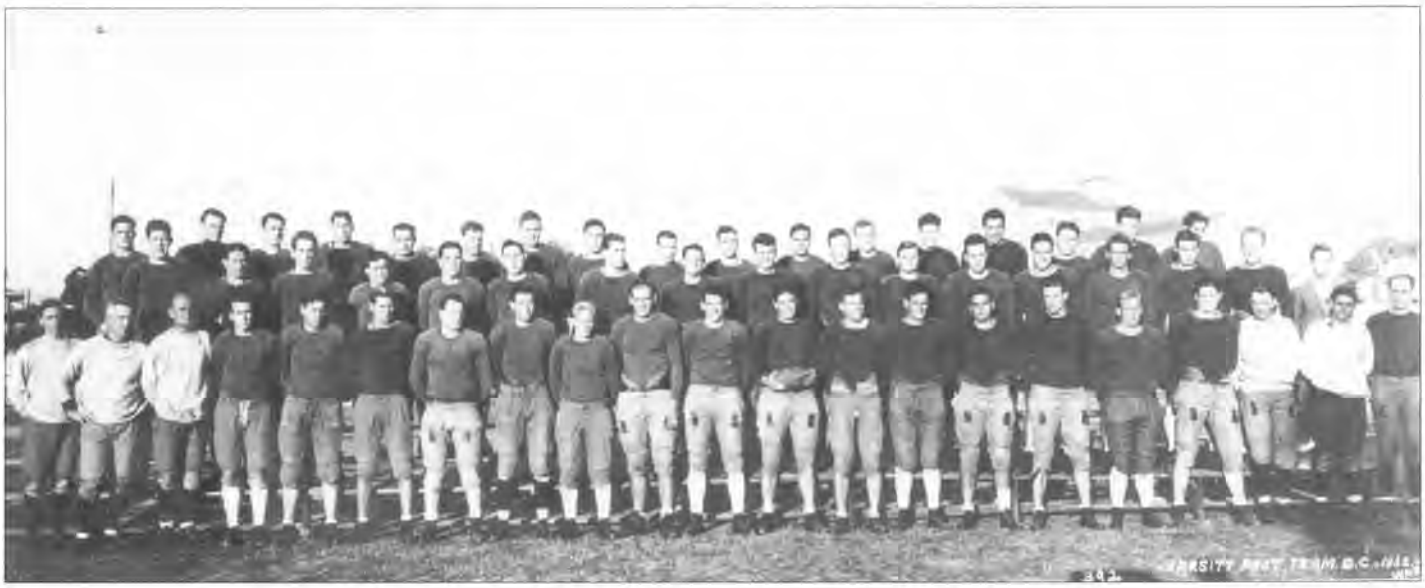
1932 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"Fortunately, I have a strong line to start with. I have Mohler, and if anything happens to him, I have Griffith and Warburton."
— Howard Jones to famed sportswriter Grantland Rice before the 1932 season.

The Trojans breezed to their second consecutive national championship in 1932 as the Howard Jones era reached its pinnacle. But at the start of the season, future greatness was not apparent for this team. Seven regulars had graduated from the 1931 squad, including three All-Americans. By the end of the season, however, it was hailed as perhaps Jones' finest squad. In fact, some still regard this as USC's best team.

The line, one of the greatest in Trojan history, included All-Americans Tay Brown, Aaron Rosenberg and Ernie Smith. The offense, directed by Homer Griffith and featuring back Cotton Warburton and ends Ray Sparling and Ford Palmer, was potent despite losing star Orv Mohler to injury. Meanwhile, the defense shut out its first five opponents, before finally being scored upon in the fourth quarter of game six. Jones' squad allowed only 13 points all season while scoring 201. USC defeated Notre Dame 13-0 and smashed Pittsburgh 35-0 in the Rose Bowl.

The masterful 1932 season firmly placed Jones in the upper echelon of collegiate coaches. He even appeared on the cover of TIME magazine, where he was compared to the legendary Amos Alonzo Stagg and Glenn "Pop" Warner. In 1999, Athlon magazine rated the 1932 team among the greatest of the 20th century.

1962 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"Our intention was to win today....and what does the scoreboard say?"
— John McKay after the 1963 Rose Bowl.

In 1962, John McKay led USC to its first national championship in 30 years and inaugurated one of the greatest dynasties in college football history. From 1962 to 1981, the Trojans won five national titles, played in 11 Rose Bowls, collected four Heisman Trophies and contributed dozens of All-Americans to what was already a remarkable football heritage

McKay's third team featured the talented quarterback tandem of Pete Beathard and Bill Nelsen, who combined to pass for 18 touchdowns while tossing only three interceptions. A then-school-record 11 of those touchdowns went to consensus All-American end Hal Bedsole, who also set the standard for passes caught (33) and yards receiving (827). The ground attack was run from the I-formation, led by the versatile Willie Brown at tailback and co-captain Ben Wilson at fullback. Brown led the team in rushing, interceptions, punt returns and kickoff returns, and was the second leading receiver.

The Trojan defense allowed only 92 points all season. All-American linebacker Damon Bame led a unit that had three shutouts (including a 25-0 blanking of Notre Dame) and allowed more than 10 points only twice during the regular-season.

Troy capped the year by outlasting Wisconsin, 42-37, in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. McKay was named Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association and the Football Writers Association of America.

1967 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"Well, gentlemen, I guess I wasn't so stupid today."
—John McKay after beating UCLA, 21-20.

The 1967 Trojans relied on the running of tailback O.J. Simpson, the blocking of Outland Trophy-winning tackle Ron Yary, and a stifling defense to win USC's fifth national championship.

Simpson's weaving 64-yard touchdown run, pehaps the most famous run in college football history, was the difference in a 21-20 victory over UCLA. The showdown between the top-ranked Bruins and the No. 4-ranked Trojans remains one of the greatest games in the history of the crosstown series.

USC's only blemish on the season was a 3-0 loss in the rain and mud to Oregon State in Corvallis. The Trojans would not be shut out again for 26 years and have not lost to the Beavers since. The other key victory for Troy, a 24-7 win over Notre Dame, was USC's first win at South Bend since 1939. Linebacker Adrian Young's four interceptions (a USC record) helped to repel the Irish. The Trojans celebrated New Year's Day 1968 with a 14-3 victory over Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

The incomparable Simpson, the Heisman runner-up that year, ran for a then-NCAA-record 1,543 regular-season yards (1,709 overall) to go with 13 touchdowns. Mike Battle, Tim Rossovich, and Young led a defense which allowed only 87 points. A record five Trojans were selected in the first round of the 1968 NFL draft, with Yary going first overall.

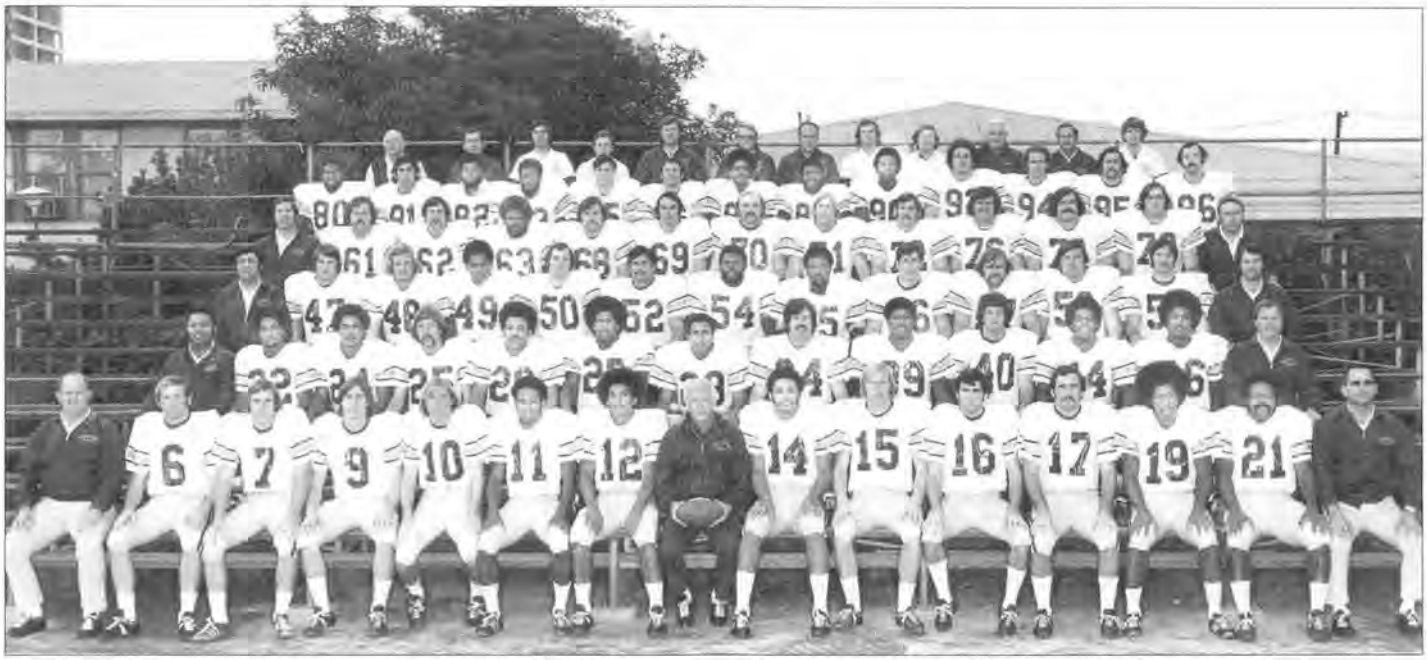
1972 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"USC's not the number one team in the country. The Miami Dolphins are better."
-- Washington State coach Jim Sweeney.

The 1972 national champions averaged 39 points per game and never trailed in the second half. In going 12-0-0, the Trojans scored 467 points, second most in school history. The defense intercepted 28 passes, limited their opponents to 2.5 yards per rush, and never gave up a run longer than 29 yards.

The roster was a perfect blend of talent, youth, and experience. Senior Mike Rae and sophomore Pat Haden handled the quarterback duties. Sophomore Anthony Davis rushed for 1,191 yards despite not starting until the eighth game. All-American fullback Sam "Bam" Cunningham was an outstanding blocker and a tremendous leaper, especially in goal-line situations. Tight end Charles Young was equally adept blocking and receiving, while split ends Lynn Swann, Edesel Garrison and J.K. McKay were excellent pass catchers.

The defense was fast and strong. Sophomore linebacker Richard Wood burst onto the scene with 18 tackles in the season-opener on his way to garnering All-American honors. John Grant and Jeff Winans anchored the defensive line, while Artimus Parker, Charles Phillips and Charles Hinton led the secondary.

USC's smallest margin of victory was nine points (versus Stanford). The Trojans beat No. 4-ranked Arkansas 31-10, No. 18 Washington 34-7, No. 14 UCLA 24-7, No.10 Notre Dame 45-23 and No. 3 Ohio State 42-17. USC was unanimously chosen No. 1 in the final AP and UPI polls, the first team to be so honored.

The 1972 team is considered to be John McKay's finest at USC and one of the greatest college teams of all time.

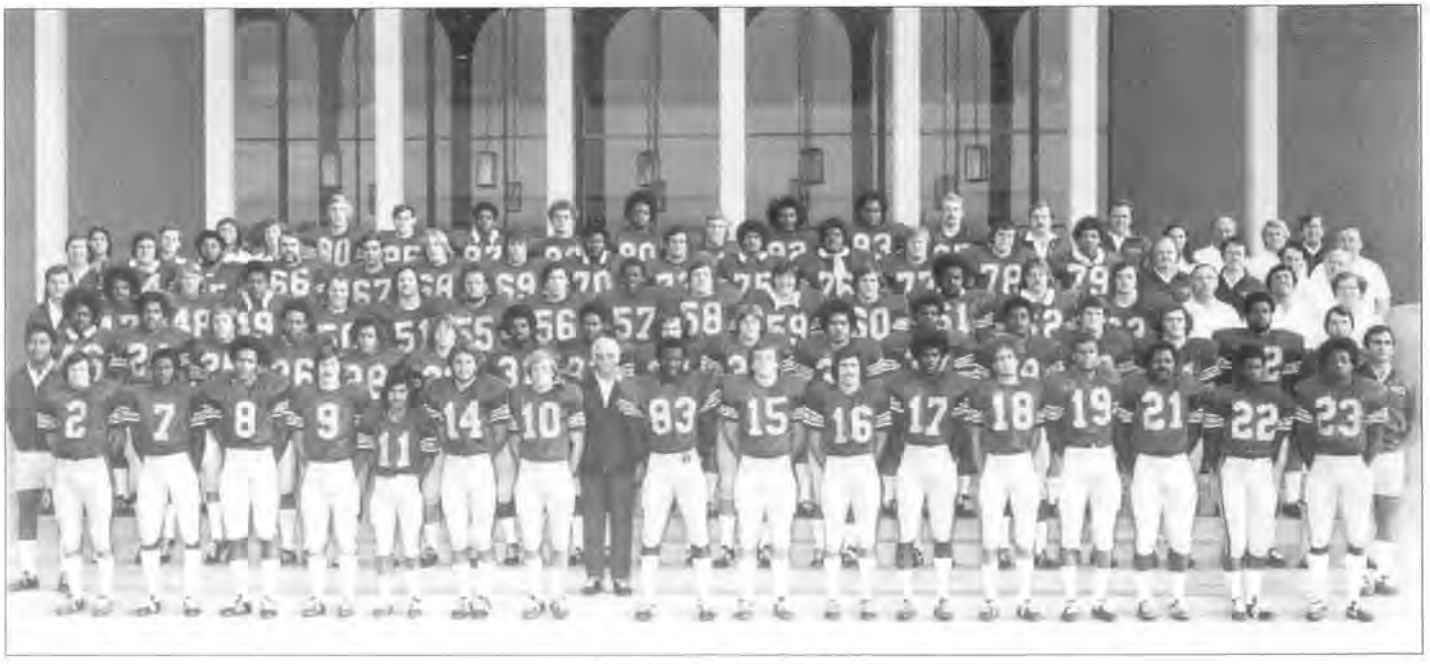
1974 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"We turned into madmen."
-- Anthony Davis, after USC came back to beat Notre Dame.

The 1974 team earned John McKay his fourth national title behind the big-play heroics of All-American tailback Anthony Davis, the steady leadership of quarterback Pat Haden and the clutch play of a defense that forced the second-highest interception total in USC history.

Davis, the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, rushed for 1,421 yards and 13 touchdowns. His three-year yardage total of 3,724 yards and 52 touchdowns was a Pac-8 record. He set an NCAA record for most kickoffs returned for TDs in a season (3) and career (6). He scored four touchdowns to lead the Trojans to an amazing 55-24 comeback win over Notre Dame in the regular season finale. In his career, Davis scored 11 touchdowns against the Fighting Irish.

Pat Haden threw 13 touchdown passes, but his biggest completions came with the Trojans trailing Ohio State 17-10 in the 1975 Rose Bowl. His 38-yard TD strike to J.K McKay with two minutes to play and his subsequent 2-point conversion to Shelton Diggs gave USC an 18-17 victory and the writers' share of the national championship.

Senior linebacker Richard Wood, Troy's only three-time All-American, led the defense. Defensive back Charles Phillips set NCAA records for most interception return yardage in a season (302), most interception return yardage in a game (181), highest average gain per interception for one game (90.5), and most touchdowns on interception returns in a season (3).

The win over Notre Dame, dubbed "The Comeback," was sparked by Davis' 102-yard kickoff return to start the second half. Trailing 24-0 late in the second quarter, the Trojans scored 55 unanswered points in just under 17 minutes to win going away.

USC had five players selected to the All-American team for the third consecutive year. A school-record 12 Trojans were selected to the All-Conference squad (since equalled by the 1989 Trojans). Fourteen players from the 1974 team were taken in the NFL draft—an all-time record also shared by the 1976 Trojan team.

1978 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"I don't remember ever playing against a tailback who can run like White"
—Paul 'Bear' Bryant, after witnessing Charles White rush for 199 yards against his Alabama team.

The 1978 national champions, coached by John Robinson, were a USC team stocked with great college players and several future NFL stars.

The Trojans finished 12-1, including a solid 24-14 road victory over co-national champion Alabama, a nail-biting 27-25 win over Notre Dame, and a 17-10 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

All-American tailback Charles White rushed for 1,859 yards to become the Pac-10 career rushing leader as a junior. Freshman tailback Marcus Allen provided depth. Quarterback Paul McDonald led the conference in passing and tied a USC record with 19 touchdown passes. Fullback Lynn Cain rushed for 977 yards, the most ever by a Trojan fullback. Flanker Kevin Williams had 17 receptions, 10 of them for touchdowns. The offensive line included All-American guard Pat Howell, All-Pac-10 tackle Anthony Munoz (considered by many to be the game's greatest tackle ever) and All-Pac-10 guard Brad Budde (a four-year starter and the 1979 Lombardi Award winner). The back-ups on the line included future All-Pros Roy Foster and Keith Van Horne.

The defense featured the talented safety duo of Dennis Smith and Ronnie Lott. Linebackers Dennis Johnson (the team's tackle leader) and Riki Gray manned the middle, while Larry McGrew and Chip Banks roamed the outside. Rich Dimler, Myron Lapka and Dennis Edwards keyed the defensive line.

The Trojans' only loss was at Arizona State, 20-7. They would remain unbeaten for the next 28 games.

USC took the top spot in the coaches poll, but finished second in the writer's poll to Alabama despite beating the Crimson Tide earlier in the season.

It was Troy's eighth—and most recent—national championship.

THE TROJAN HERITAGE

(Since 1951, Mal Florence covered sports in Southern California—particularly USC football—for the Los Angeles Times. But he observed Trojan football since he watched his first game as a youngster in 1934. He then enrolled at USC during World War II, where he even played halfback sparingly in 1946. He was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame's media wing in 1995.

(In 1980, he wrote a book about USC's football history, "The Trojan Heritage." Updated excerpts appear below.)

The Trojan football tradition. It means many things:

~The teams. The Thundering Herd teams of the late 1920s and 1930s, the war babies of the mid-1940s, and the "I" formation-styled national champions of the 1960s and 1970s.

~The Rose Bowl, USC's second home.

~The coaches who have made an indelible impression on the game. Gloomy Gus Henderson bringing national recognition to USC; Howard Jones earning national respect with his Rose Bowl-winning teams and national champions; John McKay altering the concept of offensive football with his innovative "I" formation; and John Robinson achieving that awesome balance of power running and productive passing, blended with stifling defense.

~The rivalries. The one with Notre Dame that began in 1926 and has grown into the most prestigious intersectional confrontation in the country. Then there's the one with UCLA, in which the outcome not only rewards the winner with bragging rights for the city, but also usually means a Rose Bowl berth.

~The games. The 16-14 victory over Notre Dame at South Bend in 1931 and the ensuing ticker tape parade in Los Angeles for the conquering heroes. The stunning 7-3 victory over Duke in the 1939 Rose Bowl. O.J. Simpson's climactic 64-yard TD run that beat UCLA, 21-20, in 1967... and on and on.

All of this is USC football. There's nothing like it.

In 1944 Harry C. Lillie, an attorney, supplied missing information on USC's first football team in 1888, eight years after the small Methodist school was founded in 1880.

USC was undefeated in 1888 in a two-game schedule. How fitting this was for a school which has had almost unparalleled success in athletics—football, of course, and 70 men's NCAA championships, more by far than any other university.

Lillie, a 125-pound end on the first ragtag USC team, said:

"The only available opposition was a club team which carried the name of Alliance. Our first game was Nov. 14, 1888, right at the university and we won by a score of 16-0.

"In those days a touchdown scored four points, with the play which now corresponds to the conversion after touchdown adding two more points. A field goal scored five points, a safety scored two.

"The second game against Alliance was played more than two months later on Jan. 19, 1889, uptown on a vacant field bordered by Grand, Hope, Eighth and Ninth streets. The club team had improved considerably and we managed to score only a single touchdown to win, 4-0."

Frank Suffel and Henry H. Goddard were playing coaches for this first team which was literally put together by quarterback Arthur Carroll. He volunteered to make the pants for the team. Appropriately, Carroll later became a tailor in Riverside.

The growth of USC and its football program coincides with the growth of Los Angeles, which had been founded only 99 years before the cornerstone was laid at the university in 1880 in an uncultivated mustard field. At the time, Los Angeles still retained characteristics of its earlier pueblo days.

American football at the turn of the century was a combination of rugby, soccer and pure mayhem. The rules provided for a playing field of 110 yards in length, exclusive of the end zones, and games were played in 45-minute halves with a 10-minute intermission. Intentional tackling below the waist, a fundamental and coached procedure now, was judged a foul then, just like unnecessary roughness.

USC fielded another team in 1889 (without a coach) and encountered its first collegiate opponent, St. Vincent's, now known as Loyola Marymount. The Methodists or Wesleyans (the name Trojans would come later) thrashed St. Vincent's, 40-0, and then beat a Pasadena club team which featured the dreaded Flying Wedge, 26-0.

So far, so good. A pair of two-game seasons and USC was undefeated, untied and unscored upon.

Then, because of student apathy and some financial problems, USC didn't have a team in 1890.

A pattern developed in which USC, still coachless, would play a one- to four-game schedule—without much success—until 1897 when Lewis Freeman became the school's first non-playing coach. Not only did he outfit the team in sharp, new uniforms—turtle-necked shirts with "USC" inscribed on the front, knee-length pants and ankle-high shoes—he produced a winning team with a then-representative schedule.

USC, under Freeman, won five of its six games, losing only to the San Diego YMCA, 18-0. Freeman then moved on, but the Methodists continued their winning ways, recording a 5-1-1 record in 1898—losing to and being tied by Los Angeles High School.

It was during the late 1890s and the early 1900s that USC developed a rivalry with neighboring Occidental and Pomona, the early stand-ins for Notre Dame, California and Stanford.

The year 1904 marked the arrival of Harvey Holmes, the first salaried USC coach. He stayed four years, compiled a record of 19 wins, five losses and three ties and expanded USC's schedule to 10 games in 1905, including a first meeting with Stanford. USC lost that game, 16-0, as one of the West Coast's most prestigious rivalries began. The teams wouldn't meet again in football until 1918.

Major college teams do not schedule too many "breathers" today because of financial considerations. But USC wasn't thinking of the gate when it padded its 6-3-1 record in 1905 with victories over the likes of the National Guard, Whittier Reform and the Alumni.

USC continued to play football in 1908 under coach Bill Traeger. In 1909 and 1910 the team was under a coach who was to become famous in another sport.

Dean Bartlett Cromwell was called the "Maker of Champions" during his 40 years at USC—track and field champions, that is. A legendary figure in track and field, Cromwell's teams won 12 NCAA titles, including nine in a row (1935-1943).

As a football coach, Cromwell had only modest success with 3-1-2 and 7-0-1 records in 1909 and 1910 and later a three-year record of 11-7-3 when he served as USC's football coach from 1916 through 1918.

Between Cromwell's first and second terms as football coach (along with a two-year tenure by Ralph Glaze, 1914-15), USC decided to move up in class athletically.

Rugby, as played by California and Stanford, was USC's game in 1911 and a school spokesman said, "We are looking for a foothold on an athletic ladder that will carry us, we hope, to a level of competition to the proportion of our ambitious, restless, growing young institution."

The results were disastrous. USC was badly outclassed for three years (1911-13) by more experienced rugby teams. It suffered financial reverses as well.

But all was not lost in this departure from American football. The Methodist school that was founded in a mustard field got a nickname that would identify it and its students and alumni glamorously for years to come.

Nicknames were popular in the early 1900s, but the school didn't care much to be called Methodists or Wesleyans. So Owen R. Bird, a sportswriter for the Los Angeles Times, came up with a nickname that was to endure. It was Bird's belief that "owing to the terrific handicaps under which the athletes, coaches and managers of the university were laboring and against the overwhelming odds of larger and better equipped rivals, the name 'Trojan' suitably fitted the players."

When USC began playing football again in 1914, it also resumed its relationship with Occidental and Pomona. But the Trojans wanted to be known beyond the limited confines of Bovard Field so they began to schedule "big-time" foes such as St. Mary's, Oregon and California.

USC split with California in 1915, winning, 28-10, and losing 23-21. Another traditional series was inaugurated.

World War I put a damper on USC's athletic ambitions and Troy played a restricted schedule from 1917 through 1919.

USC had some outstanding players during its formative years, athletes such as Elwin Caley (whose 107-yard punt return in 1902 on a 110-yard field still stands as a school record), Hal Paulin, Arthur Hill, Roy Allan, Court Decius, Fred Kelly, Fred Teschke, Rabbit Malette, Tank Campbell, Turk Hunter, Dan McMillan and Herb Jones. But the Trojans wouldn't become nationally recognized in football until the 1920s.

Elmer C. (Gloomy Gus) Henderson has the best winning percentage, 45-7 (.865), of any coach in USC's history. More importantly, Henderson, in his six seasons at the school (1919-1924), achieved national recognition for USC and established the format for successful teams of the future. Under Henderson, USC recorded some historic firsts:

· Appearing in the Rose Bowl in 1923 and beating Penn State, 14-3.

· Winning 10 games in a season twice, along with an undefeated season in 1920.

· Moving out of Bovard Field, where a turnaway crowd would be 10,000, to play in the vast Memorial Coliseum, where crowds of 70,000 would become routine for Trojan games.

Henderson was the first USC coach to recruit aggressively and he persuaded talented Southern California athletes to stay home and attend USC rather than to pursue their education at California or Stanford.

He also was an on-the-field innovator. His spread formations were copied by coaches and some elements of his offense are used today by college teams and the NFL.

"Gloomy Gus" was a well-known cartoon character of the era and Henderson was saddled with that nickname by Los Angeles Times sportswriter, Paul Lowry, because of the way he poor-mouthed the Trojans' prospects before a game.

USC had a 4-1 record in 1919, went undefeated in 1920 and was 10-1 in 1921 and again in 1922, two seasons in which the Trojans outscored their opposition, 598 to 83.

USC had a 6-2 record in 1923 which included the first football game ever to be played in the Coliseum—a 23-7 win over Pomona on October 6—and a later Coliseum game, a 13-7 loss to Cal that attracted 72,000 fans and sent a signal to Easterners that West Coast football had really caught on.

Henderson had a 9-2 record in his last season at USC in 1924, a year that featured intersectional games with Syracuse and Missouri, both of which the Trojans won.

During his tenure at USC, Henderson recruited and developed such outstanding players as Chet Dolley, Harold Galloway, Johnny Leadingham, Charley Dean, Roy (Bullet) Baker, Gordon Campbell, Andy Toolen, Lowell Lindley, Hobo Kincaid, Indian Newman, Hobbs Adams, Hayden Phythian, Holley Adams, Norman Anderson, Otto Anderson, Johnny Hawkins, Hank Lefebvre, Eddie Leahy, Manuel Laraneta, Butter Gorrell, Jeff Cravath and Leo Calland.

Two of Henderson's sophomores on the 1924 squad, guard Brice Taylor and quarterback Mort Kaer, would later become USC's first All-Americans. Henderson is credited with recruiting Morley Drury, who would become known as the "Noblest Trojan of Them All."

Despite his record, Henderson was fired after the 1924 season, some said because he went 0-5 against California during his tenure.

College football history might have been changed radically if Notre Dame's Knute Rockne had become USC's coach following Henderson's release before the 1925 season. Such an idea came close to becoming a reality. Gwynn Wilson, the USC graduate manager in the 1920s, remembers:

"Rockne came to USC for a football seminar and we saw a lot of him. We didn't have a coach and we talked to Rock about the job. He agreed to come, subject to getting a release from Notre Dame. Mrs. Rockne had fallen in love with Southern California. We had hopes but they (Notre Dame) talked him into staying. Maybe it was better that Rock stayed there and we got Jones."

Howard Harding Jones. The Headman. Responsible for bringing national recognition to USC when the East and Midwest were considered the twin citadels of college football.

His approach to the game was straight-forward yet intricate—power football, the single wing. Opponents often said they knew where the Trojans, under Jones, were coming, but still couldn't stop them. Jones' teams became known as the Thundering Herd, running (seldom passing) roughshod over some of the nation's best teams.

Before Jones came to USC, the school had not produced an All-American or won a national championship. During his 16 years as USC's coach, Jones developed 19 All-Americans, won national championships in 1928, 1931 and 1932, had undefeated seasons in 1928, 1932 and 1939, won eight Pacific Coast Conference titles and was undefeated in five appearances in the Rose Bowl. His overall record was 121-36-13 (.750) and his teams had seven seasons in which they won nine or more games.

It was during Jones' regime, in 1926, that the USC-Notre Dame rivalry began, a rivalry now esteemed as the most prestigious intersectional series in the country.

If it had not been for the persuasiveness of a young bride in 1925, the Trojan-Irish series may never have been.

Wilson and his bride, Marion, got on the Sunset Limited train to Lincoln where Notre Dame was going to play Nebraska. Mission: a USC-Notre Dame home-and-home series. Wilson didn't get to meet with Rockne though, until after the game when they all got on a train to Chicago.

"He told me that he couldn't meet USC because Notre Dame was traveling too much," Wilson said. "I thought the whole thing was off but as Rock and I talked, Marion was with Mrs. Rockne, Bonnie, in her compartment. Marion told Bonnie how nice Southern California was and how hospitable the people were.

"Well, when Rock went back to the compartment, Bonnie talked him into the game. But if it hadn't been for Mrs. Wilson talking to Mrs. Rockne, there wouldn't have been a series."

Jones developed the prototype of the modern tailback. His tailback, called the quarterback in the Jones' system, not only carried the ball 80 or 90 percent of the time, but also passed, punted and played safety on defense.

These running backs had a regal quality to their names: Morton Kaer, Morley Drury, Russ Saunders, Marshall Duffield, Gaius (Gus) Shaver, Orville Mohler, Homer Griffith, Irvine (Cotton) Warburton, Ambrose Schindler and Grenville Lansdell.

There was the great blocking back, Erny Pinckert, and later Bob Hoffman. The linemen of the 20s and 30s were the best of their day—Brice Taylor, Jesse Hibbs, Nate Barragar, Francis Tappaan, Garrett Arbelbide, Johnny Baker, Stan Williamson, Tay Brown, Ernie Smith, Aaron Rosenberg and Harry Smith.

Jones made an immediate impact at USC. His first team in 1925 had an 11-2 record. The Trojans were 8-2 in 1926, 8-1-1 in 1927, 9-0-1 in 1928, 10-2 in 1929 and 8-2 in 1930. After a season-opening loss to St. Mary's in 1931, the Trojans didn't lose another game until Stanford beat them, 13-7, in 1933—a 27-game unbeaten streak.

Trojan old timers still argue about which team was Jones' best. Some say it was the 1929 team that destroyed Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl, 47-14, even though USC lost two regular season games. Others contend it was the 1931 club that rebounded from a loss to St. Mary's to go undefeated the rest of the season, including the historic 16-14 upset of Notre Dame at South Bend on Johnny Baker's late field goal.

For the purists who say that the record is the only way to measure the worth of a team, it's difficult to dispute the credentials of the 1932 team, which went 10-0 and allowed its opponents to score only 13 points.

JOHNNY BAKER KICKED WINNING FIELD GOAL AT NOTRE DAME IN '31

As usually happens to any coach who has a long association with a single school, Jones had some down years, from 1934 through 1937.

USC rebounded with a 9-2 record in 1938, including a 7-3 Rose Bowl victory over Duke in which fourth-string quarterback Doyle Nave came off the bench in the final minutes to throw four consecutive passes to end "Antelope" Al

AL KRUEGER'S WINNING TD CATCH IN 1939 ROSE BOWL

Krueger, the last for the touchdown. The Blue Devils went into the Rose Bowl undefeated, untied and unscored upon.

Some insist that Jones' last great team in 1939 was his best. USC was unbeaten, but tied by Oregon and UCLA, in 10 games. The Trojans climaxed the season with Jones' final Rose Bowl victory, 14-0, over an unscored-upon Tennessee.

Jones died of a heart attack July 27,1941, at the age of 55. The Trojans would have some strong teams in the next 20 years under four coaches, but they wouldn't win another national championship until the John McKay era.

A Yale man and a former All-American at that school along with his famous brother Tad, Jones was already a competent coach when he came to USC in 1925 (he had coached at Syracuse, Yale, Ohio State, Yale again, Iowa and Duke). After a season at Duke, Jones became USC's coach. Some say he got the job on the recommendation of Rockne.

The 1928 season marked USC's first victory (27-14) over Notre Dame, after Rockne had tagged Jones with one-point defeats in 1926 and 1927.

Jones had a remarkably consistent record from 1925 through 1933, never losing more than two games in a season and establishing USC's winning tradition in the Rose Bowl.

Jones believed in and coached power football. Although his Thundering Herd teams rolled up yardage and scored as many as 492 points as early as 1929, some critics incessantly carped that USC's offense was unimaginative.

Jones added wrinkles to his offense, to be sure. He made good use of a wingback reverse and a surprise passing attack, demonstrated to near-perfection in the 1930 Rose Bowl when Russ Saunders threw three TD passes to beat Pittsburgh.

Still, it was the running game with flawless execution that was the trademark of Jones' best teams. Rules discouraged passing during Jones' heyday because a pass had to be attempted five yards behind the line of scrimmage and a team couldn't throw two incomplete passes in one series. Otherwise, it would incur a five-yard penalty in both instances.

So run the Trojans did. Drury, a workhorse in the backfield, became USC's first 1,000-yard rusher (1,163) in 1927. Amazingly, the Trojans wouldn't have another 1,000-yard runner until Mike Garrett (1,440) in 1965.

Mort Kaer, USC's first All-American tailback, gained 852 yards in 1926; Saunders had 972 in 1929; Orv Mohler and Gus Shaver accounted for 983 and 936 in 1930 and 1931, and Cotton Warburton gained 885 in 1933.

All of these backs averaged better than five yards per carry with considerably fewer attempts (excepting Drury's 223 in 1927) than the modern-day USC tailback.

Years later, Willis O. (Bill) Hunter, the USC athletic director when Jones was hired in 1925, said succinctly: "I'd have to say that all of us hitched our wagon to a star, and Howard Jones was that star. He made all of USC's later success possible."

It would not be precise to say that USC football was in limbo in the 40s and 50s. The Trojans went to the Rose Bowl five times during that time span and such players as Ralph Heywood, John Ferraro, Paul Cleary, Frank Gifford, Jim Sears, Jon Arnett and Marlin McKeever were honored as All-Americans.

There were also some fairly strong teams in this era—Jeff Cravath's war babies in the mid-40s and also his 1947 team, Jess Hill's once-beaten 1952 team and Don Clark's 1959 club.

But the Trojans had established high standards under Jones and fans of the school in the 40s and 50s thought in terms of national championships and took conference titles for granted.

Measured against the Thundering Herd days when overall only a loss or two in a season was tolerated, the 40s and 50s were a disappointing period for Trojan buffs. Sort of a waiting period. The Trojans didn't win a national championship in this span and Notre Dame took charge of its series with USC.

Succeeding Jones was Justin M. (Sam) Barry, who had been a valued assistant for Jones. Barry had close ties with Jones. He became basketball and baseball coach at Iowa on Jones' recommendation. Later, Jones brought Barry to USC to serve in the same capacity in addition to his assistant football coaching duties. Barry turned out winning baseball and basketball teams at USC and he was responsible for a major rules changes in the mid-30s—the abolition of the center jump.

Barry was under pressure in succeeding the legendary Jones and won only two of nine games with one tie in 1941.

When the dismal season ended, Barry was called into military service and President Rufus B. von KleinSmid and athletic director Bill Hunter began looking for an interim coach. The choice was Newell (Jeff) Cravath, a former Jones assistant and a defensive center for the Trojans from 1924 through 1926.

Cravath was coaching at the University of San Francisco in 1941 and his Dons had the highest scoring team on the West Coast. He had previously coached at Denver and in the junior college ranks.

He broke with the past and provided USC with a new offensive look in 1942. Howard Jones' single wing, with the quarterback carrying the ball almost every play, was put in mothballs.

The "T" formation, popularized by Stanford's Rose Bowl team in 1940, was in vogue and the Trojans were now in the "T"—with four backs, not one, handling the ball.

But USC had only moderate success in 1942, winning five and losing five with one tie.

By 1943 the country's war effort was in full gear and, because of travel restrictions, teams generally played teams in their own area. But USC football flourished during World War II because Cravath was able to recruit on his own campus. Navy and Marine training programs were set up at the school and some athletes who had played at other schools were transferred to USC. Moreover, the PCC voted to waive the peacetime regulation barring freshmen from varsity competition.

Cravath had an outstanding record during the war years, 23-6-2. His 1944 team was undefeated with two ties. USC made three straight appearances in the Rose Bowl. In 1943 USC played Washington at Pasadena in the only matchup of West Coast teams in Rose Bowl history. Jim Hardy threw three touchdown passes to tie Russ Saunders' record as USC won easily, 29-0.

USC had an even better team in 1944. With Hardy leading the way with his play-calling and passing, Troy concluded an unbeaten season by defeating Tennessee, 25-0, in the Rose Bowl. Jim Callanan scored the quickest touchdown in Rose Bowl history when he blocked a Tennessee punt and took it in with only 90 seconds elapsed in the game.

Because of service commitments, Hardy, All-American tackle John Ferraro, Gordon Gray and other stars from the 1944 team weren't available in 1945. So USC sent one of its worst teams to the Rose Bowl. The Trojans had a 7-3 regular season record, but they weren't a strong team. Alabama ended USC's string of eight Rose Bowl victories by winning, 34-14.

The war ended in 1945, and 1946 was the start of an unusual era in American college football. Servicemen who played for schools before the war, trainees who played during the war and incoming freshmen all were competing for positions now.

USC had a disappointing 6-4 record in 1946, but in 1947 the Trojans took charge of the PCC again. But the Trojans had peaked too soon. They struggled even while winning, including a 6-0 victory over UCLA that clinched the Rose Bowl bid. Then, Notre Dame, destroyed USC, 38-7, before 104,953 fans—the largest crowd ever to see a game at the Coliseum, before or since. The Trojans were humiliated again as mighty Michigan dealt USC then its worst defeat in the school's history, 49-0, in the 1948 Rose Bowl game.

USC had respectable records of 6-3-1 in 1948, including an upset 14-14 tie with unbeaten Notre Dame, and 5-3-1 in 1949. When the Trojans slipped to 2-5-2 in 1950, one of the worst records in the school's history, Cravath was asked to resign. It was his only losing season and his overall record was a creditable 54-28-8 (.644).

USC didn't have to look far for its new coach; he was right on campus.

Jesse T. Hill had become USC's track coach when Dean Cromwell retired in 1949. Hill had been one of the school's best all-around athletes. He played fullback for Howard Jones in 1928-29. He lettered three years, 1927-1929, on the track team as a broad jumper and was the first Trojan ever to better 25 feet in the event. He didn't report for baseball until his senior year at USC, but he was the league's leading hitter with a .389 average. He played major league baseball for the Yankees, Senators and Athletics and he retired with a 10-year batting average (majors and triple-A) of .306.

Like Gloomy Gus Henderson, Hill never achieved the acclaim as football coach that he deserved. He coached from 1951 through 1956 until he was promoted to athletic director and he had a 45-17-1 record, including two Rose Bowl appearances, a 7-0 win over Wisconsin in 1953 and a 20-7 loss to Ohio State in 1955. The win over Wisconsin was the first by a PCC team since the 1947 pact with the Big Ten.

It was under Hill's regime that USC coverted to a multiple offense, single wing and "T," to take advantage of the talents of Frank Giftord, who was a reserve "T" quarterback and defensive back under Cravath in 1949 and 1950.

Old Trojans still say it's a shame that Gifford was limited to only one season, his senior year in 1951, as a tailback. Otherwise, the versatile athlete who went on to become an All-Pro with the New York Giants and then gain greater fame as a television sportscaster would be mentioned in the same breath with O.J. Simpson and other famous USC tailbacks. As it was, Gifford had an outstanding 1951 season, compiling 1,144 yards in total offense, 841 by rushing.

The Trojans finished with a 7-3 record in 1951, and in 1952 Notre Dame spoiled what was otherwise a perfect USC season (10-1) by winning, 9-0. USC finished the year by beating Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl.

Hill had records of 6-3-1 in 1953, 8-4 in 1954, 6-4 in 1955 and 8-2 in 1956 before he replaced the retiring Bill Hunter as athletic director.

There were some outstanding USC players in the early 50s, including Gifford, Pat Cannamela, Lindon Crow, Elmer Wilhoite, Jim Sears, an offensive threat who made All-American in 1952 as a defensive back, Al Carmichael, Bob Van Doren, Leon Clarke, Lou Welsh, George Timberlake, Aramis Dandoy, C.R. Roberts, Marv Goux—and Jon Arneft.

Arnett was one of the most exciting runners ever to play for USC. He was USC's leading rusher in 1954 and 1955 with 601 and 672 yards on a total of only 237 carries. Arnett played only half a season in 1956 as a senior because of PCC penalties levied against athletes from USC, UCLA, California and Washington for taking payments in excess of what the conference allowed for living expenses.

Other players who were juniors in 1956 lost their eligibility for the 1957 season. C. R. Roberts, an explosive fullback, who rushed for a then-school record of 251 yards against Texas in 1956, was one of the players affected.

The scandals not only scarred the players but led to the dissolution of the Pacific Coast Conference in 1959. A new league, the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU), was formed with USC, UCLA, California, Washington and later Stanford as the member schools. It wouldn't be until 1964 that all of the Northwest schools would become reunited with the Big Five in the Pacific-8, which is now the Pac-10.

It was hardly a time for a new coach to take over at USC. But Don Clark, captain of the 1947 Trojans, a star lineman with the San Francisco 49ers and an assistant under Hill, was persuaded to take the job despite the fact that the PCC had put severe restrictions on USC's recruiting the previous two years. It is understandable why the Trojans had their worst record, 1-9, in the school's history in 1957.

Clark tried to generate enthusiasm with a new "go-go-go" hurry-up offense. When he was able to recruit again—getting players like the McKeever twins, Mike and Marlin—the Trojans made a comeback. They were 4-5-1 in 1958 and 8-2 in 1959, losing to UCLA and Notre Dame in the last two games.

Then Clark walked away from the job. He went out as a winner and applied the same success formula to the family business—Prudential Overall Supply.

So USC was without a coach on the threshold of the 60s. The most ardent Trojan fan couldn't imagine that the next coach would elevate the school to the national prominence that had not been attained since the days of Howard Jones.

Intelligent. Witty. Flippant. Quick-tempered. Moody. Aloof. Charming. Introverted. John McKay is all of these things—and more. To those who knew him best, the former USC coach was and is an enigma. But his friends and detractors generally agree that he'll be remembered as one of the outstanding college coaches ever.

Not only did he restore USC to its elite status, but he also had more influence on the way offensive football is played at the college level than any other coach in his time.

It was McKay who modernized the "I" formation with the tailback standing up in the backfield some seven yards deep, with the vision to scan the defense and with the potential to strike at almost any point along the line.

When you talk about tailbacks, you're talking about USC—such glamour runners as Heisman Trophy winners Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Charles White and Marcus Allen, plus Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

McKay was innovative, but more important than that, he was a winner. He won four national championships (1962, 1967, 1972, 1974) during his 16 years at USC (1960-75). His teams won nine Pacific-8 titles and finished in the nation's top 10 on nine occasions. He had a career record of 127-40-8 (.749), putting him in the same class with Jones (.750).

The Rose Bowl became almost USC's second home during McKay's tenure. His teams made eight New Year's Day appearances in Pasadena, winning five and losing three.

There was an exciting quality about McKay's teams and some of the most memorable games in USC history were played in the 60s and 70s: The 42-37 victory over Wisconsin in the 1963 Rose Bowl. The 20-17 win over Notre Dame in 1964, the game that deprived the Irish of the national championship. The 21-20 squeaker over UCLA in 1967 with Simpson sprinting 64 yards for the clinching touchdown. A final-minute 14-12 conquest of the Bruins and 26-24 over Stanford, both in 1969, and again over Stanford in 1973, 27-26. The amazing 55-24 rout of Notre Dame in 1974 after the Trojans trailed, 24-6, at halftime. The late, 18-17 victory over Ohio State in the 1975 Rose Bowl.

USC is identified with its tailbacks but rival coaches say it was the strength and mobility of McKay's offensive lines that enabled Simpson & Company to run to daylight.

USC had more than its share of All-Americans and talented players during the McKay era: wide receivers Hal Bedsole, Lynn Swann and Bobby Chandler; tight end Charles Young; linebackers Damon Barne, Adrian Young, Charles Weaver, Jimmy Gunn, Willie Hall and Richard Wood; defensive end Tim Rossovich; offensive tackles Ron Yary, Marvin Powell, Sid Smith and Pete Adams; defensive backs Mike Battle and Artimus Parker; quarterbacks Mike Rae, Jimmy Jones and Pat Haden; and fullbacks Sam (Bam) Cunningham and Ben Wilson.

During the 40s and 50s, the USC-Notre Dame series had become one-sided, distinctly favoring the Irish. But McKay, after a tentative start, turned things around. He was shut out by the Irish his first two seasons, 1960 and 1961, and in 1966 Notre Dame embarrassed USC, 51-0, the worst defeat in Trojan history. McKay lost only once to Notre Dame the next nine seasons (two ties). When he left USC for Tampa Bay of the NFL after the 1975 season, he had established an 8-6-2 record against the Irish.

McKay played freshman football at Purdue in 1946, then transferred to Oregon the next year, where he was an All-Coast halfback. He stayed on as an assistant at Oregon, but when an opening developed on Don Clark's staff in 1959, Clark hired McKay. It was the most fortuitous decision of McKay's career. Clark resigned after the 1959 season and he recommended McKay for the USC job.

Now USC football was in the hands of a virtually unknown assistant coach and his debut was hardly auspicious. He lost his 1960 opener to Oregon State, 14-0, and struggled through a 4-6 season. Injuries, graduation losses and an inordinate number of slow-footed backs hindered the Trojans. Alumni were already grumbling about McKay when the new USC coach upset UCLA, 17-6, near the end of the season.

The record was not much better in 1961, 4-5-1, but McKay was already experimenting with the "I" formation. He moved Willie Brown, a flanker, to tailback, and Brown responded with a 93-yard touchdown run to beat SMU. Then, the following week against Iowa, USC had its first explosive offensive game under McKay. After trailing, 21-0, the Trojans rallied for 34 points. They lost in the final minute, 35-34, when McKay, not willing to settle for a tie, opted for the two-pointer and failed. He would lose other games by going for two points, but he would also win a Rose Bowl game and a share of the national championship with a successful two-point try. McKay saw no sense in ties; he played only to win.

In 1962 it all came together for McKay. He had benefited from recruiting, refined the "I" and borrowed the Arkansas defense from Frank Broyles. USC had speed on both offense and defense, two fine quarterbacks in Pete Beathard and Bill Nelsen, the versatile Willie Brown at tailback, strong Ben Wilson at fullback and wide receiver Hal Bedsole, a big man (6-5, 220), who could fly.

The 1962 team had a perfect 11-0 record to win the national championship. In its 10 regular season games, USC outscored the opposition, 219-55, and held eight opponents to seven points or less.

The best and most thrilling aspect of the season was the 1963 Rose Bowl game with Wisconsin. The Trojans built what seemed an almost insurmountable lead, 42-14. They almost lost the game when Wisconsin quarterback Ron VanderKelen completed 18 of 22 passes in the fourth quarter. 33 of 48 in the game for 401 yards, in a remarkable near-comeback. Final score: USC 42, Wisconsin 37.

The 1963 season is notable for the debut of the first of McKay's great tailbacks—Mike Garrett, a runner with speed and power who became USC's first Heisman Trophy winner in 1965. McKay said it's a shame that Garrett never got an opportunity to play in the Rose Bowl during his three seasons at USC. The Trojans had respectable records—7-3 in 1963 and again in 1964 and 7-2-1 in 1965—but losses to Washington and UCLA kept them from Pasadena.

USC just missed getting to the Rose Bowl in the mid-60s, but there was that shining moment in 1964 when the Trojans shocked Notre Dame right out of a national championship. The unbeaten Irish were on their way to a title, leading the Trojans, 17-0, at halftime. But the Trojans rallied to win, 20-17, on quarterback Craig Fertig's touchdown pass to wide receiver Rod Sherman.

USC got to the Rose Bowl in 1966, but McKay doesn't have pleasant memories of that season. The Trojans lost their final three games—UCLA, 14-7; Notre Dame, 51-0; and Purdue in the Rose Bowl, 14-13, when McKay lost another two-point gamble.

The next year, 1967, became significant for two reasons: one, a junior college transfer from San Francisco named Orenthal James Simpson was the new tailback. Two, the Trojans were on their way to three winning years in which they would have a combined 29-2-2 record, win the national championship and finish second and third in wire service rankings, and make three straight visits to the Rose Bowl.

When USC won its first national title under McKay in 1962, it was accomplished under one-platoon rules. In 1967 the two-platoon system was back and USC was even stronger. The incomparable Simpson averaged 154 yards a game rushing, including a single game high of 235 yards. McKay had one of his best defensive units, which allowed only 87 points.

And 1967 was the year that the team broke the South Bend jinx. Notre Dame hadn't lost to USC at home since 1939 but Simpson's running and a ball-hawking defense that included seven interceptions retired some old ghosts, 24-7.

There was also the showdown game with crosstown rival UCLA. The Bruins were the nation's top-ranked team at the time. The Trojans had held the No.1 position earlier, but had slipped to third the previous week after being upset by Oregon State, 3-0, on a muddy field at Corvallis. The lead changed hands four times. UCLA spurted ahead, 20-14, in the fourth quarter behind Gary Beban, the Heisman Trophy winning quarterback. Then Simpson found daylight and sprinted 64 yards to a touchdown and a national championship.

After that, even the Rose Bowl was anticlimactic. Indiana was dominated by USC, 14-3.

The next two years, USC got another nickname—the Cardiac Kids; the team won or tied 12 times with fourth-quarter comebacks.

O.J. SIMPSON'S 64-YARD WINNING TD RUN VERSUS UCLA IN 1967

USC came into the Rose Bowl against Ohio State that season with a 9-0-1 record. Despite an 80-yard touchdown run by Simpson, the Buckeyes took advantage of Trojan turnovers to win, 27-16.

The 1969 team had a 10-0-1 record, climaxing the season with a 10-3 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl. But the second edition of the Cardiac Kids was often maligned because they didn't win by impressive margins. The fabulous Juice was gone and the Trojans had new personalities—sophomore quarterback Jimmy Jones, tailback Clarence Davis and a defensive line known as the Wild Bunch.

Jones could misfire on eight straight passes and then become accurate in the final minutes. Davis is now known as the "forgotten" USC tailback because his career followed those of Garrett and Simpson. Davis led the Trojans in rushing in 1969 and 1970, gaining 1,351 and 972 yards.

The name, Wild Bunch, was inspired by the current movie of the same name. The group was composed of ends Jimmy Gunn and Charles Weaver, tackles Al Cowlings and Tody Smith, and middle guard Bubba Scott. Gunn and Cowlings were All-Americans in 1969. Weaver was so honored in 1970.

The Cardiac Kids were at their heart-stopping best in a 26-24 victory over Stanford. Late in the game, USC surged back behind Jones' passing and Davis' running to set up Ron Ayala's 34-yard field goal with no time remaining.

The 1969 USC-UCLA game is considered one of the most dramatic of the series. Both teams were unbeaten with 8-0-1 records. The Wild Bunch gave UCLA quarterback Dennis Dummit a beating, but UCLA took the lead, 12-7 with 5 minutes left. Then, Jones, 0 of 9 passing in the first half, began to hit his receivers. A pass interference penalty against UCLA on an apparent fourth-down incompletion gave Jones a reprieve. He fired a 32-yard touchdown pass to Sam Dickerson deep in the end zone—and USC had pulled it out, 14-12, with 1:32 to play.

USC was 6-4-1 in 1970 and matched that in 1971. Winning years in some books, but not at USC.

McKay became conscious in 1970 that he needed faster and more talented players. By 1972 he had the right blend of experience and youth. He also had one of the greatest teams in the history of college football.

This was a team without an apparent weakness. It had a 12-0 record, scored 467 points, averaged 432 yards a game, never trailed in the second half, restricted opponents to an average of only 2.5 yards per rush and didn't permit a run longer than 29 yards.

McKay had two quality quarterbacks, senior Mike Rae and sophomore Pat Haden; an outstanding sophomore tailback, Anthony Davis, who became a starter at midseason; a high diving, excellent blocking fullback, Sam (Bam) Cunningham; tight end Charles Young and offensive tackle Pete Adams, both All-Americans; skilled defensive players like tackles John Grant and Jeff Winans and Richard (Batman) Wood, a sophomore All-American linebacker who could run the 40 in 4.5 seconds, and three fine wide receivers, Lynn Swann, Edesel Garrison and Johnny McKay, the coach's son.

The Trojans breezed through their schedule until the regular-season ending game with Notre Dame at the Coliseum. The Irish made a game of it, and closed to within two points, 25-23, late in the third quarter. Then Anthony Davis returned a kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown. He had earlier scored on a 97-yard kickoff return. The momentum belonged to the Trojans and they won, 45-23. Davis scored six touchdowns against Notre Dame that day, the most ever by a Trojan.

To underscore that the team was clearly the best in the country,

USC destroyed Woody Hayes' Ohio State team, 42-17, in the Rose Bowl. Cunningham sky-dived for four touchdowns, Rae completed 18 of 25 passes for 229 yards with no interceptions and Davis slashed for 157 yards, including a 20-yard TD run that broke the game open.

The Trojans were undisputed as No.1. For the first time in collegiate history, USC got every first-place ballot in the final AP and UPI polls.

McKay had lost 12 regulars from his 1972 team when the 1973 season opened. Still, the Trojans responded with a 9-2-1 record and another appearance in the Rose Bowl (Ohio State won, 42-21).

McKay believed that he had one of the strongest teams in the country at the outset of the 1974 season. Haden and Davis were both seniors. The team was generally experienced.

The Trojans were shocked by Arkansas, 22-7, in the opener at Little Rock, and weren't impressive at times, especially at mid-season when they were tied by California, 15-15. But then they got rolling, leading to one of the most remarkable games ever played. The Trojans, apparently beaten by Notre Dame and trailing, 24-0, in the first half, rallied for 35 points in the third quarter, scored more in the fourth quarter and won, 55-24. Anthony Davis returned the second-half kickoff 102 yards for a touchdown to get the roll started, the sixth of his career, breaking the existing NCAA record.

The Trojans, with a flair for the dramatic, had not run out of comebacks. In the 1975 Rose Bowl game, USC trailed Ohio State, 17-10, with minutes left to play. Haden teamed with Johnny McKay on a 38-yard touchdown pass. Coach McKay went for the two-point conversion try. Haden threw a low, accurate pass to Shelton Diggs for an 18-17 victory. The pass was the biggest play of the year because Alabama had lost to Notre Dame on New Year's night in the Orange Bowl and USC was elevated to the No.1 spot in the final UPI poll.

SHELTON DIGGS' WINNING CONVERSION CATCH IN 1975 ROSE BOWL

In 1975, USC won its first seven games. But Troy wasn't as formidable as its record indicated—and there was something else. McKay announced before his team was to play at California in game eight that he would be leaving USC at the end of the season to coach the NFL expansion team in Tampa Bay.

McKay was in the dual role of athletic director and football coach. He had become weary of the politics of college athletics and the recruiting grind after 16 years. And there was precious little more that he could accomplish at the college level. The most compelling reason to leave USC, however, was the lifetime security of the Tampa Bay offer.

McKay's decision had an immediate adverse effect on his team, which lost four straight conference games. Although USC had a disappointing 7-4 regular season record and was out of the Rose Bowl race even before the UCLA game, McKay still went out as a winner. The Trojans played in the Liberty Bowl in Memphis and pulled off a mild upset by defeating Texas A&M, 20-0.

Howard Jones won his last national championship in 1932. John McKay won his first in 1962. That's a 30-year drought between legendary coaches. USC wouldn't have to wait that long after McKay resigned.

John Robinson, McKay's replacement, not only maintained the winning Trojan tradition, he added a new dimension to the USC football program.

Robinson went 67-14-2 (.819) in his first seven-year stint at USC (1976-1982). He won a national championship in 1978. His teams finished second in the final wire service polls twice, in 1976 and in 1979. He won three Rose Bowls (1977,1979,1980) and a Bluebonnet Bowl game (New Year's Eve, 1977).

As a tactician, he retained the best from McKay—the formation and tailback-oriented offense along with a sound defense—while establishing the quarterback as a more important figure in his offense.

McKay's best teams were balanced offensively (running and passing), but, in 1975, when USC slumped, the poor play of quarterback Vince Evans was a contributing factor. Evans was much improved under Robinson in 1976. Robinson was also responsible for the improvement of Rob Hertel in 1977. It was in 1978 and 1979 that the quarterback, Paul McDonald, really came into a position of eminence in the USC offense, rivaling that of the tailback, Charles White.

Robinson, like McKay, was a virtually unknown assistant when he was named USC's coach. He was a reserve end on Oregon's 1957 Rose Bowl team and he stayed at his alma mater for 12 years as an assistant before becoming McKay's offensive coordinator from 1972 through 1974. He left USC in 1975 to join the Oakland Raiders as an offensive assistant coach.

Robinson's first night as a head football coach was a nightmare. That was Sept. 11, 1976, when Missouri shocked Robinson's Trojans, 46-25, in the opener.

But the game was hardly a harbinger for the season. The Trojans got their act together and won their next eight games to set up another Rose Bowl-deciding game with UCLA, unbeaten and ranked No. 2 in the country under new head coach Terry Donahue. USC won, 21-14.

Ricky Bell was the latest model off the USC tailback assembly line that season. He had broken O.J. Simpson's single season rushing record the previous year, gaining 1,957 yards on 385 carries.

Bell didn't fit the mold of a typical USC tailback. Garrett, Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and, later, White, were short, stocky types. Bell, a former fullback and linebacker, was a battering, bruising runner with good speed for a big man. He gained 1,433 yards for the season to become USC's No.2 all-time leading rusher behind Anthony Davis, 3,724 to 3,689.

After the 1976 win over UCLA, USC beat Notre Dame, 17-13, the next week and then the Trojan defense completely destroyed powerful Michigan in the Rose Bowl. The Wolverines were the nation's leading scoring (39 points average) and rushing team (448 yards), but they could score only six points and rush for 217 yards as USC won, 14-6, without Bell.

Bell was knocked unconscious on USC's first series. White, who would go on to become the school's most prolific rusher, filled in with 114 yards on 32 carries. Evans completed 14 of 20 passes for 181 yards, scored a touchdown on a one-yard keeper and was named Player of the Game. Robinson became the first rookie head coach from the Pac-8 to win the Rose Bowl game in 61 years.

Bell, safety Dennis Thurman, defensive tackle Gary Jeter and offensive tackle Marvin Powell got All-American recognition. USC finished with an 11-1 record and a No. 2 national rating behind undefeated Pittsburgh.

Expectations were high for 1977. The Trojans started fast, winning their first four games and moving to the top of the rankings. Alabama snapped USC's 15-game unbeaten streak with a 21-20 victory at the Coliseum and the Trojans suddenly became an inconsistent team. They lost three of their next five games, including an embarrassing 49-19 setback to Notre Dame at South Bend, where the Irish switched from blue to green jerseys before the game to get a psychological advantage.

The Trojans were out of the Rose Bowl running by the time they met UCLA. But it was an important game for the Bruins. If they beat USC, they would get the Rose Bowl bid; a loss would send Washington to Pasadena. In one of the most exciting games of the city series, the Bruins were leading, 27-26, with only a few minutes remaining. Then, Frank Jordan kicked a 38-yard field goal with two seconds left, kicking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl, 29-27.

USC got a consolation prize, a Bluebonnet Bowl bid against Texas A&M at Houston's Astrodome. It was a wild offensive party on New Year's Eve. USC gained 620 yards rushing and passing; A&M gained 519. USC won, 47-28.

For a change, USC wasn't highly ranked in the 1978 preseason polls. Nor were the Trojans the consensus favorite to win the newly-expanded Pacific-10 with the addition of Arizona and Arizona State.

USC opened with lackluster wins over Texas Tech and Oregon. No. 1-ranked Alabama was waiting for USC in Birmingham. The Trojans, with tailback Charles White who was now a junior gaining 199 yards on 29 carries, toppled Alabama, 24-14. USC didn't let down the next week against Michigan State, the Big Ten co-champion. The Trojans buried the Spartans, 30-9. USC seemed unbeatable then, but it was walking into a trap at Tempe. Arizona State surprised USC, 20-7. The Trojans couldn't afford to lose another game if they expected to get to the Rose Bowl. They didn't.

The Trojans had the Rose Bowl bid but if they were to stay in contention for the national championship, they had to beat their old rival, Notre Dame, the following week at the Coliseum.

USC had Notre Dame reeling, leading them, 24-6, after three quarters. The Irish made a comeback to rival any in the school's illustrious history. Incredibly, Notre Dame scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to take a 25-24 lead with 46 seconds remaining. There was time enough for USC to make an even more amazing comeback. Jordan, who had kicked a 38-yard field goal with two seconds left to beat UCLA in 1977, booted a 37-yard field goal with two seconds remaining to shock Notre Dame, 27-25.

It was on to the Rose Bowl for USC, where the Trojans scored a 17-10 win over Michigan. USC went into the game as the nation's third-ranked team, behind unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Alabama, in both wire service polls. After Alabama beat Penn State in the Sugar Bowl, the Tide won the national championship in the AP poll and USC barely won in the UPI balloting.

If USC was overlooked in preseason ratings in 1978, they made up for it in 1979.

The Trojans seemed awesome. They were coming off a 12-1 season, a share of the national championship and White and McDonald, now seniors, represented the best one-two offensive punch in college football. Besides White and McDonald, Robinson had such skilled players as offensive tackle Anthony Munoz and guard Brad Budde, both All-American prospects; wide receiver Kevin Williams, tight ends Hoby Brenner, James Hunter and Vic Rakhshani; defensive linemen Myron Lapka, Ty Sperling and Dennis Edwards; linebackers Dennis Johnson and Larry McGrew; and two of the nation's best safeties, Ronnie Loft and Dennis Smith.

USC won its first five games, but then lost its No.1 ranking in an improbable manner. Stanford was the spoiler. The Cardinals stunned USC with 21 unanswered points in the second half and the game ended in a tie, 21-21. USC had had its letdown for the season, but it didn't falter again.

The Trojans were back in the Rose Bowl, this time against Ohio State. With 5:21 to play, the Buckeyes led, 16-10, and the Trojans were in deep trouble at their own 17-yard line. White, who was already the runaway winner in the Heisman Trophy balloting, simply ran through Ohio State. The Trojan tailback gained 71 yards of an 83-yard stay-on-the-ground assault climaxed by his diving touchdown inches away from the goal line. The successful conversion enabled USC to preserve its unbeaten record, 11-0-1. The Trojans wound up as the nation's No. 2 team in both polls.

White and McDonald had superb seasons. White was the nation's leading rusher in 1979. He wound up his regular season career with 5,598 yards—second highest total in NCAA history. McDonald set 17 NCAA, Pac-10 and school passing records. All-American guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award as the nation's best lineman and linebacker Dennis Johnson also won All-American honors.

The decade of the '80s marked the emergence of still another tailback to carry on the legacy of excellence that is inherent with the USC football program.

Marcus Allen, who had served his apprenticeship as Charles White's fullback in 1979 (gaining 649 yards and scoring eight touchdowns), was now prepared to assume the demanding responsibility as tailback in the I formation. Allen was a reserve tailback in 1977 as a freshman, with only limited experience at the position considering that he was a quarterback and defensive back in high school.

Despite his inexperience at the position and a limited passing game, Allen still managed to gain 1,563 yards, and catch 30 passes. He also showed his versatility by completing the only two passes he threw, one for a 36-yard touchdown.

The Trojans, who were ineligible to play in a bowl game due to conference sanctions, finished with an 8-2-1 record, losing to Washington, the Rose Bowl representative, and narrowly to UCLA, 20-17—the Trojans' first loss to the Bruins in Robinson's five seasons as USC's coach.

Three Trojans, defensive back Ronnie Loft, offensive tackle Keith Van Horne and offensive guard Roy Foster were recognized as All-Americans.

Allen had a productive first season as USC's tailback. Still, it wasn't an indication of what he would accomplish in 1981. A more confident, skilled player now, his statistics were awesome even though he was a marked man. Allen was virtually the USC offense as he gained 2,342 yards through 11 regular season games, an NCAA mark, while averaging a record 212.9 yards per game. His record-breaking season was validated as he became the fourth Trojan tailback to win the Heisman Trophy.

Even though USC won its first four games, including a thrilling last-second 28-24 victory over Oklahoma on national TV, an upset loss to Arizona, 13-10, and a 13-3 setback to Washington in Seattle prevented the Trojans from going to the Rose Bowl. However, USC ended the regular season with a 22-21 victory over UCLA as nose guard George Achica blocked a late Bruin field goal try to preserve the win.

The Trojans didn't fare so well in the Fiesta Bowl, where they were dominated by Penn State, losing, 26-10, to finish with a 9-3 record. Allen was a unanimous All-American with Foster repeating and linebacker Chip Banks getting equal recognition.

Because of NCAA and conference sanctions, USC was ineligible to participate in any bowl games the next two seasons.

USC still had a respectable 8-3 season in 1982 despite the loss of Allen and an injury-decimated tailback corps.

It was in the week preceding the 1982 Notre Dame game that Robinson disclosed that he was leaving USC as football coach to become a senior vice president in the school's administration. He wouldn't remain at that position long, though, leaving USC soon after to become the Rams' coach.

So the theme for the Notre Dame game was "Win One for the Fat Guy," pertaining to Robinson's girth and his popularity. The Trojans did just that, 17-13, with tailback Michael Harper scoring the winning and controversial touchdown in the closing minutes. It was argued that Harper didn't have the ball when he sky-dived over a pile at the goal line.

Achica and offensive linemen Don Mosebar and Bruce Mathews were named All-Americans.

The successful Robinson, who had coached USC to three Rose Bowl wins and a national championship in 1978, was replaced by Ted Tollner, who had joined the USC staff in 1982 as offensive coordinator. However, although nobody knew it then, it wouldn't be the last time Trojan fans saw Robinson.

Tollner's first season wasn't auspicious as the Trojans slumped to a 4-6-1 record, the first losing season in 22 years. Their 27-6 loss to Notre Dame was the start of a frustrating streak—13 consecutive years without a win over the Irish. Center Tony Slaton was an All-American in 1983.

The Trojans rebounded in 1984, winning seven straight Pac-10 games and clinching the Rose Bowl bid a week before the end of the conference season with a 16-7 victory over Washington. Tollner had a defensive team featuring All-American linebackers Jack Del Rio and Duane Bickett, while a fiery JC transfer, quarterback Tim Green, who replaced injured Sean Salisbury, provided leadership on offense. The Trojans had a letdown after beating Washington, losing to UCLA and Notre Dame. But Tollner's team regrouped to beat Ohio State, 20-17, in the Rose Bowl for a 9-3 record.

Although USC was favored to repeat as conference champs in 1985, the Trojans had a 6-6 season, ultimately losing to Alabama, 24-3 in the Aloha Bowl.

The Trojans started fast in 1986, winning their first four games. Then, USC was upset by Washington State, 34-14, and lost to Arizona State, 29-20, before winning three straight conference games. But the Trojans finished on a sour note, losing to UCLA, 45-25, and Notre Dame, 38-37. Tollner was then fired, the first USC coach to be terminated since Jeff Cravath in 1950. Tollner's four-year record was 26-20-1.

Tollner was a lame duck when USC lost to Auburn, 16-7, in the Citrus Bowl that concluded a 7-5 season. Offensive guard Jeff Bregel and safety Tim McDonald, All-Americans in 1985, did so again in 1986.

gram in his seven years there, winning 70% of his games in his last four seasons. He also coached Arizona to a startling upset over No.1 ranked USC in 1980 and had beaten rival Arizona State five straight times.

The Trojans had a roller coaster season in 1987, Smith's first year as coach. Michigan State beat USC, 27-13, at East Lansing in the opener and Oregon upset USC, 34-27, at Eugene at midseason to imperil USC's Rose Bowl aspirations. But the Trojans rebounded to beat Washington, 37-23, at Seattle when a loss would have meant virtual elimination from the Rose Bowl race. The Trojans kept winning behind quarterback Rodney Peete, who was to break every meaningful USC passing record, and tailback Steven Webster, a 1,000-yard rusher.

As it has so many times in the past, the Rose Bowl deciding game paired the Trojans against the Bruins. But USC, an 8 1/2 point underdog, prevailed, 17-13, getting the winning touchdown on Peete's 33-yard pass to receiver Erik Affholter, who juggled the ball in the corner of the end zone. Peete provided the play of the game late in the first half, when he ran down UCLA's Eric Turner, who had intercepted Peete's pass and was apparently headed for a TD that would have provided UCLA with a 17-0 halftime lead.

USC was back in the Rose Bowl only to lose to Michigan State again, 20-17. Offensive lineman Dave Cadigan was selected an All American.

The 1988 campaign began in glorious fashion for the Trojans. USC was celebrating its athletic centennial and the football team did its part, starting off 10-0 and rising to No. 2 in the rankings. With its second consecutive Rose Bowl berth clinched by virtue of a 31-22 win over UCLA (Peete was hospitalized all week with the measles, but came off his sickbed to lead Troy to victory), the undefeated Trojans hosted top-ranked Notre Dame. But the Irish prevailed, 27-10, and USC couldn't recover in the Rose Bowl, falling to Michigan, 22-14, as Smith lost to his former boss, Bo Schembechler (who he served under at Miami of Ohio and Michigan).

Peete, who finished second in the Heisman voting and set a USC season and career passing records, was an All-American, along with Affholter, safeties Mark Carrier and Cleveland Colter and defensive tackle Tim Ryan.

USC's 1989 season was supposed to open in historic fashion—against Illinois in the Glasnost Bowl in Moscow of the Soviet Union, but those plans had to be scratched because of contractual difficulties with the game's organizers (the game was played in the Coliseum and the Illini won, 14-13). The Trojans then won eight of their next nine games, including a dramatic 18-17 comeback win at Washington State when freshman quarterback Todd Marinovich—whose father, Marv, captained the 1962 USC squad and whose uncle, Craig Fertig, was USC's 1964 captain—passed USC 91 yards down the field in 18 plays at game's end. Troy's only loss during that span was 28-24 at Notre Dame (USC also tied UCLA, 10-10). USC, which finished 9-2-1, made it to the Rose Bowl for the third year in a row and the third time was the charm for Smith as he beat No. 3 Michigan, 17-10, in Schembechler's last game as Wolverine coach. Tailback Ricky Ervins, who rushed for 1,395 yards in 1989, ran 14 yards for the game-winning TD with 1:10 to play to earn Rose Bowl MVP honors.

Carrier and Ryan repeated as All-Americans in 1989 (Carrier also won the Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back), while linebacker Junior Seau and offensive guard Mark Tucker also won All-American acclaim.

ERIK AFFHOLTER'S TD CATCH AGAINST UCLA IN 1987

JOHNNIE MORTON'S TD CATCH AGAINST UCLA IN 1990

USC's Rose Bowl streak ended in 1990, although the 8-4-1 Trojans did play in a bowl that season, narrowly losing to Michigan State (17-16) in the John Hancock Bowl. The season's highlight was the UCLA game, the highest-scoring and perhaps most thrilling game in the storied cross-town rivalry. The game, won by USC, 45-42, featured a 42-point fourth quarter with four lead changes, capped by Marinovich's 23-yard game-winning pass to Johnnie Morton with 16 seconds to go. Linebacker Scott Ross was a 1990 All-American and tailback Mazio Royster rushed for 1,168 yards.

The Hancock Bowl loss—marked by a sideline shouting match between the stern disciplinarian Smith and the free-spirited sophomore Marinovich, who soon after left for the NFL—signaled the beginning of the end for Smith's tenure at USC. Things quickly unraveled in 1991, as the Trojans were upset in their home opener by unheralded Memphis State, 24-10. Although USC upset No. 5 Penn State the following game, 21-10, Troy had a difficult year. The Trojans were 3-8, ending the season with six consecutive losses—including the first of an embarrassing eight in a row to UCLA—and no bowl trip.

Smith's 1992 season started decently. Despite a tie with San Diego State in the opener and a close 17-10 road loss to top-ranked Washington, USC regrouped to win four in a row, but then disaster struck as the Trojans lost four of their last five, including 38-37 to UCLA when a potential game-winning 2-point conversion pass with 41 seconds to go fell incomplete (Troy had a 14-point fourth quarter lead) and 24-7 to upstart Fresno State in the Freedom Bowl. USC, fielding its 100th football team, finished 6-5-1, despite featuring a pair of All-Americans in electrifying wide receiver/return specialist Curtis Conway (who set the school's career kickoff return record) and offensive tackle Tony Boselli. So, just three seasons after directing the Trojans to three straight Rose Bowls, Smith was fired...and a familiar face returned to Troy.

After a successful nine-year run coaching the Rams, in which he made the playoffs six times, and then a year off spent as a television analyst, John Robinson returned to USC in 1993 in hopes of restoring the football program's past glory.

He had an immediate impact, as his first team tied for first place in the Pac-10 (UCLA received the Rose Bowl bid because it beat the Trojans, 27-21). Like in his first stint at Troy, Robinson lost his opener (31-9 to North Carolina). He then lost three road games to Top 15-ranked teams (Penn State on a failed two-point conversion attempt at game's end, Arizona and Notre Dame), but the 8-5 Trojans did beat Washington in Seattle to end the Huskies' 17-game home winning streak and they prevailed over Utah in the Freedom Bowl, 28-21. USC almost made it to the Rose Bowl, but for an intercepted 3-yard pass in the end zone with 56 seconds to play to preserve UCLA's 27-21 victory. His team featured Morton, an All-American who set USC's career receiving record with 201 catches, plus quarterback Rob Johnson (whose 3,630 passing yards was a Trojan season record) and fearsome linebacker Willie McGinest. USC played in the new-look Coliseum, where a $15-million renovation included the removal of the running track and the lowering of the field.

The 1994 season saw the return of another familiar face to USC when one-time ballboy Keyshawn Johnson transferred from a junior college. Johnson, a big, speedy receiver, was brash, loquacious and had a magnetic personality. The Trojans began 2-2, then strung together five wins in a row. Although USC lost again to UCLA, its 10-10 tie with Notre Dame did dent a long drought to the Irish (Notre Dame had won the previous 11 games). USC made a statement in the Cotton Bowl with its 55-14 win over Texas Tech to finish 8-3-1, and Johnson also stood out in that game as he caught eight passes for 222 yards with three touchdowns (the yardage and TDs were Cotton Bowl records). Boselli, hampered by a knee injury in 1993, earned All-American honors again.

Amazingly, USC was able to play its games that year in the Coliseum even though the grand stadium was severely damaged in an earthquake in January of 1994 and had to undergo $93 million of repairs.

Robinson got his next team back to the Rose Bowl. The 1995 Trojans started off 6-0, then lost at Notre Dame and tied Washington in Seattle, 21-21 (Troy scored 21 unanswered points in the fourth quarter). Because of a better overall record than the Huskies, USC got the Rose Bowl bid where it defeated No. 3 Northwestern, 41-32, a Cinderella team making its first Pasadena visit since 1949. Johnson finished his brief USC career as the Rose Bowl MVP, grabbing 12 passes for a game-record 216 yards with a TD. His 102 catches that season were a school record and he ended up second on USC's career receiving list before becoming the No. 1 pick in the 1996 NFL draft. Tailback Delon Washington rushed for 1,109 yards for the 9-2-1 Trojans.

Although USC wound up 13th in the final 1994 AP poll and 12th in 1995, that 1995 campaign was the peak of Robinson's second stint guiding USC. He couldn't take USC any higher; in fact, his Trojans leveled out the next two years.

In 1996, Troy went 6-6, losing a pair of heartbreakers—both in two overtime periods (the NCAA instituted the tiebreaker beginning with the 1995 bowl contests). First, USC lost at Arizona State, 48-35, then fell to UCLA, 48-41, as the Bruins erased a 17-point deficit in the final 6:12 of the fourth quarter. The bright spot of the season was a 27-20 season-ending overtime win over Notre Dame in the Coliseum, breaking USC's 13-game non-winning streak to the Irish.

In 1997, for the second year in a row, USC didn't play in a bowl. However, the 6-5 Trojans did post their second straight win over Notre Dame, this time 20-17 on Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to play to give USC its first victory in South Bend since 1981. USC's 23-0 win at Oregon State was not shown on television, ending USC's streak of 111 consecutive live telecasts. Defensive tackle Darrell Russell earned All-American honors.

Robinson, whose last two teams went 1-6 against Top 25-ranked opponents, was fired after the 1997 season.

His replacement was someone familiar with USC and its tradition of success: Paul Hackett. Hackett had been an assistant under Robinson from 1976 to 1980 and was on the Trojan staff during the 1978 national championship season. He then made his mark in the NFL as a quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator with four teams, including the 1984 Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers. In his career, he had tutored the likes Joe Montana, Marcus Allen, Jerry Rice, Tony Dorsett, Charles White, Herschel Walker and Danny White.

Hackett got off to a good start, winning his 1998 opener (27-17 over Purdue) to become the first Trojan head coach to win his debut since Jess Hill in 1951. USC went 8-5, shut out Notre Dame, 10-0 (the Irish's first shutout since 1987), and played in the Sun Bowl. Chris Claiborne was an All-American and became USC's first winner of the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker.

The 1998 season also had a sad note to it, as 91-year-old "Super Fan" Giles Pellerin died at the UCLA game while viewing his 797th consecutive Trojan game, home and away. His streak dated to 1926; he had seen every USC-UCLA and USC-Notre Dame game ever played before his passing.

USC looked like it was going to take another step up in 1999, starting off 2-0. But quarterback Carson Palmer broke his collarbone in the third game and was sidelined for the season, and Troy dropped six of its next seven contests (the win was at home against Oregon State, USC's 1,000th game). Although they missed out on a bowl, the 6-6 Trojans rebounded by winning their last three games, including 17-7 over UCLA to snap an eight-game losing streak to the Bruins. All six of USC's losses were by 10 points or less. Tailback Chad Morton rushed for 1,141 yards.

Things didn't improve in 2000, as the new millennium unfolded. Although USC began 3-0 and climbed to No. 8 in the AP poll, it lost the next 5 games. Despite beating UCLA on David Bell's dramatic field goal with 9 seconds to play, the Trojans finished 5-7 overall and out of a bowl for the second consecutive year. Their 2-6 mark in the Pac-10 left them with their first-ever last place finish in conference play. Hackett was fired after the season and replaced by Pete Carroll, who came with 26 years of college and pro coaching experience (including head coaching stints with the NFL's New England Patriots and New York Jets).

Carroll's first squad in 2001 started slowly (at 1-4 and then 2-5), but rebounded by winning its final four regular-season games (and its last five Pac-10 contests), including a 27-0 home shutout over UCLA, to earn a spot in the Las Vegas Bowl. Although the Trojans finished 6-6, the losses were by a combined 29 points. Five were by five points or less (the first time that happened in a USC season), including twice when opponents kicked field goals in the final 12 seconds (once at the gun), also a USC first. Hampered by injuries to its tailback corps, the Trojans rushed for an all-time low 1,052 yards. However, safety Troy Polamalu earned All-American honors.

So, as a new Trojan coaching era is under way, prospects appear bright for the continued success of the USC program. After all, there's nothing like Trojan football.

USC'S "HISTORY-SHAPING" GAMES

(When USC football reached a milestone in its illustrious history on Oct. 2, 1999, by playing its 1,000th game, Trojan assistant sports information director Chris Huston wrote the following story in Troy's game program that day on USC's "most important" games...not necessarily the best games or most dramatic, but those that made USC football what it is today.)

Looking back, who would have thought that a tiny school founded by the Methodist Church would emerge to become one of the top football powers in the country?

There have been so many accomplishments in these 1,000 games: eight national titles, four Heisman Trophy winners, 28 Rose Bowls and 121 All-Americans. Trojan football history is packed with heroic moments and legendary names.

The names are etched clearly in our memories: Gloomy Gus. The Thundering Herd. John McKay. Iron Mike. And the famous games still resonate: the twin comebacks versus Notre Dame, the recurring nail-biters against UCLA, the triumphant Rose Bowls.

But what about the "most important" games out of the past 1,000 - the games that helped make USC what it is today? Which games started trends, broke streaks or changed history? Some you'll remember, some you won't. Here are a few of the contests that shaped USC's football history:

1888 - USC 16, Alliance Athletic Club 0 The first game. Who could have imagined how the future would unfold? In those days a touchdown scored four points, while the conversion was worth two points, a field goal five points and a safety scored two. Frank Suffel and Henry Goddard were the playing coaches for this first team.

1905 - Stanford 16, USC 0 This was USC's first game ever against major college competition. Prior to this, USC had played Southland colleges, high schools, academies and athletic clubs and had rivalry games with Pomona and Occidental. Stanford, however, was big-time on the gridiron long before USC was. The Stanford-Cal game annually made bigger headlines, even in Los Angeles, than any USC game. USC fans looked forward to this game all year and the Trojans managed to hold their own on a dreary day in Palo Alto, but the result was a shutout loss. Significantly, USC did not play another major opponent in college football for nine years after this Stanford loss.

1924 - California 7, USC 0 Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's undefeated Trojans met Andy Smith's undefeated Bears before 60,000 in USC's first appearance at Memorial Stadium in Berkeley. Jim Dixon scored the game's only touchdown on a 12-yard run around left end in the second quarter. USC's loss pushed its record against Cal to 1-8-1. The pressure from the alumni for Henderson's ouster grew intense, and after an upset loss to St. Mary's the next week, the decision was made to buy out Gloomy Gus' contract at the end of the year. The way was thus cleared for the arrival of Howard Jones, arguably Troy's greatest head coach.

1925 - Nebraska 17, Notre Dame 0 The greatest intersectional college football rivalry--USC versus Notre Dame--might never have commenced but for this game. USC was looking for a national rival and dispatched graduate manager Gwynn Wilson (akin to the modern day athletic director) and his wife to Lincoln, where Notre Dame was playing Nebraska on Thanksgiving Day. Knute Rockne was cool to the idea of a home-and-home series with USC because of the travel involved, but Mrs. Wilson was able to persuade Mrs. Rockne that a trip every two years to sunny Southern California was better than one to snowy, hostile Nebraska. Mrs. Rockne spoke to her husband and shortly thereafter Notre Dame became an annual fixture on USC's schedule.

1928 - USC 10, Stanford 0 Howard Jones had not beaten Glenn "Pop" Warner's Stanford Indians in three tries until his Thundering Herd did it before 80,000 at the Coliseum this year. The legendary Warner considered this Stanford team to be his best, but they lost five turnovers to USC that day. Stanford's 10-pound per-man weight advantage was offset by the Trojans' "quick-mix" defense and a speedy backfield comprised of Don Williams, Russ Saunders and Marshall Duffield. This was a landmark game as it signaled Troy's emergence as the preeminent power on the West Coast. USC went on to win its first national title that season and Jones never lost to Warner again.

1931 - USC 16, Notre Dame 14 This game captured the imagination of football fans everywhere--and the hearts of the citizens of Los Angeles. More than 300,000 fans welcomed the Trojans home from this thrilling victory in South Bend--a victory clinched by what sportswriter Maxwell Stiles called "Johnny Baker's 10 little toes and three BIG points." USC trailed 14-0 at the outset of the final stanza, but stormed back behind the running of Gus Shaver and the passing of Orv Mohler. Baker's 23-yard field goal with one minute remaining made the difference. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten string and was the Trojans' first win in South Bend. Called "...the biggest upset since Mrs. O'Leary's cow knocked over that lantern" by El Rodeo, Troy's student yearbook, it clinched USC's second national title and firmly established the Trojans as a national power.

1944 - USC 38, Washington 7 This was USC's first home night game in the Coliseum. The game program reported: "This may well be the one and only Coliseum night game in Trojan varsity football history." That year, Washington was under wartime travel restrictions and was forced to schedule two California games in seven days. A schedule conflict resulted and an exception had to be made to USC's longstanding policy of playing Saturday afternoons. The game was a success. The attendance of 62,865 was USC's largest for a home game that year. As a result, home night games became a regular part of the USC schedule.

1956 - USC 44, Texas 20 In 1925, guard Brice Taylor, an African-American, was named USC's first All-American. It would be about 30 years before another black man made his mark on Trojan football. Fullback C.R. Roberts was that man. He rumbled for 251 yards versus Texas, setting the USC single-game rushing record in the process. The record stood for 20 years. It was sweet redemption for Roberts and his teammates. The game was played in Austin and the hotel the Trojans had booked was segregated. Head Coach Jess Hill moved his team to a lodging that was integrated and the Trojans seemed to take it out on the Longhorns on game day.

1959 - Notre Dame 16, USC 6 This was the last game played between the two teams in South Bend in November. The freezing cold affected the Trojans so much that Athletic Director Jess Hill proposed moving USC's games at Notre Dame Stadium to October, while continuing to play the Coliseum games in late November. Notre Dame agreed and it has been that way ever since.

1961 - Iowa 35, USC 34 The Hawkeyes came into this game ranked No. 1 in the country. The Trojans, in their first season using John McKay's I-formation, were struggling. The critics in the press box said the "I" stood for "incompetent," "intolerable" and "ineffective." But on this day, after falling behind 21-0, USC exploded for 34 points and lost only in the last minute, 35-34. The Trojans totaled 220 yards on the ground and 156 in the air. For the first time, the I-formation proved its worth. Soon, USC and John McKay became synonymous with this tailback-led rushing attack.

1967 - USC 24, Notre Dame 7 The 1967 USC-UCLA game is the game everyone remembers from this season, but it never would have had the same importance if the Trojans hadn't first defeated defending national champion and No. 5 Notre Dame on a sunny October day in South Bend. The previous year, the Irish handed the Trojans their worst defeat ever, 51-0, and despite USC's No.1 rank in the 1967 polls, Notre Dame was a heavy favorite. Weighing heavy on the oddsmakers' minds was the fact that USC had not won in South Bend since 1939 (it didn't matter much to them that McKay, after the '66 debacle, vowed never to lose to the Irish again). It was on this day that most of the country first heard of a tailback named O.J. Simpson. The junior from San Francisco rushed for 160 yards on 38 carries and tacked on all three USC touchdowns. A tenacious Trojan defense intercepted seven passes (four by a true Irishman, Adrian Young) and recovered two fumbles. USC trailed at the half, 7-0, but roared back in the second half to win the game. The victory solidified Troy's place at the top of the final rankings.

1970 - USC 42, Alabama 21 It's a rare feat when a football game helps to change societal attitudes. The 1970 USC win over Alabama may have done just that. The Trojans traveled to Birmingham where they faced an all-white Crimson Tide team coached by Paul "Bear" Bryant. Thanks to dominating performances for USC by a trio of African-Americans (Sam Cunningham, Clarence Davis and Jimmy Jones), Bryant was convinced that he needed to recruit black players for his program. The rest of the Southeastern Conference soon followed suit and opportunities for black athletes in the South began to improve tremendously. Bryant was so impressed by Cunningham (who had 135 yards and two touchdowns on just 12 carries) that he invited the sophomore fullback into the "Bama locker room after the game. He brought his players to Cunningham one-by-one and introduced him, saying: "This is what a football player looks like."

1996 - USC 27, Notre Dame 20 At long last, after 13 years of futility, the Trojans defeated the Irish. In what seemed the unlikeliest of streaks, USC had found every possible way to not defeat Notre Dame. And in what seemed like the unlikeliest of days for it to happen, Troy finally ended that streak. USC was struggling at 5-6 after a wild double-overtime loss to UCLA the previous week while Notre Dame was standing tall with an 8-2 record and a New Year's Day bowl bid in the works. The Trojans somehow managed to stay in the game despite playing without starting quarterback Brad Otton for large chunks of regulation, as he was bothered by an injury. When Notre Dame scored a touchdown to go ahead 20-12 (with the PAT pending) in the fourth quarter, things looked bleak for USC. But Irish kicker Jim Sanson shanked the extra point and the margin stayed at eight. The Trojans responded with an eight-play, 67-yard drive culminating in Delon Washington's 15-yard touchdown scamper. Washington also ran in the two-point conversion and the score was knotted at 20. Neither team could score before the end of regulation and overtime ensued. On USC's first drive, Otton hit Rodney Sermons with a five-yard touchdown pass and the Trojans went ahead for the first time, 27-20. Jubilation erupted in the Coliseum when Mark Cusano then batted down Ron Powlus' fourth-down pass and the streak ended.

Other "important" games in Trojan history

1939 Rose Bowl - USC 7, Duke 3 (Duke was unbeaten, unscored upon until this game)

1951 - Notre Dame 19, USC 12 (USC's first appearance on national television)

1953 Rose Bowl - USC 7, Wisconsin 0 (breaks Big Ten Rose Bowl win streak)

1964 - USC 20, Notre Dame 17 (Fertig to Sherman shocks the No. 1 Irish)

1974 - USC 55, Notre Dame 24 (The Comeback--enough said)

1975 Rose Bowl - USC 18, Ohio State 17 (Haden to McKay and then Diggs for the national title)

1978 - USC 24, Alabama 14 (key game in most recent national title season)

1983 - Washington 24, USC 0 (first shutout of USC in 187

USC'S FIRST ALL-AMERICAN, BRICE TAYLOR

HONORS AND AWARD WINNERS

Trojan Football

USC'S ALL-AMERICANS

The following is a complete listing of all USC football players who have ever received first team All-American honors. Although there are several teams selected throughout the country, the NCAA now recognizes only six in determining whether a player is a unanimous or consensus choice–AP, Football Coaches Association, Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation, The Sporting News and Football News.

From 1962 to 1990, USC had at least one first team All-American every year. From 1972 to 1987, there was at least one consensus All-American Trojan every year. Also, there have been an amazing 26 first team All-American Trojan offensive linemen since 1964.

USC HEISMAN SALUTE

HEISMAN TROPHY

MIKE GARRETT — 1965

Two-time All-American Mike Garrett was the man who began the great legacy of USC's I-formation tailbacks.

He was the Trojans' first — and only the West Coast's second — Heisman winner when he whipped an outstanding field of candidates in 1965.

Mike set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his three-year career, including an NCAA career rushing record of 3,221 yards in the days when 1,000-yard-a-season rushers were almost non-existent. He later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

HEISMAN TROPHY

O.J. SIMPSON — 1968

O.J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in history.

During the regular 1968 season, O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1,709 — in a single season (since bettered). A two-time unanimous All-American, he equaled or bettered 19 NCAA, conference and USC records.

A December 1998 SPORT magazine ranking listed him among the Top 10 college football players of the 20th century.

Simpson also held the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and finished his 11-year pro career as the second leading NFL career rusher.

USC HEISMAN SALUTE

HEISMAN TROPHY

CHARLES WHITE — 1979

Charles White, USC's third Heisman Trophy winner, finished his four-year career as the NCAA's second leading rusher ever with 5,598 regular season yards. Including bowl games, he finished with a Pac-10 record 6,245.

A two-year unanimous All-American, White set or equaled 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records. He gained over 100 yards 31 times in his career, including 10 times in 1979.

In that senior season, Charlie averaged 186.4 yards a game, 6.2 yards a carry, led the nation in rushing, and, for the second straight season, led it in all-purpose running.

HEISMAN TROPHY

MARCUS ALLEN — 1981

Marcus Allen, USC's fourth Heisman Trophy winner, was college football's first 2,000-yard rusher.

When he captured the award in 1981, Marcus set 14 new NCAA records and tied two others, including most yards rushing in a single season (2,342), highest per-game average (212.9), most 200-yard games in a career (11), most 200-yard games in a season (8) and most 200-yard games in a row (5).

Allen also led the Trojans in receiving with 30 and 34 catches in each of his last two seasons.

LOMBARDI AWARD

BRAD BUDDE — 1979

In 1979, offensive guard Brad Budde became USC's first recipient of the coveted Lombardi Award, given to the nation's top college lineman who also "best exemplifies the discipline of Vince Lombardi."

Budde was a unanimous All-American as a senior and was also runnerup in the Outland Trophy voting. A four-year starter at Troy, he was the first freshman to start a USC season opener since World War II.

The son of ex-Kansas City Chiefs' All-Pro Ed Budde, Brad followed his father there as the Chiefs' first- round draft pick in 1980.

ALL-CONFERENCE SELECTIONS

Here is a list of Trojans named to the All-Conference first team since 1928 (from 1928 to 1951, All-Conference and All-Coast selections are included). USC joined the Pacific Coast Conference in 1922, which was reformed into the Athletic Association of Western Universities in 1959, then renamed the Pacific-8 Conference in 1968. From 1978 on, it has been the Pacific-10 Conference.

Playboy Pre-Season All-Americans

USC has landed more players on the prestigious Playboy Magazine pre-season college All-American football team than any other university. Since Playboy first picked a team in 1957, there have been 56 Trojan players selected, as well as 1 Coach of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete. Not including the 2002 picks, next with 42 selections is Michigan, followed by Notre Dame with 40 (plus 1 Coach of the Year), then a pair of school with 32: Nebraska (plus 2 Coaches of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete) and Oklahoma (plus 2 Coaches of the Year). During a 16-year period (1972 through 1987), at least 1 Trojan player was selected annually to the Playboy squad. On 4 different occasions (1970-76-79-80), 3 USC players made that year's Playboy team. USC's Tony Boselli, who was selected in 1992-93-94, was the first 3-time Playboy selection from any school.

Here is a list of USC's Playboy pre-season All-Americans:

USC LETTERMEN

Trojan Football

ALL-TIME LETTERWINNERS

Various standards have been used to determine USC letterwinners over the years, but since 1976, squad members who have played at least 30 minutes have been listed here as lettermen. There have been many exceptions to that rule, including kickers and others who contributed significantly to the team's success without playing 30 minutes.

In addition, senior squad members who have been on the team for several years have generally been awarded letters for their senior season, as long as they appeared in at least one game. This has been a long-standing policy.

The list is confined to lettermen who actually played on USC's varsity teams of American Rules Football, and does not include individuals who lettered only in rugby.

Positions, heights, and weights are generally those listed in USC publications and other sources in the player's final letterwinning year. Positions are primarily listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterwinner played. "Hometowns" by longstanding custom are usually the places from which players came to USC, and are located in California unless noted. Parenthetical notations contain a letterwinner's high school, and junior or senior college, attended before USC, where known, and are in the state of the letterman's hometown, unless noted. This list was expanded by Michael J. Glenn (with input from Gary Wright). USC appreciates their invaluable efforts.

A Note on USC's Records

The records material on these pages has been compiled from a number of sources. Although official national individual records commenced only in 1937 (nearly 50 years after USC's first team), USC's game-by-game records generally extend back to the mid-1920s. Newspaper accounts of individual games, including some extraordinary individual performances, date back to 1889. Unfortunately, for some games in USC's first 20 years, only the final result has survived to the present.

These records have been compiled by USC's Sports Information Office (previously known as the Athletic News Service), particularly the sports information directors listed elsewhere in this guide. Special mention should be made of the efforts of Tom Lawless, Dick Nash, Harley Tinkham, Chuck Weinstock, Al Wesson, Deke Houlgate, H.D. Thoreau and Mike Glenn.

N5-Rose Bowl, Pasadena, California

*-This was the only field goal that Decius kicked for USC; yet his record stood for 64 years. Decius also held the record for most field goals in a single game against USC. Playing for Los Angeles High School, Decius, on Oct. 10, 1908, kicked three field goals (then worth four points each), two from the 35-yard line near the sidelines and one from the 27-yard line. That record, tied several times, stood for 65 years, until Nov. 10, 1973, when Rod Garcia kicked four field goals for Stanford against USC.

USC VS. HEISMAN WINNERS

John Lujack – 1947
Notre Dame 38, USC 7

Irish quarterback Lujack completed 5-of-7 passes for 59 yards and no TDs, but it was his interception and 37-yard return of a Trojan pass that led to a score. Eventual national champion Notre Dame knocked off No. 3-ranked USC, 38-7, at the Coliseum.

Leon Hart – 1949
Notre Dame 32, USC 0

Hart scored on a 36-yard pass for Notre Dame's first score as the top-ranked Irish rolled to a 32-0 win in South Bend over the No. 17 Trojans. It was USC's worst loss in the series at the time.

John Lattner – 1953
Notre Dame 48, USC 14

Lattner set then-series records by scoring 4 touchdowns and rushing for 157 yards in No. 2 Notre Dame's 48-14 victory over No. 20 USC in the Coliseum.

Paul Hornung – 1956
USC 28, Notre Dame 20

Hornung, who played quarterback during his Heisman Trophy season, switched to halfback against USC because of painful injuries to both thumbs. His 95-yard kickoff return and PAT in the third quarter drew the Irish to within a point, 21-20. Hornung accounted for 215 all-purpose yards in the Coliseum game.

John Huarte – 1964
USC 20, Notre Dame 17

Huarte completed 18-of-29 passes and threw a touchdown pass in leading top-ranked Notre Dame to a 17-0 lead. But unranked USC rallied to score 20 second-half points to upset the Irish, 20-17, in Los Angeles. It was Ara Parseghian's first loss as Irish coach.

Gary Beban – 1967

With the national championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl on the line, Beban threw for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns for the top-ranked Bruins. The effort wasn't enough as O.J. Simpson, USC's 1968 Heisman winner, scored on a 64-yard TD to give the No. 4-ranked Trojans a 21-20 win.

Jim Plunkett – 1970

Plunkett ended No. 4-ranked USC's hopes of a fifth straight Rose Bowl trip by completing 19-of-31 passes for 274 yards and a score in No. 12-ranked Stanford's 24-14 win at Palo Alto. The loss ended USC's 25-game unbeaten string in regular season play.

Archie Griffin – 1974
USC 18, Ohio State 17

In the 1975 Rose Bowl, Griffin fumbled twice and was held to 75 yards and no TDs, as USC rallied to take an 18-17 win. The victory over the No. 3-ranked Buckeyes gave USC its seventh national title.

George Rogers – 1980
USC 23, South Carolina 13

Rogers broke free for a 34-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter in Los Angeles as part of a 141-yard rushing game. But it was Marcus Allen, USC's 1981 Heisman Trophy winner, who rushed for 104 yards and 2 touchdowns to give USC a 23-13 win in its home opener.

Tim Brown – 1987
Notre Dame 26, USC 15

Brown was held to 4 catches for 46 yards, but it was his 5-yard run in the second quarter that put the Irish up 17-3 in South Bend. Notre Dame's seventh Heisman winner rushed 5 times for 41 yards in the Irish's 26-15 win.

USC ON TELEVISION

USC's football team — perhaps the true "America's Team" — has appeared on live national, regional or local telecasts 295 times over the years, including 181 times on commercial network television. USC's overall record while playing on live television is 179-87-9 (the mark is 102-75-6 for commercial network telecasts only). USC set a national record in 1987 by appearing on 6 live national regular-season network telecasts. USC had an amazing streak of 111 consecutive games on some form of live television (from the 1988 Oregon State game through the 1997 Stanford game) and another streak of 48 consecutive live telecasts (from the 1997 UCLA game through the 2001 Oregon State game).

Trojan games have always been among the top — if not the top — attractions among live televised college football games. In fact, over the 10-year period from 1972 to 1981, USC posted the highest average television rating of any school, according to figures released by the NCAA which were compiled by the A.C. Nielsen Co. rating service. During that span, USC averaged a 15.6 rating on its 24 live regular-season ABC national and regional telecasts. A rating indicates the percentage of all U.S. households that are tuned to a game. Currently, each rating point equals 1% of the nation's 99 million TV households. A 10.0 rating is considered above average.

In a December 1988 ranking by Sports Inc., the USC-Notre Dame game recorded 5 of the 12 all-time highest college football TV ratings. The 1968 USC-ND encounter was the highest rated college football telecast ever (22.9 rating). The other USC-ND clashes in the top 12 include 1970-74-72-64.

Of the 12 highest rated games ever, according to Sports Inc., USC was involved in more than any other school: 7 (besides those 5 Notre Dame games, the others were the UCLA encounters of 1973 and 1967). Incidentally, USC was 6-0-1 in those games.

As further proof of USC's television appeal, Sports Inc. listed Troy as the top drawing team from 1974 to 1983 (the 10 years prior to the U.S. Supreme Court ruling which deregulated the TV marketplace) with an average rating of 14.49 on 24 telecasts (more than a full rating point higher than No. 2 Notre Dame). After deregulation (from 1984 to 1989) and with the proliferation of telecasts, USC was still in the Top 10, ranking ninth with a 6.07 average rating on 25 appearances (less than 2 points behind the leader).

Below is a list of the USC football team's appearances on live television. Listed along with the year and the opponent are the score; the network, syndicator or station that televised the contest; whether the telecast was national, regional or local; and, if available, the Nielsen rating. An asterisk (*) indicates a home game. USC was not eligible to appear on live television in the 1983 and 1985 regular seasons because of an NCAA ban.

* - USC Record
- Excludes first 3 games
+ - Excludes Pomona game

Between 1888 and 1921, an estimated 500,000-plus people attended home and away USC games.

The largest single-game crowd in USC history was the estimated 120,000 at Soldier Field in Chicago for the 1927 USC-Notre Dame game. The largest USC home crowd was 104,953 for the 1947 USC-Notre Dame game in the Coliseum. The largest USC post-season bowl game crowd was 106,869 at the 1973 Rose Bowl in Pasadena (USC versus Ohio State), which is an NCAA bowl game record.

In all, USC has played before at least 47,850,110 people since it first started playing football in 1888.

In 1988, USC not only set a school record for home attendance average per game (76,063, which ranked eighth best in the nation), but Troy also registered the greatest increase in average home attendance of any school in the nation that year (up 22,416 per game over 1987). That increase was 7,996 more than the next closest school.

*Coliseum record for a football game.

The Coliseum seating capacity was reduced to 92,516 in 1964 (although temporary seats were added for the 1965 UCLA and 1988 Notre Dame games, hence the larger crowds then). In 1993, stadium renovation increased the Coliseum capacity to 94,159, but that figure was reduced in 1995 to 92,000. The largest crowd for a non-UCLA/non-Notre Dame game since 1964 was 86,124 for Oklahoma in 1988.

USC: PIPELINE TO THE PROS

With its outstanding football heritage, it's no surprise that USC usually has more players in the pros than any school.

At the start of training camp this summer, there were 39 ex-Trojans on National Football League rosters, including 9 rookies. In fact, USC players were on the rosters of 21 of the NFL's 32 teams. Most of the Trojans were either defensive backs (11), offensive linemen (6), wide receivers (5), tight ends (5) or linebackers (5).

In 2001, there were 26 Trojans on opening day NFL rosters; only 12 universities had more players (since records are available, USC has been No. 1 in 17 of the last 26 years).

Overall, USC has produced 401 NFL draft picks (plus 28 by the AFL before it merged with the NFL) and 371 players who since 1920 played in the NFL (or its sister leagues, the AFL or All-America Football Conference).

USC has had three of the most highly drafted classes in college football history. The 1953 class (following the 1952 season) had 15 players drafted while both the 1975 and 1977 classes had 14 players selected. USC has had more first round NFL draft picks (60) than any school (Notre Dame is next with 56, followed by Ohio State with 55). USC had the most picks of any school in the 1990 NFL draft, with 10. USC's 12 first round picks in the 1990s tied for third most in the nation with Tennessee (behind Ohio State's 15 and Florida State's 13); 8 of those Trojan first rounders were selected in the Top 10. In the decade of the 1980s, Troy had more first round picks than any school (16). USC's 5 first round picks in the 1968 draft is an NFL record. Only Notre Dame (with 5) has had more players selected as the top pick of the NFL draft than USC's 4 (Ron Yary in 1968, O.J. Simpson in 1969, Ricky Bell in 1977 and Keyshawn Johnson in 1996). USC is the only school to have the No. 1 pick for 2 consecutive years (Yary and Simpson).

At least 1 Trojan has appeared in all but 2 of the 356 Super Bowls (there have been 83 USC representatives overall). Two Trojans (Lynn Swann in 1976 and Marcus Allen in 1984) have been the Super Bowl MVP. In 1977, 9 USC alums played in the Super Bowl. And Trojans have been selected to play in the Pro Bowl 192 times.

Nine former USC players and 3 ex-assistant coaches are in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Only Notre Dame, with 10, has more players represented.

Anthony Munoz and Ronnie Lott were selected on the NFL's All-Time Team in August 2000, as chosen by the 36 Pro Football Hall of Fame voters.

A December 1999 story in The Sporting News listed 4 Trojans among the 100 Greatest Pro Football Players: Anthony Munoz (17th), Ronnie Lott (23rd), O.J. Simpson (26th) and Marcus Allen (72nd).

Anthony Munoz was picked among the NFL's Top 10 players of the 20th century by SPORT in 1999.

In December 1999, the Dick Butkus Football Network named a pair of ex-Trojans on its NFL All-Century First Team: Anthony Munoz and Ronnie Lott.

A January 1999 article in ESPN Magazine says that "one of the best ways to win a Super Bowl is to (have a USC player on the team). The alma mater most often represented on winning teams is USC (45 players). Lagging behind: Notre Dame (38) and Penn State (35)."

A Dec. 13, 1999 article in the San Diego Union-Tribune, which examined Pro Bowl selections since 1950 to determine the schools that have supplied the most pro players at various positions, found that USC had the most Pro Bowl selections (162, more than Notre Dame's 135 and Ohio State's 122) and produced more Pro Bowl running backs and safeties than anyone.

A May 1999 SPORT magazine article pointed out that USC sent more players to the Pro Bowl in the 1990s (14) than any other school. "The most measurable sign of a player's success--and thus his pedigree--comes in the form of the NFL's highest annual honor: the Pro Bowl. It's not enough to make it to the league, you've gotta make it in the league." In the article, then-New York Jets Pro Bowl wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson, the former USC All-American, said: "USC is a football factory. Every kid in L.A. grows up wanting to play there, and the coaches know how to translate that into elite athletes."

In a Dec. 1994 College Sports magazine ranking of the schools which have been the top sources over the years of football talent by position (on a combined college and NFL level), USC was listed first at running backs, offensive linemen and defensive backs, and third at linebackers.

In a 1985 Sports Illustrated poll of NFL player personnel directors, USC was ranked first overall among all schools in preparing college players for the pros. By position, USC received top marks for running backs, offensive linemen and tight ends.

TROJANS IN THE NFL DRAFT

Listing includes NFL drafts from 1936-2002 (which followed the 1935-2001 collegiate seasons). From 1960-1966, both the NFL and AFL had drafts and this listing includes both drafts because the AFL later merged with the NFL. (F) indicates "future selection," based on an old NFL rule prior to 1967 in which a player could be chosen if his class had graduated, even if he hadn't completed his eligibility (he could be drafted after his fourth year and his rights would remain with the team which selected him even if he didn't sign for a year). The AFL held a separate "redshirt" (or futures) draft in 1965-1966 and it is also included in this listing.

First round draft picks are listed in CAPITAL LETTERS. The "overall draft selection" figures were not available prior to 1967, however players are listed in correct order of selection in those years (except for the 1960 AFL draft, in which no round-by-round records were available). The positions listed are those projected by the pros at the time of selection.

List compiled with the assistance of Beau Riffenburgh, NFL Properties.

Round	Player	Pos.	Team	Overall Draft Selection
1937--1
10	Gil Kuhn	T	Brooklyn Dodgers
1939--4
8	Ray George	T	Lions
12	Bob Hoffman	B	Redskins
16	Boyd Morgan	B	Redskins
17	Amerigo (Tony) Tonelli	B	Lions

(Note: Hoffman's selection was later declared void because he still had eligibility remaining. However, he was picked again by the Redskins in 1940.)

TROJAN TIDBITS

TRAVELER

Trojan Football

TROJAN TRIVIA

AFTER TIES — USC is 36-14-4 in games immediately following a tie. The Trojans have won the last 13 contests they have played after a tie, dating to 1968.

ARTIFICIAL TURF — USC is 13-7-1 in its last 21 games on artificial turf.

BIG TEN COMPETITION — USC has won 24 of its last 32 games (and 31 of its last 40) against Big Ten opponents. USC has twice played 3 consecutive games against Big Ten teams: Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl, then Penn State and Illinois in 1996, and Indiana in the 1968 Rose Bowl, then Minnesota and Northwestern in 1968. There have been 5 times (1962-68-72-76-89) when USC has faced 3 Big Ten teams during a single season, although not consecutively.

BOUNCE BACK — USC has had back-to-back non-winning seasons just 13 times in its 109-year history, most recently in 2000 and 2001.

CHRISTMAS — USC has played 6 games on Christmas Day, going 3-3: in 1897 (18-0 loss at San Diego YMCA), 1907 (16-6 loss to Los Angeles High School), 1918 (10-0 win over Redlands), 1924 (20-7 post-season win over Missouri in the Christmas Festival), 1934 (33-7 win at Kamehameha High School Alumni) and 2001 (10-6 loss to Utah in the Las Vegas Bowl).

DIAMONDS — During 1992 and 1993, USC played 4 games in a stadium with a baseball field (Troy opened 1992 in Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego, then played in Anaheim Stadium in the 1992 Freedom Bowl, 1993 Disneyland Pigskin Classic and 1993 Freedom Bowl). Before then, the last time USC played on a baseball field was in 1961, when the Coliseum was home to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

DOMES — USC is 3-0 inside domed stadiums, beating Washington State in Seattle's Kingdome in 1976, Texas A&M in the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston's Astrodome, and Houston in the Astrodome in 1996.

EARLY BIRDS — USC's Aug. 25 opener in 1996 marked the earliest that Troy's season has opened in the modern era. (The earliest that USC's season has ended was Nov. 13, 1909.) USC's latest season opener was Dec. 7, 1901 and its latest home opener was Dec. 14, 1918 (USC didn't play any home games in 1900 or 1901).

5-POINT LOSSES — The 2001 season was the first time that USC lost 5 games all by 5 points or less.

GOLDEN GRIDDERS — Two football lettermen have won Olympic gold medals: Fred Kelly (1914,15,16) in the high hurdles in the 1912 Games (he is USC's first gold medalist) and Ken Carpenter (1934,37) in the discus in the 1936 Games. Although 2-time gold medalist Quincy Watts (400 meters and 1600 meter relay in the 1992 Olympics) never lettered in football, he was a receiver on the 1990 Trojans (he didn't get into a game).

GOOD BYES — USC is 76-41-4 in all regular season games it has played following byes. Since 1955, the Trojans are 37-12-1 following byes (6 of those losses and the tie were to UCLA). USC had 3 regular-season byes in 1996, the first time that had happened since 1935.

GRID/HOOPS — USC is 11-7-1 against schools that won the NCAA men's basketball title the previous year.

HOLLYWOOD TROJANS — Among the USC footballers who gained fame on the silver screen are: John Wayne (he played tackle in 1925-26 under his real name, Marion Morrison), Ward Bond (a 1928-30 letterman best known for his role in "Wagon Train"), Mike Henry (a tackle from 1956-58 who played Tarzan), Tim Rossovich (a 1967 All-American defensive end who has been a supporting actor in various movies), O.J. Simpson (the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner starred in many TV and motion picture films), Anthony Davis (the 1974 All-American tailback was in various movies), Patrick Muldoon (a walk-on tight end in the mid-1980s who stars in soaps, including "Melrose Place," and films, including "Starship Trooper"), Brian Turk (a lineman in the late 1980s who has appeared in various TV sitcoms and commercials), Shane Foley (the quarterback who lettered in 1989-90 has been in various TV commericals) and Nick Pappas (the ex-USC player, assistant coach and assistant athletic director doubled for Pat O'Brien as Knute Rockne in the football scenes of "Knute Rockne — All-American"). Also, Irvine "Cotton" Warburton (an All-American back in 1933) won an Oscar for film editing on "Mary Poppins," while Aaron Rosenberg (a 2-time All-American guard in 1932-33) was a well-known TV and movie producer, Jess Hibbs (a 2-time All-American tackle in 1927-28) was a prominent film and TV director and Ken Del Conte (a halfback in the early 1960s) is a producer. Allan Graf (an offensive guard in the early 1970s) is a stunt man and second unit director. Producers Hilton Green (a team manager) and Barney Rosenzweig (a Yell Leader) also were associated with the Trojan football program .

HOMECOMING — USC has a 50-24-4 record in its Homecoming games, dating back to the first such event in 1924.

HOME JERSEYS — USC wore its home cardinal jerseys for the 2000 Kickoff Classic against Penn State (even though Troy was the visiting team) and for its 1999 game at Hawaii (at the request of the Rainbows). Before that, the last time USC wore cardinal in an opponent's stadium was against UCLA in the Rose Bowl in 1982.

IMPROVEMENT — USC's best one-season improvement of its record was +6, as the 1962 national champion Trojans went from 4-5-1 in 1961 to 11-0.

IN FLORIDA — USC has never won a football game in Florida, going 0-4 there.

IRISH REBOUNDS — USC is 7-10-1 versus Notre Dame when Troy was coming off a loss to UCLA. The wins were in 1950-55-70-80-82-96-98, the losses were in 1946-51-53-54-57-59-66-84-86-92, and the tie was in 1994.

LAST SECOND LOSSES — The 2001 season was the first time that USC lost 2 games in the final 12 seconds.

ND COACHES — USC is 4-3 in games when a Notre Dame coach was coaching the final regular-season game in his Irish career, with the Trojan wins coming in the past 4 such occasions (1996 with Lou Holtz, 1980 with Dan Devine, 1974 with Ara Parseghian and 1962 with Joe Kuharich).

NICKNAMES — Some of the more famous nicknames in Trojan gridiron lore: A.D. (Anthony Davis), Aircraft (Mark Carrier), Amblin' Amby (Ambrose Schindler), Antelope Al (Al Krueger), B-Boys (Pete Beathard, Hal Bedsole, Willie Brown, Ben Wilson), Bambi (Mike Hull), Batman (Richard Wood, Gidion Murrell), Bear (Byron Darby), Betto (Norberto Garrido), BKU (Kenchi Udeze, as in Big Kenechi Udeze), Blackjack (Harry Smith), The Bookend All-Americans (Duane Bickett and Jack Del Rio, both outside linebackers), Buck (William Buchanon), Bug (Kevin Williams, 5-9 and 165 pounds), Bullet (Roy Baker), Butch (Walt Underwood, Kendell Nungesser), Butter (Ted Gorrell), Cadillac (Cleveland Colter), Cardiac Kids (1968 and 1969 teams), Comet (Curtis Conway), Cotton (Irvine Warburton), Cotton Clubs (tackles for a loss by Marcus Cotton), Decleaters (knockdown blocks by Dave Cadigan), D. Hale (his first name is Donald, but he goes by D.), The Duck (Mike Garrett), End Around (Ray Sparling), Field Marshall (Marshall Duffield), Forrest Mozart (that's his real name), Gazoo or Gnat (Ken Grace), Gloomy Gus (Coach Elmer Henderson), Gramps (Randy Tanner), Hobo (Howard Kincaid), Inky (Haskell Wotkyns), Iron Mike (Mike Garrett), Izzy (Israel Ifeanyi), Jackhammers (tackles for a loss by Jack Del Rio), Jaguar Jon (Jon Arnett), J.J. (John Jackson), Juice (O.J. Simpson), Jupiter (walk-on Jupiter Ehrlich; yes, that's his real name), Lone Ranger (David Webb, who put a bar of grease paint across his eyes when playing), Mad Dog (Tim Lavin), Mystic (Jim Powers), The Noblest Trojan of Them All (Morley Drury), Pinball Wizard (Ricky Ervins), Prince Hal (Hal Bedsole), Racehorse (Russ Saunders), Razor (Mike Battle), Red (Morris Badgro), Rolls (Mazio Royster), Sam Bam (Sam Cunningham), Scissors (Windrell Hayes), Shakes (Jonathan Mosley, who has Tourette's syndrome), Slam (Sam Anno), Slinky (Marvin Pollard), Speedy (Alcee Hart), Squeeze (John Kamana), Sugarbear (Charles Hinton), Sunny (Sunny Byrd; yes, that's his real name), Sweet (Jim Musick), Sweet Peete (Rodney Peete), Tay (Raymond Brown), Tee (Artimus Parker), Tex (Michael Williams), The Thundering Herd (Coach Howard Jones' teams), Trapper (Travis Claridge), Tree (Charles Young, who was 6-4 and 228 pounds), Turd (Pete Adams' dog, the unofficial mascot of the 1972 team), Turk (Derrell Marshall), The Wild Bunch (the 1969 defensive line of Al Cowlings, Jimmy Gunn, Willard Scott, Tody Smith and Charlie Weaver).

NIGHT TIME — USC's first night game was on Oct. 14, 1944 against St. Mary's Pre-Flight in Fresno. The first USC night game in the Coliseum was Oct. 23, 1944 versus Washington.

TROJAN TRIVIA

NO. 1 — The last time USC was ranked No. 1 in the polls (AP and UPI) was Oct. 7, 1981.

NOS. 35 AND 55 — In recent years, the No. 35 jersey was handed down to a "stereotypical" inside linebacker. The chain of succession: Riki Gray (Ellison), Rex Moore, Scott Ross, Jeff Kopp, Taso Papadakis (Taso's brother, tailback Petros Papadakis, wore it from 1997 to 2000) and now Lee Webb. The No. 55 went to the prototype outside or inside linebacker (Junior Seau, Willie McGinest, Israel Ifeanyi, Chris Claiborne and Markus Steele).

NOVEMBER RECORD — USC has a 212-121-20 (.629) all-time record while playing in the month of November.

OCTOBER RECORD — USC has a 265-103-19 (.709) all-time record while playing in the month of October.

O-LINE — There have been 26 first team All-American offensive linemen from USC since 1964 and 19 Trojan offensive linemen have been first round NFL draft picks since 1968.

OLYMPIC RECORD — USC is 159-52-10 (.742) in seasons that the Summer Olympics have been held. The Trojans won 3 national championships (1928, 1932 and 1972) and played in 9 bowls (winning 6) during those Olympic seasons.

ONE GAME TURNAROUND — USC once had an 87-point turnaround from one game to the next. In 1985, the Trojans lost to Arizona State, 24-0, then came back the following game to defeat Oregon State, 63-0.

OPENERS — USC's record in all season openers is 78-23-8 (.752), with 35 shutout victories. In season openers at home, the Trojans are 56-16-7 (.753), while their record in season openers on the road is 22-7-1 (.750).

In conference openers, USC is 60-15-5 (.781) and Troy has won 22 of its last 31 (and 35 of its last 45). In conference openers at home, the Trojans are 36-7-3 (.815). Their mark in conference openers on the road is 24-8-2 (.735), having won 19 of their last 25.

The earliest USC has opened conference play since joining a league in 1922 was Sept. 3, 1994 against Washington.

USC's record for home openers is 82-18-7 (.799). In road openers, USC is 70-27-8 (.705).

Incidentally, in games immediately following USC's 31 non-winning seasons openers, Troy is 20-7-4, including wins 13 of the past 14 times (dating to 1960).

PAC-10 WINS — In 1988, USC became the first Pac-10 team to win 8 conference games in a season.

POLYNESIANS — Among the Polynesians who have played at USC: George Achica, Pat Ah-Hing, Al Aliipule, Michael Alo, Charley Ane, Paul Green, Harold Han, Arthur Hemingway, John Kamana, Kolomona Kapanui, Gaylord Kuamoo, Chris Limahelu, Malaefou MacKenzie, Faaesea Mailo, Junior Moi, Johnny Naumu, Sol Naumu, Kennedy Pola, Troy Polamalu, Junior Seau, Mosi Tatupu, Titus Tuiasosopo, Brian Tuliau and Junior Utu.

POPULAR DAYS — Oct. 10, Oct. 24 and Nov. 7are the most popular days in USC's regular season history, as the Trojans have played 16 games on each of those days. Jan. 1 is the all-time leader, with 27 USC games on that day.

PRESIDENTIAL PRECEDENT — Since 1929, USC has played in the Rose Bowl during the term of every U.S. President (still pending for George W. Bush).

PRESIDENTIAL RECORD — USC is 175-59-14 (.734) during presidential election years. The Trojans are 105-26-5 (.790) in years when Republicans won the White House and 70-33-9 (.663) when Democrats won.

PRO BASEBALL/FOOTBALL — Two Trojans have played both major league baseball and professional football. Morris "Red" Badgro played baseball with the Browns (1929-30) and football with the New York Yankess (1927), New York Giants (1930-35) and Brooklyn (1936). Rex Johnston was with Pittsburgh's baseball Pirates (1964) and football Steelers (1960).

RAIN — USC has a 19-21-2 record in games in which it rained during a major portion of the contest. USC's last such rain game was at California in 2001 (USC won, 55-14).

RAIN OUT — The final 2:36 of USC's 1990 win (35-26) at Ohio State was suspended by game officials when a heavy rainstorm with thunder and lightning hit.

SAME STADIUM — USC's 1992 season finale and its 1993 opener, both in Anaheim Stadium, marked the first time that Troy played 2 straight games in the same stadium (besides the Coliseum) since 1935, when it played Kamehamaha High's Alumni and the University of Hawai'i in the same Honolulu location.

SEASON ENDERS — USC is 58-40-11 (.583) in all season finales.

SELLOUT — USC's last home sellout was the 1997 UCLA game.

SNOW — The last time USC played in snow was on Nov. 30, 1957 at Notre Dame (the Irish won, 40-12). The temperature was 20 degrees. The 1965 USC-Notre Dame game in South Bend was played in sleet and rain (the Irish won that one, too, 28-7).

STATE — 1998 was the first time that USC faced 4 consecutive "State" opponents (San Diego State, Oregon State, Florida State amd Arizona State) in a season. Over a 2-year span, Troy also once played 4 "State" schools in a row, closing 1990 against Michigan State in the Hancock Bowl and then opening 1991 against Memphis State, Penn State and Arizona State.

STREAK BUSTERS — USC has twice "busted" an opponent's 20-plus game winning streak: beating Tennessee in the 1940 Rose Bowl to end the Volunteers' 23-game streak and tying Notre Dame in 1948 to end the Irish's 21-game streak. Conversely, USC's school-record 25-game winning streak was stopped by Oregon State in 1933.

SUNDAY — USC has played only 4 games on a Sunday, going 2-2: the 1993 opener versus North Carolina in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic (USC lost, 31-9), the 1996 opener against Penn State in the Kickoff Classic (USC lost, 24-7), the 1998 opener versus Purdue in the Pigskin Classic (USC won, 27-17) and the 2000 opener versus Penn State in the Kickoff Classic (USC won 29-5).

SWC COMPETITION — USC won 10 of its last 11 games (and 18 of its last 20) against foes from the now-defunct Southwest Conference.

3 FOR THE ROAD — 1992 was the first time that USC started a season with 3 road games in a row (in 1918 Troy began with 2 on the road and 1 at a neutral site, while in 1900 USC opened with 2 at a neutral site and 1 road game).

10-POINT LOSSES — The 1999 season was the first time that USC lost 6 games all by 10 points or less.

1,000-YARD RUNNERS — USC is second behind North Carolina for most 1,000-yard runners in a season, 25-22. Troy's last rusher to break the 1,000-yard barrier was tailback Sultan McCullough in 2000, with 1,163 yards.

TOUGH STARTS — Before Paul Hackett won his Trojan debut in 1998, USC's previous 6 head coaches — Don Clark, John McKay, John Robinson (twice), Ted Tollner and Larry Smith — all failed to win their debut.

TRAVELOGUE — USC has played football in 32 of this country's 50 states, as well as in Japan. In order of appearance, USC has played in California, Washington, Utah, Arizona, Oregon, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Hawai'i, Ohio, Louisiana, Maryland, New York, Minnesota, Texas, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Florida, Nebraska, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Missouri, South Carolina, Japan, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Nevada.

TRICK OR TREAT — USC is 6-5 in games played on Halloween.

TROJANS MIKESIDE — Numerous Trojan footballers have parlayed their playing days into a sports announcing career. Some of the more prominent Trojan announcers who have been on national broadcasts: Frank Gifford, Lynn Swann, Pat Haden, Marcus Allen, Ronnie Lott, Sean Salibury, O.J. Simpson. Those who have been on the local airwaves: Paul McDonald, Tim Ryan, Petros Papadakis, John Jackson, Mike Garrett, Anthony Munoz, Mike Lamb, Mark Carrier.

TROY — USC has had just 5 lettermen with the appropriate first name of Troy (Troy Garner, Troy Polamalu, Troy Richardson, Troy West and Troy Winslow). Polamalu was the only one to win All-American first team acclaim.

TURNAROUNDS — In 109 seasons of USC football, the Trojans have lost 4 or more games 34 times. But following 8 of those 4-plus loss seasons, USC "turned it around" to win the Rose Bowl the next year (1938-43-62-67-72-76-78-84).

21-14 — USC has played 1,032 football games in its history and only once--when Troy went to Berkeley in 1951 and snapped No. 1-ranked California's 38-game winning streak--has the final score been a very football-like 21-14 (win or lose).

UCLA-ND — USC is 18-18-2 (.500) against UCLA in seasons when Troy's next game is against Notre Dame. Troy is 15-19-4 against Notre Dame in games immediately following the Bruin game.

VERSUS NO. 1 — USC is 7-11 all-time versus teams ranked No. 1 in the AP poll.

VERSUS UNRANKED TEAMS — Since the AP poll began in 1936, 1956 was the only time that USC went an entire season without playing a ranked team. Conversely, USC has gone through an entire season without earning an AP ranking only 5 times (1941, 1948, 1958, 1961 and 2001).

LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM

The Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum is one of the greatest — and largest — stadiums in America. It combines the traditional and the modern into a premier athletic environment.

USC has played football in the Coliseum ever since the grand stadium was built in 1923. In fact, the Trojans played in the first varsity football game ever held there (beating Pomona College, 23-7, on Oct. 6, 1923). That game was preceded that day by the USC freshman team's 30-0 win over Santa Ana High. The 1998 season marked the 75th anniversary of USC football in the Coliseum

Construction on the Coliseum took less than 2 years, with ground breaking ceremonies held on Dec. 21, 1921, and work completed on May 1, 1923. Initial construction costs were $800,000.

The Coliseum was the site of the 1932 Olympic Games and hosted the opening and closing ceremonies and track events of the 1984 Olympics. Over the years, the Coliseum has been home to many sports teams besides the Trojans, including UCLA football, Los Angeles Rams, Raiders, Express and Xtreme football, and Los Angeles Dodgers baseball. The Coliseum has hosted various other events, from concerts and speeches to track meets and motorcycle races.

There have been only 9 seasons—1923 to 1925 and 1995 to 2000—that USC was the stadium's sole football tenant.

Prior to the 1993 football season, the Coliseum underwent a $15 million renovation. The Coliseum's floor was lowered 11 feet and the running track was removed to create a more intimate stadium. Fourteen new rows of seats (approximately 8,000 seats) were added down low, bringing fans closer to the playing field (the first rows of seats between the goalposts are a maximum of 54 feet from the sideline, instead of the previous 120 feet). During this renovation, the lockerrooms and public restrooms were also upgraded.

Southern California's damaging January, 1994 earthquake hit the Coliseum hard, requiring some $93 million of repairs. And, in the summer of 1995, a new $6 million press box was constructed.

The Coliseum has a present full-capacity of 92,000 seats (almost all are chair-back seats). However, for most USC games, a retractable fabric covers many seats, bringing the Coliseum's capacity to about 68,000. There are approximately 25,000 seats from goal line to goal line, including both the north and south sides.

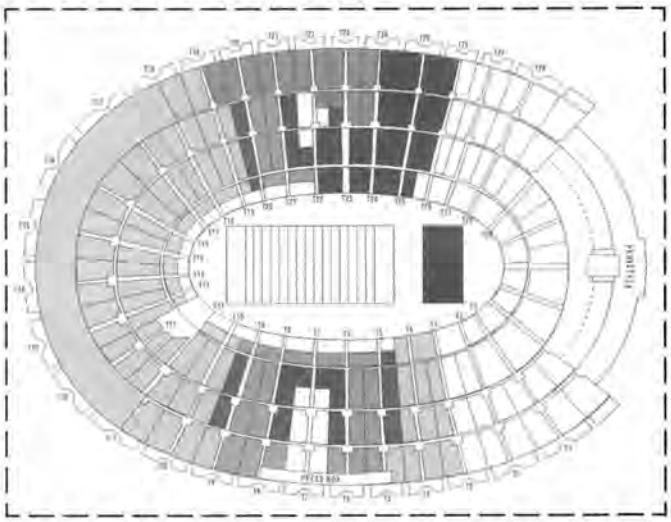
The Coliseum is located on 17 acres in Exposition Park, which also houses museums, gardens and the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The Coliseum's general offices are located at the south side of the peristyle end and are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on game day. The USC Game Management Office on game day only is at the north side of the peristyle end. The will call booth is located outside the fence at Gate 4. Identification is required to claim tickets left under a specific name. The booth opens three hours prior to kickoff and closes at the end of the first quarter.

The first aid station is located on the concourse opposite Stairway 6. A Goodhew ambulance is available at the Coliseum to transport cases requiring further treatment. Paramedics are stationed at Tunnels 6, 14, 29 and Stairway 23. Doctors expecting an emergency call must register their seat location at the Coliseum office. A messenger will be sent to notify doctors of emergency calls; doctors will not be paged over the public address system.

The police substation is located at Tunnel 14 and is manned by LAPD officers from the Southwest Division. There are also roaming officers and T-shirted security personnel working in and around the Coliseum.

Items that are found should be taken to the Administrative Office at the peristyle end or to the police substation at Tunnel 14. People who have lost something should check back at the Administrative Office a couple of days after the event to see if it has been found.



HERITAGE HALL

Heritage Hall, which sits in the middle of the University of Southern California campus, houses the University's athletic department and celebrates the glorious Trojan athletic heritage. USC has produced 337 Olympic athletes, won 95 national team championships and developed 48 NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipients.

Originally 48,000 square feet and built at a cost of $2.8 million, the 3-level brick and concrete colonnaded building opened in 1971. Heritage Hall was designed by Grillias, Savage and Alves of Santa Ana, Calif. Myers Brothers Construction Company, Inc., of Los Angeles was the general contractor. Initial construction began in Feb. 5, 1970. It has been expanded three times: in 1984 (a 6,000-square foot addition to the weight room), in 1992 (a 13,500-square foot expansion that houses the Academic Resource Center) and in 1998 (a 3,000-square foot addition to the newly-renamed Jess Hill Weight Room). Heritage Hall is located close to USC's various athletic practice and competition on-campus facilities.

Between the north and south wings on the building's ground level are some of USC's numerous athletic trophies, including various NCAA team championships, 4 Heisman Trophies and the jerseys of Troy's winners (Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Charles White, Marcus Allen), swimmer John Naber's Sullivan Award, and updated displays honoring recent successful Trojan athletes. There are also busts of USC athletic directors Willis O. Hunter and Jess Hill, football coaches Howard Jones and John McKay, and track coach Dean Cromwell, as well as one of actor John Wayne (who played football at USC in the 1920s under his real name, Marion Morrison). Wall plaques acknowledge special financial contributors to the USC athletic program. The north wing houses a 200-seat auditorium and a formal lounge, while some coaches and administrators have offices in the south wing. A patio area extends outside to the west (placed in the patio floor are plaques commemorating the members of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame).

Heritage Hall's upper level is the home to many administrative and coaches' offices (located on the south "Jess Hill Wing" and north "John McKay Wing," respectively). The Honors Rail, which encircles the open-air foyer above the first floor lobby, has bronze medallions saluting every Trojan who won an Olympic gold medal, captured an NCAA individual championship or was named a first team All-American in an NCAA sport in which there are no individual champions (i.e. football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, water polo). Also on the second floor are busts of USC football running backs Morley Drury ("The Noblest Trojan of Them All") and Ricky Bell. Like on the ground floor, tucked in alcoves on both ends of this floor are other athletic trophies and team displays.

HERITAGE HALL

The underground lower level of Heritage Hall houses various locker rooms, plus the equipment room, medical training room, the Jess Hill Weight Room, and the McAlister Academic Resource Center (which features tutoring, counseling, study and computer rooms for USC's student-athletes).

Because of space limitations, USC's golf, swimming, water polo and women's soccer coaches are located in the nearby Kennedy Aquatics Building, while the baseball staff has offices at Dedeaux Field (the baseball stadium) and the track and field staff has offices in Loker Stadium.

Outside the northwest corner of Heritage Hall, the $3-million Galen Center — a popular sports-themed dining and activity center — opened in early 1999.

The USC football team practices at nearby Howard Jones Field, which was expanded in the fall of 1998 to include Brian Kennedy Field. In early 1999, Goux's Gate--named after popular long-time former assistant coach Marv Goux--was erected at the entrance to the practice field.

USC's other on-campus athletic facilities include the McDonald's Swim Stadium (site of the 1984 Olympic swimming and diving competition), Marks Tennis Stadium, Cromwell Track and Field (which includes the 3,000-seat Katherine B. Locker Stadium), the McAlister Soccer Field, the 1,500-seat Lyon Center (a campus recreation center which hosts some Trojan events) and the Physical Education Building (housing the 1,000-seat North Gym).

Coming in the near future will be a 12,000-seat, $70-million on-campus events center that will be home to the Trojan basketball and volleyball teams, as well as the site of various cultural events.

TRAVELER, USC'S MASCOT

Traveler, the noble white horse that appears at all USC home football games with a regal Trojan warrior astride, is one of the most famous college mascots.

Traveler first made an appearance at USC football games in 1961 (in the home opener versus Georgia Tech). Bob Jani, then USC's director of special events, and Eddie Tannenbaum, then a junior at USC, had spotted Richard Saukko riding his white horse, Traveler I, in the 1961 Rose Parade. They persuaded Saukko to ride his white horse around the Coliseum during USC games, serving as a mascot. Ever since, whenever USC scores, the band plays "Conquest" and Traveler gallops around the Coliseum.

Because of poor health, Saukko stopped riding after the 1988 season. His successors have been alumni: Cass Dabbs, Rick Oas, Tom Nolan, Ardeshir Radpour, and current riders Chuck O'Donnell, who is also Traveler's trainer, and Brent Dahlgren, a USC sophomore. (Saukko passed away in March of 1992.)

The current Trojan mascot is 2-time national champion show horse Traveler V, a 12-year-old Andalusian gelding who first appeared during the 1997 season. And waiting in the wings is Traveler VI, a 5-year-old Andalusian gelding. They are owned by Patricia Saukko.

Even though the breed of horse may have changed over the years — Travelers I through IV ranged from an Arabian/Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Arabian — Traveler's color has always remained pure white.

Saukko first appeared on Traveler in the outfit that actor Charlton Heston wore in "Ben Hur." That proved to be too cumbersome, so Saukko crafted his own leather costume in 1962, modeled after the Tommy Trojan statue on the USC campus (that outfit is still being used). But he still sometimes wore Heston's helmet. Interestingly, Saukko was once employed by Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen."

Legend has it that Heisman Trophy tailback O.J. Simpson decided to come to USC after seeing Traveler on a televised football game. And Trojan faithful swear the horse has an effect on the outcome of games.

"(Former USC coach) John McKay didn't want to admit that the horse had anything to do with his success," said Saukko, "but he'd always give me a wink when he saw me waiting in the Coliseum tunnel."

Added former USC All-American defensive back and assistant coach Nate Shaw: "The horse is one of the greatest inspirational devices USC has. It definitely got the adrenaline going when I was playing and I think it still has an effect on the players. When I was coaching against USC (at Oregon State), we hated to see that horse come down the tunnel because it got USC a little more pumped up."

Traveler not only appears at Trojan home football games (and even at some away games, including the 1995 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the farthest Traveler has traveled), but also at other Trojan events, as well as at grade and high schools, charity functions and parades (including the past 40 Rose Parades). Traveler has also appeared on screen (including "The Battle of the Gunfighter" and "Snowfire"), on stage (including in the Long Beach Ballet's "Nutcracker Ballet"), and in commercials.

TRAVELER & RIDER CHUCK O'DONNELL

Incidentally, Traveler I was not the first equine mascot for Troy. The first appearance of a white horse at a Trojan football game occurred as early as 1927, when Louis Shields began a four-year stint aboard a horse owned by a local banker. In 1948, band director Tommy Walker once had USC colors carried by a Trojan on a palomino. Then, before kickoff of the 1954 USC-Pittsburgh game, Arthur J. Gontier III, then a member of the Trojan Knights spirit group (subbing for another rider who backed out at the last moment), shakily rode a rented gray/white horse while donning a costume once worn by actor Jeff Chandler. A more accomplished rider, USC alum Bob Caswell, and his white horse, Rockazar, took over the following game and performed until retiring in 1959.

Besides these horses, USC once even had a canine mascot. A mutt named George Tirebiter I (famous for chasing cars through the USC campus) first appeared at football games in 1940. He survived a publicized dognapping by UCLA in 1947, but succumbed under the tires of an automobile in 1950. He was succeeded by George II for 3 years (1950-52), then George III for 1 year (1953) and finally George IV for 1 year (1957).

RICHARD SAUKKO MEMORIAL FUND

The Richard Saukko Memorial Fund was established in 1993 to provide funds for Traveler in memory of Richard Saukko, the horse's original rider.

Donations should be made out to the "RSMF" and sent to: Don Ludwig, Lyon University Center, USC, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-2500, (213) 740-5127.

TROJAN TRADITIONS

Tommy Trojan

In the center of the USC campus stands one of the most famous collegiate landmarks in the country: Tommy Trojan. Since being unveiled in 1930 for USC's 50th jubilee, the statue of the bronzed Trojan warrior has served not only as a popular meeting place on campus, but as a symbol of the university's fighting spirit.

Sculpted by Roger Noble Burnham (the idea for the statue was conceived by Harry Lee Martin and Dr. James D. McCoy), Tommy Trojan cost $10,000 to build. A $1 surcharge then on season football tickets helped pay for it.

The statue is a composite of many USC football players from the late 20s, most notably 1930 Rose Bowl Player of the Game Russ Saunders and All-American Erny Pinckert.

"Burnham made more than 100 oil paintings of various football players from our squad," said Saunders, "and from them he selected the paintings of Pinckert and me. We put in a lot of hours posing, and the result you see is my head, chest and shoulders. The rest is all Erny."

Inscribed on the statue's base is "THE TROJAN" and the university's seal, with the Latin motto "Palmam qui meruit ferat (Let him who deserves it bear away the palm)." Below the seal are inscribed the qualities of the ideal Trojan: "Faithful, Scholarly, Skillful, Courageous and Ambitious."

The tradition of Tommy Trojan being painted blue and gold by UCLA pranksters was first recorded in October of 1941. Since then, Tommy has been "hit" often, but now USC maintenance crews cover him with plastic and canvas for protection during the week of the annual USC-UCLA football game.

And Tommy's sword has been stolen so often that now, instead of replacing it each time with an expensive brass one, he is given a wooden one.

By the way, where did he get the name Tommy? Of that, no one is sure!

TOMMY TROJAN

Origin of USC's Nickname – Trojans

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

Colors: Cardinal & Gold

Before 1895, the official color of USC was gold. The official color of the College of Liberal Arts was cardinal. The college had its own official color because it was the largest academic unit in the University. In 1895, both colors were adopted as USC's official colors.

Super Fan!

Giles Pellerin, a 91-year-old retired phone company executive from Pasadena, Calif., had viewed in person 797 consecutive USC football games, home and away, before passing away on Nov. 21, 1998, at the Rose Bowl during the USC-UCLA game.

As his friends and family said at the time, he died doing what he loved best: watching his beloved Trojans. And, ironically, his death came at the site of the first USC game he ever saw.

Known as USC's "Super Fan," there are devoted college sports fans and then there was Pellerin. Not only was he the Trojans' most loyal football fan, but he was the most rabid college football fan ever!

In all, he traveled by plane, train and automobile more than 650,000 miles and spent upwards of $85,000 doing so.

His streak began at the start of the 1926 season, his sophomore year at USC. Coach Howard Jones' Trojans won that opener, 74-0 over Whittier, and since then, USC compiled a 532-225-40 record with Pellerin in the stands. He saw the first 69 USC-Notre Dame games ever played and the first 67 USC-UCLA games in history. He watched Troy play in nearly 75 different stadiums and in more than 50 cities (even Tokyo). He viewed all eight of USC's national championship squads and all 121 of USC's first team All-Americans (including the four Heisman Trophy winners), plus he saw 11 Trojan coaching regimes. His streak began before USC's famous white horse mascot first appeared at Trojan games (in 1927) and before the on-campus Tommy Trojan statue was built (in 1930).

Interestingly, the first USC football game Pellerin ever saw pre-dated the start of his streak. It was the 1923 Rose Bowl when, while he was a student at Huntington Park (Calif.) High, USC beat Penn State, 14-3. That means he also saw all 28 Trojan Rose Bowls (and nine of Troy's 11 other bowl appearances, missing only the 1924 Christmas Festival and the 1998 Sun Bowl).

So dedicated was Pellerin that he pushed back his honeymoon eight months so that he could celebrate it at a 1935 USC game in Hawaii. And his love for USC was so strong that he donated $1.3 million to endow three football scholarships and a swimming scholarship.

Giles came close to missing a game or two, including in 1993. But Trojan fate stepped in. Pellerin was about to leave his hotel the day after the 1993 Penn State road game when he suffered a ruptured aortic abdominal aneurysm. He was hospitalized in a Harrisburg (Pa.) hospital for 12 days, but fortunately USC had a bye that following week and, after signing a waiver absolving hospital officials from any liability, he was released in time for USC's next game, at home against Washington State. His streak was intact, with two days to spare!

"God must be a Trojan," Pellerin once said. "I've been lucky."

Another near miss came in 1949 when he was hospitalized five days before a home contest for an emergency operation to remove his appendix. On game day, he told the nurses he was going out for a walk on the hospital grounds. Instead, he went to the Coliseum and returned to his bed several hours after USC dumped Oregon, 40-13. The nurses were none the wiser!

He also survived a blown water pump outside Oklahoma City 36 hours before kickoff while driving to South Bend for a Notre Dame game and several instances of lost tickets. He also defied doctors orders to stay bedridden for six weeks following stomach tumor surgery a couple of weeks before USC's 1969 opener.

Football wasn't Pellerin's only cardinal-and-gold passion. He attended many home games of USC's other 18 sports, including almost every home men's basketball game.

In 1996, he won the first annual Sears DieHard Fan Award as "America's NCAA Division I DieHard College Sports Fan." In 1994, Pellerin was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame. And in 1988, he was named a finalist in the Fisher Nut "America's Nuttiest Sports Nuts" Contest (he was flown to New York City for the festivities).

He was constantly interviewed by sportswriters (stories about his exploits have appeared in USA Today and Sports Illustrated) and featured on USC's nationally-televised game broadcasts. He spoke to various service groups, like Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, about his streak.

In his later years, he was asked about his obsession.

"I never played the game, but I love it," he said. "There's just a certain spirit about college football. I've always said that going to USC games is the thing that has kept me alive, young and happy. It keeps me alive looking forward to the next season.

"I don't think I'm a nut. It's all been fun. I could've spent a lot more money on other hobbies. A guy can spend as much money playing golf or poker. Some people think I'm crazy for spending as much money as I have traveling to see these games. They don't understand that I do more than just watch a game when I visit these cities. I've met a lot of nice and interesting people on these trips.

"Sure, I could sit in my rocking chair and grow old. But I don't intend to do that. You've got to have something to look forward to.

"The players all greet me as the No. 1 Trojan. We (he and his late wife, Jessie) had no children of our own, so I think of all the USC players as our family."

Giles wasn't alone in his pursuit and, in fact, his spirit lives on through one of his siblings. Brother Oliver, who died in May of 2002 at age 93, hadn't missed a USC game from 1945 until he couldn't make the 2001 Las Vegas Bowl because of injuries he suffered in a fall, ending his streak at 637 in a row. Another brother, Max, who died in 2001 at age 90, had a 300-plus string interrupted when he was sent overseas to work.

RIVALRY TROPHIES

VICTORY BELL

The winner of the annual USC-UCLA football game, perhaps America's greatest cross-town rivalry, is given year-long possession of the Victory Bell.

The 295-pound bell originally clanged from atop a Southern Pacific freight locomotive. It was given to UCLA in 1939 as a gift from the UCLA Alumni Association. For 2 seasons, cheerleaders rang the bell after each Bruin point.

At the opening game of UCLA's 1941 football season, 6 members of USC's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity infiltrated the UCLA rooting section. After the game, they helped Bruin students load the bell onto a waiting truck bound for Westwood. But then, one Trojan quietly removed the key to the truck, and while the Bruins went to get a replacement, the Trojans drove off with the bell.

The bell remained hidden for more than a year, first in the fraternity's basement, then in the Hollywood Hills, Santa Ana and other locations. At one point, it was even concealed beneath a haystack. Bruin students tried to locate the bell, but to no avail.

The controversy died down for a while, until a picture of the bell was printed in "The Wampus," a USC magazine. This reignited the rivalry, as students from UCLA retaliated by painting the Tommy Trojan statue at USC and then Trojan students burned USC initials on UCLA lawns. Police had to be called several times. The conflict got so out of hand that Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, then USC's president, threatened to cancel the USC-UCLA game if any further disorders occurred.

On Nov. 12, 1942, the bell was wheeled in front of Tommy Trojan and the student body presidents of both schools — USC's Bill McKay and UCLA's Bill Farrer — signed an agreement stating that thereafter the annual winner of the Trojan-Bruin gridiron clash would keep the bell for the following year. In the case of a tie, the bell would be retained by the school that won the previous year's game. The USC Alumni Association later repaid the UCLA Alumni Association for half the cost of the bell.

At the time, the arrangement might have seemed like a bad deal for the Bruins, since they had yet to defeat USC. But that first year, 1942, UCLA beat USC, 14-7.

Since the bell became a trophy, its carriage has been painted cardinal 32 times while in USC's possession and blue 27 times while in UCLA's hold (there have been 4 ties).

Although the Victory Bell is one of college football's most famous trophies, it is probably the least seen. For all but 2 days of the year, the bell sits in a warehouse or a vault. The universities only display the bell during the first 3 quarters of the USC-UCLA game and on the Monday following the game, when it is delivered to the winning school's campus. Then the Victory Bell, which gained its reputation from being hidden, goes back into hiding.

Shillelagh

SHILLELAGH I

SHILLELAGH II

A jeweled shillelagh is passed between the annual winner of the USC-Notre Dame game, perhaps the finest intersectional rivalry in college football.

A shillelagh (pronounced "shuh-LAY-lee") is a Gaelic war club made of oak or blackthorn saplings from Ireland. Those are the only woods used because, it is said, they are the only ones tougher than an Irish skull.

The foot-long shillelagh has ruby-adorned Trojan heads with the year and game score representing USC victories, while emerald-studded shamrocks stand for Notre Dame wins. For tie games, a combined Trojan head/shamrock medallion is used. On the end of the club is engraved, "From the Emerald Isle." The victor of the Trojan-Irish game gains year-long possession of the trophy.

Upon its initial presentation in 1952 by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, it was said that "this shillelagh will serve to symbolize in part the high tradition, the keen rivalry and above all the sincere respect which these two great universities have for each other."

The original shillelagh was flown from Ireland by Howard Hughes' pilot, according to legend. It was devised by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, based on a suggestion by Vern Rickard. John Groen designed it. Although the shillelagh was introduced in 1952, the medallions go back to the start of the series in 1926.

When the original shillelagh ran out of space for the Trojan heads and shamrocks after the 1989 game, it was retired and is permanently displayed at Notre Dame.

A new shillelagh — slightly longer than the original — was commissioned by Jim Gillis, a former baseball player at both USC and Notre Dame and a one-time president of the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles, and handcrafted in 1997 in County Leitrum, Ireland. It contains medallions beginning with the 1990 game.

There are now 42 shamrocks, 26 Trojan heads and 5 combined medallions on the shillelaghs.

TROJAN MARCHING BAND

The Trojan Marching Band — known as "The Spirit of Troy" — is perhaps the most dynamic and innovative collegiate band in the nation. Named among the 8 best marching bands in the country by USA Today, the band is one of the most visible public relations tools of the University.

Established in 1880, the band has played for 10 Presidents (including Ronald Reagan, just prior to his 1984 inauguration), and has appeared in 10 movies (including "Hello Dolly" and "Forrest Gump"), plus numerous commercials and television shows (including the 1978 Academy Awards). The band even recorded the title track of the rock group Fleetwood Mac's popular 1979 album, "Tusk," and has produced several records of its own music (featuring the well-known "Conquest" and "Fight On").

Among the many famous musicians who have played in the band was Herb Alpert of the Tijuana Brass (he was in the cornet section). And among the various guest artists who have appeared with the band were Henry Mancini, Quincy Jones, Chuck Mangione, Leonard Bernstein, Diana Ross, Neil Diamond, John Wayne, Kenny Rogers and Bozo the Clown (Larry Harmon).

The band marches upwards of 90 miles a year while traveling across the land supporting almost every USC athletic team. A typical football halftime show by the band (with precision drills, special musical charts and dance routines) takes more than 100 hours to prepare. The band also frequently appears at many professional sporting events throughout Southern California. Approximately 11 percent of its members are music majors, with almost every school and department represented among the balance.

Now 270-plus members strong, the Trojan Marching Band has tripled in size since Dr. Arthur C. Bartner became its director in 1969 (he is assisted by arranger Tony Fox). A graduate of Michigan, Bartner brought with him a creative approach and the unique, contemporary "drive-it" style of marching.

Nationally-renowned, Bartner directed the 800-member 1984 Olympic All-American College Marching Band (125 bandsmen were from USC) which played in the opening and closing ceremonies at the Games. Interestingly, it was the second time a Trojan musical group was involved with the Olympics, as the USC band formed the 10th Olympic Braid in the 1932 Los Angeles Games.

Bartner was also Director of Bands for the Japan Bowl in Tokyo and directs the All-American College Marching Band at Disneyland. In the summer of 1986, he and 40 band members were part of the ceremonies of Liberty Weekend at the refurbished Statue of Liberty. In the spring of 1988, he brought the band to Australia to perform at festivities for that country's bicentennial and at World Expo 88.

The Trojan Marching Band is complemented by the USC Silks (tall flags), plus the famous USC Song Leaders — who were ranked No. 1 in the nation by Sports Illustrated — and Yell Leaders.

School Songs

"FIGHT ON"

Fight On for ol' SC
Our men Fight On to victory.
Our Alma Mater dear, looks up to you
Fight On and win
For ol' SC
Fight On to victory
Fight On!

This song is usually played after first downs and touchdowns. The music for USC's fight song, "Fight On," was composed in 1922 by USC dental student Milo Sweet (with lyrics by Sweet and Glen Grant) as an entry in a Trojan spirit contest. In addition to inspiring generations of Trojan fans and players, the song has been used in numerous recordings and movies. Legend has it that during World War II in the Pacific, an American task force attacked an island held by the Japanese. As the Americans stormed the beach, "Fight On" blared from the deck of one of the transports. The U.S. men let out a tremendous roar and eventually won the island.

"ALL HAIL"

All hail to Alma Mater,
To thy glory we sing;
All hail to Southern California,
Loud let thy praises ring;
Where Western sky meets Western sea
Our college stands in majesty.
Sing our love to Alma Mater,
Hail, all hail to thee.

The words and music to USC's alma mater, "All Hail," were composed in the early 1920s by Al Wesson, Troy's longtime sports information director. He wrote the song as a student member of the Trojan Marching Band for the finale of a 1923 campus show.

"CONQUEST"

Another famous USC song is the regal processional march, "Conquest," by Alfred Newman. It is usually played after every USC score and victory. This stirring battle cry, from Newman's score to the 1947 motion picture classic "Captain from Castile," has become synonymous with the championship tradition of USC since the Trojans adopted it in 1950. Newman, a legendary composer of film music, was the musical director of Twentieth Century-Fox Studios.

Other Songs

"Tribute To Troy," the incessant stanza of pounding drums and blaring horns, is played after every defensive stop. "Fanfare" is the introduction to "Tribute To Troy" and is played when the band takes the field. "All Right Now" is played after USC gets a turnover. "Another One Bites the Dust" is played after USC gets a sack. The "William Tell Overture" is played at the start of the fourth quarter.

Tommy Walker

The trumpet "Charge," heard often at athletic contests, was composed by a post-World War II USC student named Tommy Walker. As a member of the Trojan Marching Band, he was known as "Tommy Trojan," and as a USC football player, he would shed his band uniform, come down from the stands, and kick extra points (he lettered in 1947). Upon graduation in 1948, he was hired as the band's director. He later was the first entertainment director at Disneyland and then went into business as one of the world's leading creators of show business spectacles (including Super Bowl halftimes and Olympic opening and closing ceremonies). He died in 1986.

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

USC has a proud athletic heritage — and with good reason. Arguably, Troy could be regarded as the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century." Consider:

• Trojan teams have won more national championships, 79 men's (including a national-best 71 NCAA titles) and 16 women's, than all but 2 other universities;

• The Trojans won at least 1 national team title in 26 consecutive years (1959-60 to 1984-85);

• USC has won the National College All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by USA Today (previously the Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times since its inception in 1971;

• USC also won the inaugural 2001-02 Lexus Gauntlet Trophy, a year-long all-sports competition between Troy and crosstown rival UCLA;

• Trojan men athletes have won more individual NCAA titles (284) than those from any other school in the nation (the Women of Troy have brought home another 37 individual NCAA crowns);

• Troy has also established a stellar reputation and a long tradition of nurturing Olympic athletes. Since 1904, 337 Trojan athletes have competed in the Games, taking home 104 gold medals (with at least 1 gold in every summer Olympics since 1912), 59 silver and 54 bronze.

• Three Trojans have won the prestigious Sullivan Award as the top amateur athlete in America: diver Sammy Lee (1953), shot putter Parry O'Brien (1959) and swimmer John Naber (1977).

• Two Women of Troy athletes have won the Honda-Broderick Cup as the top collegiate woman athlete of the year: Cheryl Miller (1983-84) and Angela Williams (2001-02).

Along with the great accomplishments on the playing fields, USC student-athletes have received 48 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, seventh among all schools. In addition, USC has had 26 first team Academic All-Americans and 3 athletes who were Rhodes Scholars.

Here's a closer look at the history of each of the 19 sports which USC offers on the intercollegiate level:

FOOTBALL — Since starting football in 1888, USC has amassed an impressive all-time won-loss record of 684-294-54 (a .689 winning percentage). A December 1998 SPORT magazine ranking listed USC as the No. 4 all-time college football program of the 20th century.

USC's record against Pac-10 opponents is a stellar 353-151-29 (.689). Since 1959, the Trojans have won the conference championship 14 times and tied for the title on 5 other occasions.

USC has the nation's sixth best bowl winning percentage (.625) among the 61 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances and its 28 Rose Bowl appearances is an all-time best. Troy's overall bowl mark is 25-15, including 20-8 in the Pasadena New Year's Day classic. The Trojans were a bowl participant every year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Think about college football and USC's tailback in the I-formation, one of the most glamorous positions in the sport, immediately comes to mind. Four Trojan tailbacks have won the coveted Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player: Mike Garrett in 1965, O.J. Simpson in 1968, Charles White in 1979 and Marcus Allen in 1981. Other standout tailbacks have included Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

The Trojans have had other prominent award winners. Offensive tackle Ron Yary won the Outland Trophy in 1967, offensive guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award in 1979, safety Mark Carrier won the Thorpe Award in 1989 and linebacker Chris Claiborne won the Butkus Award in 1998. USC players have been named first team All-American 122 times, with 39 consensus selections and 22 unanimous choices.

Many of those players have led USC to 8 national championships in football. Legendary coach Howard Jones (1925-40) guided Troy to 3 of those titles (1928-31-32). John McKay (1960-75) was responsible for 4 national championship teams (1962-67-72-74). John Robinson (1976-82), who captured 1 title (1978) in his first tenure, returned to Troy in 1993 and led USC to 3 more bowl wins. Pete Carroll was named head coach in 2001.

Scores of Trojans have gone on to successful NFL careers (there have been 60 first round picks, with 4 No. 1 selections), including such greats as Frank Gifford, Willie Wood, Lynn Swann, Anthony Munoz, Ronnie Lott, Junior Seau, Keyshawn Johnson, Bruce Matthews, Tony Boselli, Willie McGinest and Jason Sehorn.

BASEBALL — No school in the country can match the long tradition USC has in baseball. With 12 national championships in the sport, Troy is far and away the leader in that category (no other school has more than 5).

Since starting baseball in 1924, the Trojans have compiled a record of 2,169-1,033-15 (.677) against college opponents, and have captured outright or tied for 38 conference championships.

The incomparable Rod Dedeaux coached USC from 1942-86, leading the school to 11 of its NCAA crowns, including 5 straight from 1970-74 (no other school has strung together more than two in a row).

Trojans have been named first team All-American 41 times, with Jay Roundy, Pat Harrison and Bill Bordley being 2-time selections. Mark Prior was the 2001 national Player of the Year

ROD DEDEAUX WITH RANDY JOHNSON AND MARK McGWIRE

USC boasts many successful major leaguers such as Ron Fairly, Don Buford, Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman, Fred Lynn, Roy Smalley, Steve Kemp, Mark McGwire, Randy Johnson, Bret Boone, Jeff Cirillo, Barry Zito, Geoff Jenkins, Aaron Boone, Jacque Jones and Mark Prior. In all, 88 Trojans have gone on to play in the major leagues and scores more in the minors.

Dedeaux compiled a 45-year collegiate record of 1,332-571-11 (.699), making him the then-winningest coach in collegiate baseball history. He resigned after the 1986 season to become USC's director of baseball and was replaced by Mike Gillespie, whose 1998 squad won the College World Series while finishing as the CWS runnerup in 1995 and also advancing to Omaha in 2000 and 2001 (his 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997, 1999 and 2002 teams were NCAA regional participants).

MEN'S BASKETBALL — Only about 4 dozen schools have more than 1,000 victories in college basketball, and USC is one of them. Since starting basketball in 1907, the Trojans have compiled a record of 1,331-952 (.583), winning 14 league championships.

Bill Sharman, John Rudometkin, John Block, Paul Westphal, Gus Williams, Harold Miner and Sam Clancy are a few of USC's All-American selections. Overall, Trojans have earned All-American honors 22 times. Four Trojan men, Sharman, Jack Gardner, Alex Hannum and coach Sam Barry, are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

PAUL WESTPHAL

Barry (1930-41, 1945-50) has the winningest record among USC basketball coaches, 260-138 (.653). Following him are Forrest Twogood (1951-66) at 255-180 (.586) and Bob Boyd (1967-79) at 216-131 (.622). George Raveling, an assistant coach for the 1984 and 1988 U.S. Olympic teams, took over the coaching helm in 1986-87 and led Troy into the post-season playoffs 4 times. Henry Bibby was named head coach midway through the 1996 season and has led the Trojans into the NCAA tourney 3 times (in 1997, 2001's Elite Eight and 2002) and the NIT in 1999.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL — After improving steadily, USC first reached the pinnacle of success in women's basketball in 1983 and the Trojans have been at or near the top almost ever since, winning 2 national championships and playing in 4 Final Fours.

USC's team became established when Linda Sharp took over as coach in 1977. By 1981, Troy had reached the Final Four. In 1983, Cheryl Miller joined Cynthia Cooper and twins Pam and Paula McGee to give the

USC'S 1984 NCAA CHAMPION WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM AT THE WHITE HOUSE WITH PRESIDENT RONALD REAGAN

Trojans a formidable front line that led the squad to its first national championship. The next year, the team won the national title again. USC advanced to the NCAA title game in 1986.

Miller finished her career in 1986 as the Trojans' all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She also won her third straight Naismith Award as the outstanding player in college basketball. She returned as coach of her alma mater in 1994 and led USC to a Pac-10 title and 2 NCAA playoff appearances. She was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1995. Chris Gobrecht, a former USC player and a 2-time Pac-10 Coach of the Year while at Washington, took over as coach prior to the 1998 season. Her team played in the 2000 and 2002 WNIT.

The Women of Troy have made the NCAA tourney 6 of the past 12 years, including advancing to the regionals 3 of the last 11 seasons. Lisa Leslie, who became an Olympic and pro star, won the Naismith Award in 1994 (she was the MVP of the first WNBA All-Star Game). Tina Thompson was the No. 1 pick in the 1997 WNBA draft. Cooper was twice an Olympian and WNBA MVP.

MEN'S GOLF — USC has one of the most successful golf programs in the nation, having produced 3 NCAA individual champions (Scott Simpson in 1976 and 1977, and Ron Commans in 1981), 19 Pac-10 individual champs, 20 All-American first teamers and numerous players who have gone on to successful professional careers, including $1 million winners like Al "Mr. 59" Geiberger, Dave Stockton, Craig Stadler and Scott Simpson. Troy has also been dominant in the Pac-10, winning 17 of the 42 conference championships to date.

Legendary coach Stan Wood (1955-79) compiled a career record of 462-37 (.926) and won 14 conference championships. He also guided the Trojans to an NCAA record 51 consecutive dual match wins from 1956-59. His teams finished third in the NCAA tourney 6 times.

Under coach Randy Lein (1984-92), USC continued its success, winning the conference championship in 1986. The 1991 Trojans finished seventh at the NCAAs. U.S. Amateur champion Sam Randolph, who finished as low amateur at the prestigious Masters golf tournament in 1985 and 1986, was a first team All-American for the third straight year in 1986 and was named college golf's Player of the Year.

Former team captain Jim Empey took over as coach in 1993. Kurt Schuette became coach in 1995 and guided the Trojans to an impressive fifth place finish at the NCAA tourney that season, Troy's best placing in 18 years, and then ninth in 1996 and 14th in 1997. His 2001 squad won the Pac-10 title, USC's first since 1986, and Troy repeated in 2002. Kevin Stadler, Craig's son, was the 2002 Pac-10 Golfer of the Year (USC's first honoree since 1986).

WOMEN'S GOLF — The USC women's golf team is one of college's finest, as witnessed by their second, third, fourth (twice), fifth, seventh (3 times), ninth and 14th place finishes at the NCAA Championships in the past 17 years. The Women of Troy won the Pac-10 tourney in 1989 and the 1999 NCAA West Regional. Cathy Bright led USC to 5 Top 10 NCAA finishes in her 12 years as head coach (1982-93). Former Trojan player Renee (Mack) Baumgartner returned as head coach in 1994 and led USC to second place at the NCAAs in her first year. Andrea Gaston took over in 1997 (with men's coach Kurt Schuette serving as Director of Golf).

Jennifer Rosales won the 1998 NCAA individual title as a freshman (she tied for fourth in 1999). Other top individuals have included current professionals Marta Figueras-Dotti, Denise Strebig, Kim Saiki, Tracy Nakamura, Jill McGill (the 1993 U.S. Amateur champion), Heidi Voorhees (the 1993 U.S. Amateur medalist), Jennifer Biehn (the 1994 Pac-10 champ) and Candie Kung (the 2000 Pac-10 champ).

WOMEN'S ROWING — The women's rowing team has been active since the early 1970s, but scholarships were first awarded in 1998 and USC has emerged as one of the nation's top programs. The varsity, junior varsity and novice eight teams train all year long for regattas from coast to coast. George Jenkins guided USC to national prominence during his 9 years as head coach (1994-2002). Kelly Babraj took over as head coach for the 2003 season, with husband Zenon Babraj serving as director of rowing.

At the 1998 NCAA meet, the Women of Troy rowers captured their first-ever national championship race (the varsity fours).

WOMEN'S SOCCER — The women's soccer team began competing in 1993. Karen Stanley coached the team for the first 3 seasons. Jim Millinder took over in 1996 and guided his 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001 squads into the NCAA tourney (USC won the 1998 Pac-10 title).

Isabelle Harvey, the 1998 Pac-10 Player of the Year, was USC's first All-American first teamer (in 2000).

MEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — The type of dominance USC has had in this sport was best exemplified by Troy's performance in the 1976 Olympic Games, when Trojan swimmers won more golds and more total medals than any country in swimming except the United States.

JOHN NABER

Over the years, USC men's swimmers have made Olympic teams 110 times, winning 36 gold, 21 silver and 16 bronze medals. Gold medal winners have included Lenny Krayzelburg, John Naber, Bruce Furniss and Murray Rose.

Since beginning swimming in 1929, the Trojans have captured 9 NCAA championships, all under coach Peter Daland, who retired in 1992 after 35 years at Troy. USC swimmers and divers have won 106 NCAA meet individual and relay titles (including Erik Vendt and Klete Keller, who each won 3 individual titles over the 2001 and 2002 meets) and have earned All-American honors an amazing 537 times. Under Daland, USC won 17 Pac-10 championships and amassed an impressive dual meet record of 318-31-1 (.917). Three of his last 6 squads had runner-up finishes at the NCAA meet.

Four-time U.S. Olympic coach Mark Schubert, winner of 2 NCAA titles with the Texas women, succeeded Daland. He also serves as the head coach of the Women of Troy. His men's teams have placed fourth, fifth (twice), sixth (4 times), seventh and 10th at the NCAAs.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — USC has likewise built a successful swimming program on the women's side. In fact, the Women of Troy have finished in the top 10 nationally 21 of the last 26 years — including winning the NCAA title in 1997 — and have produced 206 All-Americans in that span. They have won conference championships in 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1985.

Among USC's more famous women's swimmers are Michelle Ford, Sue Habernigg, Cynthia Woodhead, Sue Hinderaker, Debbie Rudd, Kristine Quance (she won 3 events at the 1994 NCAA meet as the Women of Troy placed sixth, 3 more to be the high point scorer at the 1996 meet as USC finished fifth and 2 at the 1997 meet), Lindsay Benko (who won 2 events in 1996, 2 more in 1997 and 1 in 1999) and diver Blythe Hartley (she won 2 events at the 2002 NCAAs).

MEN'S TENNIS — USC's men's tennis legacy has produced numerous national titlists, including 16 team champions (second most in the country), 13 singles champions (tied for second most in the country), and 20 doubles champs (more than any other school). Cecil Mamiit won the 1996 NCAA singles crown as a freshman.

George Toley (1954-80) guided the Trojans for 26 years before resigning during the 1980 season. His career record was 430-92-4 (.821) with 10 NCAA titles. Dick Leach succeeded Toley and posted a 535-133 (.801) mark in 23years. His 1991, 1993, 1994 and 2002 teams won the NCAA tourney (his 2002 No. 11-seeded Cinderella team was the lowest seed ever to win the NCAA title and did so a month after Leach announced his retirement) and 8 of his other teams finished fourth or better. He was succeeded by ex-Pepperdine, Fresno State and Long Beach State coach Peter Smith for the 2003 season.

Overall, USC players have been named to All-American teams 136 times, with a many also enjoying successful pro careers, including Stan Smith, Bob Lutz, Raul Ramirez and Dennis Ralston.

WOMEN'S TENNIS — The most successful women's program at USC, in terms of national titles, is the tennis team. The Women of Troy have won 7 national championships.

Those national crowns all came under Dave Borelli, who coached USC from 1974 to 1988. In duals, Borelli's record was phenomenal: his teams went 300-43 (.875).

Five times Trojans have won national singles titles, along with 1 doubles champ and 66 All-Americans. Prominent USC stars have included Barbara Hallquist, Diane Desfor, Lea Antonopolis, Leslie Allen, Sheila McInerney, Stacy Margolin, Trey Lewis, the Fernandez sisters, Kelly Henry, Beth Herr, Caroline Kuhlman, Trisha Laux and Jewel Peterson.

Cheryl Woods, a former Trojan player, took over for Borelli in 1989. Richard Gallien, a successful player and coach at Pepperdine, became head coach in 1996. His 1999, 2000 and 2001 teams advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals.

MEN'S TRACK & FIELD — The Trojans have won an unprecedented 26 NCAA titles (including 9 straight, 1935-43) in the 81-year history of NCAA outdoor track, plus 2 indoor NCAA titles and 33 Pacific Coast or Pac-10 crowns, including a string of 15 straight (1936-55). They have had 39 unbeaten and untied seasons, including a string of 16 in a row (1946-61). Since starting track and field in 1900, USC has compiled a dual-meet record of 410-112-4 (.783).

Outstanding coaches include Dean Cromwell (1909-48), who won a record 12 NCAA titles and had a dual meet mark of 109-48-1; Jess Mortensen, who never lost a dual meet (64-0) in 11 years and won 7 NCAA titles; and Vern Wolfe, who retired after the 1984 season with 7 national titles and a dual meet record of 106-17-1 (.859). Jim Bush, who won 5 NCAA titles while at cross-town rival UCLA, became USC's head coach in 1991. His 1992 Trojans finished third at the NCAAs with only a 6-man team. Ron Allice, who won 11 state titles at Long Beach City College, took over the combined men's and women's programs in 1995 (the men were fourth at the 1995 NCAA meet, 10th in 1996, third in 1997 while winning the Pac-10 title, seventh in 1998, fifth in 1999 while winning the Pac-10 crown, tied for seventh in 2000 while winning the Pac-10 title, tied for 12th in 2001 and tied for 11th in 2002).

BOB SEAGREN

Fifty-nine USC tracksters have won 86 places on U.S. Olympic teams over the years. Trojans have won 25 individual Olympic titles and shared in 8 relay wins. Gold medal winners include long jumper Randy Williams, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, sprinter Charles Paddock and quartermiler Quincy Watts.

Since 1912, 61 USC trackmen have equalled or bettered world records, and there have been 107 NCAA individual or relay winners from Troy (including 2001 NCAA pole vault champ Dennis Kholev, the school record holder).

The Trojans also have had a long history of successful distance running, including 9 Olympians and NCAA champions Julio Marin and Ole Oleson.

WOMEN'S TRACK & FIELD, CROSS COUNTRY — The women's track program at USC has developed into one of the nation's finest. The Trojans have placed in the Top 10 of the NCAA Championships 10 times, including winning the program's first-ever NCAA team title in 2001. The Women of Troy also finished third in 1987, seventh in 1996 (while winning the Pac-10 title), fifth in 1998, third in 1999 (just 4 points from first place), second in 2000 (again just 4 points out of first place) and third in 2002.

The women's track and field heritage begins with Sherry Calvert, the former head coach. Calvert, a 4-time All-American javelin thrower at USC who participated in the 1972 and 1976 Olympics, started the program as an undergraduate and coached through 1983. Fred LaPlante succeeded her from 1984 through 1988. Barbara Edmonson was coach in 1992 through 1994. In 1995, Ron Allice took over as the combined men's and women's coach.

Troy has had many other successful track and field athletes. Patty Van Wolvelaere won a pair of national titles in the 100-meter hurdles. Kerry Bell was an All-American heptathlete for 3 years. 1988 NCAA heptathlon champion Wendy Brown and Yvette Bates set world bests in the triple jump during their USC careers. Ashley Selman won the 1990 NCAA javelin title. Angela Williams became the first athlete, male or female, at any level to win 4 consecutive NCAA 100-meter dashes when she did so in 1999, 2000, 2001 and 2002. Natasha Danvers won the 2000 NCAA 400-meter intermediate hurdles. The Women of Troy won the NCAA 1600-meter relay in 1987 and the 400-meter relay in 2000. Brigita Langerholc took the 800 meters and Inga Stasiulionyte captured the javelin, both in the 2001 NCAAs. Natasha Mayers won the NCAA 200 meters in 2002.

The Women of Troy also compete in cross country in the fall under coach Tom Walsh.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL — Final Four appearances have become commonplace for the USC men's volleyball team, which has made 11 trips there since scholarships were first awarded by Troy in the sport in 1977. The Trojans have won 4 NCAA titles (1977, 1980, 1988 and 1990) and have finished second on 6 other occasions (1979-81-85-86-87-91).

Ernie Hix, who retired as head coach after the 1981 season, turned USC into one of the top volleyball powers in the nation. Hix's 8-year record was an impressive 146-47 (.756) with 2 national crowns.

Twenty-one Trojans have played on the U.S. National team and USC volleyballers have been named first team All-Americans 27 times. In the 1984 Olympics, Steve Timmons, Dusty Dvorak and Pat Powers all helped lead the United States to its first gold medal ever in the sport, while Timmons repeated with the 1988 U.S. squad. Timmons, Bryan Ivie, Nick Becker and Dan Greenbaum won bronze medals with the U.S. in 1992. Tim Hovland, Celso Kalache, Adam Johnson, former coach Bob Yoder (a 3-time All-American who coached Troy to an NCAA title in 1988), Donald Suxho and Brook Billings also are key figures in USC's volleyball heritage. Jim McLaughlin took over for Yoder in 1990 and led Troy to an NCAA title in his initial year. Powers became head coach in 1997 and Turhan Douglas succeeded him on an interim basis, beginning in 2003.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL — USC has won 4 national crowns in women's volleyball, all under coach Chuck Erbe. Erbe, who dominated the sport during his 12-year USC coaching tenure which began in 1976, posted a career record of 310-121-3 (.718). He coached the 1976, 1977 and 1980 AIAW champions and the 1981 NCAA titlists. His 1976 team registered the first perfect season (38-0) in women's volleyball history.

Lisa Love, who coached at Texas-Arlington for 7 years, took over for Erbe in 1989 and guided USC into the NCAAs in 9 of her 10 seasons before retiring after the 1998 season. Jerritt Elliott served as interim head coach in 1999 and 2000, guiding the 2000 club to the NCAA Final Four. Mick Haley, head coach of the 2000 U.S. women's Olympic team who won 2 national crowns in the 1980s while at Texas, took over in 2001 and advanced to that season's NCAA regional final.

In 1978, Debbie Green won the prestigious Broderick Award in volleyball. Some 30 Trojans have been named All-American and 12 have been members of the U.S. Olympic team (including Green, Sue Woodstra, Paula Weishoff, Carolyn Becker and Kim Ruddins).

MEN'S WATER POLO — Since starting water polo in 1922, the Trojans have compiled an 892-475-7 (.652) record, winning 12 conference championships along the way.

Longtime coach John Williams led the Trojans to national prominence since during his tenure from 1973 to 1998. Nineteen of his last 22 teams finished the season in the top 7 nationally, including the 1998 NCAA championship team and the 1987, 1993, 1994, 1996 and 1997 squads which placed second in the NCAA tourney. Jovan Vavic, who joined as co-head coach in 1995, took over as head coach in 1999.

Seventeen Trojan poloists have participated in the Olympics and 125 have made various All-American teams. Some of the more prominent names in USC water polo history are Ron Severa, Wally Wolf, Greg Fults, Zach Stimson, Craig Furniss, Charles Harris, Robert Lynn, Drew Netherton, Hrvoje Cizmic, Marko Zagar, Simun Cimerman, Marko Pintaric and George Csaszar.

WOMEN'S WATER POLO — USC's newest sport, the women's water polo team began play in 1995 under head coach Jovan Vavic. In 1999, in just their fifth year of existence, the Women of Troy--led by All-American and 2000 U.S. Olympic goalie Bernice Orwig--won the national championship in an exciting 5-overtime sudden death victory over Stanford. USC then was second in the national tourney in 2000. Before that, USC was third in the 1995 Division II tourney, then seventh in the 1997 national championship and fifth in 1998.

Besides Orwig, other top players have included Aniko Pelle (the 2000 National Player of the Year), Nina Wengst and Olympian Sofia Konoukh.

USC NATIONAL TITLES

USC has long dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. In fact, it could be argued that Troy was the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century."

Trojan men's teams are tops in the nation in NCAA championships with 71 — more than any other university. And the football team has been voted national champions 8 times.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship--an annual ranking by USA Today (previously The Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times (1971-72-74-75-77-80) since its inception in 1971.

USC's women are also a force, with 16 national team titles, all since 1976.

From 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak. In each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship (including five crowns in both 1962-63 and 1976-77).

Here's a list with the coaches of the winning teams.

TROJANS STAR IN CLASSROOM

USC is as proud of its student-athletes' achievements in the classroom as on the playing field.

After all, the Trojans not only are third in the nation in the number of national team championships (78 by the men and 16 by the women), but rank seventh in the number of NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipients (48, including 20 football players).

Also, USC athletics has had 3 Rhodes Scholars (quarterback Pat Haden, swimmer Desmond Koh and trackster James O'Toole), 26 first team Academic All-Americans (including 22 footballers, tops among Pac-10 schools and sixth best in the nation), 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 12 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 7 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, a Luce Scholar (swimmer Dennis Scannell), a NCAA Women's Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (soccer player Laura Servis), a NCAA Ethnic-Minority Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (footballer Dong Koo) and 2 USC valedictorians (water poloist Craig Furniss and volleyballer Alaina Kipps). In 1988, Haden was inducted into the charter 6-member class of the GTE Academic All-American Hall of Fame and baseball star Don Buford Jr. won the first-ever Woody Hayes Academic All-American Award presented by the Columbus Touchdown Club to the top NCAA Division I male student-athlete (footballer John Jackson won the award in 1990 and volleyballer Katie Haller won the women's award in 1994). Jackson was also named a winner of the first-ever NACDA/Disney Scholar-Athlete Award in 1990, and Jeremy Hogue, Matt Keneley and Mike Van Raaphorst were 1996, 1997 and 2000 NACDA Foundation Preseason Games Scholar-Athletes, respectively (Keneley also received a NACDA Foundation Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1997). In 1997, Keith Van Horne was named to the GTE Academic All-American All-Time Football Team.

The Nov. 1994 issue of The Sporting News examined the relative academic strength of the nation's top 25 football teams and found USC's players ranked second in high school GPA, sixth in SAT scores and third in ACT scores.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MIKE GARRETT

Michael L. Garrett, so much a part of USC's unparalleled athletic tradition, was named the school's sixth-ever athletic director in January of 1993.

Garrett, Troy's 1965 Heisman Trophy-winning tailback who has a background in business, law, government, athletic administration and community affairs, oversees the 19 men's and women's teams and the $34 million budget that make up the nation's most tradition-rich athletic program.

During his tenure:

• USC has won 8 national titles (in men's tennis in 1993, 1994 and 2002, women's swimming in 1997, baseball and men's water polo in 1998, women's water polo in 1999 and women's track and field in 2001), plus 21 conference crowns, and almost annually has finished in the Top 10 (among the 321 Division I universities) in the Sears Directors' Cup all-sports standings.

• USC won the inaugural 2001-02 Lexus Gauntlet Trophy, a year-long all-sports competition between Troy and crosstown rival UCLA.

• Fundraising (reaching a record $20-plus million in 2000-01) and corporate sponsorships, merchandising and licensing (to $4 million in 2001-02) have skyrocketed.

• He has undertaken the biggest building program in the history of USC athletics, including the $3 million Galen Center (a dining/activity center), a 3,000-square-foot addition to the weight room, a 3,000-seat track and field stadium, expansion of the tennis stadium and football practice field, a new women's soccer practice field, a short-game golf practice facility, an addition to baseball's Dedeaux Field, and a planned 12,000-seat events center (for basketball and volleyball).

• He has added 2 women's teams (soccer and water polo), elevated women's rowing from a club to intercollegiate sport, and awarded 42 more women's scholarships (at an annual cost of nearly $1.4 million) so that USC provides the maximum number of women's scholarships permitted by the NCAA.

• Official NCAA graduation rates for USC student-athletes reached an all-time high in 1996 (71%) and have averaged above the national rate over the past 7 years; the 2001 graduation rate for the Trojan football team was at an all-time high 82%. There have been 7 NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winners, 4 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes and a USC valedictorian under Garrett.

• He has hired 14 head coaches and they have been named National Coaches of the Year 5 times and Conference Coaches of the Year 16 times.

He was a member of the NCAA Division I Men's and Women's Track and Field Committee.

Garrett, 58, became the seventh African-American athletic director at a major Division I-A institution.

Garrett had served as USC's associate athletic director since December of 1990. In that role, he was responsible for the athletic department's budget, personnel, contract compliance and corporate sponsorships. He also handled day-to-day supervision of 5 men's sports — volleyball, golf, tennis, swimming and water polo.

Prior to joining the USC staff, he was director of business development for the Great Western Forum (1988-90), including its highly-successful boxing program.

Earlier in his career, he worked for the San Diego district attorney's office and as a youth counselor, held management positions in the retail, construction and real estate industries, did color commentary on USC football telecasts, and ran for Congress (1982) and San Diego City Council (1983).

Garrett has been involved in community affairs since his days at USC. While in college, he helped found the Cool-Head Program, an organization that met with youth groups to try to offset racial tensions in Los Angeles, and volunteered at the MacLaren Children's Center, a home for abused children. Later, he founded San Diego's Harambee House, a community-based institution for juvenile delinquents.

He helped establish the East Los Angeles Youth Activities Foundation in 1989, a community-based group that ran boxing/educational clubs as a gang-intervention program.

In 1996, he received the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pasadena's "Youth Partnership Award."

He is on the Board of Directors of First American Bank.

Born April 12, 1944 in East Los Angeles, Garrett was a prep All-American at that neighborhood's Roosevelt High.

As a student at USC, Garrett set the standard for the modern-era "I" formation Trojan tailbacks. He was a 2-time All-American (1964-65) who set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his 3-year career, including a then-NCAA career rushing mark of 3,221 yards and a then-USC season mark of 1,440 yards in 1965. He was the first Trojan since 1927 to run for 1,000 yards in a season.

A versatile athlete, he also started at cornerback for the Trojans and was an All-League outfielder for USC's baseball team (he hit .309 in 1965 and was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers).

Garrett played 8 seasons (1966-73) in the NFL with the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers, becoming the first player to rush for 1,000 yards for 2 teams. An All-Pro, he played in Super Bowls I and IV.

Garrett was inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame in 1985 and won the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award in 1990. He was a charter member of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame, which he founded in 1994.

Garrett graduated from USC in 1967 with a bachelor's degree in sociology and earned a law degree from Western State University College of Law in Fullerton, Calif., in 1986.

Garrett and his wife, Suzanne, have 2 children, Sara, 20, a USC junior, and Daniel, 16.

Danielle Martinez serves as Garrett's executive assistant.

USC Athletic Directors

Willis O. Hunter*	1926-57
Jess Hill*	1957-72
John McKay	1972-75
Mike McGee	1984-93

*Member of National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Hall of Fame

Note: Records are unclear prior to Hunter's tenure. One reference source listed William Clay as "athletic manager" in 1909 and cited him as USC's first A.D. Another source listed Elmer Henderson as football coach and athletic director from 1919 to 1924. Still another source said "graduate managers" were akin to athletic directors and listed Warren Bovard, Henry Bruce, Gwynn Wilson (1921-30) and Arnold Eddy (1930 and on) in that role (that source also claimed Eddy was athletic director in 1941-44).

The University of Southern California

The University of Southern California is a research institution of international distinction. Founded in 1880, it is the oldest and largest private research university in the western half of the United States.

The university enrolls about 29,000 students annually on 2 campuses, the 155-acre University Park Campus in Exposition Park and the 31-acre Health Sciences Campus, 3 miles to the northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

Some facts of significance about the university include the following:

• USC is a member of the Association of American Universities, a select group of 63 public and private universities in the U.S. and Canada that, together, perform about two-thirds of all federally funded academic research and development.

• Enrollment stands at 28,600, including 15,500 undergraduates and 13,100 graduate and professional students.

• In basic research, USC is nationally and internationally prominent. Currently, USC ranks among the top 10 private universities receiving federal funds for research and development support and in the top 20 among all universities.

• USC professor George A. Olah was the sole recipient of the 1994 Nobel Prize in chemistry.

• USC was TIME/Princeton Review College Guide's "College of the Year 2000," one of Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide's "Hot Schools of 2001" and an Association of American Colleges and Universities "Leadership Institution of 2001."

• Many of USC's academic programs rank in the top 10 nationally.

• USC has 53 faculty members who are members of prestigious national academies, including 7 in the National Academy of Sciences, 22 in the National Academy of Engineering, and 9 in the Institute of Medicine. Membership in these academies, created by Congress, is by election only and is based on distinguished and continuing achievements.

• The University is the home of 16 professional schools, in addition to the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School. These schools train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, theatre, education and business.

• USC's schools of Cinema-Television, Social Work and International Relations are among the oldest such schools in the country.

• USC is home to the USC/Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center, one of only 35 designated by the National Cancer Institute to lead the nation in cancer research, prevention and care.

• Among USC's distinguished alumni are musicians Herb Alpert, Lionel Hampton and Patrice Rushen; astronauts Neil Armstrong and Charles Bolden; columnist Art Buchwald; sportscaster Frank Gifford; architects Frank Gehry, Jon Jerde and Carey K. Jenkins; opera star Marilyn Horne; directors George Lucas, John Singleton, Ron Howard and Paul Mazursky; Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf; former U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher; retired California Supreme Court Chief Justice Malcolm Lucas and Associate Justice Joyce L. Kennard; former U.S. Ambassador to Australia, South Africa and the United Nations Edward Perkins; actors John Ritter, Tom Selleck, and the late John Wayne and Michael Landon; actresses Marlo Thomas and Ally Sheedy; symphony conductor Michael Tilson Thomas; and producers David L. Wolper and Barney Rosenzweig.

INTERESTING USC FACTS

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is one of the top 4 private universities in the western half of the United States?

- USC, Caltech, Stanford and Rice are the only private universities west of Missouri boasting membership in the Association of American Universities, the premier teaching and research institutions of North America?
- USC is the oldest and largest private research university in the western half of the United States. The university was founded in 1880 with 53 students; today, USC enrolls about 29,000 students in its College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and 18 top-ranked professional schools.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is among the nation's most highly-selective universities?

- USC's entering freshman class is among the strongest in the country, boasting an average GPA of over 3.9 and an average SAT score of 1308. The majority of entering freshmen come to USC from the top 10% of their high school graduating class.
- Also, USC is among the top 10 schools in the nation in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars.
- USC was named 1 of 9 "hot schools" in the country by the 2001 Newsweek/Kaplan How to Get into College Guide, signifying USC's popularity among the nation's best high school students.

DID YOU KNOW...the 235 students entering USC's Thematic Option Honors Program boasted an average SAT score of 1431 and an average GPA of 4.14?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is among the top 1% of all colleges and universities in the western half of the nation in the number of Rhodes Scholars produced?

- USC has had 8 Rhodes Scholars, including 2 in the last decade.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC offers more than 100 minors, the broadest array of any university in the country?

DID YOU KNOW...that more than 10,000 USC undergraduates participate in community service each year?

DID YOU KNOW...that Nobel laureate George Olah helped pave the way for high-octane gasoline and a number of advances in our daily life?

- Professor Olah, who has been at USC for 2 decades, has transformed the field of chemistry through his pioneering work with hydrocarbons, work which has led to less polluting gasoline, more effective oil refining and many modern drugs. For his research, Professor Olah received the 1994 Nobel Prize in chemistry.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's crime rate is comparable to or lower than that of most other large research universities located in or near major cities?

- Statistics show USC's crime rate based on the federally-mandated reporting standards is comparable to that of Stanford and lower (one-third less) than that of UCLA. USC's overall crime rate is one-eighth that of the nation as a whole.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is the largest private employer in the city of Los Angeles, and one of the largest in Southern California?

- USC's employee base of 18,717 and operating budget of roughly $1.4 billion per year contributes some $3 billion each year in total impact on the Southern California economy, which in turn generates some 40,000 jobs outside the university.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC has the largest number of international alumni of any university in the United States?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's current fundraising campaign, "Building on Excellence," with a goal of $2 billion, is the third largest of any university in history?

- During its fundraising campaign, USC received 5 naming gifts--for the Leventhal School of Accounting, the Marshall School of Business, the Rossier School of Education, the Thornton School of Music, and the Keck School of Medicine. At the time they were pledged, they were the largest gifts to schools of their kind in the history of American higher education.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is the only university in the nation to have received 3 nine-figure gifts?

- Those gifts: $120 million from Walter Annenberg (1993) to establish the USC Annenberg School for Communication; $112.5 million from biomedical industry entrepreneur Alfred Mann (1998) to establish the Alfred E. Mann Institute for Biomedical Engineering; and $110 million from the W.M. Keck Foundation (1999) to USC's medical school, the largest gift to a medical school in history.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Ethel Percy Andrus Gerontology Center is considered to be the nation's premier program for studies of aging?

- The Leonard Davis School of Gerontology, founded in 1975, was the nation's first school in this critical, emerging field.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC physicians serve more than 1 million patients each year through the Health Sciences Campus and 14 affiliated hospitals?

- Three USC-affiliated hospitals are ranked by U.S. News & World Report as among the Top 10 in the nation in their specialty: Childrens Hospital Los Angeles, Doheny Eye Institute, and Rancho Los Amigos National Rehabilitation Center. More than 130 doctors of USC are listed in the book, "The Best Doctors in America," published by Naifeh and Smith.

DID YOU KNOW...that the Southern California Earthquake Center is based at USC?

- The SCEC was established by the federal government in 1991 to coordinate geological research relating to earthquakes.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is home to the world's largest university-based research effort in photonics technology?

- This light-based technology is believed by many people to hold the key to the next major advance in information processing and control.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Integrated Media Systems Center, which does research in multimedia, is the only one of its kind to be funded by the National Science Foundation?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Museum Studies Program is the only master's degree program of its kind in the western United States?

- 98% of the graduates from this program have been placed in professional museum careers.
- A three-year course of study leading to the Master of Arts in art history, the program is designed to meet the special training needs of students whose career goals are oriented toward professional work in art museums. A unique aspect of the program is that all students intern in a museum during their third year.

MORE INTERESTING USC FACTS

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Architecture was the first architecture school in Southern California, and, until 1963, offered the only fully accredited degree program in the region?

- The USC School of Architecture has more regular faculty members who have been elected to the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects than any other school of architecture in the country.
- Three faculty members have been named Distinguished Professors of the Association of College Schools of Architecture.
- More than half of the top 100 architects to exhibit work at a recent national American Institute of Architects convention were alumni and/or faculty at the school. Chester Widom and Ron Altoon, past presidents of the AIA, are both USC School of Architecture graduates.
- The only architect to be named as one of the 25 most influential Americans by Time magazine is USC alum Frank O. Gehry, architect for the Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao, Spain, and Disney Hall in Los Angeles.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Cinema-Television is the top-ranked film and television program in the nation?

- The USC School of Cinema-Television is the oldest film school in the nation.
- The Filmic Writing Program is the only B.F.A. program in screenwriting in the United States.
- Films made by USC students receive approximately 150 awards annually from festivals around the world.
- Cinema-Television alumni are on the faculties of more than half the film and television departments in colleges and universities throughout the nation.
- Since 1965, alumni have been nominated for Academy Awards in every year but two.
- Nine of the 12 all-time highest grossing films had alumni in key creative and/or production positions.
- Distinguished alumni include Ron Howard, George Lucas, John Singleton and Robert Zemeckis.
- Nine of the 12 all-time highest grossing films had alumni in key creative and/or production positions.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's School of Fine Arts has become the first fine arts school in the nation to offer a Master of Public Art Studies degree?

- Located in a major center for practicing contemporary artists, commercial galleries and outstanding permanent collections, USC's School of Fine Arts is strategically positioned to provide unparalleled training to individuals whose career goals are oriented toward professional administrative work in public art.
- Graduates of USC's School of Fine Arts go on to university teaching jobs at twice the national average.
- The school's acclaimed faculty artists are represented at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Modern Art in New York, Whitney Museum of American Art, Art Institute of Chicago, National Gallery of Art, Smithsonian Institution, Los Angeles County Museum of Art and Victoria and Albert Museum in London.
- USC has the oldest art school in the region.
- Distinguished alumni include Oscar-winning art director Henry Bumstead, artist Robert Therrien and ceramacists Ken Price and Beatrice Wood.

DID YOU KNOW...that the Fisher Gallery is one of the few university museums accredited by the Association of American Museums?

- USC's Fisher Gallery serves USC students as a resource and study center. Established in 1939 by Elizabeth Holmes Fisher, the gallery houses her collection of Dutch and Flemish Old Master works and a fine collection of 19th-century American landscape paintings. In 1964, Armand Hammer made his first donation of Dutch and Flemish masterworks to Fisher Gallery.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC Spectrum brings more than 50 high-profile events to campus each year?

- President's Distinguished Lecture Series speakers have included Margaret Thatcher, Colin Powell and Henry Kissinger.

DID YOU KNOW...that the daily nationally-distributed radio news program, "Marketplace," is produced in association with USC?

- "Marketplace" is heard by more than 3 million listeners each day. It has been described by the Columbia Journalism Review as "the best business program on radio and television."
- Classical KUSC's 24-hour broadcast day features a wide range of programs of classical music, news and information. As a partner in the arts in Southern California, the station has been responsible for bringing performances by local orchestras and chamber groups to both local and national audiences. These programs have received numerous local and national awards for their outstanding production quality.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC Flora L. Thornton School of Music is one of the leading music schools in the nation?

- Founded in 1884, the Thornton School of Music is the oldest professional school at USC and Los Angeles' oldest cultural institution.
- The Thornton School of Music, which consistently ranks in the top 1% of the nation's music schools and conservatories, is the leading producer of live music performances in Southern California — with more than 500 concerts and recitals annually.
- It is a charter member and the only school west of the Mississippi River to belong to the Seven Springs Association, an organization consisting of the 11 finest music schools and conservatories in the United States.
- The school is the most prolific resource of prominent film composers in the world, including Jerry Goldsmith, James Horner, Thomas Newman and David Newman.
- It has a faculty nationally and internationally celebrated for its achievements, awards and prizes, who regularly serve as adjudicators of regional, national and international music competitions, festivals and clinics.
- One of the Thornton School's recent graduates, Robert Thies, was the gold medal winner at the prestigious Second International Prokofiev Piano Competition in St. Petersburg, Russia, in 1995 — the only American to win a Russian international piano competition since Van Cliburn in 1958.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Theatre is ranked among the top theatre schools in the nation?

- Alumni of the School of Theatre, including John Ritter, Swoosie Kurtz, LeVar Burton and Forrest Whitaker, have received Tony, Theatre World, Laurence Olivier, Palm D'Or, Drama Desk, Outer Critics Circle, Obie and Emmy awards.
- The School of Theatre created the first American university theatrical company to be invited to perform at the prestigious Edinburgh Fringe Festival. Students and alumni of the School have been playing in the Festival to excellent reviews and high acclaim since 1967.
- Playwriting students have recently won top national honors, including the Michael Kanin Best New Student-Written Play and the Lorraine Hansberry New Play Competition at the American College Theatre Festival.
- Together with the Thornton School of Music, the School of Theatre has established a minor in musical theatre, making USC the only major university in the western United States to offer undergraduate training in this area.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Steven B. Sample

Steven B. Sample became the 10th president of the University of Southern California in March 1991. He is the university's first holder of the Robert C. Packard President's Chair.

Sample is an electrical engineer, a musician, an outdoorsman, and an inventor.

He remains an active member of the university's faculty, co-teaching with management expert Warren Bennis a popular spring-semester course for juniors and seniors entitled "The Art and Adventure of Leadership." His acclaimed book, The Contrarian's Guide to Leadership, has been translated into five languages. It is a Los Angeles Times bestseller and was chosen by the Toronto Globe and Mail as one of the top 10 business books of the year.

In February 1998, he was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering for "contributions to consumer electronics and leadership in interdisciplinary research and education."

Under Sample's leadership, USC has emerged as a world leader in the fields of communication and multimedia technologies, received national acclaim for its innovative community partnerships, and solidified its status as one of the nation's leading teaching and research universities. USC milestones in the past seven years include receipt of a world-record $120 million cash gift from the Hon. Walter H. Annenberg in 1993, a $112.5 million gift from biomedical industry entrepreneur Alfred Mann in 1998 and a $110 million gift from the W.M. Keck Foundation in 1999 (establishing USC as the first university in history to receive three nine-figure gifts); the awarding of the Nobel Prize in chemistry to USC faculty member George Olah in 1994; being named College of the Year 2000 by TIME magazine; and the recruitment of the most academically-talented freshman classes in USC history.

Sample is the author of numerous journal articles and published papers, both in science and engineering and in higher education. His patents in the field of digital appliance controls have been licensed to practically every major manufacturer of appliance controls and microwave ovens in the world. Nearly 400 million home appliances have been built using his inventions.

In addition to sitting on several corporate boards, Sample has chaired a number of statewide and national groups examining the state of elementary, secondary and higher education. In 1994, he convened a group of Los Angeles leaders who were awarded a historic $53 million challenge grant from the Annenberg Foundation to accelerate reforms in local public schools. Sample is currently chairman and co-founder of the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU), a consortium of 34 premier Pacific Rim research universities located in 15 countries, and past chairman of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a consortium of the 62 leading North American research universities. He also chaired a special AAU committee on postdoctoral education. Currently, he is a member of the AAU's executive committee and tenure committee. He is also chair of the Pacific-10 Conference.

Sample came to USC from the State University of New York at Buffalo, where he had served as president since 1982. During his tenure there, SUNY-Buffalo was the first public university in New York or New England to be elected to membership in the AAU. Sample's energetic leadership was instrumental in Buffalo's emergence as the flagship of the SUNY system.

After earning his Ph.D. in 1965, Sample worked for a year as a senior scientist at Melpar Inc., a research and development firm. He then taught as an assistant professor of electrical engineering at Purdue University, where he was promoted to associate professor and granted tenure in 1970. He served as deputy director for academic affairs at the Illinois Board of Higher Education from 1971 to 1974 and as executive vice president for academic affairs and dean of the Graduate College at the University of Nebraska from 1974 to 1982.

Sample earned B.S.E.E., M.S. and Ph. D. degrees in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1962 , 1963 and 1965, respectively. He has received honorary degrees from the University of Nebraska (1995), Purdue University (1994), Hebrew Union College (1994), the University of Sheffield, England (1991), and Canisius College, Buffalo (1989). In 1994, Sample received the University of Illinois' Alumni Achievement Award, and in 1998 he received the USC Alumni Association's Honorary Alumni Award.

In 1994, Sample received the Humanitarian Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews (now the National Conference for Community and Justice) and the Hollzer Memorial Award from the Jewish Federation Council of Greater Los Angeles.

Sample is married to the former Kathryn Brunkow of Park Ridge, Ill. The Samples, who reside in San Marino, Calif., have two daughters and two granddaughters.

PACIFIC-10 CONFERENCE

The Pacific-10 Conference — which combines 10 of the finest academic institutions in the nation — annually demonstrates it is the "Conference of Champions," thus continuing to live up to its billing as having the strongest overall intercollegiate athletic league in the country.

Pac-10 members have now won 240 NCAA men's team championships, far and away more than any other conference (the Big Ten is next with 182), and 77 women's crowns, also more than any league (the Southeastern Conference is next with 54).

Pac-10 men's teams have won at least 4 NCAA team titles 24 of the last 32 years, a feat unprecedented in intercollegiate athletics. The NCAA men's team championships have come at a phenomenal rate–15 basketball titles, more than any other conference; 17 of the last 36, and 24 overall, baseball titles; 19 of the last 42, and an incredible 45 titles overall, in outdoor track and field; 20 of the last 38 in swimming and diving; 37 of the last 42 (48 overall) in tennis; 28 of the last 43 in water polo; and 23 of the last 33 in volleyball. Pac-10 men have also claimed an incredible 1,058 NCAA individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 20 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed 4 titles in a single season on 13 occasions. Included in this are 14 of 22 tennis crowns, 15 of 21 softball championships, 7 of the last 12 volleyball titles, 9 of the last 13 trophies in golf and 8 of the last 13 titles in swimming and diving. Plus, the 392 NCAA individual titles lead all leagues.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back 86 years. On Dec. 2, 1915, the Pacific Coast Conference was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Oregon. Original membership consisted of 4 schools — University of California, University of Washington, University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All are still charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the PCC, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to 8 teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the conference in 1924 and in 1928 the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-1945 when World War II somewhat curtailed intercollegiate competition. In 1950, Montana resigned from the conference to join the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a 9-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new conference was formed called the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, with Oregon and Oregon State joining in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the Pacific-10 Conference took on a new look, expanding to included 10 women's teams.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's and 11 women's sports, while Conference members are part of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in 4 additional men's sports and 2 other women's sports.

Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971) and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pac-10 offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

MEDIA INFORMATION

USC SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE —The Sports Information Office (director Tim Tessalone and assistants Paul Goldberg, Chris Huston, Vicky Hammond and Jason Pommier) is located in the southeast corner of the first floor of Heritage Hall. It houses files containing USC athletic history, player and coach biographies, statistics and photographs. The office phone number is (213) 740-8480. The fax number is (213) 740-7584. Nearby on-campus parking is available by calling the office in advance.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS — Please arrange all player and coach interviews through the Sports Information Office, at least a day in advance.

TROJAN HOTLINE — Dial (213) 743-2989 for a 90-second taped interview with USC coach Pete Carroll. The tape changes each Sunday evening during the football season.

PETE CARROLL MEDIA LUNCH — Coach Carroll hosts a weekly media-only lunch in the lounge of Heritage Hall at 11:30 a.m. each Tuesday during the season. Transcribed notes from each session are available from the Sports Information Office.

USC PRACTICES — Most Trojan practices on Howard Jones Field are open to the local media. Please call in advance to confirm the schedule.

GAME CREDENTIALS — Because of space limitations, only members of the media who cover USC on a regular basis (plus media accompanying the visiting team) will be considered for credentials to Trojan home games. Freelancers cannot be accommodated. Credentials and parking passes are issued on a game-by-game basis. Requests for game credentials should be sent on company letterhead as early as possible to: Tim Tessalone, USC Sports Information Office, HER 103, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-0601. Credentials can be mailed up to 7 days before the game; after that time, credentials can either be picked up during the week of the game at the Sports Information Office or beginning 3 hours before kickoff on game day at press will call outside Tunnel 4 on the south side of the Coliseum. Three types of credentials are issued: press box (good for press box seat during game, field access during last 5 minutes of game), TV and photo (both provide field and press box roof access, limited press box access with no seat). There are also press box season credentials issued (good for press box seat during game, field access during last 5 minutes of game). All credentials provide post-game locker room access. Television cameramen and still photographers are not allowed on the sidelines between the 25-yard lines in the area of the team benches.

PRESS BOX — Located on the south (Martin Luther King Blvd.) side of the Coliseum, the press box is for the use of the working media and guests of USC's athletic department only. Access is via the elevator near Tunnel 6. The upper level has seats for the written press, while the lower level houses radio and television broadcasting booths. The roof is available for cameramen and photographers. Members of USC's Sports Information Office are located in the upper level (seats 219-223) during games. To get from the press box to the field at the end of the game (and to enable continued viewing of the game action), most media exit through either side door on the lower level and walk through the stands.

PRESS BOX SERVICES — A complimentary meal is served in the press box (a meal ticket is required). Game programs, speed cards and game notes are distributed before kickoff (these are also available on the field to photographers). Quarterly play-by-plays, plus halftime and final statistics, are distributed, as are transcribed post-game locker room quotes from Coach Carroll and the visiting coach. Game action is shown on indoor TV monitors posted throughout the press box. A detailed play-by-play and Coach Carroll's post-game press conference are broadcast over the press box public address system. Complimentary snacks and drinks are available to the media after the game. Several charge-a-call phones are located in the visiting press section on the lower level and available on a first-come basis. To order a telephone, contact phone technicians Leo Caudillo at (213) 765-6353 or Manny Rodriguez at (818) 894-5423. The phone installer can obtain your seat location from Tim Tessalone. To call the press box on game day for score updates, dial either (213) 741-1341 or (213) 747-7111 (ask for the press box extension). USC provides complimentary fax service in the press box. Fax and computer terminal service for a fee also is available by contacting either Bassler Communications (Dick Bassler), 6706 Noble Ave., Van Nuys, CA 91405, (310) 451-5805, or Amfax (Rick Laubert), 5151 Vallecito, Westminster, CA 92683, (310) 431-6789.

MEDIA ON-FIELD GUIDELINES — Media with credentials who are permitted on the field during the game (generally TV camera operators and still photographers) must remain outside the dotted line that encircles the field. A special "photo gutter" has been drawn between the end zones and 25-yard lines on both sides of the field; photographers only are permitted inside this "gutter" as long as they kneel. Photographers who chose not to kneel must stand behind the gutter, along with all others on the field, including USC guests. Media should refrain from conducting post-game USC player/coach interviews on the field before the team enters the locker room, unless approved by a member of the USC Sports Information Office. No one under the age of 18 is allowed on the field at any time.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS — The USC and visiting team locker rooms are located inside the tunnel at the west end of the Coliseum. After a 10-minute "cooling off" period, the USC locker room will open to the media. Coach Carroll and several key Trojan players will conduct a post-game press session.

VIDEO SERVICES — The USC Sports Information Office makes video highlights of key Trojans available to the media. The Pac-10 Office has a weekly video satellite feed featuring highlights and interviews from all league schools (call 925-932-4411 for information). To contract specific video services, contact Rich Zielinski of Zielinski Productions at (714) 842-5050, Dennis Kirkpatrick of Bayview Productions at (310) 543-1835, or Mark Walton at Fox Sports Net 2 at (310) 286-3800.

USC ATHLETICS ON THE WEB — The USC athletic department has an official "home page" on the World Wide Web, featuring current and historical information about Trojan sports. For access, type http://www.usctrojans.com. (The Pac-10's home page is at www.pac-10.org and the NCAA's home page is at www.ncaa.org.)

USC:

Winner of First Annual Lexus Gauntlet Trophy

"The USC-UCLA All-Sports Competition"

USC captured the first annual Lexus Gauntlet trophy, a year-long all-sports competition between crosstown rivals USC and UCLA presented by the Southern California Lexus Dealer Association.

The battle for the Lexus Gauntlet trophy saw the Trojans and Bruins compete against each other in 18 sports. Five points were awarded to the winner of the each sport's season series or, for those sports that did not meet head-to-head, the team that placed higher in the conference championship (10 points were awarded in football, men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball).

Although both teams scored 55 points in the 2001-02 athletic year, USC won the tiebreaker (most head-to-head wins in the regular season, 16 to 15).

The Southern California Lexus Dealer Association is the title sponsor of every USC-UCLA athletic competition. This is the first time the two universities have partnered with a corporate entity for complete rivalry sponsorship. In the fall of 2001, the schools signed a four-year contract of undisclosed terms with Lexus, America's best-selling luxury automotive manufacturer for two years in a row.

USC blanks UCLA in football, 27-0.
Women of Troy volleyball sweeps UCLA for the first time since 1998.
USC women's basketball sweeps the Bruins for the first time since 1997.
The Trojans clinch the Gauntlet by sweeping the Bruins in baseball.

THE LEXUS COLLECTION

It just goes to show that there are exceptions to every rule. Take the ES 300. With rich burled walnut trim and an available Mark Levinson® Premium Sound System, you can get the ultimate in luxury without paying the ultimate in price. Or, the SC 430. The perfect combination of raw power and indulgent luxury, it's the first convertible offered by Lexus. And one of the few ever to be offered with a fully retractable hardtop. The best of both worlds, if you will. Visit your Lexus dealer and find the one that's right for you.
